I.—BUNDELKHAND.

THE Rajas of Bundelkhand long struggled to maintain their independence against the Muhammadan powers of Delhi. During the latter part of the reign of Shah Jahan, a Chief named Champat Rai asserted his independence and a new dynasty in the eastern part of the province was founded by his son Chhatarsal. The western Chiefs continued more or less subject to Delhi. The territories of Chhatarsal were estimated to produce a yearly land revenue of one crore of rupees. His only strong fortress was Kalinjar, and his principal residence the city of Panna, in the neighbourhood of which are the celebrated diamond mines of Panna.

During the government of Raja Chhatarsal, the province of Bundelkhand was invaded by Muhammad Khan Bangash, the Pathan Chief of Farrukhabad; and the first Peshwa, Baji Rao, was invited from the Deccan for the purpose of repelling this invasion. The expulsion of the Pathan from Bundelkhand through the successful exertions of a Mahratta army was followed by Raja Chhatarsal's adoption of the Peshwa as his son, and by a distribution of his territory between his two legitimate sons, Hirde Sah and Jagat Raj, and his son by adoption, Baji Rao. By this arrangement the Peshwa became the legitimate possessor of a large portion of territory in Bundelkhand, which was the earliest territorial requisition of the Mahratta Government in Northern India and was considerably extended by subsequent conquests. The two remaining shares of the possessions of Raja Chhatarsal continued to be held in small portions by the numerous descendants of his legitimate sons, or by the nominal adherents and rebellious servants of the declining branches of that family.

Madhuji Scindia, in his last and successful attempt to re-establish the Mahratta power and influence in Northern India, was attended by a strong reinforcement of troops from the Deccan under the command of Ali Bahadur, a grandson of Baji Rao, being the son of Shamsheer Bahadur, who was the offspring of the Peshwa and a Musalman concubine. On a former expedition of Madhuji Scindia to Northern India, a number of the nobles had abandoned the Musalman faction and influence at Delhi and had attached themselves to the Mahratta leader. Among these was Raja Himmat Bahadur, the spiritual head and military commander of a large body of devotees, who had acquired some territory in Bundelkhand. Dissatisfied with his treatment by Scindia, Ali Bahadur, at the instigation of Raja Himmat Bahadur, turned his attention to the entire conquest of Bundelkhand. An agreement was concluded between Ali Bahadur and the Raja, by which a large portion of the province was, when conquered, to be consigned to the independent management of Himmat Bahadur, and its revenue to be exclusively applied to the payment of a body of troops which the Raja engaged to furnish and to maintain in the service of Ali Bahadur.

The distracted state of the province of Bundelkhand, which had long been a scene of domestic dissension and civil war between the legitimate descendants of Raja Chhatarsal, afforded at this time peculiar encouragement to the ambitious views of Ali Bahadur. Of the territory which had descended to the two legitimate sons of Raja Chhatarsal and had been divided in unequal portions between them, the larger share, which was possessed by Raja Hirde Sah, had passed from the possession of his grandson Hindupat to that of two rebellious servants of his family, named Beni Huzuri and Kaim Raj Chaube, the former of whom had established independent authority at Panna, while the latter had obtained possession of the fortress of Kalinjar with the districts surrounding it. The possessions also of Raja Jagat Raj, after a long and severe contest between his second son and his two grandsons, Guman Singh and Khuman Singh, the children of the eldest son of Jagat Raj, had been first distributed among the three; but they were afterwards entirely usurped by the two latter, whose posterity were now contending in their turn for the sole possession of the whole of the inheritance of Jagat Raj.

Ali Bahadur soon established his authority in the greater part of the province. The only serious resistance he met with was at Kalinjar, at the siege of which he died in 1802, after having concluded an arrangement with the Court of Poona by which the sovereign and paramount right of the Peshwa over all the conquests of Ali Bahadur in Bundelkhand was declared and acknowledged.

Ali Bahadur left two sons, Shamsheer Bahadur and Zulfikar Ali. The former was at Poona at the time of his father's death. Raja Himmat Bahadur professed at first the intention of supporting the right of Shamsheer Bahadur and of maintaining the government of his father's possessions in his name and behalf till his arrival in Bundelkhand. For this purpose he selected from the several Mahratta leaders who remained in Ali Bahadur's camp the maternal cousin of the late Nawab, by name Ghani Bahadur, who was accordingly declared Regent during the absence of Shamsheer Bahadur: Raja Himmat Bahadur retaining, as before, the exclusive management of his own districts and an increased influence over the mind and councils of the Regent and of the native Chiefs of Bundelkhand.

About this period the declared hostility of the several subordinate Chiefs of the Mahratta Empire to the arrangements which were concluded by the Treaty of Bassein*, by which, among other advantages, the British Government acquired territory in Bundelkhand yielding Rs. 36,16,000 a year, occasioned a formal declaration on the part of the British Government of their intention of maintaining the provisions of that treaty: and this declaration was immediately followed by offensive operations on the part of Daulat Rao Scindia and the Raja of Berar, and by no less hostile, though more secret and cautious, measures of aggression on the part of Jaswant Rao Holkar.

In the plan of hostile operations suggested by the last named Chief, the invasion of the British territories in the Gangetic Doab, and a predatory incursion into the districts of Mirzapur and Benares by the route of Bundelkhand, would appear to have been some of the measures which the greatest importance was attached; and Nawab Shamsheer Bahadur was selected for the execution of the project.

Raja Himmat Bahadur, foreseeing in the success of the project of the Mahratta Chiefs an immediate diminution of his influence in Bundelkhand, determined to abandon the Mahratta alliance, and to secure the permanent establishment of his own influence in the province by the cession of his possessions in Bundelkhand, by a treaty of friendship and alliance between the province from the Mahrattas to British Government. A treaty of this nature (No. I) concluded at Shahpur in 1782, provided, among other stipulations, that the Raja should cede to the British Government all his possessions in Bundelkhand, yielding an annual revenue of Rs. 1,00,000, and should be allowed to remain in the service of the British Government.

* See Vol. I. p. 100.

of the great advantages which were expected from the junction of the power and influence of Himmat Bahadur, and from his zealous co-operation with the British force in their occupation of Bundelkhand and in the establishment of the British authority in that province, a permanent jagir in the British dominions was also promised to the Raja, the extent of it to be proportioned to the benefits which might afterwards appear to have been derived from his adherence to the terms of his engagement. The immediate advantage which accrued to the British Government from this arrangement was the assistance afforded to a detachment of their troops in crossing the Jumna into Bundelkhand, which might otherwise have been vigorously opposed by the united force of the Mahrattas and of Himmat Bahadur; and to the latter Chieftain the acquisition of a rich and fertile territory, of more than double the extent of that which he had possessed under the former government, without any considerable increase of his former military establishment. The districts which were specifically assigned to Raja Himmat Bahadur comprised, with a few trifling exceptions, the whole of the territory contiguous to the west bank of the Jumna from Allahabad to Kalpi.

On the death of Raja Himmat Bahadur in 1804 these lands were resumed, and jagirs and pensions were assigned to his family.

During the negotiations between the British Government and Raja Himmat Bahadur, Nawab Shamsheer Bahadur had arrived in Bundelkhand. But his efforts to establish his authority against the British Government were unsuccessful, and he was content in 1804 to accept a provision (No. II) of four lakhs of rupees a year, with permission to reside at Banda. This provision was subsequently guaranteed (No. III) to him in 1812. Shamsheer Bahadur died in 1823, and was succeeded by his brother Zulfikar Ali. To him succeeded Ali Bahadur, who joined in the mutiny of 1857, and was therefore deprived of his pension of four lakhs a year. He was removed to Indore, where he was placed under surveillance and allowed for his support a pension of Rs. 36,000 a year for life. He died in 1873, when stipends amounting to one-third of the lapsed pension, or Rs. 12,000 a year, were assigned to his family.

Of the territory ceded by the Peshwa, the British Government retained in their own possession lands on the banks of the Jumna yielding about fourteen lakhs, exclusive of the territory granted to Raja Himmat Bahadur. The Chiefs who held the remaining portion were maintained in their territorial rights, with a view to secure a barrier against the inroads which were then meditated by Holkar. As the authority of the Peshwa in Bundelkhand was little more than nominal, it became necessary for the pacification of the country to enter into engagements with the Chiefs holding lands in the Peshwa's share of the province, securing to them the rights they enjoyed under Ali Bahadur's government on condition of allegiance and fidelity. The Chiefs in the western portion of Bundel-for the support of his grandson Diwan Nirbhe Singh and his family. These allowances have been continued in gradually decreasing amounts. At present a pension of Rs. 200 per mensem is enjoyed by a descendant, Diwan Sawant Singh.

6. TIROHA OR KIRUR.

Amrit Rao of Tiroha was the son of the Peshwa Raghoba. On the flight of Baji Rao to Bassein, Holkar wished to treat his flight as an abdication, and to put forward Amrit Rao as his successor. The advance of the British troops on Poona, however, defeated his plans. Amrit Rao opened a friendly correspondence with the British authorities, and an Agreement (No. XI) was made in 1803, guaranteeing to him and to his son a provision of seven lakhs of rupees a year. Amrit Rao at the same time abandoned his pretensions to the Peshwaship. He selected Tiroha in Bundelkhand as his residence, where a Jagir of Rs. 4,691 was conferred on him. Amrit Rao died in 1824, and was succeeded by his son Vinayak Rao. On Vinayak Rao's death in 1853 without issue, the pension of seven lakhs ceased. He left two sons by adoption, Narayan Rao and Madho Rao. These joined in the rebellion in 1857, and their family estates were confiscated. Narayan Rao died a prisoner at Hazaribagh in 1860. Madho Rao was pardoned in consideration of his youth. He attained his majority in 1866, and was permitted to draw the provision of Rs. 30,000 a year which had been made for him. In 1873 a sum of Rs. 50,000 was advanced to him for the purchase of landed property in Bareilly, the amount being deducted from the capital sum invested; in 1877 a similar transaction was sanctioned involving a further advance of Rs. 32,000. The allowance payable to Madho Rao was thus reduced to Rs. 26,720 a year. He was originally permitted to reside at Bareilly and to purchase lands there; but about 1894 he left Bareilly and settled at Beharghat in the Bulandshahr district, and in 1901 it was decided that there was no longer any reason for requiring him to reside in a specified place.

(III).—STATES HELD UNDER TREATIES.

The only three States in Bundelkhand with which formal treaties have been concluded by the British Government are Orchha, Datia and Samthar.

1. ORCHHA.

Orchha, which was formerly known also as Tehri, is the oldest and highest in rank of all the Bundela States, and was the only State in Bundelkhand which was not held in subjection by the Peshwa, though the Mahrattas severed from it the territory which formed the State of Jhansi.

Rudra Pratap is said to have founded Orchha in 1501. Bir Singh Deo (1605-1626), who was the fourth in succession from him, is the most famous of the Orchha Chiefs. His son and successor Jujhar Singh (1626-1635) rebelled and was dispossessed of his Chiefship, the State remaining without a Chief from 1635 to 1641, when Shah Jahan restored it to Pahar Singh, another son of Bir Singh Deo.

Sawant Singh ruled over the State from 1752 to 1765 and received from Shah Alam, son of Alam Gir II, a royal banner and the title of "Mahendra" which is still borne by the Orchha Chief.

Raja Bikramajit Mahendra, eleventh in succession from Pahar Singh, was the ruling Chief of Orchha when the British entered Bundelkhand, and a Treaty of friendship and defensive alliance (No. XII) was concluded with him on the 23rd December 1812. This Chief formally abdicated in favour of his son Dharam Pal; but, on the death of the latter without issue, Bikramajit again assumed the government of his State. He died in 1834, and was succeeded by his brother Tej Singh, who died in 1841, having previously adopted his cousin's son, Sujan Singh. Sujan Singh's right was disputed by the Larai Rani, the widow of Dharam Pal, who claimed the right to adopt a successor to the State. The pretensions of the Larai Rani led to serious disturbances; but, as the adoption of Sujan Singh was acknowledged by the British Government and acquiesced in by the neighbouring Chiefs, Government established Sujan Singh in the succession and appointed the Rani as regent till he attained his majority. Sujan Singh died a few months after he had reached his majority. On his death his widow was permitted, with the advice of the principal Bundela Chiefs, to adopt Hamir Singh, a collateral relation of the family and then a minor.

The Maharaja of Orchha formerly paid a tribute of Rs. 3,000 to Jhansi for the Jagir of Terauli. This payment passed to the British Government on the lapse of Jhansi, but was remitted as a reward for the services of the Maharaja in 1857. The istimrari revenue of the village of Mohanpur, amounting to Rs. 200, was remitted at the same time.

In 1862 the Ruler of Orchha received a Sanad of Adoption (No. XIII): and in 1867 was granted a permanent salute of 15 guns.

The Larai Rani died in 1867, shortly after Hamir Singh had been invested with the administration of his State. Hamir Singh died in March 1874. His younger brother Pratap Singh was recognised as his successor, and a British officer was temporarily deputed to supervise the administration of the State. Pratap Singh was entrusted with the government in June 1874, and the British officer was withdrawn in May 1876.

All transit duties were abolished in the Orchha State in 1880, and the fact was notified in the Gazette of India.

In 1882 Maharaja Pratap Singh was granted the hereditary title of Sawai, and in 1886 that of Saramad-i-Rajaha-i-Bundelkhand or First of the Princes of Bundelkhand.

The Maharaja's eldest son Raja Bahadur Bhagwant Singh died in 1920; and his second son, Rao Raja Sawant Singh, was adopted by the Chief of Bijawar whom, with the sanction of Government, he succeeded in 1899, after renouncing all possible future claims to the Orchha State.

In 1884 the Maharaja made over land free of cost for the Jhansi-Manikpur State Railway (now the Great Indian Peninsula). Subsequently he claimed compensation which, in the special circumstances of the case, the Government of India paid. Civil and criminal jurisdiction in the lands acquired for the railway was ceded (No. XIV) by the Maharaja in 1888.

In 1887 the name of the capital of the State was changed from "Tehri" to "Tikamgarh," and the State and the Darbar were officially styled "Orchha," thus avoiding the former confusion with the Tehri (or Garhwal) State in the United Provinces.

Prior to 1909 the village of Dadpura had escaped actual incorporation with any of the States or Jagirs in Bundelkhand or with the Jhansi District. This omission was discovered in 1908: and Orchha, Dhurwai and Tori Fatehpur each laid claim to the village. It was decided in 1911 that it was dependent on the Orchha Darbar, to whom it was accordingly transferred.

For the construction of the Dhakwan weir of the Betwa Canal the United Provinces Government in 1915 acquired from the State, on payment of compensation and under certain other conditions, the land of the Karkigarh island in the Betwa River.

In connection with the construction of the Pahari Reservoir in the Dhasan River the United Provinces Canal Department acquired in 1915 an area of approximately 298 acres of State land under an Agreement (No. XV).

In January 1920 the Maharaja acquired from Kampta Rajaula, a Jagir in Baghelkhand, a plot of land for the construction of a temple.

Maharaja Pratap Singh died on the 3rd March 1930 and was succeeded by his grandson the present Maharaja Vir Singh, born in 1898.

The area of Orchha is about 2,080 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 284,948; and the revenue about ten lakhs of rupees, but about one-half of this amount is alienated to relations of the Chief and others.

In August 1865 the Government of India decided that in future the Chief of Datia should be called Maharaja, and in January 1877 the hereditary title of Lokendra (No. XVIII) was bestowed on him.

In 1867 the Ruler of Datia was granted a permanent salute of 15 guns.

In 1879 the Maharaja entered into an Agreement (No. XIX) regarding the manufacture, import and export of salt: and prohibiting the export of bhang, ganja, spirits, opium, or other intoxicating drug, or preparation thereof, by routes barred by the inland customs line. In consideration of the loss he would sustain by this agreement, it was arranged that he should receive Rs. 10,000 a year. The prohibition regarding the import of salt was tentatively withdrawn in 1884, and has not yet been re-imposed.

In 1882 a question of much importance to the State, which had been pending for many years, was decided. It related to the devolution of shares in the Beroni Jagir. The main point involved was the origin of this estate, and it was definitely ruled that the Jagir was a grant entirely independent of Datia, made from Delhi, and that the Maharaja could not therefore claim to stand in the same relation to Beroni as he might to jagirdars holding under a grant from his State, though the Thakurs must be considered as politically subordinate to Datia. In 1902 the Government of India re-affirmed their decision that in matters of succession Beroni is not subject to Datia, and that succession to shares in the Beroni Estate must be according to the rules of Hindu Law; this decision, however, in no way affects the general subordination of the Beroni Thakurs to the Datia State.

In 1882 the Maharaja ceded land for the Betwa Canal, receiving payment for the area acquired. In 1888 an Agreement (No. XX) was negotiated between Government and the Darbar regarding cession of jurisdiction and other matters connected with the Canal.

In 1888 the Maharaja ceded (No. XXI) civil and criminal jurisdiction in the lands which had been acquired in 1884 in the Datia State for the present Great Indian Peninsula Railway. A question of compensation arose, similar to that which was discussed in the case of Orchha; but the Maharaja declined to receive any payment from Government for the land he had made over for the railway.

The Darbar has adopted British currency as the sole legal tender for all transactions in the State, and reported that the work of conversion had been completed on the 9th January 1904.

Maharaja Bhawani Singh died in August 1907 and was succeeded by his son, the present Maharaja Lokendra Govind Singh Bahadur. Owing to maladministration the Maharaja was temporarily deprived of his powers in 1911, and the administration was carried on, under the Political Agent's control, by a Diwan appointed by the Government of India.

Restricted powers were given to the Maharaja in 1913, and full administrative powers were restored to him in 1916.

In 1908 the State entered into an Agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure on certain conditions of the liquor and drug shops in the State village Pandri.

The Imperial Postal Department took over the postal arrangements of the State in 1921, since when a free grant of Service Postage Stamps of the face value of Rs. 5,000 is made annually to the State.

The Maharaja of Datia pays to Scindia, through the British Government, Rs. 15,000 (Nanak Shahi currency) on account of the pargana of Nadigaon.

The area of Datia is 911 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 148,659; and the revenue about Rs. 19,00,000.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Datia State Forces consists (December 1926) of:—

1st Govind Infantry	187
Govind Infantry	115

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Cavalry	140
Infantry	1,172
Artillery	92
Armed Police	97
Military Transport	31

The State has 48 serviceable and 76 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces".

3. SAMTHAR.

The State of Samthar was once a part of the Datia State. About 1735 Raja Indrajit Singh of Datia granted titular honours to Naune Shah's son Madan Singh Gujar, who was at the same time made Kilahdar of the Samthar Fort. Later, a Jagir of five villages was granted to Madan Singh's son Devi Singh, and from this Jagir the present State of Samthar developed. When the British entered the province, Raja Ranjit Singh, son of Devi Singh, requested to be taken into the friendship and protection of the British Government; but no definite arrangement was made till 1817, when a Treaty (No. XXII) was concluded with him.

and Jagat Raj. The dissensions in the family, however, broke up the possessions of the two sons into a number of small States, and prepared the way for their conquest by Ali Bahadur. On the death of Ali Bahadur, at which time actual possession formed the basis of the engagements between the British Government and the Chiefs of Bundelkhand, the following States were held by the descendants of Chhatarsal:—by the descendants of his second son, Hirde Sah, the States of Panna and Lugasi; by the descendants of his third son, Jagat Raj, the States of Charkhari, Bijawar, Ajaigarh, Sarila and Jaitpur; the State of Jigni by a grandson of his eldest son, Padam Singh; and the State of Jaso by a great-grandson of Bharti Chand, the fourth son. The State of Beri was held by a descendant of Jagat Raj in the female line. Besides these States held by actual descendants of Chhatarsal, the following States were formed out of the territories over which he ruled: Chhatarpur, Baraundha, the Kalinjar Chaube Jagirs, Bihat, Alipura, Gaurihar, Naigawan Rebai and Garrauli.

A fundamental principle in the arrangements made by the British Government in Bundelkhand was originally declared to be the confirmation of the Chiefs of that province in the possession of such parts of their ancient territorial right as were held under Ali Bahadur's government, subject to the conditions of their allegiance and fidelity to the British power: their renouncing all views of future aggrandizement; and their abandoning such parts of Ali Bahadur's conquests as had been acquired by them subsequently to his death. It was also resolved to form arrangements with some leaders of plundering bands who were not hereditary Chiefs, but whose hostility was directed solely to the object of obtaining subsistence, and to grant them some territory with a view to the pacification of the country. At first it was the policy of Government to leave the protection of their territories to the Chiefs themselves, and to exact no tribute or revenue from them. In several of the engagements executed in 1805 and 1806 it was therefore distinctly stipulated that the Chiefs should renounce all claims to the aid and protection of Government. Experience, however, soon showed the necessity of departing from this principle, and of declaring the Bundelkhand Chiefs to be subordinate to, and dependent on, the British Government. But it was not the intention of Government to establish its laws and regulations in the States of these Chiefs; and to remove all doubts on this subject, these States were declared by Regulation XXII of 1812 to be exempt from the operation of the general regulations and from the jurisdiction of the civil and criminal courts. The particular clauses of the engagements made with the Chiefs, which imply a right of jurisdiction on the part of Government, have been generally understood to convey exclusively a right of political jurisdiction, that is to say, a right to interfere for the settlement of disputed claims.

differences and disputes of any kind, not through the channel of the courts of justice, but through the agency of the representative of the British Government in Bundelkhand.

The engagements made with the States held under Sanads are nearly all alike. They declare generally that the territory was received by cession from the Peshwa and annexed to the British dominions, but that the States of the Chiefs were continued to them from motives of justice, benevolence, and good faith; they bind the Chiefs to implicit submission, loyalty, and attachment to the British Government; they require them to govern well; to increase the cultivation of their territories and make the ryots contented; to deliver up criminal refugees; to seize thieves and robbers and make them over to the British Government. They are liable to such control, not inconsistent with their engagements, as the British Government may see fit to exercise, and the rights and powers of the Chiefs are limited to such as have been expressly conferred. Those Chiefs on whom special powers had not been conferred were obliged to refer all heinous cases, involving sentence of death or transportation or imprisonment for life, to the local officers of the British Government; but in 1921 all of them who enjoyed a salute, except Ajaigarh, received Sanads (No. XXXVI) empowering them to dispose of all criminal cases except those against Europeans, Americans and Government servants, subject to the condition that persons sentenced to death, transportation or imprisonment for life should be given every facility to present a petition for mercy to the Agent to the Governor-General. Ajaigarh received a similar Sanad in 1925.

All transit duties have been abolished in the Bundelkhand States at different dates during the last fifty-seven years, the abolition being usually notified in the Gazette of India, as in the case of Orchha in 1880.

It is extremely difficult to estimate the revenue of the Bundelkhand States, owing to the prevailing practice of giving large tracts of land on service tenure, instead of collecting the revenue and paying cash for service. None of the Bundelkhand Chiefs pay tribute in respect of the whole of their States; but three, namely Charkhari, Ajaigarh and Bihat, do so for certain villages or districts. The total amount of tribute paid annually by these three States is Rs. 16,997-5-6. Panna pays a quit-rent of Rs. 9,955 (q.v.). (For a list of these payments see Introduction to Vol. IV).

1. PANNA.

The Panna Chiefs are descended by blood from the Orchha house. During the anarchy that followed the death of Juihar Singh, Champat Rai, a grandson of Udot Singh, brother of Madhukar Sah, Raja of Orchha, broke off all relations with Orchha and became the recognised leader of the Bundelas. His son Chhatarsal acquired much territory east of the Dhasan river and founded Panna. On his death his possessions were divided, the town of Panna falling to his senior son Hirde Sah, who thus became the first Raja of Panna.

When the British entered Bundelkhand, Raja Kishore Singh, sixth in succession from Hirde Sah, who was then a minor of about 12 or 13 years, was the Chief in possession of Panna, which was then in a most disorganised condition. A Sanad (No. XXVII) was conferred upon him in 1807 on his subscribing a deed of allegiance. This Sanad confirmed him in the possession of $802\frac{1}{2}$ villages and three parganas. Many of the villages included in the Sanad were, however, in the possession of men who had wrested them from the Raja and refused to give them up; but with the aid of the British Government he recovered not only these, but many other villages not entered in the Sanad. A fresh Sanad (No. XXVIII) was therefore granted to him in 1811, by which he received in perpetuity $1,363\frac{1}{2}$ villages.

The oppressive conduct of Raja Kishore Singh forced the British Government on several occasions to interpose. In 1823 he entrusted the management of his State to Kuar Pratap Singh of Chhatarpur for four years, and the engagement was guaranteed by the British Government. But before the end of the period the conduct of Kishore Singh led to his expulsion from Panna, and the appointment of his son Harbans Rai as Regent. Kishore Singh died in exile in 1834. Harbans Rai, having no children, was succeeded, in 1849 by his brother Nirpat Singh; but the succession of Nirpat Singh was not acknowledged by the British Government till he had issued orders for the prohibition of sati throughout the Panna State.

For his services in the mutiny Nirpat Singh received, among other rewards, a khilat of the value of Rs. 20,000; but in 1862, in consequence of his resisting the settlement of boundary disputes, he had to be warned of the terms of allegiance on which he held his State.

In 1862 the Ruler of Panna received a Sanad of Adoption (No. XXIX).

In 1863 Nirpat Singh ceded certain lands required for railway purposes (No. XXX).

In 1867 the Ruler of Panna was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Nirpat Singh received in 1867 a Sanad (No. XXXI), conferring upon him, under certain conditions, supreme criminal jurisdiction within his territories; it was specified, however, that the powers thus granted were not necessarily transmissible to his successors. In 1869 the title of Mahendar was conferred on him by a Sanad (No. XXXII) in recognition of his loyalty to the British Government. This title was made hereditary in 1875.

Maharaja Nirpat Singh, whose liberality in alleviating the distress which prevailed in Bundelkhand in 1869 had met with the marked approval of Government, died in June 1870, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Rudra Pratap Singh.

In 1887 supreme jurisdiction, under certain conditions, was conferred on Maharaja Rudra Pratap Singh by a Sanad (No. XXXIII), it being laid down, as in the Sanad granted to Nirpat Singh, that the powers were not necessarily transmissible to his successors. In February 1891 it was ruled that this Sanad had no application to any criminal case in which the person accused, or any one of the persons accused, is a European British subject or of European or American nationality.

In 1893 Rudra Pratap Singh died, and was succeeded by his brother Diwan Lokpal Singh, on whom supreme criminal jurisdiction was conferred under the usual conditions by a Sanad in 1896. In 1898 Lokpal Singh died, and was succeeded by his only son Madho Singh.

The Saugor-Katni Railway, for which land in the Raipur Pargana had been ceded free of cost in 1896, was opened on the 1st January 1899. Full rights of civil and criminal jurisdiction, which had been originally ceded in 1896, were also conceded in the revised form in July 1899 (No. XXXIV).

In 1902 Madho Singh was deposed for complicity in the death of his uncle, Khuman Singh, by poison. He was interned at Bellary in the Madras Presidency, with a suitable allowance for his support. He was succeeded on the 20th June 1902 by his first cousin Yadvendra Singh, Khuman Singh's eldest son, who was born in 1893. During the minority of Yadvendra Singh the administration of the State was vested in a Diwan and Council supervised by the Political Agent.

In 1905 a lease of the Darbar's excise rights in certain isolated outlying villages situated wholly in the Damoh District was granted to the Central Provinces Administration. In 1910 and 1916 further agreements between the Government of the Central Provinces and the Panna State were entered into restricting the production, sale, etc., of country spirit, opium and hemp drugs in the villages of Urla and Papeti and leasing the excise rights in certain island villages of the State.

For the Ken Canal land was ceded in 1906, on payment of the usual compensation, and in 1908 the State entered into an Agreement (No. XXXV) regarding jurisdiction and other matters connected with the working of the Canal.

Maharaja Yadvendra Singh was invested with full ruling powers on the 4th February 1915. In 1921 a Sanad (No. XXXVI) conferring hereditary extended judicial powers was granted to him.

In 1921 the Imperial Postal Department agreed to take over the whole of the Postal arrangements in the State, and the Darbar were given a free supply of Service Postage Stamps for State correspondence of the face value of Rs. 900 a year.

The area of Panna is about 2,596 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 197,600; and the revenue about Rs. 10,68,299. A small and fluctuating revenue is also derived from the diamond mines near Panna. The Maharaja pays a quit-rent of Rs. 9,955 on the districts of Sheorajpur and Aktohan.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Panna State Forces consists (December 1926) of:—

---	-----

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Cavalry	15
Infantry and Artillery	214
Armed Police	121

The State possesses 13 serviceable and 21 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces".

The State was liable to the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

2. LUGASI.

Diwan Dhiraj Singh, grandson of Hirde Sah, was in possession of seven villages during the government of the Bundela Rajas and also during the period of Ali Bahadur's authority. After the establishment of the British Government he was maintained in possession, and on the 9th December 1808 received a Sanad (No. XXXVII) after executing the usual deed of allegiance.

In consequence of the infirmities of age Dhiraj Singh, in 1814, requested permission to abdicate in favour of his second son Sardar Singh, in preference to his eldest son Padam Singh, who four years before had rebelled against him, and had only submitted before a detachment of British troops, and on receiving a separate assignment of land for his support. This was sanctioned on condition of Padam Singh being permanently secured in his jagir, in order that he might not be driven by his necessities to any desperate steps in asserting his claim to the succession. It was not considered necessary to issue a new Sanad to Sardar Singh. Dhiraj Singh died in 1819.

During the mutiny of 1857 half the villages of Lugasi were laid waste by the rebels in consequence of the fidelity of Sardar Singh to the British after the settlement of disputes regarding his right to several villages not included in the Sanad of 1804.

The Raja's only legitimate son, Govind-Das, died in 1822. The Raja then declared his wish that Ratan Singh, his grandson by his illegitimate son Ranjit Singh, should be nominated his successor, to the exclusion of collateral heirs with whom he was at feud; and the British Government, seeing no objection to Ratan Singh being considered the eventual heir should no legitimate son be born to the Raja, gave a formal and public recognition of his title. Bije Bahadur died in November 1829, when Ratan Singh was only fourteen years of age. The conflicting claims of the collateral relatives were the subject of much discussion. Ratan Singh was eventually confirmed in power, but was required to make provision for his relatives. In 1857 the question came under consideration whether, on the death of Ratan Singh, the State of Charkhari should escheat to the British Government; but it was ruled that the effect of the recognition of Ratan Singh in 1822 was to admit him to all the rights secured to the Raja of Charkhari by the Sanads granted in 1804 and 1811, and necessarily involved the right of his heirs, if he should have any, to succeed to the State. The Raja's son Jai Singh Deo was accordingly recognised as his future successor.

For his services in the mutiny Ratan Singh received, among other rewards, a jagir of Rs. 20,000 in perpetuity, and a khilat. Besides the pargana of Fatehpur, which was bestowed on the Raja as a reward, lands in Mahoba to the value of Rs. 9,500 were given to him for an equivalent in Meradeo.

Ratan Singh died in 1860, and was succeeded by his minor son Jai Singh Deo, whose mother, Rani Bakht Kuar, was appointed Regent, on the condition that she would be recognised as such only so long as she and the two ministers designated by the late Raja, Maulvi Siraj Husain and Diwan Anna Sahib, acted in harmony and without mischievous differences of any kind. The Rani, however, strove to assume an undue share of power, and this eventually led to her removal from the Regency. Shortly afterwards dissensions broke out between the two ministers, and it was found necessary to appoint a British officer to act as referee. On the death of Siraj Husain in 1866 the British officer was withdrawn, and the administration was left in the hands of Diwan Anna Sahib; who, however, died in the following year, when his son Tantia Sahib was appointed manager.

In 1862 the Ruler of Charkhari received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. XXXVIII): and in 1867 was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

In 1866 the Charkhari State ceded (No. XLII) the parganas of Fatehpur, Hirapur and Meradeo, receiving in lieu thereof villages of the aggregate annual value of Rs. 29,525. A sum of Rs. 29,029 was also paid to the State as compensation on account of past losses of revenue from the Meradeo pargana.

In 1874 the Maharaja was invested with full powers of administration in his State, a British officer being deputed to Charkhari for one year to aid the young Chief with his advice. Jai Singh Deo did not, however, profit much by his assistance; for shortly after the officer's departure gross mismanagement ensued, and another officer had to be deputed temporarily to Charkhari in 1879. Next year the Maharaja was deprived of all power and the political officer at Charkhari was nominated Superintendent of the State.

Jai Singh Deo died childless in 1880, without having adopted an heir. The Government of India recognised the succession of Malkhan Singh, son of Jujhar Singh, a distant collateral relation, who had been adopted by Jai Singh Deo's widow. The usual nazarana was levied, the value of the khilat of investiture being deducted from it. Malkhan Singh being a minor, the State remained under British superintendence (the administration being conducted under the Political Agent's orders by the Muntazim, Diwan Rao Jujhar Singh, the father of the minor Chief) until January 1892, when the Chief was given ruling powers but the grant to him of extended powers of criminal jurisdiction was reserved.

In January 1886 the separate Agency at Charkhari which had been created in 1879 was abolished, and the State was again incorporated in the Bundelkhand Agency.

In 1894 supreme criminal jurisdiction, under certain conditions, was granted to Malkhan Singh (No. XLIII), it being specified that the powers were not necessarily transmissible to his successors.

In 1903 the Maharaja agreed to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through his territory, on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

In 1905 he ceded land for the construction of the Ken Canal, on payment of compensation for the area required. In 1908 the State entered into an Agreement similar to the one executed by Panna (see No. XXXV) regarding jurisdiction and other matters connected with the working of the Ken Canal.

Malkhan Singh died without issue in 1908 and was succeeded by his father Jujhar Singh, who died, also without issue, in 1914 and was succeeded by his younger brother Ganga Singh.

In 1909 the Maharaja of Ajaigarh laid claims to the Chiefship of Charkhari; but his claim was rejected by the Government of India in 1914.

Ganga Singh died on the 5th October 1920 and was succeeded by his adopted son, the present ruler, Maharaja Arimardan Singh. During his minority the administration of the State was carried on by a Council of Regency, with the Maharaja's father Bhan Pratap Singh, Rao of Jigni, as Regent. Maharaja Arimardan Singh was invested with full ruling powers on the 6th December 1924.

A Sanad (see No. XXXVI) conferring hereditary extended criminal powers on the Maharaja was granted in 1921.

The Ruler of Charkhari enjoys the title of Sipahdar-ul-Mulk which was conferred upon them on the occasion of the Delhi Assemblage of 1877.

The area of Charkhari is about 880 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 123,405; and the revenue about Rs. 6,00,000. The State pays a tribute of Rs. 8,583-9-6 for the Bhina and Chandla districts.

The military forces consist (1926) of 35 Cavalry, 176 Infantry and 44 Artillery men, with 24 serviceable and 18 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

4. BIJAWAR.

The founder of the Bijawar family was Bir Singh Deo, an illegitimate son of Jagat Raj. When Ali Bahadur invaded Bundelkhand, Bir Singh Deo refused to acknowledge his supremacy and was killed fighting against him near Charkhari. Raja Himmat Bahadur, however, made interest with Ali Bahadur on behalf of Kesri Singh, son of Bir Singh Deo, and procured for him his father's possessions on the same terms as those subscribed by the Raja of Charkhari.

Kesri Singh was the Chief who was in possession of Bijawar when the British Government obtained supremacy in Bundelkhand. Owing to complicated disputes with Raja Bije Bahadur of Charkhari regarding the pargana of Ramgarh. and with Kunwar Sone Sah of Chhatarpur regarding the villages of Dharampur, Bajra, Sathai and Karaiya, no Sanad was granted to Kesri Singh. He died in December 1810, and was succeeded by his son Ratan Singh, who on his accession in 1811 (the disputes with neighbouring States having in the meantime been decided) received a Sanad (No. XLIV) and was required to sign a deed of allegiance, the 10th Article of which was specially intended to prevent the revival of old, or the setting up of new, claims against neighbouring Rajas.

Ratan Singh died in 1833 without male issue; and, at the request of his widow, his nephew Lachhman Singh was recognised as his successor. Lachhman Singh was succeeded in 1847 by his son, Bhan Pratap Singh. For his services in the mutiny he received rewards, including a khilat.

In 1862 the Ruler of Bijawar received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. XIII): and in 1867 was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns. In 1866 the Government of India decided that in future the Chief of Bijawar should be called Maharaja: and in 1877, on the occasion of the Delhi Assemblage, he was granted the hereditary title of Sawai.

In 1867 Bhan Pratap Singh received a Sanad (see No. XXXI) granting him full criminal powers within his State; but in 1887 his powers of supreme criminal jurisdiction were withdrawn: and, owing to continued mismanagement on his part, the State had to be placed under the superintendence of the Agency. In 1898, having no male issue, the Chief adopted as his heir the second son of the Maharaja of Orchha, Rao Raja Sawant Singh, who was born on the 25th November 1877: and the adoption was sanctioned by the Government of India.

Bhan Pratap Singh died on the 15th September 1899, and Sawant Singh's succession was resented by the leading Thakurs; but their almost overt hostility was suppressed by the temporary internment of the ring-leaders at Nowgong, and the resumption of their jagirs till such time as they showed themselves ready to resume their allegiance. Maharaja Sawai Sawant Singh was publicly installed on the 28th June 1900. In January 1903 he was given administrative powers under certain conditions, which were relaxed in October 1904. In the interval debts had been liquidated to the extent of several lakhs, and a substantial cash balance accumulated in the State treasuries; the succession nazarana had been paid by the State to Government and by the Thakurs to the State; and the recalcitrant Thakurs had been pardoned and replaced in the peaceful possession of their estates.

The regular revenue survey and settlement of the State by specially selected British officers were completed in 1905.

A Sanad (see No. XXXVI), conferring hereditary extended criminal powers on the Ruler, was granted in 1921.

The area of Bijawar is about 973 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 111,723; and the revenue about Rs. 3,34,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 26 Cavalry, 103 Infantry, 20 Armed Police and 8 Artillery men, with 8 serviceable and 4 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

5. AJAIGARH.

In 1765 Guman Singh, a nephew of Pahar Singh the Chief of Jaitpur, was granted Banda and Ajaigarh by his uncle. The Chief of Ajaigarh was originally styled the Raja of Banda. Raja Bakht Singh.

or Bakht Bali, grandson of Jagat Raj, was driven from his possessions by Ali Bahadur, and reduced to such indigence that he was glad to accept a stipend of two rupees a day from his conqueror. On the British occupation of Bundelkhand in 1803 he received a pension of three thousand Gouhar Shahi rupees a month, until an adequate territorial provision could be assigned to him. At this time the fort of Ajaigarh and the greater portion of the territories forming the old possessions of Jagat Raj were in the hands of a military adventurer named Lachhman Dawa. With a view to the pacification of the country, it was resolved to confirm the occupancy of Lachhman Dawa, on condition of his making submission and tendering allegiance to the British Government. Lachhman Dawa was accordingly required in 1806 (No. XLV) to surrender the fort of Ajaigarh to the British Government at the end of two years, and meanwhile to pay a tribute of Rs. 4,000 a year. He broke these conditions, and was therefore dispossessed. A large share of his territory was given to the Raja of Ajaigarh who in 1807 received a Sanad (No. XLVI) restoring to him a portion of his possessions. His pension was discontinued in 1808. In 1812 the Raja asked for a Sanad, specifying in detail the villages which composed his State. This was granted in September of that year (No. XLVII); and at the same time, at the request of the Raja, the 5th and 6th Articles of the deed of allegiance, which he had executed in 1807, were cancelled.

Bakht Singh died in 1837, and was succeeded by his eldest son Madho Singh, who died childless in 1849, and was succeeded by his brother Mahipat Singh. The question was raised at the time whether the engagement with Bakht Singh limited the succession to his lineal descendants, and whether the State should escheat to Government; but a decision was finally given in favour of the succession of Mahipat Singh.

Mahipat Singh died in 1853, and the succession of his son Bije Singh, a boy eleven years old, was recognised. He died in 1855; when the British Government considered that the State of Ajaigarh had lapsed, and declined, pending a reference to the Court of Directors, to recognise the wish of Bije Singh's mother to appoint Ranjor Singh, his illegitimate brother, as successor. At the close of 1856 the Court of Directors desired that, before deciding that there was no rightful heir to the State, an enquiry should be made into the origin, nature, and extent of the rights of Bakht Singh's family as they existed before the grant of the Sanad to Bakht Singh. These instructions had not been acted on when the mutiny of 1857 broke out; and as the rebel Farzand Ali, by proclaiming Lokpal Singh, alleged to be an illegitimate son of Madho Singh, as Chief of Ajaigarh, retarded the pacification of the province, while the widow of Mahipat Singh remained steadfast in her allegiance to the British Government, it was determined in 1859 to waive the claim of Government to the lapse, and to recognise (No. XLVIII) Ranjor Singh, on the same terms and conditions as those on which the State had been held by Bije Singh, with succession to the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten. Certain exclusive privileges within the town of Banda, to which the British regulations were extended, were, however, excepted from this agreement.

In 1862 the Ruler of Ajaigarh received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. XXIII): and in 1867 was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

During the minority of Ranjor Singh, the State was administered by the widow of Mahipat Singh. On her death in 1868, the young Chief was entrusted with the management of the State. At the Delhi Assemblage of 1877 he received the title of Sawai as a hereditary distinction.

Supreme criminal jurisdiction, under certain conditions, was conferred on the Chief by a Sanad (see No. XXXIII) in 1887. It was ruled in February 1891 that the Sanad does not apply to any criminal case in which the person accused, or any one of the persons accused, is a European British subject, or is of European or American nationality.

In 1905 the Maharaja ceded land for the construction of the Ken Canal, on payment of compensation for the area acquired. In 1909 the State entered into an Agreement, similar to that executed by Panna (see No. XXXV) regarding jurisdiction and other matters connected with the working of the Ken Canal.

In 1909 Ranjor Singh laid claim to the Chiefship of the Charkhari State; but this was rejected by the Government of India in 1914.

In the same year the State entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of liquor, opium and drug shops in certain villages of the Banda district and the Ajaigarh State.

Ranjor Singh died in 1919 and was succeeded by his eldest son, the present ruler, Maharaja Sawai Bhupal Singh Bahadur, born on the 13th November 1866.

A Sanad (see No. XXXVI), conferring hereditary extended criminal powers on the Chief, was granted in 1925.

The area of Ajaigarh is 802 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 84,790; and the revenue about Rs. 5,00,000. The Chief pays, on account of the Khera and Bachon districts, a tribute of Rs. 7,013-12-0, a remission of Rs. 2,500 having been made on the separation of Jaso from his territories in 1816.

The military forces consist (1926) of 25 Cavalry, 216 Infantry and 41 Artillery men, with 9 serviceable and 4 unserviceable guns.

Nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

6. SARILA.

The Sarila State was founded by Aman Singh, son of Pahar Singh of Jaitpur, who was the son of Jagat Raj and grandson of Raja Chhatarsal.

Raja Tej Singh, Aman Singh's successor, was expelled from his possessions by Ali Bahadur, but recovered a portion of them through the influence of Raja Himmat Bahadur and, at the time of the British occupation of Bundelkhand, was in possession of the small fort and village of Sarila in the district of Jalalpur, yielding a revenue of about Rs. 9,000 a year. In consideration of his influence in the district and his submission to the British Government, an allowance of Rs. 1,000 a month was granted to him until a suitable provision in land could be made. The villages he claimed yielded Rs. 23,600. They were conferred upon him in 1807 by a Sanad (No. XLIX), and his pension ceased.

Tej Singh was succeeded by his son Anroddh Singh, and he by his son Hindupat.

In 1862 the Ruler of Sarila received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. XXIII).

Hindupat died in June 1871, when the Government of India chose for the Chiefship Khalak Singh, a member of a distant branch of the family, who had been adopted by Hindupat's widow. Khalak Singh was a legitimate descendant of Kehri Singh, another of the sons of Jagat Raj. Khalak Singh died childless in 1882, without adopting an heir. The Government of India selected as his successor his brother Pahar Singh, then aged about six years. The Government were guided in this selection partly by the wishes of the deceased Chief's widow, who was prepared to adopt the boy and subsequently did so; but at the same time they ruled that adoption by the widow of a deceased Chief does not of itself confer a right to succession. As an act of grace the Government of India decided to treat the succession as that of an adopted son and to levy nazarana accordingly. Pahar Singh was installed in 1895, but died on the 22nd February 1898. He was succeeded by his posthumous son, the present Raja Mahipal Singh, born on the 11th September 1898.

In 1903 the State agreed to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through its territory, on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

Raja Mahipal Singh was invested with full administrative powers on the 5th November 1919: and in December 1926 he was granted a Sanad (No. 1) conferring on him enhanced judicial powers as a personal distinction.

The area of Sarila is 35.28 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 6,081; and the revenue about Rs. 60,000.

Nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

7. JIGNI.

The founder of this Jagir was Rao Padam Singh, a son of Chhatarsal. The Jagir was much reduced during the Mahratta invasion, Lachhman Singh, Padam Singh's son, only managing to retain possession of the two parganas of Rath and Panwari.

Prithwi Singh, son and successor of Lachhman Singh, was in possession of fourteen villages at the time of the British occupation. These were attached in consequence of his contumacy; but two years later six of the villages were restored to him by a Sanad (No. 11) granted in 1810. On his death in 1830 without legitimate sons, it was proposed to resume the Jagir; but a posthumous son, Bhopal Singh, was born and was eventually recognised, the administration remaining in the hands of the widow. In 1840, in consequence of a feud between the Rani Regent and her confidential advisers, arising from the Rani having allowed an undue exercise of authority to her brother, a subject of Orchha, the British Government interfered and appointed managers, who were bound to act faithfully in the interests of the Jagirdar and to submit accounts of the income and expenditure to the Agent of the British Government in Bundelkhand. The administration was made over to Bhopal Singh in 1845.

Bhopal Singh was of weak mind: and, in consequence of his gross mismanagement, which resulted in an affray, attended with loss of life, between his followers and those of the Rani, the Jagir was taken under the direct management of the British Government in 1855.

In 1862 the Chief of Jigni received a Sanad of Adoption (No. LII).

Bhopal Singh died in 1870, when the adoption, in accordance with his wishes, of Lachhman Singh, youngest son of Maharaja Nirpat Singh of Panna, was recognised by the Government of India. During Lachhman Singh's minority the Jagir remained under British supervision until 1881, when he was permitted to assume management.

Lachhman Singh died in 1892, and was succeeded by Bhan Pratap Singh, alias Fateh Singh, a scion of the Charkhari house, whose adoption by Lachhman Singh's widow was sanctioned by the Government of India. Bhan Pratap Singh was born on the 18th May 1878, and during his minority the management was entrusted to Lachhman Singh's widow. The management of the Jagir was placed in his own hands on the 1st January 1918.

In 1903 the Jagirdar agreed to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through his territory, on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

Bhan Pratap Singh's only son, Arimardan Singh, succeeded by adoption to the Charkhari Chiefship in 1920: and during his minority the Rao acted as Regent of Charkhari.

In 1923 the Government of India decided that the Jagirdar should in future be designated as the Rao of Jigni.

The area of Jigni is 20.48 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 3,642; and the revenue about Rs. 14,000.

By the terms of the Adoption Sanad of 1862, nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue, in cases where the succession did not go to a lineal heir, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

S. BERI.

Diwan Jugal Prasad, to whom a Sanad (No. LIII) was given in 1809 by the British Government, was a descendant of Jagat Raj in the female line. His grandfather, Acharju, married a daughter of Jagat Raj, who granted him in jagir the villages of Umri, Chili and Dadri. These were held in the family under the Bundela Rajas, and were confirmed to Jugal Prasad by Ali Bahadur. On the British occupation of Bundelkhand the villages of Chili and Dadri were resumed, but the Diwan was left in possession of Umri. The village of Dadri was given to Nana Govind Rao, Chief of Jalaun, in exchange for villages in the district of Kalpi. Subsequently the right of Diwan Jugal Prasad to these villages was established. The village of Chili was therefore restored, lands of equal value in the pargana of Jalalpur were given in lieu of Dadri, and the collections made from the villages during the period of resumption were refunded. These villages, however, were all surrounded by lands in which the British regulations were in force, and could not conveniently be exempted from the operation of these regulations. Other villages were therefore given to the Diwan in exchange in 1811 (No. LIV).

Jugal Prasad died in 1814. He was succeeded by Phairan Singh, grandson of his full brother Gandharb Singh, the claim to the succession having been voluntarily renounced by Raoju, the father of Phairan Singh. In 1857 Phairan Singh was succeeded by his only son Bishwanath Singh. On the death of Bishwanath Singh in 1861 the widow wished to adopt Balbhadra Singh, a distant relative of the family, to the exclusion of Bijē Singh, son of Bishwanath Singh's first cousin. But Government installed Bijē Singh, then thirteen years old, on the grounds that he was the nearer relative of the deceased; that he was living in Bishwanath Singh's house at the time of his death, and performed the funeral obsequies; that he was recognised as the rightful claimant by the principal Thakurs; and that the Political Officers were in favour of his recognition on grounds both of right and policy. In consideration, however, of the services of Bishwanath Singh during the mutiny of 1857, the nazarana, which in ordinary circumstances would have been claimed on the succession, was remitted.

In 1862 the Chief received a Sanad of Adoption (No. LV).

In 1885 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Betwa Canal, receiving the usual compensation. No formal engagements were concluded with Beri in regard to this cession of land or jurisdiction.

Bijē Singh died in 1892, and was succeeded by his eldest son Raghuraj Singh. Raghuraj Singh died in 1904, and was succeeded by his eldest son Lokendra Singh, who was born on the 29th August 1891. During Lokendra Singh's minority the Jagir was administered, in accordance with Raghuraj Singh's last wishes, by his junior surviving widow, assisted by a Kamdar appointed by the Political Agent. Lokendra Singh was granted restricted powers on the 3rd June 1914 and full powers in May 1915.

In 1908 the Jagir entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of the liquor, opium and drug shops in the villages of Bhojpur and Pathraita.

In 1923 the Government of India decided that the Jagirdar should be designated the Rao of Beri.

The area of Beri is about 32 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 4,621; and the revenue about Rs. 40,000.

Nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

9. CHHATARPUR.

Kunwar Sone Sah, whom the British Government established in the Raj of Chhatarpur, was a servant of Hindupat, grandfather of Raja Kishore Singh of Panna. During the troubles which ensued on the introduction of the Mahratta power, Kunwar Sone Sah usurped a large tract of country for himself: and, on the British occupation of Bundelkhand, his influence was so great that the purchase of his submission by the guarantee of his possessions was considered an important political object

In the Sanad (No. LVI), granted to him in 1806, the town of Chhatarpur and four thanas which were in his possession during the lifetime of Ali Bahadur, with the towns of Mhow and Salat, which he had usurped after Ali Bahadur's death, were reserved by the British Government; and in consideration of this, Government remitted to him, as a provision for his son Pratap Singh, the tribute of Rs. 19,000 which he paid to Ali Bahadur.

Government, however, were of opinion that it might be expedient to restore Chhatarpur and the four thanas, on the understanding that Sone Sah would be responsible for the peace of his own territories. The restoration was not made till 1808, when Mhow was given to Sone Sah and Chhatarpur to his son Pratap Singh,* on the withdrawal of the British troops from that quarter.

In 1812 Sone Sah made a distribution of his territories among his five sons. Later he was persuaded by his younger sons to make another distribution, by which the share of Pratap Singh, the elder, was considerably lessened, and all the brothers were declared to be independent of each other. Government disapproved of this partition as being both unjust to Pratap Singh and opposed to the policy of the British Government, which desired to prevent the dismemberment of the Bundelkhand States; and the Raja was informed that if, in consequence thereof, any necessity for interference arose after his death, Government would uphold the rights of Pratap Singh. Government also refused to recognise the hereditary descent of the shares of the younger brothers in their families, and directed the Agent, on the death of Sone Sah, to assume the first distribution of the State as the basis of an arrangement with Pratap Singh; the other brothers, Himmat Singh, Prithwi Singh, Hindupat and Bakht Singh, holding their shares for life in subordination to Pratap Singh. These instructions were carried out on the death of Sone Sah in 1815, and were confirmed by Sanads granted in 1816 to the five brothers, from each of whom a corresponding engagement was taken (No. LVII). After the shares of the brothers had been allotted, some exchanges took place for mutual accommodation. Pratap Singh had incurred much expense in fortifying the fort of Deora, which commanded the passes through the hills. This was in the share allotted to Bakht Singh, but the possession of it was necessary to enable Pratap Singh to fulfil his obligation to keep marauders in check. The districts of Deora and Kariani were therefore given to Pratap Singh, in exchange for Rajgarh and Teloha, which were given to Bakht Singh. Prithwi Singh's share contained no town with a convenient place of residence, and to meet his wishes in this respect Bakht

* The Sanad granted on this occasion does not appear in the records of the Foreign Office. The Sanad given at page 196 of De Cruz's Political Relations was not granted to Pratap Singh, son of Sone Sah, but to Pratap Singh, Chief of Alipura.

Singh made over Rajgarh to him, in exchange for six villages of equal value.

The Sanad granted to Pratap Singh contained the names of thirty-nine villages not entered in the Sanad of Sone Sah. Many of these were hamlets dependent on villages named in the Sanad of 1806, but twenty-one of them were claimed by Raja Kishore Singh of Panna. It was found, however, that all these villages were in possession of Sone Sah at the time of Ali Bahadur's death, and his possession of them was therefore maintained. Possession at the time of Ali Bahadur's death was declared in this, as in other cases, to constitute the standard for the adjustment of all such claims.

On the deaths of Himmat Singh, Prithwi Singh and Hindupat, their jagirs reverted to the Chhatarpur State. Bakht Singh was unable to manage his jagir and made it over to Pratap Singh, who gave him in lieu of it an allowance of Rs. 2,250 a month. In this jagir there was an assignment of three villages, which had been made to the Dichhit family of Nowgong by Hindupat. Pratap Singh made various attempts to resume these villages, but was always compelled by the British Government to withdraw, on the ground that the family had a right to the jagir by virtue of old grants from Hindupat. While, however, the right of the Raja of Chhatarpur to resume these villages was denied, his supremacy over the Dichhit family was recognised, and the family were declared to be guaranteed subordinates of Chhatarpur. Thus the Dichhit Jagirdar is not of the rank of a Bundelkhand Chief, nor has he any claim to a separate Sanad from the British Government. It is accordingly incumbent on him to refer such questions, as the abolition of transit dues within the jagir, to the Chhatarpur Chief for his concurrence. In 1919, on the resumption by the Chhatarpur Darbar of certain plots of land in the village of Mau, the status of the Chhatarpur State in relation to the Bilehri Muafi was more clearly defined, by the decision of the Government of India that the jurisdiction in the Estate, which had for some years been with the Political Agent, should be restored to the Chhatarpur Darbar on certain conditions. In accordance with this decision the State assumed control of the Muafi with effect from the 20th January 1920, and granted a Sanad to the Muafidar in respect of the lands in Mau.

When Sone Sah died in 1815, his second, third and fourth sons, Himmat Singh, Prithwi Singh and Hindupat, had rebelled against Pratap Singh and had resisted his resumption of Sone Sah's jagir; but Prithwi Singh at last accepted, under British guarantee, a money stipend from Pratap Singh on condition of residing out of Chhatarpur: an arrangement by which Prithwi Singh was considered to have forfeited any rights that he might otherwise have had to the succession.

In 1852 Pratap Singh proposed to adopt and nominate as his heir Jagat Raj, grandson of his youngest brother, Bakht Singh, to the exclusion of Kunjal Sah, son of Prithwi Singh. A reference was made to the Chiefs of Orchha, Charkhari, Bijwar, Panna, Ajaigarh, Datia and Shahgarh, as to the right of Pratap Singh to adopt Jagat Raj. They gave it as their opinion that, according to the practice of the Chiefs of Bundelkhand, Pratap Singh had a right to select Jagat Raj and to pass over Kunjal Sah. The Court of Directors, however, disapproved of reference to the arbitration of the Bundelkhand Chiefs as a means of settling such questions; but, before it was decided whether Pratap Singh should be allowed to adopt Jagat Raj, or whether the State should lapse on his death, Pratap Singh died in 1854. The Court of Directors ruled that Kunjal Sah had no right to the succession, the Sanad of 1806 being only a life grant: and that, as the Sanad of 1817 limited the succession to the lineal heirs male of Pratap Singh, and Pratap Singh had died childless, the State of Chhatarpur had clearly lapsed. Moreover, they declined to recognise any right on the part of Jagat Raj in consequence of his adoption by Pratap Singh. But in consideration of the fidelity of the family and the good government of Pratap Singh, Government consented in 1854, as an act of grace and favour, to grant the State to Jagat Raj under a new Sanad (No. LVIII), the succession being strictly limited to him and his male descendants. The widow of Pratap Singh was made Regent during the minority of Jagat Raj, but was removed from the Regency in 1863, in consequence of her unsatisfactory management, and because of the asylum she gave to rebels in the Chhatarpur territory. A British officer was deputed to Chhatarpur to superintend the administration and instruct the young Chief in his duties.

In 1862 the Ruler of Chhatarpur received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. XXIII): and in 1867 was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Jagat Raj was entrusted with the management of the State early in 1867 but died in the following November, leaving an infant son Vishwanath Singh, born on the 29th August 1866, who was recognised as his successor. From 1867 to 1887, except for a short period (from 1876 to 1878) the State remained under British supervision. But on the 29th August 1887 the Chief, having then completed his twenty-first year, was invested with full administrative powers subject to the conditions usually imposed in such cases. In 1894 Raja Vishwanath Singh was empowered under certain conditions (No. LIX) to exercise criminal jurisdiction over heinous offences within his State as a personal distinction: these powers were made hereditary in 1921 (see No. XXXVI). On the 25th May 1895 the title of Maharaja was conferred on him as a personal distinction: and this was made hereditary (No. LX) in June 1919.

In 1905 Maharaja Vishwanath Singh ceded land for the construction of the Ken Canal, on payment of compensation for the area required: and on the 20th October 1908 the State entered into an Agreement similar to the one executed by Panna (see No. XXXV) regarding jurisdiction and other matters connected with the working of the Ken Canal.

A yearly payment of Rs. 3,249-10-3 is made to the State of Chhatarpur for land acquired in 1869 for an addition to the Nowgong Cantonment. Similarly, compensation is paid to the muafidar of Bilehri, through Chhatarpur, amounting to Rs. 2,838-9, for land acquired for the Nowgong Cantonment in 1845 and 1869.

The area of Chhatarpur is about 1,130 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 166,549; and the revenue about Rs. 7,00,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 21 Cavalry, 100 Infantry and 296 Armed Police, with 29 serviceable and 3 unserviceable guns.

Nazarana at the rate of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911 when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

10. BIHAT.*

The ancestors of the Bihat family, who are Bundela Rajputs, received service grants from the descendants of Hirde Sah and these were continued during the government of Ali Bahadur. Diwan Aparbal Singh and his relative, Diwan Chhatri, were found in possession at the time of the British occupation, and the usual Sanads (No. LXI) were conferred on them in 1807.

Aparbal Singh was succeeded by his son Bankat Rao, and he in 1828 by his son Kamod Singh. Kamod Singh was succeeded in 1846 by his son Hirde Sah, who died in 1859, and was succeeded by his uncle Govind Das, brother of Kamod Singh.

In 1862 the Chief received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV).

Govind Das died in 1872 and was succeeded by his son Mahum Singh.

The Jagirdar agreed in 1903 to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through his territory on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

Mahum Singh died on the 25th January 1908 and was succeeded by his son Bir Singh Ju Deo, born on the 16th May 1902.

In 1908 the Jagir entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of the opium and hemp drug shops in the villages of Alipura and Naikpura in the Bihat Jagir.

In 1923 the Government of India decided that the Jagirdar should be designated Rao of Bihat.

*DeCruz makes the mistake of including Bihat among the Chauho jagirs—Political Relations, page 48.

Rao Bir Singh Ju Deo was invested with full administrative powers on the 15th January 1925.

The area of Bihat is 16 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 4,786; and the revenue Rs. 27,000. The Jagirdar of Bihat pays a tribute of Rs. 1,400 a year for the village of Lohargaon.

Under the terms of the Adoption Sanad, nazarana at the rate of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct successions, and half a year's net revenue on successions by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

11. ALIPURA.

The lands composing this Jagir were granted by Hindupat, grandson of Hirde Sah, to Achal Singh, a Parihar Rajput, and the grant was continued to his son Diwan Pratap Singh by Ali Bahadur. Pratap Singh was in possession at the time of the British occupation, and the Jagir was confirmed to him by a Sanad (No. LXII) in 1808.

Pratap Singh left four sons, the eldest of whom, Pancham Singh, succeeded him. In 1835 Pancham Singh divided the jagir between himself and his three brothers, Tilak Singh, Jawahir Singh and Kishore Singh, but the division was not reported to, or recognised by, Government. In 1846 Kishore Singh died leaving a grandson, Bakht Singh. As the sub-division of the Jagir had led to disturbances, Kishore Singh's share was re-annexed to the Jagir, Bakht Singh being allowed to retain lands yielding Rs. 3,000 a year. It was soon afterwards decided that no Jagir held under Sanad from the British Government should be converted by sub-division into a zamindari without the previous sanction of Government. In 1849 Jawahir Singh died after having adopted one of Bakht Singh's sons. Bakht Singh, who had resisted the resumption of his grandfather's share, seized that left by Jawahir Singh, but was compelled by force to yield and retire on an allowance of Rs. 3,000 a year from the Jagirdar of Alipura.

In 1852 an arrangement was effected by which lands of the annual value of Rs. 6,000 were assigned to Kishore Singh's family: this was subsequently modified and a cash payment of the same amount was substituted. In the meantime Tilak Singh had died, and his share had been allowed to descend to his two sons. This gave Bakht Singh ground for further agitation; but it was decided that he had received every consideration, and the Jagirdar was given permission to re-annex Tilak Singh's share on making a suitable provision for the family. Bakht Singh refused to accept this decision and, on the outbreak of the mutiny of 1857, took part in the rebellion. On his surrender in 1865 he was tried for dakaiti and murder, but was acquitted for want of evidence. In 1868 the cash allowance of Rs. 6,000 was divided among Kishore Singh's family. According to recognised custom Jagat Raj, the eldest son of Kishore Singh, would have received Rs. 2,300, and his two brothers Rs. 1,850 each. On the same principle, Bakht Singh, the eldest of the sons of Jagat Raj, received Rs. 880 out of his father's share of Rs. 2,300, and his younger brothers received Rs. 710 each. Both of these have since died, and their heirs receive half the allowance. To secure the peace of Alipura and its neighbourhood, Bakht Singh was kept under surveillance at Gwalior.

In 1862 the Chief of Alipura received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LII).

Hindupat, who was the great-grandson of Pratap Singh in the direct male line, and had succeeded in 1840, died in 1871 and was succeeded by his son Chhatarpati.

In 1884 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Jhansi-Manikpur Section of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, receiving compensation for the area acquired, and in 1888 he ceded (No. LXIII) criminal and civil jurisdiction thereon to the British Government.

The Jagirdar consented in 1903 to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through his territory on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

In 1916 the Jagir ceded land to the United Provinces Irrigation Department for the construction of the Pahari and Lachura reservoirs in the Dhasan river (Nos. LXIV and LXV).

Chhatarpati died on the 26th March 1922 and was succeeded by his son Harpal Singh, born on the 12th August 1882. Owing to his father's ill-health, he had assisted him in the administration of the Jagir from 1901 to 1919, and had held sole charge of it, with the approval of Government, since 1919.

In 1923 the Government of India decided that the Jagirdar should be designated the Rao of Alipura.

In 1931 the personal title of Raja was conferred on Rao Harpal Singh.

The area of Alipura is about 73 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 14,580; and the revenue about Rs. 50,000.

Under the terms of the Adoption Sanad the Jagir was held subject to the payment of nazarana, of a quarter of a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

12. GAURIHAR.

Raja Ram was Governor of the fort of Burhagarh, in the service of Guman Singh, ancestor of the Rajas of Ajaigarh. During the anarchy of the times he rebelled against his master, and for a short while held the Hari Singh, the grandsons of Chhatarsal, and on the invasion of Ali Bahadur he seized the pargana of Kotra for himself. For years he resisted all efforts of persuasion or force to reduce him to submission; but, being at last convinced of the hopelessness of the unequal contest with the British troops, he submitted on condition of receiving a full pardon and a provision in land. A Sanad (No. LXVII) was given to him in 1812.

As an inducement to Gopal Singh to submit, the Raja of Panna, whom Gopal Singh had befriended in distress, gave him eighteen additional villages. The Raja of Panna asserted that these villages were given on a service tenure; but in 1821, after full enquiry, it was decided that no such condition was annexed to the grant. The villages continued with Gopal Singh till his death in 1831, when they were resumed by the Raja of Panna, the original grant having been only for the life of Gopal Singh.

Gopal Singh was succeeded by Diwan Bahadur Parichat.

In 1862 the Chief received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV).

Diwan Bahadur Parichat died in 1884, and was succeeded by his infant grandson Chandra Bhan Singh, who was born on the 2nd April 1883.

In 1884 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Jhansi-Manikpur Section of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, receiving compensation for the area acquired; and in 1888 he ceded (No. LXVIII) criminal and civil jurisdiction thereon to the British Government.

In 1898, on the death of the Superintendent appointed by Government, the administration was entrusted to the Jagirdar's mother. On the 1st July 1904 the management was transferred to Chandra Bhan Singh, on his attaining his majority; but his extravagance necessitated interference and the temporary restoration of the administration to his mother in 1905. She died in 1909, and administrative powers were restored to Chandra Bhan Singh on the 11th February 1910, on certain conditions which were subsequently withdrawn.

The Jagirdar agreed in 1903 to grant land for the construction of the Dhasan Canal through his territory on the same terms as now exist in the case of the Betwa Canal.

In 1908 the Jagirdar entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of opium and drug shops in certain villages of the Jagir.

In 1915 the Jagirdar ceded land to the United Provinces Irrigation Department for the construction of the Pahari Reservoir in the Dhasan River (No. LXIX): and in 1921 a final Agreement was executed in respect to this land (No. LXX).

The family are Bundela Rajputs.

The area of Garrauli is about 39 square miles, the population, by the Census of 1921, 4,817; and the revenue about Rs. 35,000.

Under the terms of the Adoption Sanad nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

14. NAIGAWAN REBAI.

Lachhman Singh, one of the banditti leaders of Bundelkhand, was induced to surrender on promise of pardon. He received in 1807 a Sanad (No. LXXI) for five villages. He died in 1808, and was succeeded by his son Jagat Singh. In 1850 it was decided that the Jagir of Naigawan Rebai is held merely on a life tenure, and ought to have been resumed on the death of Lachhman Singh. It was, however, continued to Jagat Singh, who had been so long in possession, on the distinct understanding that it was to lapse absolutely at his death. In the meantime, however, in 1862, a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV) was granted: and on the Jagirdar's death in 1867 the succession of his widow, Larai Dulhaiya, was sanctioned. In 1893 the Jagirdarin adopted Viswanath Singh, a distant connection: the adoption was sanctioned by the Government of India and his right of succession to Thakurain Larai Dulhaiya was recognised. Vishwanath Singh was granted administrative powers on the 8th March 1909.

In 1908 the Jagir entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of liquor, opium and drug shops in the villages of Churari and Ragauli in the Jagir.

The Jagirdar enjoys the title of Kunwar.

The area of Naigawan Rebai is 12.25 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 2,113; and the revenue Rs. 14,000.

Nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption, was taken up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

15. BAONI.

Baoni is the only Muhammadan State in Bundelkhand. Nawab Ghazi-ud-Din Khan, grandson of Asaf Jah, Nizam-ul-Mulk of Hyderabad, received from the Peshwa a grant of fifty-two villages near Kalpi. At the time of the British occupation of Bundelkhand his son Nasir-ud-Daula was found in possession of forty-nine of these villages, three having been usurped by the subordinate agents of the Peshwa's Government without authority from the Poona Darbar. The Nawab submitted a paper of requests in 1806 (No. LXXII) claiming the continuance of these villages: and, although actual possession was wanting to complete the ground of claim to three of them, yet, as a measure of liberality and in consideration of the rank of the Nawab and his exemplary conduct from the time of the British occupation, it was resolved to continue to him the whole of the villages comprised in the Peshwa's grant to his father. But the grant of a Sanad was withheld until the claims of the Nana of Kalpi could be adjusted, as the specific nature and extent of the Nawab's authority and privileges within his jagir might depend in a great measure on the nature of the settlement with the Nana. During the investigation of the Nana's claims it appeared that he stood to the Peshwa in the position of a tributary, and that the district of Kalpi, in which lay the Nawab's jagir, did not form part of the lands actually held by the Peshwa and ceded under the Treaty of Bassein (see Vol. VII, The Peshwa). It was therefore ruled that the British Government had no right to grant a Sanad for the villages constituting the Nawab's jagir, to exercise any authority over the Nawab and his possessions, or to ratify the paper of requests which the Nawab had presented. But Government considered that there were no objections to the execution of a deed recognising the validity of the Peshwa's Sanad; and this was accordingly done in a letter addressed to the Nawab by the Governor-General on the 24th December 1806. Any claims to independence of the British Government, which the Nawab might have been disposed to base on this decision, were extinguished in 1817, when the Peshwa ceded all his sovereign rights to the British Government.

Nasir-ud-Daula died in 1815, and was succeeded by his son Amir-ul-Mulk, who was succeeded in 1838 by his son Muhammad Husain Khan. In 1856 the Nawab requested that he might be permitted to proceed on a pilgrimage to Mecca, and that his eldest son Mehdi Husain Khan might be recognised in the succession; and, with a view to prevent quarrels, he proposed to settle allowances amounting to Rs. 9,000 a year upon the other members of his family. These arrangements were sanctioned, but owing to the mutiny and other causes the Nawab did not go on the pilgrimage. Nevertheless Mehdi Husain Khan continued to be addressed as Nawab, and to have sole charge of the administration till the death of his father Muhammad Husain Khan, which took place in 1859. After the death of Muhammad Husain Khan, one of his sons, Abdulla Husain Khan, endeavoured to cast suspicion on Mehdi Husain Khan's birth and so secure the succession to himself; but after enquiry Government recognised Mehdi Husain Khan as the legitimate heir.

In 1862 the Ruler of Baoni received an Adoption Sanad (No. LXXIII).

In 1863, as a reward for various liberal measures adopted by the Nawab, and particularly the abolition of transit duties within the limits of his State, Government sanctioned an addition to his complimentary titles.

In 1867 the Nawab received a Sanad (see No. XXXI), granting him, under certain conditions, supreme criminal jurisdiction within his lands; these powers were not necessarily transmissible to his successors.

In the same year the Ruler of Baoni was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

In 1874, at the special request of the Nawab, who was in ill-health, the management of the State was taken over by Government. In 1883 he abdicated, with the approval of the Government of India, in favour of his son Muhammad Hasan Khan, then about twenty-three years of age, receiving a cash allowance for his own maintenance.

In 1884 Baoni ceded land for the Betwa Canal, receiving the usual compensation, and in 1888 entered into an Agreement (see No. XX), ratified in 1889, regarding the cession of jurisdiction and other matters connected with the Canal.

Full criminal jurisdiction, under certain conditions, was conferred on Muhammad Hasan Khan by a Sanad (see No. XXXIII) in 1887, the powers not being necessarily transmissible to his successors. In February 1891 it was ruled that the Sanad did not apply to any criminal case in which the person accused, or any one of the persons accused, was a European British subject, or of European or American nationality.

Muhammad Hasan Khan died at Mecca in 1893. He was succeeded by his first cousin Riaz-ul-Hasan Khan. The ex-Nawab Mehdi Husain Khan died in 1895. In 1903 the administration, till then vested in a Superintendent appointed by Government, was placed, under certain restrictions, in the young Nawab's hands.

Riaz-ul-Hasan Khan died on the 27th October 1911 and was succeeded by his eldest son Muhammad Mustaqul Hassan Khan who was invested with full ruling powers on the 7th February 1918.

A Sanad (see No. XXXVI) conferring hereditary criminal powers on the Ruler was granted in 1921.

The revised complimentary titles of the Nawab, which have been recognised as hereditary by the Government of India, are Azam-ul-Umara, Iftikhar-ud-Daula, Imad-ul-Mulk, Sahib-i-Jah, Mihin Sirdar, and Safdar-Jung.

The area of Baoni is 121 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 19,734; and the revenue about Rs. 1,95,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 5 Cavalry, 32 Infantry and 5 Artillery men with 2 serviceable guns.

In accordance with the terms of its Adoption Sanad the Baoni State was liable to the payment of nazarana at the rate of half a year's net revenue, whenever the succession did not go to a direct lineal heir, up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

In 1883 the orders regarding divisions and reversions of shares in two of the three groups into which the family is divided for the purpose of succession were modified, and it was ruled that future devolutions should be regulated by the claims of legal shareholders.

In 1898 the Jagirdar proved himself incapable of controlling his co-sharers; accordingly, to secure the regular repayment of the Gwalior famine loan, the jagir was taken under management by the Political Agent till 1902. In that year an arrangement was made under which the co-sharers were to contribute to the cost of the Jagirdar's administration. In 1906 the jagir, which had been reduced to bankruptcy by the improvidence of the Jagirdar and the co-sharers, was again taken under management by the Political Agent.

In 1908 the Jagir entered into an agreement with the United Provinces Government in respect of the closure of the opium and hemp drug shops in the villages of Richhaura and Garari.

Ranjor Singh died in November 1910 and was succeeded by his son Diwan Jugal Prasad Singh, the present Jagirdar, who was born in 1896. He was invested with administrative powers on the 1st July 1918. Owing to dissensions amongst Hissedars, the impoverished condition of the Jagir and the Jagirdar's inability to control the Hissedars, the powers granted in 1918 were modified in 1921, the revenue administration of the Jagir and the general supervision being placed in the hands of the Political Agent, whilst the Jagirdar continues to exercise judicial powers.

The area of Dhurwai is about 15 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 1,880; and the revenue about Rs. 14,000.

Dhurwai was liable to pay nazarana in accordance with the terms of its Adoption Sanad up to 1911, when all such levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

(b) BIJNA.

Diwan Surjan Singh of Bijna was succeeded in 1839 by his son Khande Rao, and he, in 1850, by his son Makund Singh.

In 1862 the Jagirdar received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV).

Makund Singh died in December 1908 and was succeeded by his grandson Himmat Singh, in preference to Himmat Singh's father Hira Singh, who was incapable of administering the Estate. Diwan Himmat Singh was invested with administrative powers on the 1st July 1918.

In 1919 Mardan Singh, youngest son of Mukund Singh, advanced a claim to a half share in the Jagir, which was rejected; he was granted an allowance of Rs. 15 per mensem. In 1920 claims by Balwant Singh and Kalian Singh, Mashdars of Bijna, to shares in the Jagir were referred to the arbitration of the Maharaja of Panna, who gave his award on the 26th June 1920. Under this Balwant Singh enjoys an annual income of approximately Rs. 3,000 Gajashahi as under:—

- (a) exclusive possession of Bagroni and its total income (approximately Rs. 1,200 Gajashahi).
- (b) balance (approximately Rs. 1,800 Gajashahi) in cash in lieu of land:

and Kalian Singh an annual allowance of Rs. 1,300 Gajashahi.

The area of Bijna is 8 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 1,451; and the revenue about Rs. 8,000 a year.

Bijna was liable to pay nazarana in accordance with the terms of its Adoption Sanad up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

(c) TORI FATEHPUR.

Har Prasad, Jagirdar of Tori Fatehpur, before his death in 1858, adopted Prithwi Singh from the Bijna branch of the family, and his succession was recognised by Government, the jagir being left under the management of the widow of Har Prasad during the minority.

In 1862 the Jagirdar received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV).

Prithwi Singh died on the 6th February 1880. The Government of India sanctioned the succession of his nephew Arjun Singh, born in 1870, who, in accordance with her husband's wishes, had been adopted by the widow.

In 1882 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Betwa Canal, receiving compensation for the area acquired.

On the 15th August 1895 the Dowager Thakurain, who had been managing the Jagir during Arjun Singh's minority, died; and the administration of the estate was made over to Arjun Singh in October 1895. The title of Rao Bahadur was conferred on him as a personal distinction on the 1st January 1907.

The area of the Jagir is about 36 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 6,580; and the revenue about Rs. 30,000 a year.

Tori Fatehpur was liable to pay nazarana in accordance with the terms of its Adoption Sanad up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

(d) BANKA PAHARI.

Diwan Isri Singh of Banka Pahari, a well known title of Banka, belonging to the Jagirdar, was conferred in 1944 on the eldest son, Bahadur.

In 1862 the Jagirdar received a Sanad of Adoption (see No. LV).

Bije Bahadur died in 1871, and was succeeded by his eldest son Banka Piyariju, who died in 1887 without male issue, and was succeeded by his sole surviving brother Sukh Sahib. He died in 1890, without male issue, and was succeeded by his cousin Meharban Singh. The Government of India decided that, for the purposes of the Bundela Sanad, the succession should be regarded as direct, and that therefore nazarana of only one-fourth of the net annual revenue was leviable. Having regard, moreover, to the impoverished circumstances of the estate, the Jagirdar was called upon to pay a portion only of the nazarana thus taken.

Meharban Singh died on the 4th June 1915 and was succeeded by his son Diwan Baldeo Singh.

The area of Banka Pahari is 5 square miles; the population, by the Census of 1921, 1,613; and the yearly revenue about Rs. 4,000.

Banka Pahari was liable to pay nazarana in accordance with the terms of its Adoption Sanad up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

Dated 12th January 1804.

Your vakeel has presented to me a paper containing thirty-two requests, to which he solicited my acquiescence for the purpose of inspiring you with confidence and inducing you to come into our camp.

As a number of these requests had been previously acceded to or answered, I consider it to be unnecessary to notice them in this address, and shall merely state to you a few leading points which I have lately been induced to grant to you with a view to your complete satisfaction.

And first, in the event of your immediately coming into the British camp and of your future implicit submission to the orders of the British Government, I promise protection to your person and property, and every degree of personal liberty as well as of attention and respect on my own part.

J. Baillie in writing to the Nawab, the British Government will be prepared, at the requisition of the Nawab, to recommend it to the favourable consideration of His Highness.

ARTICLE 7.

As during the Government of my deceased father the revenues of this province (Bundelcund) were unequal to the expenses of the Government, for which reason many large debts are outstanding against my father's Government; if any person or persons shall complain to the British Government on account of the above description of debts, let such person or persons not be heard or attended to.

No attention will be paid by the British Government to any demands against the Nawab, on account of the debts incurred by his late father's Government.

No. IV.

ENGAGEMENT concluded between NANA GOVIND RAO PUNDIT, for himself, his heirs and successors, and CAPTAIN JOHN BAILLIE, Political Agent of the HONORABLE SIR GEORGE HILAR BARLOW, Baronet, Governor-General, etc., etc., etc., in behalf of the HONORABLE the EAST INDIA COMPANY, at Banda, the 23rd day of October 1806.

Whereas by the Treaty of Bassein a portion of territory in Savannour and Oolparra, formerly in the possession of His Highness the Peishwa, was ceded to the Honorable the East India Company; and Whereas by a subsequent agreement between the two Governments, the said territory was restored to His Highness the Peishwa, and in exchange for that territory together with certain other considerations which are detailed in the agreement in question, a territory in the province of Bundelcund, yielding an annual revenue of thirty-six lakhs and sixteen thousand Rupees was permanently ceded to the British Government and annexed to their possessions in Hindoostan; and Whereas at the period when the British troops were first employed in the occupation of the province of Bundelcund, and in the punishment of the disaffected in this province, Nana Govind Rao did for a time oppose the operations of the British troops in this province, by which conduct he the said Nana Govind Rao placed himself in the condition of an enemy to the British Government, and several districts and forts in the province of Bundelcund, which were formerly possessed by him, were conquered by the British army and occupied by their authority; and Whereas after the conquest of the aforesaid districts and forts, Nana Govind Rao, professing sincere obedience and submission to the Honorable Company, joined the British army with his troops, and since the period in question invariably regulated his conduct by a rigid observance of the duties of amity and attachment to the British Government and to its interests, in consideration of which the ilakas of Oorey and Mohummedabad were restored to him during the first year, and the pergunah of Mohaba in the second year after his submission; and Whereas a promise was made by the British Government to grant to Nana Govind Rao an equivalent for the district of Calpee at some future period, the Honorable the Governor-General in Council has lately been pleased to direct the performance of that promise: Therefore, and with a view to the confidence and entire satisfaction of Nana Govind Rao regarding both his ancient possessions and those which are now to be ceded to him as an equivalent for the district of Calpee, as well as for the purpose of confirming the said Nana Govind Rao in the principles and duties of good faith and attachment to the British Government, the following Articles have been agreed to and shall continue in force for ever:—

ARTICLE 1.

The Nana having professed a sincere attachment to the Honorable Company hereby engages never to molest the territory of the British Government, or of any Chieftain or State in alliance with the British Government, nor to afford succour or protection to any persons hostile to the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

Nana Govind Rao hereby surrenders for himself, his heirs and successors and cedes in perpetual sovereignty to the Honorable East India Company, their heirs and successors, for ever, the city, fort, and zillah of Calpee, situated in the Soubah of Akberabad, and the several villages situated on the right bank of the Jumna between Calpee and Raypoor, which are specified in the annexed Schedule, together with all rights and privileges which he or his ancestors may at any time have possessed in the zillah and villages aforesaid.

ARTICLE 3.

If any subject of the British Government accused of crimes or any defaulter shall at any time abscond and take refuge in the Nana's territories, the Nana engages to seize and deliver over such person to the British Government on application from the Civil Officer in the British territory.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government having been pleased to grant to the Nana, as an equivalent for the district of Calpee, the several villages which are specified in the annexed Schedule, and some of the mehals in question being situated between the British possessions eastward of the Betwa and the district of Kotch on the North-West Frontier, in which the presence of the Civil Officers of Government must always be required, and to which the detachment of troops may often be expedient: The Nana hereby engages to afford every assistance and support in his power to the Civil Officers of the British Government residing in the district of Kotch, and to provide the British Officers and troops on their march through his country with the necessary passports, guides, and supplies, so that no injury may be sustained by travellers, nor inconvenience suffered by troops in passing between the district of Kotch and any other part of the British possessions.

ARTICLE 5.

The Nana, being considered as the independent and uncontrolled ruler of the territory now ceded to him or confirmed in his possession, hereby renounces all claim to the aid of the British Government against internal or external enemies, and the British Government renounces all claims whatever upon the Nana with the exception of those described in this Engagement.

ARTICLE 6.

If any of the brothers or relations of Nana Govind Rao prefer a complaint against him to the British Government, whether such complaint be founded on motives of personal enmity or otherwise, or if any banker or merchant, being a creditor of the Nana or of any of his servants or adherents, prefer a complaint against him, or if any of the inhabitants of any of the villages dependant on the Nana exhibit a claim against him of any description whatever, all such complaints and claims shall be left to the Nana's decision.

ARTICLE 7.

As one-third of the diamond mines of Punna have from ancient times been committed by His Highness the Peishwa to the care of Nana Govind Rao, and continued in his charge during the establishment of the authority of the late Nawab Ali Behauder in this province, it is therefore agreed that in case of any portion of the diamond mines of Punna coming into the possession of the Honorable Company, the Nana shall not be molested by them in the possession of the said portion of the mines in question, and the British Government hereby expressly renounces all claims against that portion of the diamond mines of Punna which has been hithertofore occupied by the Nana.

ARTICLE 8.

All houses and gardens which belonged to the ancestors of the Nana and to those of his relations, and which are situated in the town of Bithoor in the Dooab, on the banks of the Ganges, or in the city of Benares or Calpee, or in Raypoor, or in any other towns or villages which are now in the possession of the British Government, shall continue as heretofore to be the private property of the Nana and his relations, whose right shall not be in any manner molested or encroached upon by the Officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 9.

All territories and rights in the province of Bundelcund, including Sagur, which are now occupied or possessed by Nana Govind Rao, or ceded to him by this Treaty in exchange for the district of Calpee, are hereby declared to be exempt from every future claim or demand on the part of the Honorable Company, their heirs and successors, for ever; and the British Government engage never to molest nor disturb the Nana, his heirs or successors, in the possession of the said territories and rights in Bundelcund, including Sagur, nor in the possession of those districts which are now ceded to him as an equivalent for the district of Calpee.

ARTICLE 10.

This engagement, consisting of ten Articles, being this day settled and concluded at Banda, between Captain John Baillie, Agent to the Governor-General on the one part, and Baskur Rao Anna Pundit and Rao Kishen Rao, the accredited vakeels of Nana Govind Rao on the other, a copy of the same in English and Persian under the seal and signature of the said Captain John Baillie has been delivered to the said vakeels, and the said vakeels have delivered to Captain J. Baillie another copy bearing the seal and signature of the said Nana Govind Rao countersigned by his said vakeels, and the said Captain Baillie has engaged to procure and deliver to the vakeels of the said Nana Govind Rao, without delay, a copy of this engagement duly ratified by the Honorable the Governor-General in Council, on the receipt of which by the said vakeels the present engagement shall be deemed complete and binding on the Honorable Company, and on the said Nana Govind Rao, and the copy of it now delivered by the said vakeels shall be returned.

Done at Banda this twenty-third day of October A.D. 1806, answering to the tenth day of Shaban 1221 Hijree, and to the eleventh day of Koor Sood 1863 Sumbut.

N.B.—This Treaty was ratified by the Governor-General in Council on 24th December 1806.

ENGAGEMENT concluded between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and NANA GOVIND RAO,—1817.

Whereas by a Treaty concluded between the British Government and His Highness the Peishwa, under date the 13th June 1817, corresponding with the 14th Assar 1874 Sumbut, the rights of supremacy possessed by His Highness over Nana Govind Rao, and the lands in the Nana's immediate occupation, have been transferred to the British Government; and Whereas the British Government has consented on certain considerations to relinquish the tribute and military service which by virtue of that transfer it had acquired a right to demand from the Nana, and to constitute the Nana the hereditary ruler of the lands at present in his actual possession: The following Articles have accordingly been concluded by mutual consent between the British Government and the said Nana Govind Rao:

ARTICLE 1.

All the Articles of the Engagement contracted with Nana Govind Rao by Colonel John Baillie on the part of the British Government, under date the 3rd day of October 1806, corresponding with the 10th of Shabun 1221 Hijree, and the 11th of Kooar Sood 1863 Sumbut, shall remain in full force, excepting in as far as they are not altered by this Treaty.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government hereby relinquishes for ever its right to tribute and military service from Nana Govind Rao, his heirs and successors. The British Government moreover acknowledges and hereby constitutes Nana Govind Rao, his heirs and successors, the hereditary rulers of the territory at present in the Nana's actual possession.

ARTICLE 3.

The British Government further engages to protect the aforesaid possessions of the Nana from the aggressions of any foreign power, and it is accordingly hereby agreed between the contracting parties that whenever the Nana shall have reason to apprehend a design on the part of any power to invade his territories, whether in consequence of any disputed claim or on any other ground, he shall report the circumstances of the case to the British Government, which will interpose its mediation for the adjustment of such disputed claim; the Nana, relying on the justice and equity of the British Government, agrees implicitly to abide by its award. If the apprehended aggression be referable to any other cause, the British Government will endeavour by representation and remonstrance to avert the design, and if, notwithstanding the Nana's acquiescence in the award of the British Government, the other party shall persist in its hostile designs, and the endeavours of the British Government shall fail of success, such measures will be adopted for the protection of the Nana's territories as the circumstances of the case may appear to require.

ARTICLE 4.

Nana Govind Rao hereby cedes to the British Government in perpetual sovereignty the whole of the lands of the ilakah of Kundah appertaining to the pergunnah of Mohabuh, circumscribed by the territories of the British Government, and also certain villages on the banks of the River Jumna appertaining to the pergunnah of Choorke, and intermixed with the Honorable Company's lands of Bhudaick and Raypore, including mal, sayar, charity, and rent-free lands of every description, agreeably to a Schedule subjoined to the Treaty; the Nana accordingly engages that the aforesaid lands shall be given up to the Officers of the British Government immediately on demand. But with a view to the satisfaction of certain claims upon the Nana, for which some of these lands are pledged, the British Government hereby agrees to grant to the Nana the revenue of those lands to be paid in cash up to the end of Assar next, corresponding with July 1818; the current revenue, after deducting the expense of collection, the outstanding balances, and the advances of tuccavie which may be justly demandable up to the end of Assar next, according to the Regulations of the British Government, shall accordingly be collected by the British Revenue Officers and paid to the Nana monthly.

ARTICLE 5.

If at any time the Nana have any cause of complaint against any of the Rajahs or Chiefs allied to the British Government, the Nana engages to refer the case to the arbitration and decision of that Government, and to abide implicitly by its award, and on no account to commit aggressions against the other party, or to employ his own force for the satisfaction of such claim or the redress of the grievance of which he may complain.

ARTICLE 6.

Nana Govind Rao hereby engages to abstain from corresponding with foreign powers, excepting with the privity and consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 7

With a view to facilitate the adjustment of boundary disputes between the subjects of the Nana and that of the British Government, and to avoid the delay of a reference to the Nana, the Nana hereby engages to require all his Aumils and other Officers on the frontier to comply immediately with any orders they may receive from the Superintendent of Political Affairs, for causing the attendance of parties and witnesses, or for any other purpose connected with the adjustment of boundary disputes without waiting the result of a reference to him. The Nana further agrees to give ready and due attention to all suggestions from the Superintendent respecting the punishment of any of his subjects who may be convicted before the Superintendent of violence and aggression towards the British subjects. With a further view to avoid disputes respecting the new boundaries which will be formed between the lands now ceded by the Nana and those to which they are contiguous, it is hereby agreed that actual possession at the date of this Treaty shall be held to be the criterion for the settlement of all disputes which may arise respecting the aforesaid boundary, and that no retrospective claim founded on former possession shall be sustained on either side.

ARTICLE 8.

The British Government hereby engages to contract no engagements with Rao Benaick Rao, the manager of Saugor, or with the Bheik Sahiba, detrimental to the claims and rights of the Nana in the country of Saugor. The British Government, moreover, offers hereafter to interpose its good offices with a view to bring about a satisfactory adjustment of the difference between Nana Govind Rao and the manager of the country of Saugor.

ARTICLE 9.

Whenever the British Government may have occasion to send its troops through the territory of Nana Govind Rao, or to station a British force within his territories, it shall be competent to the British Government so to detach or station its troops, and the Nana shall give his consent accordingly. The Commander of the British troops which may thus eventually pass through or permanently occupy a position within the Nana's territories shall not in any manner interfere in the internal concerns of the Nana's Government : whatever materials or supplies may be required for the use of the British troops during their continuance in the Nana's territories shall be readily furnished by the Nana's Officers and subjects, and shall be paid for at the price current of the bazaar.

ARTICLE 10.

This Treaty, consisting of ten Articles, having this day been concluded between the British Government and Nana Govind Rao through the agency of John Wauchope, Esq., in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Most Noble the Governor-General on the one part, and Abha Bulwunt Rao, the vakeel of the said Nana Govind Rao, on the other, Mr. Wauchope and the said vakeel signed and sealed two copies of the Treaty in English, Persian, and Hindee, one of which, after being ratified by the seal and signature of the Most Noble the Marquis of Hastings, Governor-General, will be returned to-morrow to the said vakeel, and the said vakeel having obtained the ratification of the Nana to the other copy, engages to deliver it within the same time to Mr. Wauchope.

Signed, sealed, and exchanged at Jalound, on the First day of November 1817, corresponding with Seventh of Kartic 1814 Sumbut, and Twentieth of Zechij 1232 Hijree.

No. VI.

WHEREAS a firm TREATY of FRIENDSHIP and ALLIANCE subsists between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and HIS HIGHNESS the PEISHWA, and SHEO RAO BHAO, SOOBADAR of JHANSIE, is a tributary of HIS HIGHNESS the PEISHWA; and Whereas SHEO RAO BHAO, entertaining a just sense of the obligations imposed upon him by the said Treaty of Friendship and Alliance between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and HIS HIGHNESS the PEISHWA, shortly after the arrival of a detachment of the British army in BUNDELOUND, transmitted to HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL LAKE, Commander-in-Chief, etc., etc., through CAPTAIN JOHN BAILLIE, Political Agent on the part of HIS EXCELLENCY in BUNDELOUND, a Wajib-ool-Urz or Paper of Requests, expressive of his submission and attachment to the views and interests of the BRITISH GOVERNMENT, and containing seven distinct Articles or requests, all which have been acceded to by HIS EXCELLENCY the COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF; and Whereas certain requests and agreements on the part of SHEO RAO BHAO were not included in the said Wajib-ool-Urz, and are now necessary to be added:

The following Articles are now agreed on for the purpose of affording additional security and confidence to Sheo Rao Bhao, and of constituting an additional pledge of his fidelity and attachment to the British Government:—

ARTICLE 1.

The Bhao, professing his entire submission and sincere attachment to the British Government and to His Highness the Peishwa, hereby engages to consider the friends of both Governments as his friends, and their enemies as his enemies, that is to say, he promises not to molest any Chief or State who shall be obedient to the British Government and to His Highness the Peishwa; and considering all such as may be rebellious or disaffected to these Governments as his enemies, he engages to give no protection in his country to such persons or their families, to hold no intercourse or correspondence of any nature with them, and to use every means in his power to seize and deliver them over to the Government against which they may offend.

ARTICLE 2.

If at any time a dispute or difference arise between the Bhao and any neighbouring State or Chieftain professing obedience to the British Government, the Bhao engages to communicate the grounds of such dispute or difference to the British Government, that they may have an opportunity of investigating the matter in dispute and of adjusting it to the mutual satisfaction of the parties, or of punishing the party who shall be refractory.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever a detachment of the British forces shall be employed in punishing the disaffected in the countries contiguous to the possessions of Sheo Rao Bhao, the Bhao engages upon every such occasion to join the British forces with his army and to assist in the accomplishment of their views ; and if at any time a detachment of the British force shall march into the Bhao's country for the purpose of quelling disturbances there, the whole expense of such detachment shall be defrayed by the Bhao. On the other hand, if the assistance of the Bhao's troops be demanded at any time for the purpose of quelling disturbances in the British territory, the expenses of such troops shall be borne by the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

The Bhao is in reality the Commander of his own troops ; but it is hereby agreed that on every occasion when they may be acting with the British forces, the general command of the whole shall be vested in the Commanding Officer of the British troops, and in the event of peace being concluded, a due attention shall be paid to the interest of the Bhao.

ARTICLE 5.

Sheo Rao Bhao engages never to take or retain in his service any British subject or European of any nation or description without the consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 6.

Whatever tribute has been hitherto paid to His Highness the Peishwa by the Bhao shall be continued to be paid to His Highness. The British Government do not demand any tribute for themselves.

ARTICLE 7.

If Rajah Ambagie Ingolia at any time molest the possessions of the Bhao, the British Government shall interfere to prevent him.

ARTICLE 8.

Accusations of disaffection or disobedience, if adduced by any person against the Bhao, shall not be attended to by the British Government unless the truth of them be proved.

ARTICLE 9.

Sheo Rao Bhao possesses a house in the city of Benares ; if any of the children, brothers, or other relations of the Bhao hereafter reside in that city, they shall enjoy the protection of the British Government, and shall not suffer any molestation.

This Agreement, containing nine Articles, signed and sealed by Captain John Baillic, Political Agent, on the part of His Excellency General Lake, Commander-in-Chief, and by Sheo Rao Bhao, Soobadar of Jhansie, in Camp at Kotra, on the 6th day of February 1804, answering to the 23rd day of Shuhaul 1218 Hijery, and 10th day of Phagoon Boodee 1860 Sumbut, is delivered to Sheo Rao Bhao, and another of the same date, tenor, and contents, signed and sealed by the parties on the same day, is delivered to Captain John Baillie. Whenever the ratification of this Agreement, under the seal and signature of His Excellency General Lake, or of His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor-General in Council, shall be delivered to Sheo Rao Bhao, the Bhao engages to return the Agreement.

TRANSLATION of a WAJIB-OOŁ-URZ presented on the part of the RAJAH of JHANSIE.
—18th November 1803.

Seurao Bhao, Chief of Jhansie and other places, submits the following requests in separate Articles, and hopes that they may be granted by the British Government :—

1st.—The degree of rank and respectability which I have hitherto enjoyed under His Highness the Peishwa, shall be continued and increased under the British Government.

2nd.—The country and forts which I at present hold under the authority of His Highness the Peishwa shall remain in my possession, and the revenue which I have hitherto paid to the Peishwa shall hereafter be paid into the Company's treasury.

3rd.—As the English are now employed in the conquest of the territories and forts of Dowlut Rao Scindiah and Holkar, let a battalion or two with an Officer of rank be sent here, and I shall join and assist them in conquering the countries which are adjacent to my own.

4th.—If the Honorable Company be desirous of possessing my country and fort, they are masters and every way powerful, and I am ready to submit; but as the British Nation and His Highness the Peishwa are at peace, and as a Treaty exists between them, let an order of His Highness be produced, that I may perform the duty of allegiance in obeying that order.

5th.—If the Peishwa at any future period make over my country to the Company, and it becomes a part of the British possessions, let a Jaidad be assigned to me for the support of my cavalry and infantry, and for the maintenance of myself and family in perpetuity.

6th.—As the Rajahs of Candahar, Dutteea, Chundery and other Chiefs in the neighbourhood are ready to submit to and become the servants of the British Government, let the possessions of these Chiefs be guaranteed, and the revenue which they have paid to the Peishwa, shall be paid into the British treasury.

7th.—Let every arrangement with me be concluded through the medium of Rajah Himmud Bahadoor.

Signed and sealed under the authority of Seurao Bhao by his vakeel Izzul Khan.

gage from Rajah Bahadur will continue on its present footing until a settlement of the mortgage takes place between the parties. The British Government further engages to protect the aforesaid territory of Row Ramchund from the aggression of foreign powers.

ARTICLE 3.

The British Government having by the terms of the foregoing Article engaged to protect the principality of Jhansie from the aggressions of foreign powers, it is hereby agreed between the contracting parties that whenever the Government of Jhansie shall have reason to apprehend a design on the part of any foreign power to invade its territories, whether in consequences of any disputes, claim, or on any other ground, it shall report the circumstances of the case to the British Government, which will interpose its mediation for the adjustment of such disputed claim; and the Jhansie Government, relying on the justice and equity of the British Government, agrees implicitly to abide by its award. If the apprehended aggressions shall be referable to any other cause, the British Government will endeavour by representations and remonstrance to avert the design, and if, notwithstanding the Soubahdar's acquiescence in the award of the British Government, the other power shall persist in its hostile designs, and the endeavours of the British Government should fail of success, such measures will be adopted for the protection of the Soubahdar's territories, as the circumstances of the case may appear to require.

ARTICLE 4.

In consideration of the guarantee and protection afforded by the two foregoing Articles to Row Ramchund, the Chief of Jhansie, that Chief hereby binds himself to employ his troops, at his own expense, whenever required to do so, in co-operation with those of the British Government, on all occasions in which the interests of the two Governments may be mutually concerned. On all such occasions the Jhansie troops shall act under the orders and control of the Commanding Officer of the British troops.

ARTICLE 5.

Row Ramchund hereby agrees to submit to the arbitration of the British Government all his disputes with other States, and implicitly to abide by its award.

ARTICLE 6.

Row Ramchund engages at all times to employ his utmost exertions in defending the roads and passes of his country against any enemies or predatory bodies who may attempt to penetrate through it into the territories of the Honorable Company.

ARTICLE 7.

Whenever the British Government may have occasion to send its troops through the dominions of Row Ramchund, or to station a British force within his territories, it shall be competent to the British Government so to detach or station its troops, and Row Ramchund shall give his consent accordingly. The Commander of the British troops which may thus eventually pass through or permanently occupy a position within the Jhansie territories, shall not in any manner interfere in the internal concerns of the Jhansie Government. Whatever materials or supplies may be required for the use of the British troops during their continuance in the Jhansie territories, shall be readily furnished by Row Ramchund's Officers and subjects, and shall be paid for at the price current of the bazaar.

ARTICLE 8.

Row Ramchund hereby binds himself to maintain no correspondence with foreign States without the privity and consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 9.

Row Ramchund engages to give no asylum to criminals, nor to defaulters of the British Government who may abscond and take refuge within his territories; and should the Officers of the British Government be sent in pursuit of such criminals and defaulters, Row Ramchund further engages to afford such Officers every assistance in his power in apprehending them.

ARTICLE 10.

This Treaty, consisting of ten Articles, having this day been concluded between the British Government and Row Ramchund, through the agency of John Wauchope, Esquire, in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Most Noble the Governor-General, on the one part, and Nana Bulwunt Row, the vakeel, on the other, Mr. Wauchope and the said vakeel have signed and sealed two copies of the Treaty in English, Persian, and Hindec, one of which, after being ratified by the seal and signature of the Most Noble the Marquis of Hastings, Governor-General, will be returned to the said vakeel, and the said vakeel, having obtained the ratification of the Soubahdar to the other copy, engages to deliver it within the same time to Mr. Wauchope.

Signed, sealed, and exchanged at Pepree on the seventeenth day of November 1817, corresponding with the twenty-fourth Kartic 1874 Sumbut, and seventh of Mohorum 1233 Hijree.

J. WAUCHOPE,

Superintendent, Political Affairs.

This Treaty was ratified by His Excellency the Governor-General in camp at Pepree, on the eighteenth day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventeen.

GEORGE SWINTON,

Persian Secretary to Government.

5th.—That the Chief shall pay to every public Officer who has served us in the administration of the Jhansie Government for a period of three years, and whose services he now dispenses with, a donation of six months' salary, provided they do not find employment in Jalone or the ceded lands.

6th.—That the Chief pay off the debt to the British Government by annual instalments of not less than fifty thousand Rupees.

7th.—That the Bundelcund Legion be kept permanently to at least its present strength for the protection of the Jhansie and Jalone districts, but the distribution of this force is to rest with the Officer Commanding, or the representative of our Government in Bundelcund. The Officer Commanding the Legion is to comply with the requisitions of the Raja for the aid of troops whenever he thinks them proper, without reference to such representative; but should he at any time not deem it proper to comply with such requisitions, he will state the circumstances of the call for aid, and his reasons for not complying with it, to the representative of the Government, and suspend compliance till his orders are received.

8th.—That the Chief will assign lands for a military cantonment in any part of his territories which the Government may select for the purpose; but the Officer Commanding the troops in such cantonments is not to interfere with the civil administration of the Government, or permit the troops to oppress the subjects of the Jhansie State. What supplies for the use of the troops may be required from the country around are to be procured through the Officers of the Jhansie Government, and paid for at the current prices of the day.

The Articles of former Treaties between the Jhansie Chiefs and the British Government are to remain still in force; and all the salutes heretofore given to those Chiefs and courtesies of reception which are the same as those given to the Chiefs of Orchha, Duttia, and Sumptur, to be continued.

Signed and sealed by the Rajah of Jhansie, Gungadhur Rao, on the 27th of December 1842.

Agent, Governor General.

WAJIB-OOŁ-URZ presented by PURSERAM in 1807.

1st Request.

Having submitted to the authority of the British Government in the hope of support and advantage, and having accepted of the terms proposed to me by the Government, I agree to reside with my followers in the villages composing my jaghire. If, however, I should accept of service anywhere else with a view to obtain a subsistence, I request that my motives for doing so may not be questioned by the Government.

Answer.

As you are now one of the adherents and dependants of the British Government, it is incumbent on you to abstain from all intercourse and connection with the enemies and rebels of the British Government. You are not however prohibited from entering the service of any person not of the above description. But it is necessary that you previously intimate your intention to the Government and obtain its permission. In the event of hostilities arising between any of the dependants of the British Government and of either party offering you service or inviting your co-operation, your conduct in this case also must be guided by the instructions of the Officers of the British Government.

2nd Request.

Before this and while I was in a state of enmity to the British Government, I was in the habit of committing all sorts of disorderly and predatory acts, and have plundered and possessed myself of real and personal property, of all kinds of effects and of horses and cattle of every description. I request therefore that no complaint that may be eventually preferred in consequence of any of those transactions may be heard or admitted.

Answer.

No suit against you of which the cause of action shall have arisen prior to the date of your obligation of allegiance shall be admitted in the Civil or Criminal Court, nor shall any retrospective notice be taken of such suits on the part of the Government.

3rd Request.

Having acknowledged my obedience and submission to the British Government, if any one from motives of hatred or malice misrepresent my conduct to

Answer.

It is contrary to the principles of the British Government to admit calumnious representations against any person. It is necessary how-you, I request that no such representation may be admitted without investigation.

4th Request.

If any of my dependants having separated from me or any of my creditors prefer any complaint against me, I request that it may not be listened to; and my rank and dignity being entirely dependent on the favour of the British Government, I trust they may be increased.

5th Request.

In former times the ilaka of Banda and lands on the opposite side of the River Cane, to the amount of four lakhs of Rupees, were farmed by me. In that ilaka there are certain balances due to me by the zemindars which they have no right to withhold. I request that the claim may be investigated by the Government and that they be required to discharge the balances.

6th Request.

I request permission to take possession of all the houses and gardens in the town of Banda belonging to me in whosever occupation they may be.

7th Request.

In certain villages of the pergunnahs of Banda, Motound and Soondah, the zemindars have granted me bonds for sums of money for which they have obtained remission in their kubooliuts with the Government, although they have not paid them to me. Whatever ever that you carefully avoid pursuing a line of conduct that might give rise to suspicion.

Answer.

No complaint preferred against you of which the cause of action shall be prior to the date of your Ikrarnamah shall be heard. But with respect to complaints which shall have originated after that period, you shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court.

Answer.

As no claims originating before the date of your Ikrarnamah are to be heard against you, it would be improper on the same principle to admit any old standing claims of yours against any other person; at the same time whenever a complaint shall be preferred, the Officers of the Government, after investigating the nature of it, will decide upon the propriety of its admission or rejection.

Answer.

Such of your houses as have been given to any person by the Government or as may be occupied without any written authority or permission from you shall be restored to you.

Answer.

Those sums, after ascertaining the truth of your assertion, become the property of the Government, and by detecting those zemindars you will evince your zeal for the welfare of the Government. Although you possess no just claim to those sums, yet, after portion of those sums shall be granted to me I shall consider as a favour, and I agree to prove the truth of this assertion.

they shall be collected, whatever proportion the Government may think proper shall be allowed to you as a gift.

Dated the 7th October 1807, corresponding with the 1st of Assin 1215 Fuslee.

IKRARNAMAH or OBLIGATION of ALLEGIANCE presented by PURSERAM,—1807.

I, Purseram, do hereby declare and acknowledge that I have submitted in person to the British Government, and with a view to confirm my obedience and submission I do hereby present this Ikrarnamah, comprising the following Articles :—

ARTICLE 1.

Whereas I, Purseram, freely and sincerely professing my obedience and submission to the British Government, have been ranked among the number of the dependants and adherents of that Government ; and Whereas John Richardson, Esq., Agent on the part of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council for the general superintendence and control of the province of Bundelcund, has required from me an Ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance to the British Government : Therefore, and in consideration of the ample maintenance which has now been conferred upon me by the British Government, I do hereby present this Ikrarnamah, comprising the following Articles under my own seal and signature, from which I hereby engage never to deviate and never to commit any act which shall in any degree violate the terms of the said Articles.

ARTICLE 2.

I agree to reside with my family and children in one of the villages of my jaghire and not to leave such village without orders from the Officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 3.

I hereby engage to have no connection with any marauders, plunderers, robbers, or other evil-doers within or without the province of Bundelcund, especially with Rajah Ram, and not to permit any such persons to reside in any of my villages ; to give every information regarding them to the Officer of the British Government and to relinquish all intercourse and correspondence whatever with them. I further engage not to enter into disputes with any of the servants and dependants of the British Government, and if a dispute should arise between any of the dependants of the Government, I engage to remain passive in such dispute, to afford no assistance to either party without orders from the British Government, and scrupulously to observe the duties of obedience and submission on all occasions.

ARTICLE 4.

If any inhabitant of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to seize and deliver him up to the Officers of the British Government ; and if any person should be deputed by the Government to apprehend such absconder, I agree not only not to oppose or impede such person, but to afford him every assistance in the apprehension of the offender. I further engage to obey the orders of the Civil and Criminal Courts in all cases that shall occur after the date of this Ikrarnamah, and never to excite any disturbances or commotions whatever.

ARTICLE 5.

I engage not to harbour thieves or robbers in any of the villages of my jaghire ; and if the property of any of the inhabitants or travellers be stolen or plundered in any of the villages, I engage to make the zemindar of such village responsible either for the restitution of stolen property or for the seizure and delivery of the thief or robber to the Officers of the British Government. And if any person amenable to the British laws for murder, or any other crime committed in the British territory, shall take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to apprehend such person and deliver him up to the Government.

ARTICLE 6.

The zemindars of the villages composing my jaghire having entered into engagements with the Collector for the payment of the revenue to the British Government, I hereby promise, until the expiration of those engagements, to collect their revenue conformably to their existing pottahs and kuboolints.

Dated the 7th of October 1807, corresponding with the 1st of Assin 1215 Fuslee.

To the mutsuddies, jaghiredars, kurorees, chowdries, and kanoongoes, present and future of the pergunnah of Motound, in the province of Bundelcund, be it known ; that Whereas Purseram, on hearing the fame of the justice and benevolence of the British Government, has freely and sincerely professed his obedience and submission to the Government and having accompanied Rajah Bukht Sing to the presence of the Agent to the Governor-General in Bundelcund has asked forgiveness for his past offences, and has delivered an Ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance comprising six Articles under his own seal and signature ; and Whereas the benevolent principles of the British Government dispose it to show mercy to offenders and to afford support and protection to all its adherents : Therefore, and under the influence of those benevolent principles, the villages of Kudhee and Jybrimha with their dependencies situated in the pergunnah of Motound, and yielding a kamil jumma of fifteen thousand Rupees agreeably to the subjoined statement, are hereby granted by the British Government in jaghire to the said Purseram. And so long as the said Purseram shall continue firm in his obedience to the British Government and true to the terms of his Ikrarnamah, the aforesaid villages shall remain in his possession in perpetuity.

It is incumbent on the said Purseram to render the inhabitants of his jaghire contented and grateful by his good government; to direct his utmost exertions to promote their comfort and conciliate their affections and to give no asylum to thieves or robbers in any of his villages. TREATY of FRIENDSHIP and DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE concluded between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the RAJAH of OORCHA,—1812.

The Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader, Rajah of Oorcha, one of the Chiefs of Bundelcund, by whom and his ancestors his present possessions have been held in successive generations during a long course of years without paying tribute or acknowledging vassalage to any other power, having on all occasions manifested a sincere friendship and attachment to the British Government, and having solicited to be placed under the powerful protection of that Government, the British Government, relying on the continuance of that disposition which the Rajah has hitherto manifested towards it, and on his adherence to whatever engagements he may form on the basis of a more intimate union of his interests with those of the Honorable Company, has acceded to the Rajah's request, and the following Articles of a Treaty of friendship and alliance are accordingly by mutual consent concluded between the British Government and the said Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader, his heirs and successors.

ARTICLE 1.

The Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader, Rajah of Oorcha, having professed his obedience and attachment to the British Government, he is admitted henceforward among the number of the allies of the British Government; accordingly the said Rajah hereby engages to consider the friends of that Government as his friends, and its enemies as his enemies, and to abstain from molesting any Chief or State in alliance or in amity with the British Government; and considering all persons who may be disaffected to that Government as his own enemies, he further engages to afford no protection to such persons or their families in his country, to hold no intercourse or correspondence of any nature with them, but on the contrary, to use every means in his power to seize and deliver them up to the Officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

The territory which from ancient times has descended to Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader by inheritance, and is now in his possession, is hereby guaranteed to the said Rajah and to his heirs and successors, and they shall never be molested in the enjoyment of the said territory by the British Government nor any of its allies or dependents, nor shall any tribute be demanded from him or them. The British Government, moreover, engages to protect and defend the dominions at present in Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader's possession from the aggressions of any foreign power.

ARTICLE 3.

The British Government having, by the terms of the foregoing Article, engaged to protect the territories at present possessed by the Rajah of Oorcha from the aggressions of any foreign power, it is hereby agreed between the contracting parties that, whenever the Rajah shall have reason to apprehend design on the part of any foreign power to invade his territories, whether in consequence of any disputed claim or on any other ground, he shall report the circumstances of the case to the British Government, which will interpose its mediation for the adjustment of such disputed claim, and the Rajah, relying on the justice and equity of the British Government, agrees implicitly to abide by its award. If the apprehended aggression shall be referable to any other cause, the British Government will endeavor, by representation and remonstrance, to avert the design; and if, in the former case, notwithstanding the Rajah's acquiescence in the award of the British Government, the other power shall persist in its hostile designs, and if, in the latter case, the endeavors of the British Government should fail of success, such measures will be adopted for the protection of the Rajah's territories as the circumstances of the case may appear to require.

ARTICLE 4.

If at any time the Rajah of Oorcha shall have any claim or cause of complaint against any of the Rajahs or Chiefs allied to or dependent on the British Government, the Rajah engages to refer the case to the arbitration and decision of that Government, and to abide by its award, and on no account to commit aggression against the other party, or to employ his own force for the satisfaction of such claim, or for the redress of the grievance of which he may complain. On the other hand, the British Government engages to withhold its allies or dependents from committing any aggression against the Rajah of Oorcha, or to punish the aggressor and to arbitrate any demand they may have upon the Rajah of Oorcha according to the strict principles of justice, the Rajah on his part agreeing implicitly to abide by its award.

ARTICLE 5.

The Rajah of Oorcha engages at all times to employ his utmost exertions in defending the roads and passes of his country against any enemies or predatory bodies who may attempt to penetrate through it into the territories of the Honorable Company.

ARTICLE 6.

Whenever the British Government may have occasion to send its troops through the dominions of the Rajah of Oorcha, or to station a British force within his territories, it shall be competent to the British Government so to detach or station its troops, and the Rajah of Oorcha shall give his consent accordingly. The Commander of the British troops which may thus eventually pass through or temporarily occupy a position within the Rajah's territories, shall not in any manner interfere in the internal concerns of the Rajah's Government. Whatever materials or supplies may be required for the use of the British troops during their continuance in the Rajah's territories shall be readily furnished by the Rajah's Officers and subjects, and shall be paid for at the price current of the bazar.

ARTICLE 7.

The Rajah engages never to entertain in his service any British subject or Europeans of any nation or description whatever, without the consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 8.

This Treaty, consisting of eight Articles, having this day been concluded between the British Government and the Rajah Mahender Bickermajeet Bahader, the Rajah of Oorcha, through the agency of John Wauchope, Esq., in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council on the one part, and Lalla Dhakun Lall, the vakeel of the said Rajah, on the other, Mr. John Wauchope has delivered to the said vakeel one copy of the Treaty in English, Persian, and Hindooi, signed and sealed by himself, and the said vakeel has delivered to Mr. John Wauchope another copy duly executed by the Rajah, and Mr. John Wauchope engages to procure and deliver to the said vakeel, within the space of thirty days, a copy ratified by the seal of the Company and the signature of the Governor-General in Council, on the delivery of which the copy executed by Mr. John Wauchope shall be returned, and the Treaty shall be considered from that time to have full force and effect.

Signed, sealed, and exchanged at Banda, in Bundelcund, on the Twenty-third day of December 1812, corresponding with the Sixth day of Poos 1220 Fuslee.

ing Chiefs who have professed their obedience and attachment to the British Government, and to avoid entering into quarrels with any of those Chiefs.

ARTICLE 4.

ARTICLE 6.

The Rajah engages never to entertain in his service any British subject, or European of any nation or description whatever, without the consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 7.

The ancestors of Rajah Pareechut Bahadoor having uniformly been treated with respect and distinction by the powers of Hindoostan and by His Highness the Peishwa, and having uniformly enjoyed the undisturbed possession of the territory now in the Rajah's occupation, the Rajah shall in like manner experience every degree of consideration and favor under the British Government, so long as he shall continue faithful and attached to its interests.

ARTICLE 8.

The territory which from ancient times has descended to Rajah Pareechut Bahadoor by inheritance, is hereby confirmed to the Rajah, and to his heirs and successors, and they shall never be molested in the enjoyment of the said territory by the British Government, nor by any of their allies.

ARTICLE 9.

If Rajah Ambajee Inglia at any time molest the possessions of the Rajah, the British Government shall interfere to prevent him.

AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the DATIA * STATE regarding jurisdiction and other matters connected with the working of the BETWA CANAL,—1888.

1. Subject to any modifications or alterations which may hereafter appear necessary, His Highness the Maharajah of Datia will retain full jurisdiction on those portions of the Betwa canal which pass through the Datia State; provided that the charge and custody of the canal, its banks and sluices, as well as all arrangements for regulating the issue of water, will rest exclusively with the British canal officers.

2. In order to facilitate communication with British canal officers, the Datia State will appoint a responsible official to be called "the Canal Motamid," whose name will be reported to the Executive Engineer of the British Government for the canal and the Political Agent in Bundelcund; and this Motamid will be the medium of communication between the British Government and the Datia Darbar in all matters relating to the working of the canal.

3. The Maharaja hereby declares clauses 1, 2, 3, 5, 10 and 11 of section 70 of the Act of the Governor-General in Council, No. VIII of 1873, to be in force as law in the Datia State; and His Highness engages to deal expeditiously and in the manner contemplated by the aforesaid section with all complaints made by British canal officers in regard to the working of the canal in Datia territory.

4. Reports or complaints will ordinarily be made by or through the Executive Engineer to the Canal Motamid; but in all urgent cases, such as serious damage to the canal and consequent waste or apprehension of waste of water, chowkidars will report direct to the Motamid, who will invariably give a written receipt for every complaint so made.

5. The Datia Darbar will give the Executive Engineer due notice of the date, time, and place fixed for the trial of any offence under Section 70 of the above-mentioned Act, VIII of 1873, or of any criminal case to which a canal subordinate may be a party; and the Executive Engineer shall be at liberty to depute an officer not below the rank of a Sub-Overseer to watch the proceedings in the Darbar's Court.

6. The Datia Darbar will report monthly to the Political Agent in Bundelcund all complaints made during the month by British canal officers, and the manner in which such cases may have been disposed of.

7. (a) Any canal officer who is accused of having committed in Datia territory a heinous offence, such as murder, culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and dakaiti, may be arrested by the Maharaja's authorities.

(b) Information of every such arrest shall be given by the Darbar at once to the nearest British canal officer.

(c) In all other cases in which the arrest of a canal officer is desired, a warrant of arrest will be sent by the Darbar for execution through the Sub-Overseer if the offender is a chowkidar, and to the Sub-Divisional Officer if the offender is of a higher grade.

(d) Police Officers and Magistrates of the Darbar may exercise, with respect to European British subjects, in Datia territory, the same powers as may be exercised with respect to European British subjects by Police Officers and by Magistrates who are not Justices of the Peace, respectively, in places in British India beyond the limits of the Presidency towns.

8. (a) The Datia State will be responsible to the British Government for all wilful damage to the canal, its sluices or banks, and for theft of water within Datia territory; but it will be open to the Darbar, when required by the Political Agent, to show cause why it should not be called upon to compensate the Canal Department for any such injury or theft of water.

(b) In such cases the award of the Political Agent as to the liability of the Datia State to pay compensation and as to the amount payable shall be binding on the Darbar, subject to an appeal to the Agent to the Governor-General, whose decision shall be final.

9. The British Government may, from time to time, after hearing any representations which the Datia State may wish to make, frame rules regulating the distribution of water, the collection of the water-rate, and any other matters which further experience in the working of the Betwa canal may show to be necessary.

DATIA KHARITA, dated 20th September 1888.

After compliments.—(My) Durbar laid before me copy of the Bundelkhund Agency Robkar of 15th September 1888, in which it is requested that assent may be given for the cession of criminal and civil powers in lands which have come under the Indian Midland Railway (in Datia territory). As according to the wish of Government of India I am agreeable to cede to Government criminal and civil jurisdiction on the lands that have come under the Indian Midland Railway in my State, I therefore inform you of my assent to the cession of the powers by means of this letter.

it is hereby agreed between the contracting parties, that whenever the Rajah shall have reason to apprehend a design on the part of any foreign power to invade his territories, whether in consequence of any disputed claim or on any other ground, he shall report the circumstances of the case to the British Government, which will interpose its mediation for the adjustment of such disputed claim, and the Rajah, relying on the justice and equity of the British Government, agrees implicitly to abide by its award. If the apprehended aggression shall be referable to any other cause, the British Government will endeavour by representation and remonstrance to avert the design, and if, notwithstanding the Rajah's acquiescence in the award of the British Government, the other power shall persist in its hostile designs, and the endeavors of the British Government should fail of success, such measures will be adopted for the protection of the Rajah's territories as the circumstances of the case may appear to require.

ARTICLE 4.

In consideration of the guarantee and protection extended by the two foregoing Articles to the Rajah of Sumptur, the Rajah hereby binds himself at his own expense to employ his troops whenever required to do so, in co-operation with those of the British Government on all occasions in which the interests of the two Governments may be mutually concerned. On all such occasions the Sumptur troops shall act under the orders and control of the Commanding Officer of the British troops.

ARTICLE 5.

If at any time the Rajah of Sumptur shall have any claim or cause of complaint against any of the Rajahs or Chiefs allied to or dependant on the British Government, the Rajah engages to refer the case to the arbitration and decision of that Government, and to abide by its award, and on no account to commit aggression against the other party, or to employ his own force for the satisfaction of such claim, or for the redress of the grievance of which he may complain. On the other hand, the British Government engages to withhold its allies or dependants from committing any aggression against the Rajah of Sumptur, and to arbitrate any demand they may have upon the Rajah of Sumptur, according to the strict principles of justice, the Rajah on his part agreeing implicitly to abide by its award.

ARTICLE 6.

The Rajah of Sumptur engages at all times to employ his utmost exertions in defending the roads and passes of his country against any enemies or predatory bodies who may attempt to penetrate through it into the territories of the Honorable Company.

ARTICLE 7.

Whenever the British Government may have occasion to send its troops through the dominions of the Rajah of Sumptur, or to station a British force

If any stocks of salt other than salt manufactured in my State be found to exist within the territories of such State on the said date, I agree, if so requested by the British Government, to take possession of such stocks and to give the owners thereof the option of either transferring the salt to British Government at such equitable valuation I may fix in concurrence with the Political Agent, or of paying to the British Government such duty of two rupees eight annas per maund on such salt as the Governor-General in Council may fix. In the event of the owners accepting the latter alternative, they shall be allowed to retain the salt on which the said duty may have been paid, but not otherwise.

Lastly, the export of all intoxicating drugs, preparations and spirits (such as bhang, ganja and opium) by all routes and in all directions hereafter barred by the Inland Custom line shall be prohibited.

OBLIGATION of MAHARAJA KISHORE SING, signed and sealed by his Minister RAJ DHUR GUJ SING, at Modha, the 4th February 1807.

Whereas, by the Treaty of Bassein, the country of Dursa, Noor, and Adlpar, originally in the possession of Sreemunt Pundit Purdhan Sewace Bagee Rao Peishwa Behadur, was formerly ceded to the Honorable the East India Company; and Whereas by a subsequent agreement between the two States, this country was afterwards restored to the Peishwa, and in exchange for it and for certain other considerations which are contained in the agreement in question, the province of Bundelcund, yielding a revenue of thirty-six lakhs and sixteen thousand Rupees, was ceded in perpetual sovereignty by His Highness the Peishwa to the Honorable the East India Company, and annexed to their actual possessions; and Whereas a British force having entered the province, for the purpose of settling the country and punishing the refractory, all the Rajahs of this province and its vicinity, on hearing the fame of the justice, benevolence and good faith which have ever regulated the conduct of the British Government, placed themselves under its protection, and, becoming respectively the objects of its bounty and liberality, have been reinstated and confirmed in their original possessions, which they now enjoy in security and comfort; and Whereas I, Maha Rajah Kishore Sing Behadur, descended from the late Maharaja Hurdie Sah, and possessed of claims in common with the other Rajahs of this province, have with sincere professions of attachment to the British Government deputed my Minister Raj Dhur Guj Sing to solicit the favor and kindness of the Government, and accordingly with a view to the promotion of the welfare of the inhabitants of this province, a Sunnud for certain mehals and villages above the Ghats, which by the Treaty of Bassein are immediately dependent on the British Government, has been conferred upon me: Therefore, and in order to confirm my obedience and attachment to the British Government, I have prepared and delivered this obligation containing the following Articles, under my own seal and signature and under the seal and signature of my Minister Raj Dhur Guj Sing, and I hereby declare that I never will swerve from those Articles in any instance whatever:—

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby bind myself never to aid nor abet any marauders either in or out of the province of Bundelcund; never to harbour them in my possessions nor permit their families to reside in the territory subject to my authority; and also to abstain from all correspondence and communication with them; and I further bind myself never to engage in hostility with any of the adherents or dependants of the British Government, but always to be obedient and submissive to it.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard the passes through the Ghats which are subject to my authority, in such a manner as to prevent all marauders and plunderers from ascend-

WAJIB-UL-URZ presented on the part of RAJAH KISHORE SING BAHADUR, the RAJAH of PUNNAH,—1811.

Article 1.

Let the accusations of interested persons not be received to my prejudice without investigation.

Answer.

It is not the usage for the Rulers of the British Government to act upon the accusation of any one without investigation.

Article 2.

As a faithful and submissive servant of the British Government, I hope that I shall always meet with their favorable consideration.

Answer.

So long as you shall continue faithful and submissive, every degree of favorable consideration shall be shown to you.

Article 3.

If any of my relations or people of this country or others excite disturbance in my possessions, I trust that the British Government will assist me to punish them.

Answer.

Whereas all the disputes that heretofore existed between the several Rajahs and Chiefs of this province, have been adjusted by the decision of the British Government:—This being the case, it is to be expected that no further disturbances will arise between the Chiefs in allegiance to that Government. If accidentally from any unforeseen cause any dispute should arise between you and any other Chief, you will submit the same to the consideration of the British Government, which will decide, finally, on the merits of the case. And, whereas your possessions are included in the province of Bundelcund, it is improbable that any foreign force shall attack them: but should this unexpected event happen, your possession will be protected by the British Government.

Article 4.

If any of the zemindars of my territory, or my servants or managers, shall abscond and take up

Government, wherever its authority extends. It is indispensable therefore on your part to conduct yourself on the same principle with regard to your peasantry, so that they may be satisfied and that no complaints may be made. If any of your zemindars, or servants, take refuge under the immediate authority of the British Government, the grounds of their complaints shall be investigated, and if they have committed faults, they shall be punished.

Article 5.

On occasions of personal intercourse, let the established observances to which my ancestors were held to be entitled, be extended towards me also.

Answer.

The hereditary rank and dignity of ancient families have uniformly been attended to on all such occasions by the British Government and by their servants; every due attention will be shown to you.

Article 6.

If I am called upon to undertake any military service for the British Government, I trust that the necessary subsistence for my troops will be granted whilst employed in such service.

Answer.

It is proper that you do not entertain or keep in your service a greater number of troops than may be absolutely necessary for the collection of the revenue of your country, and the support of that degree of personal state which your ancestors usually maintained. If the British Government at any time require your services with an additional force, they will provide for the occasion.

Article 7.

As there are many unadjusted accounts and unliquidated balances against the former Government of my possessions, if any merchants or servants complain to the British Government, I beg that their complaints may not be heard.

Answer.

Such complaints will not be attended to by the British Government.

Article 8.Answer.

I hope that the possessions that have been granted to me by the British Government may be exempted from the British Laws and Regulations.

In the same manner that the possessions of other Rajahs of Bundelcund are exempted from the influence of the British Laws and Regulations, so shall your possessions be exempted. The British Laws and Regulations shall not be exercised thereon.

TRANSLATION of an IKRARNAMAH presented by the RAJAH KISHORE SING BAHADUR, the RAJAH of PUNNAH,—1811.

Whereas since the first annexation of the province of Bundelcund to the dominions of the British Government, I, Rajah Kishore Sing Bahadur (the contracting party), and proprietor of the share of Herdec Sah (who was the Chief of all the Rajahs of Bundelcund), having acknowledged my allegiance and submission and remained obedient to the British Government, and never in any instance deviated from the obedience and loyalty due from a good subject, but during the period of the agency of Captain Baillie, by reason of a combination of accidental circumstances, I was prevented from appearing in the above Officer's presence, I however deputed to the above gentleman Raj Dhur Guga Sing Bahadur on my part, and applied for a Sunnud from the British Government: accordingly, the said Raj Dhur Guga Sing Bahadur above-mentioned delivered in an Ikrarnamah (or obligation of allegiance) under my seal and signature and received a Sunnud for several villages. Many villages that were then in the hands of usurpers and oppressors were not inserted therein, and to obtain possession of even those villages which were included in the above Sunnud from Lutchmun Dowah and other unjust possessors, I was necessitated to wage war, and in consequence of my own want of power, and receiving no aid from the British Government, I was unable to obtain possession of the places in question. After the arrival of Mr. John Richardson, I waited upon that gentleman, and according to the orders of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council, by the aid of a British force, I obtained possession of the villages included in the Sunnud granted by the British Government, as well as those villages which were in the possession of usurpers and unjust claimants. At this period, and with a view to confirming my obedience and attachment to the British Government, I have prepared, under my seal and signature, and hereby present, the Ikrarnamah containing eleven distinct Articles, to Mr. John Richardson, Agent to the Governor-General in Bundelcund, and required a Sunnud for the villages and lands now in my possession, and I therefore hereby declare and promise, that I will scrupulously observe all the Articles contained in this Ikrarnamah, and never evade or infringe any one of them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby promise and bind myself on no occasion to unite with external or internal enemies of the Hon'ble Company in Bundelcund, and to be ever obedient and submissive to the will and commands of the British Government in all things.

ARTICLE 2.

If any one of my children, brothers, or relations, excite sedition or disturbance in the British territories or possessions, or the territories or possessions of any of the Chiefs in allegiance to the British Government, I engage to do everything in my power to prevent and to restrain them; and in the case of their persisting in such conduct, I engage to unite my force with the British troops in the punishment and suppression of such persons.

ARTICLE 3.

If any of the subjects of the British Government shall fly, and take refuge in my territories, on application from the Officers of the British Government, I will deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

I further engage that I will never harbour or give protection in my country to persons accused or suspected of robbery or theft; that if a robbery be committed, or the property of merchants or travellers be stolen in any of the villages subject to my authority, I will render the inhabitants of that village responsible for the restitution, or value of the property stolen or robbed, or for the seizure and delivery of the thieves or robbers; and, in general, that murderers and all other persons amenable to the criminal jurisdiction of the British Government for crimes committed in the British possessions, who may take refuge in my districts, shall be immediately seized and delivered over to the British authority in Bundelcund.

ARTICLE 5.

If any of the surrounding Chiefs rebel against the British authority, although they be my near relations, I engage to abstain from every manner of friendly intercourse with such Chiefs, and not to harbour or give protection in my country to them or any of their relations.

ARTICLE 6.

I engage not to enter into quarrels or disputes with any Chief who is obedient or submissive to the British Government, and if at any time a quarrel or dispute arise between me and any of the other dependants of the British Government, in either case I promise to submit the cause of such dispute for the decision of the British Government.

ARTICLE 7.

I engage to guard all the passes through the Ghâts under my authority, so as to prevent all marauders, plunderers, and ill-disposed persons, from ascending or descending the Ghâts, or from entering the British territories through any of those passes; and if any neighbouring Chief or Leader should meditate an incursion into the British territory through my possessions, or those of the Chiefs in allegiance thereto, I engage to furnish the Officers of the British Government with information of the circumstance before his approach to the neighbourhood of my territory, and to exert my utmost efforts to obstruct his progress.

ARTICLE 8.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to ascend the Ghâts through any of the passes subject to my authority, I agree not only not to obstruct or impede their progress, but to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by the most convenient route, and to furnish them with the necessary supplies so long as they remain within or in the vicinity of my possessions.

ARTICLE 9.

Whereas Gopaul Sing and Rao Himmut Sing of Murreadah, and Zalim Sing of Burdwaho, and Puddum Sing of Thingah, and Gotee Jumadar, and Manickjee of Mahut Gowha, have rebelled against the British Government and are guilty of marauding and plundering in the territories of that Government, I hereby declare that I will never have any intercourse with the above-mentioned rebels; but, on the contrary, whenever I shall hear of any of their joint or separate depredations in the territories of the British Government or any of its dependants, I engage to attack the aggressor or aggressors, and to the utmost of my power punish them, and in the event of any of them being seized, I engage to deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 10.

Whereas between me and the Rajahs and Chiefs of Bundelcund there existed many disputed claims concerning many villages, which disputes have been adjusted and settled by the decision of the British Government; and as now there is no disputed point or cause of difference remaining, I hereby therefore declare and promise, that hereafter I will not dispute or quarrel with any Rajah or Chief on account of any village or lands. If any Rajah or Chief shall dispute or quarrel with me on account of any village or lands claimed, I engage to submit the same to the British Government, and to abide by its decision, and not to dispute or quarrel about the point myself.

ARTICLE 11.

I engage that one of my confidential servants shall always be in attendance as a vakeel on the Officer of the British Government in this province for the purpose of executing his orders, and in the event of such vakeel being from any reason disapproved of by the said Officer, I agree immediately to appoint another in his stead.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to the RAJAH KISHORE SING BAHADUR, RAJAH of PUNNAH, in 1811.

Be it known to the chowdries, canoongoes, etc., of the pergunnah of Khuttolah and the pergunnah of Powey, etc., in the province of Bundelcund, that Whereas the Maharajah Kishore Sing Bahadur, one of the ancient and hereditary Chieftains of Bundelcund, the heir and proprietor of the share of Herdee Sah (who was the Chief of the Rajahs of Bundelcund) from the period of the annexation of the province of Bundelcund to the dominions of the British Government, has invariably observed a friendly and obedient conduct, and in no instance deviated from the loyalty or attachment due to the British Government, but who, during the period of the Agency of Captain John Baillie, having been by a combination of accidental circumstances prevented from waiting upon that gentleman, deputed Raj Dhur Guga Sing Bahadur on his (the said Rajah's) part, who presented a list of several villages to the aforesaid gentleman, and received a Sunnud for the same, but was not put in possession of those villages; and moreover many of the villages and lands belonging to the hereditary possessions of the said Rajah, as the share of Herdee Sah, which were in the possession of usurpers, and persons who had no claim thereto, were not included in the above Sunnud—Afterwards, during the Agency of Mr. John Richardson, the aforesaid Rajah Kishore Sing himself having waited upon that gentleman, was by the orders of the British Government put in possession of all the villages and lands included in the Sunnud already alluded to, and also of those villages and lands which were unjustly possessed by usurpers and false claimants, and every other dispute that existed with other Chiefs and Rajahs having been adjusted and settled:—At this juncture the said Rajah has delivered in an Ikrarnamah (or obligation of allegiance), containing eleven distinct Articles, expressive of his allegiance and attachment to the British Government, and requesting that a Sunnud, confirming the villages and lands at present in his possession may be granted by the British Government. For the above reasons the villages and lands enumerated in the subjoined schedule, with all the rights and tenures and usages, revenues, lands or sayer, together with forts and fortified places, are hereby granted to the said Rajah and his heirs, exempt from the payment of revenue in perpetuity. So long as the said Rajah Kishore Sing and his heirs shall observe and adhere faithfully to the Articles of the obligation of allegiance which he has delivered in to the British Government, no sort of molestation or resumption shall ever take place on the part of the British Government. It is necessary that you shall all consider and view the said Rajah as the proprietor and Lord of the above enumerated possessions. The conduct which it is incumbent on the said Maharajah to observe, is to exert himself to the utmost of his power in the cultivation and improvement of the said possessions, and to pay attention to the prosperity and comfort of the people, and to enjoy the produce of the same in firm obedience, loyalty, and submission to the British Government. After the sanction of the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council shall be obtained, another Sunnud, to the same effect, signed by the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, shall be exchanged or substituted in the place of the present Sunnud granted by the Agent to the Governor-General.

Ratified by the Governor-General in Council on 3rd May 1811.

For schedule of villages, see Appendix No. II.

ABSTRACT TRANSLATION of SUNNUD empowering the CHIEF of PUNNAH in BUNDELKUND to exercise CRIMINAL POWERS within the LIMITS of his STATE,—1867.

Whereas under the orders of the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council, conveyed in the letter as per margin, it was deemed necessary, in view to the protection of the people and the maintenance of the peace in Bundelcund, to define the powers of the minor Chiefs of the province in the disposal of trials for heinous crimes ; and

From Secretary to Government of India, to Agent, Governor-General for Central India, No. 375, dated 6th April 1864.

Whereas it was ruled under the said orders that, in accordance with the British Government's right of general interference in the States of such Chiefs, the said Chiefs must refer all heinous cases involving sentence of death, or of transportation, or of imprisonment for life, to the Local Political Officers of the British Government ; and

Whereas the same consideration which led to the restrictions imposed as above, viz., the amelioration of criminal justice in Bundelcund, may now be held to justify their relaxation in the case of any Chief, who by personal qualifications and enlightened policy proves that the administration of justice may in respect even of the most heinous classes of crime be entrusted to him ; and

Whereas it has been represented by the Agent to the Governor-General for Central India that the present Ruler of Punnah, Maharaja Bahadur Nirput Sing, possesses these qualifications and enjoys this character :

Therefore the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council hereby gladly empowers the said Maharaja Bahadoor Nirput Sing to hear and decide all criminal cases within the limits of the State of Punnah on the following conditions, viz., that sentences of death shall be immediately reported to the Agent to the Governor-General, and be subject to confirmation by the Agent ; that periodical reports are submitted by the Chief to the Local British Political Officer of all cases in which sentences of transportation or imprisonment for life are passed by him, and on the distinct understanding that the British Government will at any time suspend or revoke the authority thus conveyed, should circumstances appear to call for such a proceeding.

The full powers herein bestowed will continue only so long as the said Maharaja Bahadoor Nirput Sing continues to merit the distinction, and they will not necessarily be transmittible to his successors.

SANAD granted to HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA MAHENDRA YADVENDRA SINGH BAHADUR, MAHARAJA of PANNA,—1921.

The Government of India having regard to the status and position of the Panna State and reposing full trust and confidence in the sense of justice which has animated the Rulers of the State confer on Your Highness and Your Highness' successors authority to dispose of the trial of all classes of criminal offences committed within the State by subjects of the State or others. This Sanad does not, however, apply to any criminal case in which the person accused or any of the persons accused are Europeans, European British subjects, Americans or Government servants.

The Government in extending the powers of the Ruler of the State in the manner described desire that persons sentenced to death, transportation or imprisonment for life should be given every facility to present a petition for mercy to the Agent to the Governor-General. The consideration of such petitions would be the subject of communication between the Agent to the Governor-General and the Ruler of the State and pending such consideration execution of persons sentenced to death would be stayed. The British Government may at any time suspend or revoke the authority conveyed in this Sanad, should circumstances appear to call for such action.

1st Request.

Having submitted in person to the British Government, and having been ranked among its dependants, I request that no malicious representations against me may be attended to without sufficient proof.

If any of my brothers or associates now subordinate to me and receiving subsistence either in species or shares of any of my lands or villages be dismissed for misconduct from my service, and prefer a claim to any of the Officers of the British Government for the recovery of their subsistence, let no such claim be listened to.

Answer.

The dismissal of your dependants from your service, or the retaining them in your service, is entirely at your own discretion; no notice shall be taken of any complaint on that subject. But if any of your servants be guilty of any reprehensible act or improper conduct in the British territory, the responsibility of such act will attach to you.

3rd Request.

In the British territories Police Thannahs are established. I request that they may not be established in any of the villages composing my jaghire.

4th Request.

If any of my relations or dependants evince an intention of proceeding in any direction in quest of service, and any malicious person misrepresent their intentions in so doing, let no such misrepresentation be admitted without sufficient proof.

There is no objection to their entering any service except that of the enemies and rebels to the British Government, but it is necessary that they first make known this intention to the Officers of the British Government and obtain their permission; and in the event of hostilities arising between any of the adherents of the British Government and either party offering you service or inviting your co-operation, in this case also you must be guided by the instructions of the British Officers.

This Sunnud, after obtaining the sanction of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council, shall be considered as valid, and another Sunnud shall hereafter be granted under the seal and signature of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General.

ARTICLE 2.

If any one of the children or relations of the Maharajah excite seditions or disturbance in the British territories or possessions, the Maharajah engages to do everything in his power to prevent and restrain them, and in the case of their persisting in such conduct the Maharajah engages to unite his force with the British troops in the punishment and suppression of such persons.

SUNNOD or GRANT of the undermentioned DISTRICTS and VILLAGES of the HONORABLE the EAST INDIA COMPANY to MAHARAJAH BEEKUR MAJEET
BEJY BUHADUR,—1804.

Whereas the province of Bundelcund has lately been annexed to the territories and possessions of the British Government in India, and the British troops are now employed in the punishment and suppression of the disaffected and turbulent in this province; and Whereas Maha Rajah Beekur Majeet Bejy Buhadur, who is one of the ancient and rightful possessors of a portion of territory in Bundelcund, having sincerely professed his submission and obedience to the Government of the Honorable Company, has entered into and transmitted to the British Government, under his signature and seal, a written obligation of allegiance and fidelity, consisting of seven distinct Articles, by all which he is bound to abide: Therefore and with a view to the protection and security of the ancient rights and possessions of the Native Chiefs of this country, which it is the just and benevolent principle of the British Government in India uniformly to support and protect, the undermentioned talookas or mehals with the villages and small fortresses any other Chief, you will submit the same to the consideration of the British Government, which will decide finally on the merits of the case ; and Whereas your possessions are included in the province of Bundelcund, it is improbable that any foreign force should attack them ; but should this unexpected event happen, your possessions will be protected by the British Government.

TRANSLATION of an IKRARNAMAH or OBLIGATION of ALLEGIANCE, delivered in by RAJAH BEKER MAJEET BEJY BAHADUR, the RAJAH of CHIRKARI.

Dated 25th March 1811.

Whereas from the period of the annexation of the province of Bundelcund to the dominions of the British Government, I (contracting party), Maha Rajah Beker Majeet Bejy Bahadur, was the first of all the Boondellah Chiefs who submitted to the authority of the British Government : during the Agency of Captain Baillie, I delivered in an Ikrarnamah (or obligation of allegiance) under my seal and signature, consisting of seven Articles, and received a Sunnud. Of the tuppah of Isanaghur, which was included in the said Sunnud, on account of the disputed claim preferred by the Rajah of Bijawur, and of the half share of the talook of Kurelah, which was also inserted in the above-mentioned Sunnud, by reason of its having been resumed by the British Government, together with jaidad lands of the late Rajah Himmut Bahadur, and also of several other villages belonging to my possessions, but then in the possession of unjust claimants, which were not included in the aforesaid Sunnud, I did not receive possession. Afterwards, during the superintendence of Mr. J. Richardson, Agent to the Governor-General, I presented a request to be put in possession of the villages and possessions above enumerated, and in conformity to the decision and orders of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, I was put in possession of the tuppah of Isanaghur, and the other villages and places in the possession of unjust claimants; and I received a deduction from the rents of the tuppah of Chandellah, in lieu of the half share of Kurelah. At this time, all claims and disputes that existed between me and the other Rajahs and Chiefs of Bundelcund are finally adjusted and settled: for this reason at this period, with a view to confirming my obedience, submission, and attachment to the British Government, I hereby present Mr. Richardson, Agent to the Governor-General, an Ikrarnamah (or engagement) under my seal and signature, containing eleven distinct Articles; and request a revised and corrected Sunnud, including the whole of the villages and lands at present in my possession. I, therefore, hereby promise and bind myself to adhere to and observe faithfully every Article of my engagement, and in no instance deviate or swerve from any one of them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby promise and bind myself on no occasion to unite with external or internal enemies of the Honorable Company in Bundelcund and to be ever obedient and submissive to the will and commands of the British Government in all things.

ARTICLE 2.

If any one of my children, brothers, or relations excite sedition or disturbances in the British territories or possessions, or the territories or possessions of any of the Chiefs in allegiance to the British Government, I engage to do everything in my power to prevent and to restrain them, and in the case of their persisting in such conduct, I engage to unite my force with the British troops in the punishment, and suppression of such persons.

ARTICLE 3.

If any of the subjects of the British Government shall fly and take refuge in my territories, on application from the Officers of the British Government I will deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

I further engage that I will never harbour or give protection to persons accused or suspected of robbery or theft, nor to persons who have committed or the property of merchants or travellers, or to persons who are subject to my authority, I will render the assistance of my troops for the restitution or value of the property stolen or taken, and for the delivery of the thieves or robbers; and I engage that I will cause persons amenable to the criminal justice of the British Government committed in the British possessions, and who are found to be immediately seized and delivered over to the British Government.

This being the case, a rectified Sunnud and an Ikrarnamah being thought necessary, the said Rajah has accordingly, at this period, delivered in an Ikrarnamah, containing eleven distinct Articles, and required a Sunnud for the villages and lands now in his possession. Therefore the villages and lands enumerated in the subjoined schedule are granted to the said Rajah and his heirs, with all their rights and usages, their land revenue and sayar, forts and fortifications, exempt from the payment of revenue to the British Government in perpetuity. So long as the said Rajah and his heirs and successors shall observe and remain faithful to the several Articles of the Ikrarnamah that he has delivered in, no molestation or resumption of the possessions hereby granted shall take place on the part of the British Government. It is necessary that you all consider and account the said Rajah the Lord and Proprietor of the possessions in question; and the conduct that is incumbent on the said Rajah, is to exert himself to the utmost to increase the cultivation, and to improve his possessions by promoting the prosperity and comfort of the inhabitants, and to enjoy the produce of his good governance in obedience and loyal attachment to the British Government.

Ratified by the Honourable the Vice-President of the Council of India on the 19th April 1811.

SANAD empowering the CHIEF of CHARKHARI in BUNDELKHAND to exercise CRIMINAL POWERS within the LIMITS of his STATE,—1894.

Whereas it has been ruled that the minor Chiefs of the province of Bundelkhand must refer all heinous cases involving sentence of death, or of transportation, or of imprisonment for life to the local political officers of the British Government; and

Whereas the same consideration which led to the restrictions imposed above, viz., the amelioration of criminal justice in Bundelkhand, may now be held to justify their relaxation in the case of any chief who by personal qualifications and enlightened policy proves that the administration of justice may in respect even of the most heinous classes of crime be entrusted to him; and

Whereas it has been represented by the Agent to the Governor-General for Central India, that the present ruler of Charkhari, His Highness Maharaja Dhiraj Sipahdar-ul-Mulk Malkhan Singh Bahadur, possesses these qualifications and enjoys this character;

Therefore the Governor-General in Council hereby empowers the said Maharaja Dhiraj Sipahdar-ul-Mulk Malkhan Singh Bahadur to hear and decide all criminal cases within the limits of the State of Charkhari on the following conditions, viz., that sentences of death shall be immediately reported to the Agent to the Governor-General and be subject to confirmation by the Agent and that periodical reports shall be submitted by the Chief to the local British Political Officer of all cases in which sentences of transportation or imprisonment for life are passed by him; and further that this sanad does not apply to any criminal case in which the person accused or anyone of the persons accused is a European British subject, or is of European or American nationality.

It must be distinctly understood that the British Government will at any time suspend or revoke the authority thus conveyed, should circumstances appear to call for such a proceeding.

The full powers herein bestowed will continue only so long as the said Maharaja Dhiraj Sipahdar-ul-Mulk Malkhan Singh Bahadur continues to merit the distinction, and they will not necessarily be transmittible to his successors.

By order of Governor-General in Council.

TRANSLATION of the IKRAMNAMAH of RAJAH RUTTEN SING, the RAJAH of BHAWARE, 1811.

Whereas, since the time of the annexation of the province of Bundelcund to the dominions and authority of the British Government, my deceased father, the late Rajah Kivory Sing, Rajah of Bijnawur, invariably manifested his obedience and loyalty to the British Government, and remained in allegiance and submission thereto during his lifetime, and was recognized and admitted amongst the Chiefs that acknowledged obedience to the British Government and received its protection, and always conducted himself in obedience to the Officers appointed to the superintendence of the province of Bundelcund: At this period, I, Rajah Rutten Sing (the contracting party), eldest son to the aforesaid late Rajah, with a view to confirming my obedience and attachment to the British Government, have prepared under my seal and signature, and present this Ikramnamah (or obligation of allegiance), containing eleven distinct Articles, to Mr. John Richardson, Agent to the Governor-General in Bundelcund, and request a Sunnud for the villages and lands now in my possession, and composing my ancient rightful possessions. I, therefore, hereby declare and bind myself, that I will scrupulously observe all the Articles contained in this Ikramnamah, and never evade nor infringe any one of them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby promise and bind myself on no occasion to unite with external or internal enemies of the Honorable Company in Bundelcund, and to be ever obedient and submissive to the will and commands of the British Government in all things.

ARTICLE 2.

If any one of my children, brothers, or relations, excite sedition or disturbance in the British territories or possessions, or the territories or possessions of any of the Chiefs in allegiance to the British Government, I engage to do everything in my power to prevent and to restrain them; and in the case of their persisting in such conduct, I engage to unite my force with the British troops in the punishment and suppression of such persons.

ARTICLE 3.

If any of the subjects of the British Government shall fly and take refuge in my territories, on application from the Officers of the British Government I will deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

I further engage that I will never harbour or give protection in my country to persons accused or suspected of robbery or theft; that if a robbery be committed or the property of merchants or travellers be stolen in any of the villages subject to my authority, I will render the inhabitants of that village responsible for the restitution or value of the property stolen or robbed, or for the seizure and delivery of the thieves or robbers; and, in general, that murderers and all other persons amenable to the criminal jurisdiction of the British Government for crimes committed in the British possessions, who may take refuge in my districts, shall be immediately seized and delivered over to the British authority in Bundelcund.

ARTICLE 5.

If any of the surrounding Chiefs rebel against the British authority, although they be my near relations, I engage to abstain from every manner of friendly intercourse with such Chiefs, and not to harbour or give protection in my country to them or any of their relations.

ARTICLE 6.

I engage not to enter into quarrels or disputes with any Chief who is obedient or submissive to the British Government; and if at any time a quarrel or dispute arise between me and any of the other dependants of the British Government, in either case I promise to submit the cause of such dispute for the decision of the British Government.

ARTICLE 7.

I engage to guard all the passes through the Ghâts under my authority, so as to prevent all marauders, plunderers, and ill-disposed persons from ascending or descending the Ghâts or from entering the British territories through any of those passes; and if any neighbouring Chief or leader should meditate an incursion into the British territory through my possessions, or those of the Chiefs in allegiance thereto, I engage to furnish the Officers of the British Government with information of the circumstance before his approach to the neighbourhood of my territory, and to exert my utmost efforts to obstruct his progress.

ARTICLE 8.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to ascend the Ghâts through any of the passes subject to my authority, I agree not only not to obstruct or impede their progress, but to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by the most convenient route, and to furnish them with the necessary supplies so long as they remain within or in the vicinity of my possessions.

ARTICLE 9.

Whereas Gopaul Sing and Rao Himmud Sing of Marriadah, and Zalim Sing of Burdwaho, and Puddum Sing of Thingah, and Gootee Jamadar, and Manickjee of Mahot Gowah, have rebelled against the British Government and are guilty of marauding and plundering in the territories of that Government, I hereby declare that I will never have any intercourse with the above-mentioned rebels; but, on the contrary, whenever I shall hear of any of their joint or separate depredations in the territories of the British Government, or any of its dependants, I engage to attack the aggressor or aggressors, and to the utmost of my power punish them; and in the event of any of them being seized, I engage to deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 10.

Whereas between me and the Rajahs and Chiefs of Bundelcund there existed many disputed claims concerning many villages, which disputes have been adjusted and settled by the decision of the British Government; and as now there is no disputed point or cause of difference remaining: I, therefore, hereby declare and promise that hereafter I will not dispute or quarrel with any Rajah or Chief on account of any village or lands. If any Rajah or Chief shall dispute or quarrel with me on account of any village or land claimed, I engage to submit the same to the British Government, and to abide by its decision, and not to dispute or quarrel about the point myself.

ARTICLE 11.

I engage that one of my confidential servants shall always be in attendance as a vakeel on the Officer of the British Government in this province, for the purpose of executing his orders; and in the event of such vakeel being from any reason disapproved of by the said Officer, I agree immediately to appoint another in his stead.

ENGAGEMENT FROM LUCHMUN SING of AJEYGURH.

Dated 9th December 1806.

Whereas I, Luchmun Sing, sincerely professing obedience and attachment to the Government of the Honorable East India Company, have ranked myself among the number of its faithful dependants and adherents; and Whereas Captain John Baillie, Agent on the part of the Honorable the Governor-General for the management of the affairs of Bundelcund, has required from me an Ikrar-namah or obligation of allegiance to the British Government, in the manner underwritten: Therefore, and in consideration of the liberality and favor of the Government which has lately been extended to me, I have prepared and transmitted to Captain Baillie this formal engagement, comprising nine distinct Articles signed and sealed by myself, and I hereby promise and declare that I will never infringe any of those Articles, but will strictly observe and perform the several conditions which are contained in them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby engage never to aid nor be concerned with any marauders within or beyond the limits of the British possessions in Bundelcund; never to admit marauders to the fort or neighbourhood of Ajeygurh nor to harbour them in any of the villages which may be under my authority. I further engage to prevent the families and relations of all freebooters and marauders from residing in any of my villages; to maintain no correspondence nor intercourse with persons of the above description; to abstain from all quarrels or disputes with the servants and dependants of the British Government; and scrupulously to observe the duties of allegiance and submission to the Government on every future occasion.

ARTICLE 2.

I hereby engage to guard all the passes through the Ghâts which are subject to my authority in such a manner as to prevent all marauders from ascending or descending those Ghâts into the Honorable Company's possessions; and I pledge myself to protect the British territory from all predatory incursions through any of the said passes.

ARTICLE 3.

If at any time the British troops shall be directed to ascend the Ghâts by any of the passes which are subject to my authority, I hereby promise and engage that I will not oppose nor impede the progress of the troops in any manner ; and, on the contrary, that I will send with them respectable and intelligent persons for the purpose of conducting them by the most convenient routes.

ARTICLE 4.

As some of the villages above the Ghâts which have been granted to me contain diamond mines, I hereby promise to abstain from all interference with those shares of the mines which originally belonged to Juggut Raj and to the Peishwa ; and to confine myself to that portion of the share of the family of Hirdee Sah which has been granted to me ; and I agree to deliver over all those mines to the persons to whom the British Government may be pleased to assign them and to assist those persons in the exercise of their rights.

ARTICLE 5.

I hereby promise and declare that on the expiration of two years from the date of this obligation, I will without hesitation or further delay deliver up the fortress of Ajeygurh to the Officers of the British Government ; and until that period I agree to pay into the treasury the sum of four thousand Rupees per annum as a tribute, over and above the fixed revenue of Beechaund, which has already been granted to me in istimrar.

ARTICLE 6.

If any subject of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of my villages, I agree to seize and deliver him up to the Officers of the British Government ; and if any person on the part of the Government be sent in search of him, I promise not to oppose but to assist such Officer in apprehending the defaulter.

ARTICLE 7.

I engage not to harbour nor give protection to thieves or robbers in any of my villages ; and if the property of merchants or travellers be stolen or plundered in any of the villages subject to my authority, I agree to render the zemindar of such village responsible for the restoration of the stolen property or for the seizure of the thief or robber ; and all murderers or other persons amenable to the criminal jurisdiction of the British Government for crimes committed in the British territories, who may take refuge in any of my villages, shall be immediately seized and delivered over to the Officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 8.

One of my near relations shall always be in attendance with the principal Officer of the British Government for the purpose of executing his commands.

ARTICLE 9.

I hereby promise and bind myself to be responsible for all damage or loss which may hereafter be sustained by the British Government, in consequence of the depredations of Rajah Rani, Gootee Jamadar, Bheem Dowra, and the other marauders who have lately descended the Ghâts to plunder the British dominions; and to exert myself to the utmost of my power for the entire suppression and destruction of all those marauders.

WAJIB-UL-URZ presented by RAJAH BUKHT SING,—1807.

Article 1.

The present state of the ilakas of Kotra and Puway, and the great difficulties which must oppose the establishment of my authority in those ilakas, are well known to you. I therefore hope that the support and assistance of the Government will always be afforded to me.

Answer.

Little doubt can be entertained that you will be able to establish your authority and to settle the pergunnahs independently of the aid and support of the British Government; at the same time every proper and necessary aid which you may require, with the exception of troops, shall be furnished to you.

Article 2.

I request that the allowance now fixed for my expenses may be continued to me for one year after the settlement of Kotra and Puway, etc.

Answer.

Agreeably to the seventh Article of your Ikrarnamah, your present allowance shall continue until the establishment of your authority in the pergunnahs in question.

Article 3.

The factions and malevolent dispositions of my connections in this province are well known to you. If therefore any of those from malicious motives accuse me falsely, let their accusation not be attended to without investigation.

Answer.

No accusations are ever admitted against any one by the Officers of the British Government without previous investigation, and in your case an increased degree of caution shall be exercised.

Article 4.

If any of my brothers, companions, servants, or dependants prefer

Answer.

With a view to the preservation of your dignity and consequence, the any claim against me, I request that it may not be listened to.

British Government will not interfere in the adjustment of any claim which may be preferred against you by your brothers, companions, servants or dependants, but will consider such claim as dependant on your own decision.

Article 5.

If any of my relations, brothers, dependants, or companions at any time revolt from me, and offer a false representation of my conduct, I request that they may not be heard.

Answer.

It is contrary to the usages of the British Government to listen to malicious representations against any person. In your case, therefore, no representation from any quarter shall be admitted without proof.

Article 6.

If any of the persons at present established in the government of Kotra should complain of being injured by the introduction of my authority into the pergunnah, and repair to you for the purpose of complaining against me, I request that no notice whatever be taken of their complaints.

Answer.

It is necessary that you pursue moderate and lenient measures in establishing your authority. If, however, any one should excite commotions in your pergunnahs, or endeavour to subvert your authority and government, you are at liberty to punish such person in your own country, and the British Government will afford him no assistance.

Article 7.

My habitation, which is situated on this side of the Nimme Nulla, and appertaining to which are ten or twelve gardens, the habitations of my people and of the servants of my dependants, which have been invariably occupied by them ever since they have been in my possession, and which since the introduction of the British Government have been exclusively subject to my authority, and exempt from every kind of restraint or violence, I therefore request that the same indulgence be continued with regard to them.

Answer.

They shall continue in their present situation.

other mehals, which are my rightful property by inheritance, and are now unjustly occupied by Gopaul Sing, and my request being approved of, a Sunnud was promised to me at a future period; and Whereas Mr. J. Richardson having been lately appointed to the general superintendence of the affairs of Bundelcund, I have solicited and obtained from that gentleman a grant for the aforesaid mehals: Therefore, and with a view to confirm my obedience and fidelity to the British Government, I have prepared, and hereby present, this obligation of allegiance, containing the following Articles, from which I promise never to depart or deviate a hair's breadth:—

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby engage to have no connection with any marauders or plunderers either within or out of the province of Bundelcund, to afford them no asylum, nor permit them or their families to reside in my possessions, and to abstain from all correspondence whatever with them. I further engage not to enter into any quarrels or disputes with any of the adherents or servants of the British Government, and if a dispute should arise between me and any of the Rajahs or Chiefs of this province dependent on the British Government, I agree to submit such disputes for the investigation of the Officers of the British Government, and scrupulously to observe and abide by their decision. I agree not to retaliate against any one for any injury offered to myself, nor proceed to redress any grievance without the order of the British Government, to which I will ever be obedient and submissive.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard all the passes through the Ghâts under my authority, so as to prevent all marauders, plunderers and ill-disposed persons from ascending or descending the Ghâts, or from entering the British territories through any of those passes; and if any neighbouring Chief or leader should meditate an incursion into the British territory through my possessions, I engage to furnish the Officers of the British Government with information of the circumstance before his approach to the neighbourhood of my territory, and to exert my utmost efforts to obstruct his progress

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to ascend the Ghâts through any of the passes subject to my authority, I agree not only not to obstruct or impede their progress, but to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by the most convenient route, and to furnish them with the necessary supplies so long as they remain within or in the vicinity of my possessions.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government having conferred upon me the pergunnahs of Kotra, &c., which have been usurped, and are now unjustly possessed by Dewan Gopaul Sing, I hereby faithfully engage to prevent the said Gopaul Sing, or any zemindar under his influence, from entering the British territories for the purpose of exciting disturbances in them, and to be responsible for any loss that may be sustained by any of the subjects of the British Government in the event of such an occurrence.

ARTICLE 5.

Whereas Rajah Ram Pindasa, formerly one of my dependants, is now a professed plunderer and freebooter, and seizes every opportunity of molesting and plundering the subjects and zemindars of the British Government, I do therefore hereby engage to reduce the said Rajah Ram to his former state of obedience to me, and after obtaining from the British Government his pardon for his past offence, to cause him to deliver a written obligation of his obedience to the British Government, and of his forbearance from all predatory habit in future, and to afford him a sufficient subsistence out of the revenue of the pergunnahs which have now been conferred upon me. But if the said Rajah Ram shall refuse to submit to the British Government, I hereby agree to be responsible for any loss that shall be occasioned to any of the inhabitants of the British territory by his means, after I shall have been completely established in the possession of the aforementioned pergunnahs.

ARTICLE 6.

In the event of the British Government at any time directing me to make over to any of the Rajahs of this province, any number of villages contained in the aforementioned pergunnahs, whose aggregate revenue shall amount to one lac of Rupees per annum, I agree to resign such villages without hesitation, and to offer no objection to such requisition on the score of the villages being contained in my Sunnud or having been in the occupation of Gopaul Sing.

ARTICLE 7.

I hereby agree to resign all claim to the annual allowance of thirty-six thousand Rupees, which I have hitherto received as a maintenance from the British Government, whenever I shall be established and confirmed in the possession of the aforesaid pergunnahs.

ARTICLE 8.

If any subject of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of my villages, I agree to deliver him up immediately on his being required to the Officers of the British Government, and if any ryot or zemindar shall abscond from my territory and take refuge in the British possessions, after submitting a detail of my complaint against such absconder, I agree to observe whatever decision may be passed regarding him agreeably to the established regulations of the Government, and to take no steps of my own accord for his apprehension.

ARTICLE 9.

I hereby engage to harbour no thieves or robbers in any of my villages, and if the property of merchants or travellers should be stolen or robbed in any of my villages, I engage to make the zemindar of such village either responsible for the stolen property, or for the seizure and delivery of the thief or plunderer to the Officers of the British Government; and if any criminal or murderer, or any person amenable to the laws of the British Government for a crime committed in the British territories, shall take refuge in any of my villages, I agree to seize and deliver up such offender to the British Government, and to prevent his escape in any direction through my possessions.

ARTICLE 10.

I engage that one of my brothers or confidential people shall always be in attendance as a vakeel on the Officer of the British Government in this province, for the purpose of executing his orders, and, in the event of such vakeel being from any reason disapproved of by the said Officer, I agree immediately to appoint another in his stead.

ARTICLE 11.

If any of my adherents or executive Officers shall be guilty of any improper conduct towards the British Government, I agree to dismiss such person from his situation immediately on being required to do so, to afford him no protection either directly or indirectly, and to deliver him up to the British Government immediately on his being demanded.

Having deposited this Ikrarnamah, comprising eleven distinct Articles under my own signature and seal, among the records of the British Government, I hereby bind myself always to fulfil the whole of the conditions contained in the said Articles, and never to omit or neglect the scrupulous performance of any one of them.

Given at Banda, this Eighth day of June A.D. 1807, equal to the 18th Jeyte 1214 Fushie or 1st Rubbee-us-Sanee 1222 Hijree. The day of the week Monday.

RAJAH BUKHT SING SEWAYE.

SUNNUD granted to RAJAH BUKHT SING, dated 8th June 1807.

Be it known to the chowdries, kanoongoes, zemindars, mookuddums and talookdars of the pergunnahs of Kotra and Puway, in the province of Bundelcund; that Whereas after the annexation of the province of Bundelcund to the territories of the Honorable the East India Company, when the British troops were employed in occupying the country and punishing the refractory, Rajah Bukht Sing, the grandson of Maharajah Jugget Raj, one of the legitimate proprietors of this province, did obediently and submissively attend in person on the Officer of the British Government; Wherefore the British Government, actuated by those motives of liberality and by that desire to support and preserve the dignity of illustrious families which ever regulate its conduct, conferred upon Rajah Búkht Sing a permanent provision of Rupees 36,000 per annum : and Whereas a promise having been since made to the said Rajah that, in common with the other hereditary Rajahs of this province, he also should receive a territorial provision in lieu of the aforesaid pecuniary allowance, and the said Rajah having lately repeatedly solicited the performance of that promise, and having presented an obligation of allegiance to the British Government, comprising eleven distinct Articles, signed and sealed by himself ; Therefore the pergunnahs specified underneath, situated in the province of Bundelcund, and at present usurped by some foreigner, who possesses no title whatever to them either by inheritance or by gift, are hereby granted to Rajah Bukht Sing, with whose right to the said pergunnahs the British Government are fully satisfied ; and so long as the said Rajah and his adherents shall continue in obedience to the British Government and shall scrupulously adhere to the terms of the aforesaid obligation of allegiance, the said Rajah and his heirs and successors shall enjoy the unmolested possession of the pergunnahs undermentioned. It is necessary that the inhabitants of the said pergunnahs acknowledge their obedience to the said Rajah, or to whomsoever he may delegate the charge of the pergunnahs, and that they consider all the dependencies and appurtenances of the said pergunnahs as subject to the Rajah, and that they acknowledge no one else. It is the duty of the Rajah to render the people, zemindars, and talookdars happy and grateful by his good government, to devote himself to the prosperity of the inhabitants and to the improvement of the country, and finally to continue faithful and obedient to the British Government.

This Sunnud, after having obtained the approbation of the Honorable the Governor-General, shall be considered valid, and shall then be exchanged for another under the seal and signature of the Governor-General.

Given at Banda, this 8th day of June Anno Domini 1807, equal to the 18th Jeyte 1214 Fushie or 1st Rubbee-ul-Sanee 1222 Hijiree. The day of the week Monday.

Ratified by the Governor-General in Council on the 19th June 1807.

with a view to the protection and support of the ancient families and men of rank, as is the uniform and humane practice of the British Government, granted to the said Rajah a pension of Rs. 3,000 per mensem ; and Whereas, at that time a promise was made to the said Rajah that, in common with the other legitimate Rajahs of this province, he also should receive a territorial provision in lieu of the aforesaid pension ; Accordingly, in conformity to the request of the said Rajah, and with a view to the fulfilment of the above promise, in the month of June 1807 A.D., after having delivered in his Ikrarnamah or written engagement binding himself to loyalty and obedience to the British Government, received from the rulers of the British Government the pergunnahs of Kotra and Puway in jaghire, and after the resumption of the jaghire of Ajeygurh, the Rajah Bukht Sing also received in jaghire certain villages in the pergunnah of Ajeygurh (the place of residence of his ancestors), which were his hereditary property, in lieu of certain villages in the pergunnah of Puway : As in the Sunnud formerly granted to the aforesaid Rajah, the names of the villages granted to him are not detailed, and as the said Rajah has now requested a Sunnud which shall include and detail all the villages now in his possession in the pergunnahs above named : For that reason a single Sunnud granting rent-free the villages detailed underneath, together with their mal, land revenue, sayer, transit duties, abkaree duties on spirituous liquors, and all other rights and appurtenances thereunto belonging, for ever, generation after generation, has been bestowed upon the aforesaid Rajah, by the bounty of the British Government. ARTICLE 6.

Should it at any time hereafter be clearly proved to the satisfaction of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council that any of the villages comprised in the Sunnud which I have now obtained from the British Government do not rightfully belong to me, I hereby engage to make no difficulty or hesitation in giving up those villages to the Officers of the British Government, and to advance no objections to the surrender of such villages on the plea of their being included in my Sunnud.

ARTICLE 7.

As the lands and villages enumerated in my Sunnud are now in my actual possession, I hereby disclaim all right to the assistance of the British Government, whether in establishing my control over those lands and villages, or in recovering possession of them in the event of my at any time being dispossessed of them.

SANAD empowering the CHIEF of CHHATARPUR to exercise CRIMINAL POWERS within the LIMITS of his STATE,—1894.

Whereas it has been ruled that the minor Chiefs of the province of Bundelkhand must refer all heinous cases involving sentence of death or of transportation, or of imprisonment for life, to the local Political Officers of the British Government ; and

Whereas the same consideration which led to the restrictions imposed above, viz., the amelioration of criminal justice in Bundelkhand, may now be held to justify their relaxation in the case of any Chief, who by personal qualifications and enlightened policy proves that the administration of justice may in respect even of the most heinous classes of crime be entrusted to him ; and

Whereas it has been represented by the Agent to the Governor-General for Central India, that the present ruler of Chhatarpur, His Highness Raja Vishwanath Singh Bahadur, possesses these qualifications and enjoys this character ;

Therefore the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council hereby empowers the said Raja Vishwanath Singh Bahadur to hear and decide all criminal cases within the limits of the State of Chhatarpur on the following conditions, viz., that sentences of death shall be immediately reported to the Agent to the Governor-General and be subject to confirmation by the Agent, and that periodical reports shall be submitted by the Chief to the local British Political Officer of all cases in which sentences of transportation or imprisonment for life are passed by him, and further that this sanad does not apply to any criminal case in which the person accused or any one of the persons accused is a European British subject, or is of European or American nationality.

It must be distinctly understood that the British Government will at any time suspend or revoke the authority thus conveyed, should circumstances appear to call for such a proceeding.

The full powers herein bestowed will continue only so long as the said Raja Vishwanath Singh Bahadur continues to merit the distinction, and they will not necessarily be transmittible to his successors.

By order of the Governor-General in Council,

W. J. CUNNINGHAM,
Officiating Secretary.

TRANSLATION of a WAJIB-UL-URZ or PAPER of REQUESTS presented by RAJA RAM,—1807.

Request.

Having submitted in person to the British Government in the hope of obtaining a subsistence and of benefitting myself, and having agreed to the arrangement which you have determined on in my favor, I solicit a nankar Sunnud for the villages assigned for my jaghire, granting them to me and to my successors in perpetuity free from any conditions of service, and in such manner that the said villages may be in the immediate occupation of myself and of my posterity.

Request.

I agree to reside with my dependants in one of the villages of my jaghire or in the town of Banda. If, however, I should go anywhere for service, let me not be prohibited from doing so, nor my motives enquired into by the Government.

Request.

During the period previous to my submission to the British Government I have excited disturbances and committed depredations in the province of Bundelound, both in the British and other territories, and I have possessed myself of real and personal property, of cattle, and of other articles of every description. I request that no notice

Answer.

A Sunnud in perpetuity and free from any conditions of service shall be granted to you.

Answer.

There is no objection to your entering any service with exception to that of an enemy or rebel of the British Government. It is necessary, however, that you solicit the permission of the Government previously to your proceeding anywhere in quest of service; neither must you afford assistance to any of the adherents of the British Government, nor to any other person inviting your co-operation without the previous sanction of the Government.

Answer.

No notice shall be taken on the part of the Government of any transactions, the origin of which shall be prior to the date of your obligation of allegiance, nor shall any complaint preferred in consequence of any such transactions be listened to.

be taken by the Government of any of those acts, and that no complaint in consequence of them be listened to.

Request.

I have acknowledged my obedience and submission to the British Government; if therefore any person from malice or enmity calumniate or cast suspicion upon my character to the British Government, I request that no such accusations may be received without investigation, and should they prove to be malicious and groundless that the calumniator may be punished.

Request.

I request that all complaints preferred against me by my servants and creditors be rejected and not be enquired into.

Request.

Let the same degree of respect and consideration which I have received from you be continued towards me.

Request.

In the event of my disposing of any of the villages comprised in my jaghire by gift or by sale, or dividing them among my children, I request that the persons to whom they may be so disposed of may also be entitled to possess them in perpetuity.

Answer.

No assertion regarding you shall be received or attended to without investigation, and if any person shall be convicted of calumniating you, he shall be treated as he deserves.

Answer.

No complaints preferred by your servants and creditors regarding transactions which shall have occurred anterior to your obligation of allegiance shall be heard. But those which shall occur subsequently to that period shall certainly be liable to investigation.

Answer.

The same respect shall be continued to be shewn to you, and shall even be increased in proportion to the future sincerity of your obedience.

Answer.

Inasmuch as the villages have been granted in perpetuity to you those also to whom you may dispose of them will possess a similar title to them. But no gift, sale, or transfer will be valid unless the previous consent of Government to the transaction shall be obtained. It is therefore necessary, in either of these cases, to obtain the consent of Government first and then to give, sell, or transfer; and even after the above gift, sale, or transfer shall have taken place, the validity of the above gift, sale, or transfer, and the right acquired thereby will entirely depend upon your faithful adherence to the Articles of Agreement contained in your Ikrar-namah, and the said lands shall become resumable by Government on any breach thereof on your part.

Request.

The villages contained in the jaghire which has been conferred upon me by the British Government are granted in perpetuity, but subject to the condition of obedience to the British Government. I trust that the villages in the possession of the remainder of my successors may not be confiscated for the offence of one person.

Answer.

For the offence of one of your successors, the remainder shall not suffer, nor their villages be confiscated in consequence.

Request.

Several of the zemindars of the pergunnahs of the sirkar have obtained remissions in their revenue on account of teeps and vouchers which they have presented, written in my name. There is still a balance of those teeps due by the zemindars, and I therefore hope that, whatever portion of the remission they have received shall be proved to be still due by them, may be given to me.

Answer.

Whatever balance may prove to be due by the zemindars is the property of the Government. In consideration, however, of your zeal for the welfare of the Government, a portion of the above balances, after being realised by the Government, shall, with the approbation of the Government, be given to you as a free gift.

Request.

Let the villages of my jaghire, like those of the other Chiefs, be exempted from the authority of the Adawlut.

Answer.

They shall be exempted in the same manner as the ilakas of the other Chiefs and Rajahs are.

Request.

Let the charity land belonging to me and to my brethren, as well in the British

Request.

If Luchmun Sing Dawa or any other Chieftain in Bundelcund should make any representation to the Government through my mediation, I request that I may be permitted to convey such representation, and that they may be received by the hoozoor.

Answer.

Any communications you may make to the Government on the part of Luchmun Sing or of any other Chieftain shall be admitted, and whatever measures may appear to be necessary in consequence of them shall be adopted.

This being the case, it is incumbent upon you to obtain the consent of the British Government previous to the sale or gift of any part or the whole of your jaghire, and even in the case of such disposal of part or the whole of your jaghire, the right to retain possession thereof will depend on your loyalty and adherence to your several engagements.

Answer.

The head of the family amongst your heirs and successors will be considered to be under the same engagements that are now concluded with you and to be liable to the same responsibility, excepting only in as far as any portion of the jaghire may be transferred to a distinct and separate authority with the previous consent of the British Government, but if no such transfer shall be made, the head of the family will be considered as responsible for the conduct of all the persons holding lands in the jaghire; at the same time, for the offence of one of your successors, the remainder shall not be made to suffer, nor their villages be confiscated in consequence. They shall be exempted in the same manner as the ilakas of the other Chiefs and Rajahs are.

Request 10.

At the date of my submission seven months of the Fuslie year 1219 were unexpired. I am in hopes that I may receive the revenues of seven months of the twelve; whatever is due by the zemindars that I will collect and whatever has been collected by the sircar I hope will be refunded.

Answer.

From the date of your Sunnud you shall receive in proportion to the receipts of twelve months; whatever that may be you shall receive, whether due by the zemindars or to be paid by Government.

Request 11.

If I perform any beneficial service to the Government, I am in hopes that my representations may be attended to.

Answer.

When you perform any praiseworthy service to Government, Government itself will confer upon you rewards equal to your services without your requiring them.

Request 12.

Property, cloths, and other articles, horses, camels, and cattle, etc., belonging to me were in times of confusion left by me in Oucheerah, Gurrah Kotah, and Rewah; here and there I shall send for the above property; if I recover it peaceably well, if not, I hope that whatever may be proper to cause me to receive, the same will be taken into due consideration by the British Government.

Answer.

Do you in your own manner endeavour to recover the property in question. It is most probable that after your having submitted to the British Government, the Chiefs concerned will of themselves cause the property to be delivered up; otherwise, state the particulars to Government, that after understanding the case whatever may be proper may be done.

TRANSLATION of an IKRARNAMAH or OBLIGATION of ALLEGIANCE entered into by DEWAN GOPAUL SING,—1812.

I, Gopaul Sing, do hereby declare and acknowledge in writing that I have submitted in person to the British Government; and with a view to confirm my obedience and submission, I hereby present this Ikrarnamah containing the following Articles:—

ARTICLE 1.

Whereas I have freely and sincerely acknowledged my obedience and submission to the British Government, and have been admitted accordingly to the number of the servants and dependants of the British Government; and Whereas John Richardson, Esquire, who has been appointed on the part of the Right Honorable the Governor-General to the general superintendence of the province of Bundel-cund, has required from me an Ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance : therefore, and in consideration of the ample provision which has lately been granted to me by the British Government, I do hereby present this Ikrarnamah, signed and sealed by myself, from which I engage never to deviate, and never to commit any act in violation of the terms contained in the subjoined Articles.

ARTICLE 2.

I hereby promise and engage that in future I myself, or my brother's children or brothers, or any of my adherents, shall never be guilty of any act of plunder or excess in the pergunnah of Kotra, etc., the possessions of the Rajah Bukht Sing, or the possessions of any of the dependants of the British Government. If any of the above-mentioned, my relations or adherents, shall be guilty of any excess, I am to be held responsible and liable to any punishment Government may in its justice direct.

ARTICLE 3.

I agree to reside with my family and children in one of the villages forming my jaghire. If I wish to reside in, or build a dwelling in the territories of any of the Chiefs dependent on the British Government, I shall first obtain the permission of the British Government, and not go to any other place without the permission of the Government.

ARTICLE 4.

I engage not only to have no connection with any marauders, plunderers, robbers or other evil-disposed persons, either within or out of the province of Bundelcund, or the other dominions of the British Government, and not to let them shelter or remain in any of the villages of my jaghire, but to give every information I may possess regarding their haunts to officers of Government, and, if possible, I promise to seize and deliver them up to the British Government ; I promise to discontinue all intercourse and correspondence with the above persons, and to avoid entering into disputes with any of the servants or adherents of the British Government. If eventually a dispute should arise between any of the adherents of the Government, I further engage to afford no assistance to either party, without the orders of the Government, but to remain quietly within my own territory in implicit obedience to the British Government.

ARTICLE 5.

If any subject of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of the villages of my jaghire, I engage to seize and deliver up such absconder to the officers of the British Government ; and should any person be sent on the part of the Government to apprehend the fugitive, I engage not only not to obstruct nor impede such person, but to co-operate with him in the apprehension of the fugitive. I further engage to obey the orders of the Civil and Criminal Courts in all transactions which shall occur after the date of this obligation, and shall be issued by the Agent to the Governor-General, and never to excite commotions or disturbances in any manner whatever.

Sing to be enjoyed by him and by his successors in perpetuity. And so long as the said Gopaul Sing shall continue strictly and faithfully to adhere to the terms of his obligation of allegiance, the aforesaid villages shall never be resumed.

It is incumbent on the said Dewan Gopaul Sing to render the inhabitants and peasantry of the aforesaid villages contented and grateful for his good government, to direct his utmost endeavours to the promotion of their comfort and happiness, and to afford no asylum to thieves and robbers in any one of his villages. It is the duty of the inhabitants to consider the said Dewan Gopaul Sing as the jaghiredar of the aforementioned villages; to acknowledge his title to the privileges and immunities appertaining to them; to evince no opposition or disobedience whatever to the said Dewan Gopaul Sing, nor require from him the annual renewal of his Sunnud.

This Sunnud, after obtaining the sanction of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, shall be considered as valid and in full force.

LUCHMUN SING,—1807.

1st Request.

Having submitted in person to the British Government in the hope of obtaining a subsistence, I am ready to accept whatever the Government may allot to me as a maintenance; and I shall reside along with my dependants in the villages composing my jaghire. But I shall also be at liberty to accept of service either in Bundelcund or in any other country.

Answer.

You are not prohibited from entering the service of any person who is not in a state of enmity or rebellion to the British Government. But it is necessary that you first request and obtain the permission of the officers of the British Government for that purpose. And in the event of two of the adherents of the British Government being engaged in actual hostilities with each other, and one of them either offering you service or inviting your assistance, you must in this case also be guided by the orders of the British officers.

2nd Request.

If anyone maliciously or interestedly misrepresent my conduct to you, let no such misrepresentation be received without investigation.

Answer.

It is not the practice of the British Government to attend to any self-interested insinuations against the conduct of any one. It is necessary, however, that you carefully avoid giving a handle to calumny by the commission of any act that might create suspicion.

3rd Request.

During the period in which I have been in a state of disobedience to the Government, I have been in the constant habit of exciting disturbances and of plundering goods, specie, personal property, horses, camels, cattle, etc. Let no complaint preferred against me in consequence of those acts be listened to.

Answer.

With regard to the acts committed by you prior to the date of your obligation of allegiance to the British Government, no retrospective notice shall be taken of them on the part of the Government, either in the Civil or Criminal Courts of Justice, nor shall any complaint in consequence of them be attended to.

4th Request.Answer.

If any of my servants or my creditors shall come before you and make a complaint of whatever nature against me, let them not be attended to.

No notice shall be taken of those acts of which the cause of complaint shall have originated previously to the date of your obligation. But with regard to those which shall originate subsequently to that period, you must consider yourself as subject to the authority of the Court.

5th Request.Answer.

I possess considerable property and several claims in many places. When I shall submit those claims to you, I trust from your liberality that you will be pleased to cause them to be granted to me.

As no claims against you arising from any act committed prior to your obligation are to be listened to, neither can your claims against others on account of former acts with propriety be admitted.

ARTICLE 4.

If any of the inhabitants of the British territory abscond and take refuge in any of the villages of my jaghire, I engage to seize and deliver him up to the officers of the British Government; and if a person on the part of the British Government be sent to apprehend such absconder, I agree not only not to oppose such person, but to co-operate with him in the apprehension of the said absconder; and I engage to obey the orders of the civil and criminal courts in all cases that shall occur after the date of this Ikrarnamah.

The zemindars of the villages composing my jaghire having already given kubooleuts to the Collector of this district for the payment of their revenue, I hereby engage, during the existence of their engagement with the Government, to collect the revenue from them agreeably to their present pottahs and kubooleuts, and to make no further demand upon them.

TRANSLATION of a PAPER of REQUESTS delivered by the NABOB NUSSEER-OD-DOWLA and of CAPTAIN BAILLIE'S ANSWERS,—1806.

As in consequence of the receipt of a letter from the Honorable the Governor-General, informing you of my mission to Bundelcund for the purpose of adjusting all your concerns, you have been pleased to arrange every subject under distinct heads, and have required from me such a formal answer to each point as shall in every respect possess the validity of a judicial decree; I, with a view to your immediate satisfaction, now commit to paper your requests with the following answers annexed to them; and I have applied to the Honorable the Governor-General in your favour for a grant of the jaghire, together with the three villages which are in your occupation, and I shall accordingly now have the honour of delivering the Sunnud to you.

1st Request.Answer.

I have incurred the enmity of all the Mahrattas by my connection with the British Government. Let not their reports to my prejudice be attended to, nor even the representations of Maharajah Bajee Row in favour of my brother Moulla Jah, who is now in attendance on him; and believe not the malicious reports of others without investigation.

From your approved fidelity to the British Government, I am satisfied that His Highness the Peishwa, from the union subsisting between him and the British Government, will not injure you or annul the engagement which was so long ago concluded with your deceased father. If he should, the British Government will exert its utmost influence with His Highness in favour of your interests. The representations of interested persons shall not be attended to without investigation.

2nd Request.Answer.

Let the fifty-two villages in the district of Calpee be granted to me as the reward of my friendship and attachment to the British Government; of my being the first of the Chiefs of this province to come into the British camp; of my having invited the English to come into this country because of the enmity subsisting between me and the Mahrattas; and of my friendly conduct in joining the British. In this arrangement let not the representations of

The British Government will not molest you in the occupation of those villages which you held in jaghire of the Peishwa, previously to the introduction of the British authority into Calpee; nor will the British Government transfer those lands from your possession to that of any of your brothers. The British Government, however, entertains a confident expectation that you will pay to the Nabob Moulla Moulla Jah or of any of my brothers be listened to, and I shall pay to each of them their usual allowances.

Jah and your other brothers and dependants their usual monthly allowances. In this case no further demands upon you will be attended to.

3rd Request.

With respect to my father's debts, part of which were incurred by the execution of bonds under his own seal, and part in consequence of my father's having taken up his residence in the Punjab, whence it would have been difficult to obtain bonds under his signature, always at the moment when they might be required, by bonds which I executed at his desire under my seal in this manner, namely, that "I had taken up such a sum of money from the bankers on my father's account, and that conformably to his desire I should apply it to defray my expenses," those debts are very extensive. On this subject I have to observe that, according to the Mussulman law, with which the English law also agrees, the debts of the father and the jointure of the father's widow, unless the father shall leave money to his son, are not chargeable on the revenue of the (son's) landed property and houses. Therefore as my father has left me no money I am not bound by law to pay his debts, etc. Moreover some bankers have received the principal of their debts, of which the interest only remains due, while others have received the principal and interest of their debts, so that only the compound interest of such debts is not liquidated. Under these circumstances no person has any legitimate demand for principal money. These differences however refer to a period antecedent to the introduction of the British authority into this province, and differences which originated

Answer.

The settlement of your father's debts rests with yourself, and the British Government will not interfere in that business, and the British Government will, in the spirit of the benevolent laws which regulate its conduct towards all the Chiefs of Hindoostan, uniformly manifest towards you every degree of attention.

or, on the contrary, the father answerable for his son's evil actions.

Two or three of my brothers and some other individuals there are, who have deserted my father's house nearly thirty years, and have sought a provision in other families. To these persons my father never allotted any provisions, and at the period of his death, so far from leaving anything to them, was pleased to direct in his last will and testament in my favour that those children and other individuals who had forsaken his roof during his lifetime should not return when he should be no more. If therefore any of those persons should come to me and advance any claims, I shall act up to the instructions contained in my father's will and not listen to them.

6th Request.

I consent to consider myself to be amenable to all rules and forms of justice which are admitted by other Chiefs of Hindoostan.

Answer.

The same forms of justice which prevail in the jaghires of other Chiefs of Hindoostan, shall be established in your jaghire. It is therefore proper that you should, as a measure of precaution, issue peremptory orders that no robbers or highwaymen shall take refuge in your jaghire, and if at any time any subject of the British Government shall commit plunder, robbery, or murder, and seek refuge in the villages composing your jaghire, you should apprehend and deliver over the person of such offender to the British Government. In like manner, if any individual inhabitant of your jaghire should be guilty of any crime of the nature above described, either in the Honourable Company's territory or within the limits of your jaghire, you should apprehend and deliver over the person so offending to the British Government; and if your endeavors to seize him should fail, you should report the circumstance to the British Government, that the necessary measures may be adopted to secure his punishment.

For schedule of villages claimed, see Appendix No. IX.

Dated 15th November 1806.

From—The Nawab NUSEER-OD-DOWLAH,

To—The Honorable the Governor-General.

When I had last year an interview with Captain Baillie, I had the honour to address a friendly letter to you, which was forwarded through his assistance and cannot fail to have reached you and to have been honoured by your perusal. A long period having elapsed since then, I am induced by an anxious wish to be informed of your welfare without awaiting the receipt of a reply to address you again, both with the view of expressing my regard and of submitting to your notice some circumstances of my own condition; and I rely on your known regard to the duties of hospitality and friendship for your liberal consideration of the case of this sojourner in the British dominions. I have had the pleasure to receive a satisfactory letter from Captain Baillie on the subject of my wishes and claims, which was written to me by your desire in consideration of my faithful attachment to the Honourable Company's interests, and this letter has afforded me the fullest confidence and security for the remainder of my life. But if, from a consideration of my family and of my uniform and sincere attachment to the British Government, you should be pleased in your own name to confirm the assurances conveyed to me by Captain Baillie, the particulars of which will no doubt be submitted to you by him, this confirmation would increase my confidence in your friendship. Should it not be convenient to do so, I shall still remain satisfied, as it is not my wish to be troublesome; and the letter of Captain Baillie is in reality the same with your own, as having been written under your direction; Captain Baillie will not fail to convey to you the truth concerning me.

To

NUSSEER-OD-DOWLAH.

I have had the pleasure to receive your letter (recapitulate that received 15th December).

I entertain a high sense of your attachment to the British Government and it will always afford me great satisfaction to promote your interest and welfare

The information which I have uniformly received from Captain Baillie respecting you is of a nature to increase my regard and esteem, and confirms my confidence in the continuance on your part of the same sentiments and conduct which place you among the number of the faithful adherents of the British Government.

I hereby confirm the assurances which you have received from Captain Baillie, and being perfectly satisfied of the validity of your title to the jaghire of 52 villages in the district of Calpee, conferred on you by His Highness the Peishwa, I hereby recognise your right to the possession of those villages.

For further particulars I refer you to the communications of Captain Baillie.

TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT given in by RAO BAHADOOR BUKHT SING, Jaghiredar of CHURGAON, etc., under date 27th November 1821.

An engagement of allegiance being required from me by Lieutenant Moodie, Acting Agent of the Governor-General in Bundelcund, in order to establish my submission and obedience to the British Government; Therefore, in consideration of the kindness and justice I have experienced from the British Government, I, Dewan Bahadoor Bukht Sing, have of my own free will written and delivered to the above-mentioned gentleman an engagement to the following effect:—

That I will not abet or connive at any rebellious or suspected persons but will break off all correspondence and connection with them. On the contrary, I will use my utmost exertions to seize such persons, and having seized them will deliver them up to the officer of the British Government. I will not hold enmity towards the servants or dependants of the Government; and should any of the Chiefs of the districts and dependants of the Government have a difference with me, respecting any place, village or boundary, lands, etc., I will make known the cause of dispute to the officers of Government and request them to settle it, and I will implicitly submit to whatever may be the decision of Government, nor will I dispute with any one in revenge for his quarrelsomeness towards me. Should any disturbances take place between any one without the sanction of the officers of Government, I will not, in any respect whatever, swerve from my obedience and allegiance, acting always as a loyal and submissive dependant subject of the Government. Should any fugitive subject of the Honorable Company take refuge in any village of my jaghire, I will seize him and deliver him up to the servants of Government; and should the servants of Government come to seize him I will aid them in so doing. In the event of troops of the Government passing through my ilaka, I will cordially exert myself in collecting supplies and other requisites, and act in conformity to the desire of the officer commanding the troops. I will not permit robbers or thieves to reside in my jaghire; and should the property of any person be stolen or plundered in the villages or within the boundaries of my jaghire, I will either cause the property or its value to be restored by the zamindar, or I will myself repay the amount. Should any one after committing a crime in the territories of the Government take refuge in the villages of my jaghire, I will seize him and deliver him up to the officer of Government. I will not commit any act whatever that may give rise to disturbance or confusion in the territory of the Jhansi State. I will pay an annual tribute of Jhansi Rupees 7,500 to the Subadar of Jhansi through the medium of the Agent of the Governor-General. I will always maintain the observances customary in this district towards the Rajah of Oorcha, as the head of my family. I will appoint a trustworthy person on my own part, who will constantly attend on the officers of Government as a vakeel to execute such orders as he may require, and should the officers of Government be displeased with him for any fault, I will immediately appoint another person in his stead;

II.—BAGHELKHAND.

THE Baghelkhand Agency, which then comprised the States of Rewa, Nagod, Maihar, Sohawal and Kothi, was established in March 1871. A British Agent was temporarily attached to Rewa in 1857, and shortly afterwards the confiscated Estate of Bijairaghogarh, and the States of Nagod, Maihar and Sohawal, which were under British management, were placed under his jurisdiction. The Political Agent was withdrawn in 1862 at the Maharaja's request, and his charge was added to that of the Political Agent, Bundelkhand, in whose hands it remained until the re-establishment of the separate Agency in 1871. For administrative convenience the State of Baraundha and the Jagirs of Jaso, Paldeo, Taraon, Bhaisaunda, Pabra and Kamta Rajaula were in 1896 transferred from the Bundelkhand Agency to the Baghelkhand Agency.

Transit duties have been abolished by all the Chiefs in Baghelkhand. No separate extradition arrangements have been concluded with them; extradition is effected in accordance with the procedure for the time being in force in British India; but there are reciprocal arrangements on certain matters, e.g., extradition, surrender of police and military deserters, service of summons, etc., between the States in Baghelkhand and certain other States in and outside Central India and adjoining British districts. Rewa is the only State in Baghelkhand held under treaty; the others are held under Sanads. None of the States or Jagirs pay any tribute, except the Jagir of Paldeo (q.v.).

The area of Baghelkhand is 14,706 square miles, with a population, according to the Census of 1921, of 1,638,623.

I. REWA.

The Chiefs of Rewa are Baghel Rajputs, descended from the Gujarat family which ruled at Anhilwara Patan from 1219 to 1296. A member of the family migrated to Northern India and obtained possession of Bandhogarh, which remained the capital of the Baghel possessions until its capture by Akbar in 1597, when Rewa became the chief town.

The first Ruler of Rewa with whom a treaty was made was Maharaja Jai Singh Deo. Overtures, made in 1803 after the conclusion of the Treaty of Bassein (see Vol. VII, The Peshwa), were rejected by him. In 1812, however, a body of Pindaris invaded Mirzapur through Rewa territory, and the Maharaja was believed either to have abetted this enterprise through deliberate design, or to have countenanced it through weakness. He was accordingly required in 1812 to accede to a Treaty (No. I), by which he was acknowledged as the ruler of his possessions; was brought under the protection of the British Government, to whose arbitration he bound himself to refer all disputes with neighbouring Chiefs; and engaged to permit British troops to march through, or be stationed in, his territories.

Jai Singh Deo failed to fulfil his obligations and, when a military post was established in his territory, he attempted to starve out the detachment. Troops were sent to enforce the execution of the engagements and to obtain security for their future fulfilment. Accordingly, on the 2nd June 1813, another Treaty (No. II) was made, confirming the previous Treaty and defining more clearly the Ruler's relations with the British Government. The 5th Article of the Treaty acknowledged the right of the British Government to punish Lal Zabardast Singh, Jagirdar of Churhat, who had contumaciously refused to allow the Government post to be laid through his territories; and the 8th Article related to the punishment of certain landholders in the Singrauli district, who had attacked a party of British troops during an armistice which had been agreed on for the purpose of negotiating the Treaty. Zabardast Singh was pardoned on his engaging (No. III) never again to offend against the British Government. The landholders in Singrauli were deprived of their proprietary rights, which were conferred in 1814 by a fresh Treaty (No. IV) on the Maharaja, on his promising not to molest certain of his subordinate Chiefs who had rendered assistance to the British Government. The British Government have on two occasions directly interfered on behalf of the Thakur of Singrauli whose estates lie partly in Rewa and partly in British territory.

Jai Singh Deo abdicated in favour of his son Bishwanath Singh, who was succeeded in 1854 by his son Raghuraj Singh. According to local chronicles, he was the thirty-second of his line.

In 1847 the Maharaja prohibited sati throughout his dominions.

For his services in the mutiny of 1857 the district of Sohagpur and the village of Amarkantak were conferred in sovereignty upon Raghuraj Singh, who was informed that, in his dealings with the zamindars, he would be expected to adopt a course in conformity with the practice of the British Government.

In 1862 the Ruler of Rewa received a Sanad of Adoption (No. V).

In 1863 the Maharaja ceded the land required for railway purposes with all his sovereign rights thereon (No. VI).

In 1867 the Ruler of Rewa was granted a permanent salute of 17 guns.

In 1867 Raghuraj Singh, at whose request the British Agent temporarily appointed in 1857 to assist him in his government had been withdrawn in 1862, desired the direct interference of the British Government in effecting reforms in the administration of his State; but

In 1882 the State assumed responsibility for the maintenance of the portions of the Great Deccan Road, Rewa-Sutna Road and Sohagi Pass Road lying within Rewa territory.

In 1883 the State agreed to cede, with full jurisdiction thereon, the lands required for the Bengal-Nagpur Railway (No. VIII).

In January 1885 the Rewa State handed over to the Government of India, with other necessary concessions for mining purposes, the surface and mining rights in the Umaria coalfields, a tract of about three square miles. The terms included the payment of a royalty to the Darbar. In April 1885 civil and criminal jurisdiction over the coalfields was ceded to the Government of India, who entrusted the immediate administrative control of the tract and the executive management of the operations to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces. The whole arrangement, which was subject to reconsideration on the Maharaja's majority, terminated at the Maharaja's request on the 1st January 1900, when the colliery was retransferred to the Rewa Darbar on the understanding that any proposal to transfer it thereafter to a company would be submitted for the consideration and orders of the Government of India (No. IX).

In November 1895 the administration of the State was handed over to Maharaja Venkat Raman Singh under certain conditions, and the Council of Sirdars was dissolved from that date.

In May 1902 an agreement was made between the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company and the Maharaja, as the proprietor of the Rewa State colliery at Umaria, for the performance by the latter of certain services at the pit-head terminus of the Umaria branch line, for the purpose of developing the coal traffic between the colliery and the stations of the railway company and other connected railway lines via the Umaria station of the company.

Venkat Raman Singh died on the 30th October 1918 and was succeeded by his elder son the present Maharaja Gulab Singh, born on the 13th March 1903. During the ensuing minority the administration was, in accordance with the wishes expressed by the late Maharaja, carried on by his brother-in-law, Maharaja Sajjan Singh of Ratlam, as Regent, assisted by a Council.

The termination of the minority and the investiture of Maharaja Gulab Singh with full powers was announced by the Viceroy at a Darbar held on the 31st October 1922.

In 1924 the State consented to the construction of a Railway line from Hutra to Annupur through its territory.

In the same year the State entered into an agreement with the Bengal-Nagpur Railway for the construction, working and maintenance of a siding to serve the Burhar State collieries. This was followed by another, concluded in 1926; and by a supplementary agreement, made in 1929, regarding the working of coal under the siding.

In 1930 the title of Maharajadhiraja was recognised as a hereditary distinction in favour of the Ruler of Rewa, whose territorial designation of Maharaja of Rewa remains unaltered.

The area of the State is 13,000 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,401,524; and the revenue about 60 lakhs.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Rewa State Forces consists (December 1926) of:—

2 Troops Mule Transport (100 carts) 137

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Cavalry—
Regular	388
Irregular	78
Infantry—
Regular	506
Irregular	915
Artillery	186
Armed Police	383

The State possesses 40 serviceable and 33 unserviceable guns.

The liability of the State to the payment of Nazarana on successions had not been decided by 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

2. NAGOD OR UNCHAHRA.

The founder of the Nagod family, who are Parihar Rajputs, is said to have been Bhoj Raj, who is supposed to have migrated from Kotara, through fear of death at the hands of his bastard brother, and settled in Unchahra in 1478. Like Kothi, the State of Nagod was originally included as one of the subordinates of Panna in the Sanad granted to Raja Kishore Singh. But, as Unchahra had been in the possession of the ancestors of Lal Sheoraj Singh before the establishment of the power of Chhatarsal in Bundelkhand, and the family had never been ousted either by the Bundela Rajas or by Ali Bahadur, a Sanad (No. X) was given to Lal Sheoraj Singh in 1809, confirming him in his possessions. He was succeeded in 1818 by his son Balbhaddar Singh, who was deposed in 1831 for the murder of his brother. Raghavendra Singh, son of Balbhaddar Singh, was then a minor, and the State was temporarily taken under British administration. On attaining his majority in 1838, Raghavendra Singh was installed; a new Sanad (No. XI) was given him, and a nazarana of Rs. 8,000 was taken. He soon became deeply involved in debt and, at his own request, the State was again taken under British management in 1844. The Raja rendered good service during the mutiny, and was rewarded in 1859 with the grant (No. XII) of eleven villages from the confiscated Estate of Bijairaghogarh, which had at one time formed a portion of the Maihar State.

In 1862 the Ruler of Nagod received a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. XIII).

In 1863 the Raja ceded lands (No. XIII) for railway purposes, with full rights short of sovereignty.

In 1865, at the Raja's request, the management of the State was again made over to him.

In 1867 the Ruler of Nagod was granted a permanent salute of 9 guns.

Raghavendra Singh died in 1874, and was succeeded by his son Jadabindra Singh, called also Sambhu Das, who was put in full charge of the State in February 1882. The grave disorder existing in the State rendered it necessary in 1893 to require the Raja to appoint a qualified person, approved by the Political Agent, as his Diwan. He, however, resented this advice, and in 1894 went to Benares and settled there. The Government of India were therefore compelled to direct the Political Agent to assume charge of the State. The Raja lived in voluntary exile at Benares, declining the allowance that Government were prepared to grant him from his State, until September 1904, when he consented to live at Sutna and to accept an allowance of Rs. 2,000 a month, paid from the revenues of the State. In 1904 he formally adopted from a Parihar family of Katkon (Nagod State) a boy named Bhargvendra Singh, then aged about 17 years; but he subsequently contracted another marriage, and sons were born to him in 1912 and 1916. Restricted powers were restored to Jadabindra Singh in 1920. He died in 1922 and was succeeded by his elder son Narharendra Singh, who died on the 26th February 1926 and was succeeded by his younger brother the present Raja Mahendra Singh. Since the commencement of the minority in 1922 the administration has been carried on by a State Council with the Political Agent in Baghelkhand as President.

The area of Nagod is 501 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 68,166; and the revenue about 2½ lakhs.

The military forces consist (1926) of 11 Cavalry, 62 Armed Police and 5 Artillery men, with 8 serviceable and 1 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

3. MAIHAR.

The founder of Maihar was Beni Singh, known as Beni Hazuri, Minister to Raja Hindupat of Panna, who in about 1770 granted him in jagir the territory which now forms the State. On the occupation of Bundelkhand, Thakur Durjan Singh, a younger son of Beni Singh, was confirmed (No. XIV) in his possessions on his executing a deed of allegiance in 1806. In 1814 a revised Sanad (No. XV) was given to him. On the death of Durjan Singh in 1826 the State was divided (No. XVI) between his two sons, Bishan Singh and Prag Das, the former receiving the district of Maihar and the latter Bijairaghogarh. The Estate of Bijairaghogarh was confiscated in 1858 for the rebellion of the Chief, Surju Prasad, son of Prag Das, and in 1865 was included in the territories administered by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.

Bishan Singh became deeply involved in debt, and at his own request the State was placed under British management in 1849, at which time an Engagement (No. XVII) was taken from him. He died in 1850, and was succeeded by his son Mohan Prasad, who died in 1852, leaving a son Raghubir Singh, who in 1865, on attaining his majority, was invested with the management of the State.

In 1862 the Ruler of Maihar received a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. XIII).

In 1863 the State ceded land for railway purposes (No. XVIII) with jurisdiction thereon.

In 1869 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XIX) upon the Ruler of Maihar: and in 1878 he was granted a permanent salute of 9 guns.

Raghubir Singh died in 1908 and was succeeded by his eldest son Jadubir Singh, who accepted an obligation to consult the Political Agent in all important matters connected with the State.

He died in 1910 and was succeeded by his younger brother Randhir Singh, who was murdered in December 1911, and was succeeded by his son the present Raja Brijnath Singh, born on the 22nd February 1896. During his minority the administration was carried on by a Dewan under the supervision of the Political Agent in Baghelkhand. Raja Brijnath Singh received ruling powers in 1917. In 1920 the Government of India decided that the Ruler of Maihar should be admitted as a Member of the Chamber of Princes. In March 1921 he was granted a Sanad (see Bundelkhand No. XXXVI) enhancing his powers to dispose of criminal cases.

The area of Maihar is 407 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 66,540; and the revenue about $3\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs.

The military forces consist (1926) of 14 Cavalry, 43 Infantry, 98 Armed Police and 10 Artillery men, with 8 serviceable and 3 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

4. SOHAWAL.

Sohawal was formerly a portion of Rewa territory, but about the middle of the sixteenth century, when Amar Singh was Ruler of Rewa, his son Fateh Singh threw off his father's authority and established his independence as Chief of Sohawal. Afterwards the State became subordinate to Panna (see Bundelkhand), and was so entered in the Sanad granted to Raja Kishore Singh. But, for the same reasons that separate Sanads were granted to the Chiefs of Kothi and Unchahra on the British occupation of Bundelkhand, a Sanad (No. XX) was granted in 1809 to Rais Lal Aman Singh, the seventh Chief of Sohawal, confirming him in his State on his tendering a deed of allegiance. Aman Singh resigned the State to his eldest son Raghunath Singh. In 1830 Sohawal was taken under British administration to liquidate a private money claim preferred against the Chief, but three years later was restored to Aman Singh, his son Raghunath Singh having died in the interval. In 1840 Aman Singh made over the State to his second son, Sheo Singh, who in 1843 received a Sanad (No. XXI) recognising his succession. By improvidence and misrule the State became involved in debt, and in 1845 it was taken under British management at the Chief's own request.

The eldest son of Sheo Singh, Indrajit Singh, died in 1856, leaving a son Sher Jang Bahadur Singh, who succeeded his grandfather in 1865, and was entrusted with the management of his State in 1871.

In 1862 the Chief of Sohawal received a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. XIII).

In 1863 the Chief ceded (No. XXII) lands for railway purposes, with full jurisdiction short of sovereign rights.

Sher Jang Bahadur Singh died in 1899, and was succeeded by his eldest son Bhagwat Raj Bahadur Singh.

In 1911 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XXIII) on the Chief of Sohawal.

Bhagwat Raj Bahadur Singh died on the 16th February 1930 and was succeeded by his eldest son the present Raja Jogendra Bahadur Singh, born on the 9th July 1899.

The territories of the State lie in two distinct districts separated from each other by the State of Kothi; the northern portion is also intermixed with lands belonging to Panna.

The area of Sohawal is 213 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 38,078; and the revenue slightly over one lakh.

The military forces of the State consist (1926) of 4 Cavalry and 50 Armed Police, with 30 serviceable and 20 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

Raigaon.—The Jagir of Raigaon belongs to a junior branch of the Sohawal family. This Jagir was originally granted by Mahipat, fifth in descent from Fateh Singh, to his brother Sarup Singh, on condition of service and of contribution towards the exigencies of the State. In 1829 Raghunath Singh, then administering the Sohawal State, claimed the right of either resuming the Jagir or of levying tribute and exacting allegiance from its holder. These demands were not supported by Government. In 1855, on the death of the Jagirdar, a quit-rent (ubari) was imposed on the Jagir by the British officer administering the Sohawal State; but on appeal this was disallowed by Government, on the understanding that the Jagirdar faithfully performed his allegiance to the Chief of Sohawal. His claims, however, to independence of Sohawal, and to certain other privileges inconsistent with his subordinate position, were absolutely negatived; for in the Sanads of 1809 and 1843 the Chief of Sohawal had been referred to as the hereditary Chieftain of the Sohawal and Raigaon tappas, and had been guaranteed in the permanent possession of them under certain conditions of allegiance to the British Government.

In October 1883, owing to the continued refusal of the Thakur, Bikramajit Singh, to comply with the just demands of his Chief, the Raja of Sohawal was permitted, under the orders of the Government of India, to attach the Raigaon Jagir. But, the Thakur having submitted in November 1885, the Chief restored his Jagir, the Jagirdar executing an agreement binding himself to accept the supremacy of the Sohawal Darbar and to fulfil the proper obligations of his tenure.

The Jagirdar of Raigaon enjoys a revenue of Rs. 40,000 per annum.

The present Jagirdar, Raghubansman Prasad Singh, succeeded to the Estate in November 1896.

5. KOTHI.

In the Sanad granted to the Raja of Panna in 1807 (see Bundelkhand) Kothi is entered as one of his subordinates. The founder of the Jagir was Jagat Raj Singh Baghela. The family is of the Baghel caste and had long held their Jagir, paying submission to the successive conquerors of Bundelkhand. They were never dispossessed either in the time of the Bundela Rajas or of Ali Bahadur, and therefore in 1810 a Sanad (No. XXIV) was granted to Rais Lal Duniyapat, the Jagirdar then in possession, making him directly dependent on the British Government, like the other Bundelkhand Chieftains.

Lal Duniyapat was succeeded in the Chiefship by his son Lal Abdhut, who was in turn succeeded by his son Lal Ran Bahadur Singh.

In 1862 the Chief of Kothi received a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. LV).

In 1863 the Chief agreed (No. XXV) to make over lands for railway purposes free of cost, and to surrender all transit duties on goods passing through his territory.

In 1878 the hereditary title of Raja Bahadur was conferred upon the Chief of Kothi (No. XXVI). Ran Bahadur Singh died in 1887, and was succeeded by his eldest son Bhagwat Bahadur Singh, who died in 1895, and was succeeded by his eldest son Avadhendra Bahadur Singh. He died on the 7th August 1914 and was succeeded by his eldest son the present Raja Bahadur Sitaraman Pratap Bahadur Singh, born in 1892.

The area of Kothi is 169 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 20,087; and the revenue about Rs. 75,000.

The military forces of the State consist (1926) of 10 Cavalry, 17 Infantry, 20 Armed Police and 3 Artillery, with 29 serviceable and 4 unserviceable guns.

Under the terms of its Adoption Sanad, Kothi was subject to the payment of Nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession and a half year's net revenue on successions by adoption, up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

6. BARAUNDHA OR PATHARKACHHAR.

This family is very ancient. It belongs to the Raghubansi caste of Rajputs. The present line traces its descent from Gauri Chand, a Chief of Baraundha who died in 1549. Under the rule of the Bundela Chiefs, the State seems to have been held under a Sanad from Hirde Sah. Mohan Singh was confirmed by the British Government in the territory which he held under the Bundelas and Ali Bahadur, and a Sanad (No. XXVII) was given to him in 1807. He died in 1827 without male issue, leaving a will in which the whole of his property was bequeathed to his nephew Sarabjit Singh. Although Sarabjit Singh was not formally adopted, Government recognised his succession to the exclusion of his two elder brothers.

In 1862 the Chief received a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. XIII).

In 1863 Sarabjit Singh ceded lands (No. XXVIII) for railway purposes, with jurisdiction thereon.

Shortly before the death of Sarabjit Singh, which occurred in 1867, an unsuccessful attempt was made by his third son, Ram Dayal Singh, to secure for himself the Chiefship to the exclusion of Chhatarpal Singh, the son of Bishwanath Singh, who was the second son of Sarabjit Singh and had predeceased his father. Chhatarpal Singh died in 1874, and was succeeded by his only surviving uncle Raghubar Dayal Singh.

In 1878 the Ruler of Baraundha was granted a permanent salute of 9 guns.

Raghubar Dayal Singh died in 1885, leaving neither issue nor near relations and without having exercised the right of adoption. In 1886 the Governor-General in Council selected Thakur Prasad, a descendant from the late Chief's original stock, as successor to the Chiefship. The recognition of Thakur Prasad was held to constitute a re-grant of the State, to which it was within the competence of the Government to attach such conditions as might seem to be necessary. For his complicity in an affray on the Baraundha border in April 1892, in which two Kamta Rajaula sepoy were killed and one man wounded by an armed party of the Baraundha State, a fine of Rs. 4,000 was imposed on Thakur Prasad, and he was debarred until further orders from attendance at Darbars. The latter portion of the punishment was however remitted in December 1897 in recognition of his creditable behaviour during the famine.

Thakur Prasad Singh died on the 8th July 1908 and was succeeded by his only son the present Raja Gaya Prasad Singh, who was born in 1865.

The area of the State is 218 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 15,912; and the revenue about Rs. 40,000.

The military forces of the State consist (1926) of 13 Cavalry, 92 Infantry, 6 Armed Police and 2 Artillery men, with 20 serviceable and 10 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

7. JASO.

In the partition which Chhatarsal made of his possessions the paraganas of Kotra and Jaso were included in the share of Jagat Raj, who in 1766 divided his State between Guman Singh, from whom the Ajaigarh Raja is descended; Khuman Singh, the ancestor of the Charkhari family; and Pahar Singh, the founder of the State of Jaitpur, now extinct. In this division the Kotra and Jaso districts were divided between Guman Singh and Khuman Singh. Bharti Chand, the fourth son of Chhatarsal, held the district in subordination to his elder brother and left it in two shares to his sons, Durjan Singh and Hari Singh who, during the quarrels in the family of Chhatarsal, managed to maintain themselves in independent possession. Durjan Singh, dying childless, left his share to Chait Singh, son of Hari Singh, who was succeeded by his infant son Murat Singh, in the whole of the Jaso territory. Jaso, like the other Bundelkhand States, was conquered by Ali Bahadur, by whom Gopal Singh, a rebel servant of Chait Singh, was established in possession on condition of submission and allegiance. Gopal Singh took the infant Murat Singh into his protection.

In the arrangement made with Bakht Singh of Ajaigarh in 1807 the pargana of Kotra, in which Murat Singh's possessions lay, was included in the Ajaigarh territory. Murat Singh, however, refused to acknowledge the supremacy of Bakht Singh, and the peace of the country was disturbed by the quarrel. In 1813 the British Government decided in favour of the Raja of Ajaigarh, and directed the Agent in Bundelkhand to endeavour to persuade Murat Singh to acknowledge the Raja's supremacy, and pay his revenue of Rs. 2,500 a year through the British Government, if not direct, to the Raja. But Murat Singh would listen to no terms which involved a recognition of his subordination to Bakht Singh in any form. The inability of the Raja to coerce Murat Singh led to further enquiries into the claims of the latter. It was then clearly proved that, although the Jaso Jagir had never been actually separated from the territories originally ruled over by Jagat Raj, yet the authority of the Ajaigarh branch of the family over Jaso had never been more than nominal; that several influential Chiefs of Bundelkhand were in favour of the recognition of the claims of Murat Singh; and that, had the existence and claims of Murat Singh been known in 1807, his descent and rights would undoubtedly have ensured to him the separate recognition of his patrimonial possessions, according to the policy of the British Government in confirming possession as it stood at the time of Ali Bahadur's death. A separate Sanad (No. XXIX) was therefore conferred on Murat Singh in 1816, confirming him in the possession of Jaso independently of any subjection to Bakht Singh. At the same time it was considered unjust, under a new and more accurate view of the case, to insist on the cession by Bakht Singh, without compensation of what had been acknowledged by the British Government in 1807 to be his right. A remission of the quit-rent of Rs. 1,500 which the Raja of Ajaigarh claimed from Jaso, was therefore granted to Murat Singh. Bakht Singh from the amount of his annual tribute. In consideration of the injury done to Murat Singh by his former subordination to the Raja, Government resolved to bear the quit-rent of Rs. 1,500 from Jaso.

Murat Singh had two sons, the elder, Isri Singh, and the second, Isri Singh, succeeded him in 1831.

variance with two of his relatives, Raghunath Singh and Satarjit Singh, whom, in consequence of their rebellion, he had ousted from their respective Jagirs of Richul and Duraha. From 1832 onwards the dispute had been frequently referred to the Agent in Bundelkhand for settlement, but it was contrary to the policy of Government to interfere in the internal affairs of the Jagir. As, however, the continuance of the quarrel threatened the disturbance of the public peace, Government at length interfered in 1845. Raghunath Singh was restored to the Estate of Richul on condition of paying an annual quit-rent of Rs. 1,000 to the Jagirdar of Jaso; and an allowance of Rs. 1,000 a year was given to Satarjit Singh.

Isri Singh died in 1860, leaving a minor son Ram Singh, who died soon afterwards, the direct descendants of Murat Singh thus becoming extinct. The Raja of Ajaigarh claimed the State as a lapse to him; but his claim was considered to have been extinguished by the arrangements of 1816, the effect of which was to recognise and confirm the antecedent rights of the Jaso family, and thereby to entitle the collateral relatives of Murat Singh to succeed in direct subordination to the British Government. Satarjit Singh, of the Duraha branch of the family and nephew of Murat Singh, was considered the nearest heir; and as he himself wished to succeed in preference to his youngest son Ranjit Singh, whose adoption had been proposed by the widows of the late Jagirdar, he was recognised (No. XXX) as successor to the Jaso Estate in 1862.

In the same year the Chief received a Sanad of Adoption (No. XXXI).

Satarjit Singh died in 1869, and was succeeded by his eldest son Bhopal Singh, who died in 1876, and was succeeded by his son Gajraj Singh. On his death in 1888, without male issue, he was succeeded by his only surviving brother Chhatarpati Singh, who died in 1889, and was succeeded by Jagat Raj, Ubaridar of Richul, representative of the nearest collateral line. In 1900 the Government of India accepted the voluntary resignation of his Jagir by Jagat Raj. Owing to the minority of his son Girwar Singh, the Jagir remained under Government management until 1911, when the young Jagirdar received administrative powers subject to certain restrictions. Girwar Singh died in 1918 and was succeeded by his minor son Ram Pratap Singh, born on the 7th March 1910. The Jagir thus came again under management, and is now administered by a Kamdar under the general control of the Political Agent in Baghelkhand.

In 1923 the Government of India recognised the title of Dewan as the proper territorial designation of the Chief of Jaso.

The area of the Estate is 72.1 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 7,221; and the revenue about Rs. 40,000.

The military forces of the Jagir consist (1926) of 1 Cavalry man and 15 Armed Police, with 3 serviceable and 2 unserviceable guns.

Nazarana of Rs. 2,500 was taken, according to the terms of the Adoption Sanad (No. XXXI), from the Jaso Estate on all successions, whether direct or by adoption, up to 1911, when all Nazarana levies were abolished on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar.

8. THE KALINJAR CHAUBES.

The district of Kalinjar formed part of the territories of Chhatarsal which fell to the share of Hirde Sah. Chaube Ram Krishna was governor of the fort. During the distractions which followed the invasion of Ali Bahadur, the Chaube family seized the fort for themselves, and successfully resisted for ten years the siege laid to it by Ali Bahadur, who died in the course of it. At the time of the British occupation the fort was held by the sons of Ram Krishna, of whom there were originally seven.* Baldeo, the eldest, was dead, and his son, Dariyao Singh, was commandant of the fort. Although the family, being merely rebellious servants of the family of Chhatarsal, had no claim to a settlement on the same terms as the descendants of the old Bundela Rajas, yet, in pursuance of the policy of the British Government to abandon the country above the Ghats, leaving its defence to the petty Chiefs, and with a view to the pacification of the country, Dariyao Singh on behalf of the family was confirmed in 1806 in the possessions they held on condition of allegiance (No. XXXII). Many of the villages, however, claimed by Dariyao Singh were in possession of the Killadar of Ajaigarh, and for this reason it was impossible at the time to grant Dariyao Singh a formal Sanad.

The impolicy of leaving this family in the possession of the fort of Kalinjar soon became apparent. The strength of the fortress induced Dariyao Singh persistently to oppose the British authority, and to give secret encouragement to the predatory leaders who disturbed the peace of the country. It was therefore resolved to dispossess him. An attack made on the fort in January 1812 failed, but Dariyao Singh surrendered on condition of the family receiving other lands in exchange for those they held. So violent were the dissensions in the family that it was found necessary in 1812 to grant separate Sanads (No. XXXIII) to each member for his individual share, and also to grant a separate Sanad to Gopal Lal, the family wakil, in order that no one of the sharers might arrogate to himself a greater share of influence or patronage than another. At the time of this partition two of the brothers, Govind Das and Gajadhar, were dead, and were represented by their sons, Pokhar Prasad and Gaya Prasad. Two of the shares were held by women, one by the mother of Chhatarsal and the other by the widow of Bharatju. The share of the former was, at her own request, and with the consent of the several sharers, joined in the Sanad granted to Chhatarsal Chaube; that of the latter in the Sanad granted to Nawal Kishor. Shortly after this settlement had been effected, quarrels broke out between Nawal Kishor and the widow of Bharatju: and in 1817 it became necessary to separate their shares, and to grant them distinct Sanads (No. XXXIV)

* Baldeo, Bharatju, Govind Das, Gajadhar, Nawal Kishor, Salig Ram and Chhatarsal.

It is a rule of succession in this family that, when heirs fail to any sharer, the share is divided among the surviving branches of the family. In this way two shares, that of the widow of Bharatju who died in 1836, and that of the mother of Chhatarsal, were absorbed. Of the remaining seven shares, Purwa, which formed the share of Pokhar Prasad, was confiscated in 1855 on account of the complicity of his son and successor, Bishan Prasad, in murder. Naegaon, the share of Chhatarsal, was absorbed under the following circumstances: Chhatarsal was succeeded by his son, Jagannath, who in 1843 was succeeded by his widow, Nanni Dulahin. Under the Sanad granting her the right of adoption Nanni Dulahin wished to adopt one Bans Gopal; this was objected to by the other members of the family, on the ground that Bans Gopal was not directly descended from Ram Krishna, the founder of the family, but from one of Ram Krishna's ancestors. Without laying down any general rule which might limit the terms of the Adoption Sanad, Government considered that it was more in harmony both with the principle of Hindu law as to adoptive heirs, and also with the rights and customs of the Chaube family, that the female Jagirdar should select an heir from among the direct descendants of Ram Krishna. Further than this Government would not circumscribe her privilege of adoption. Shortly after this decision Bans Gopal died, and his death was followed in January 1864 by that of Nanni Dulahin, who left a deed adopting Bihari Lal, the son of Bans Gopal. The adoption was however disallowed on the ground that it did not come within the conditions of the Adoption Sanad, and the partition of the Jagir in equal shares among the other branches of the Chaube family in accordance with the rule of succession was authorised. A suitable provision was made for Bihari Lal and for the widow of Chhatarsal, the first Jagirdar; each share will revert at the death of its holder to the other members of the family.

There remain now five* shares, of which four are held by the descendants of Ram Krishna Chaube, and one by the family of Gopal Lal, the vakil. In each case a Sanad of Adoption (see Bundelkhand No. LV) was granted in 1862, and by the terms of the Adoption Sanads, the holding was subject to the payment of nazarana of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession, and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption. In 1911, however, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all Nazarana levies were abolished.

(a) PALDEO.

This Jagir was left by Dariyao Singh to his son Nathu Ram, who was succeeded by his son Raja Ram in 1840. Raja Ram died without issue in October 1842, and was succeeded by his uncle Sheo Prasad. Sheo Prasad was succeeded in 1865 by his eldest son Makund Singh, who died in 1874 and, on failure of lineal male heirs, was succeeded by his brother Chaube Anrudh Singh. A nazarana of half a year's net revenue was taken on this occasion.

In 1883 the existing arrangements, whereby certain ladies of the family enjoyed land for maintenance, were modified, the Jagirdar engaging to substitute suitable cash allowances.

Anrudh Singh died in 1891, and the succession of his first cousin Narayan Das was recognised by the Government of India. As in the Banka Pahari case (see Bundelkhand), the succession was considered direct, and a nazarana of one-fourth of a year's revenue only was exacted.

Narayan Das died in 1894, and was succeeded by his eldest son Jagat Raj, who died on the 2nd October 1923 and was succeeded by his grandson Chaube Shiva Prasad, born on the 1st March 1908. During his minority the Estate is being managed by a Kamdar under the supervision of the Political Agent.

The area of Paldeo is 53.14 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 9,038; and the revenue about half a lakh. The Estate pays annually a tribute of Rs. 242 on account of Jagir and a share of Seha diamond mine.

The military forces of the Estate consist (1926) of 1 Cavalry man, 12 Infantry, 12 Armed Police and 2 Artillery men, with 15 serviceable guns.

(b) TARAON.

Taraon fell to the share of Gaya Prasad, who in 1840 left it to his son Kamta Prasad, who was succeeded in 1856 by his son Ram Chand. Ram Chand died in 1872, and was succeeded by his son Chaturbhuj.

In 1884 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Jhansi-Manikpur State (now Great Indian Peninsula) Railway, receiving payment for the area acquired: and in 1889 he ceded (No. XXXV) criminal and civil jurisdiction thereon to the British Government.

A long standing dispute for precedence between the Jagirdars of Pahra and Taraon was decided in 1891 in favour of the former.

Chaturbhuj died on the 31st January 1895, and his younger brother Brij Gopal, who was born on the 21st September 1864, was recognised as his successor. In 1911 he became afflicted with homicidal mania and was eventually sent for detention in the Lunatic Asylum at Nagpur, where he still remains. Meanwhile the Jagir was administered by a Kamdar under the supervision of the Political Agent. In recent years, Chaube Ganga Prasad, eldest son of the Jagirdar and born on the 13th November 1905, has been closely associated with the administration. In November 1925 the management of the Jagir was made over to him subject to certain restrictions, the removal of which is to be considered after a period of five years.

The area of Taraon is 16.5 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 4,390; and the revenue about Rs. 20,000.

(c) BHAI SAUNDA.

Bhaisaunda was the share of Nawal Kishor, who was succeeded by his son Acharju, who in turn was succeeded by his second son Tirath Prasad. Tirath Prasad died in 1885, and was succeeded by his eldest grandson Chhatarsal Prasad.

During the minority of Chhatarsal Prasad the Jagir was administered by a Kamdar under the general supervision of the Political Agent. The management was handed over to the Jagirdar in 1895. He died in January 1916 and was succeeded by his younger brother Bharat Prasad, who died in November 1916, when the Estate passed to the third brother, Chaube Govind Prasad, who was born in 1884.

The area of Bhaisaunda is 32 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 4,390; and the revenue about Rs. 20,000.

The military forces of the Estate consist (1926) of 32 Infantry and 4 Artillery men, with 1 serviceable gun.

(d) PAHRA.

Salig Ram wished to divide his share during his life among his three sons, but this sub-division of the Jagir of Pahra was not sanctioned by Government. Salig Ram died in 1843 and was succeeded by his son Ram Prasad. He was succeeded in 1855 by his nephew Makhsudan Prasad, who had been adopted from Taraon. On the succession of Makhsudan Prasad it was ruled that he had no right to alienate the revenues of the Estate beyond his own life. Makhsudan Prasad died in 1868, when he was succeeded by Chaube Radha Charan, who died on the 20th August 1930, and was succeeded by his grandson the present Jagirdar Chaube Laxmi Prasad, who was born in January 1907.

In 1884 the Jagirdar ceded land for the Jhansi-Manikpur State (now Great Indian Peninsula) Railway, compensation being awarded for the area acquired; and in 1888 he ceded (No. XXXVI) criminal and civil jurisdiction thereon to the British Government.

In 1891 a long standing dispute for precedence between the Jagirdars of Pahra and Taraon was decided in favour of Pahra.

The area of Pahra is 27 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 3,183; and the revenue about Rs. 20,000.

The military forces of the Estate consist (1926) of 6 Cavalry, 66 Infantry, 6 Armed Police and 4 Artillery men, with 12 serviceable guns.

(e) KAMTA RAJAULA.

Kamta Rajaula was the share granted to the family wakil, Rao Gopal Lal, who was not a member of the Chaube family, but belonged to the Kayasth caste. He died in 1873, and was succeeded by his eldest son Rao Bharat Prasad, who died in December 1891 and was succeeded by his eldest son Ram Prasad, born in 1870.

In 1923 the title of Rao was recognised by the Government of India as the proper territorial designation of the Chief of Kamta Rajaula.

The area of Kamta Rajaula is 13 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,055; and the revenue about Rs. 8,000.

The military forces of the Estate consist (1926) of 10 Infantry, 7 Armed Police and 1 Artillery man, with 7 serviceable and 3 unserviceable guns.

No. I.

TREATY of FRIENDSHIP and DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE concluded between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the RAJAH JEY SINGH DEO, RAJA of REWAH and MOOKUNDPORE,—1812.

Although the relations of amity have uniformly subsisted between the British Government and the State of Rewah, and especially since the augmentation of the intercourse between the two States by the annexation of a portion of the province of Bundelcund to the British dominions, those amicable relations have been cultivated and improved by reciprocal acts of friendship, yet no formal engagements, imposing upon the two parties specific obligations with respect to each other have hitherto been concluded; and Rajah Jey Sing Deo, the present ruler of Rewah and Mookundpore, having now expressed a desire that this defect should be supplied by the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and defensive alliance, and the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council being cordially disposed to accede to the wishes of the Rajah in this respect declared; the following Articles of Treaty are by mutual consent concluded between the British Government and the said Rajah Jey Sing Deo, his heirs and successors:—

ARTICLE 1.

The Governor-General in Council acknowledges Rajah Jey Sing Deo to be the lawful possessor of the present dominions of Rewah, which have been held by him and his ancestors in successive generations during a long course of years, and in compliance with the Rajah's request, and for his entire satisfaction, assures him agreeably to justice and the uniform principles of the British Government, that so long as the aforesaid Rajah, his heirs and successors, shall truly and faithfully fulfil the obligations of friendship and alliance according to the true spirit and intent of this Treaty, it will not commit hostilities against the Rajah of Rewah, nor take possession of or in any way encroach on any part of his territories. On the contrary, the British Government engages to protect and defend the dominions at present in the Rajah's possession from the aggressions of any foreign power in the same manner as the dominions of the Honorable Company are protected and defended.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government having, by the terms of the preceding Article engaged to protect the territories at present possessed by the Rajah of Rewah from the aggressions of any foreign power, it is hereby agreed between the contracting parties that whenever the Rajah shall have reason to apprehend a design on the part of any foreign power to invade his territories, he shall report the circumstances of the case to the British Government, which will endeavour by representation and remonstrance to avert such design, and if its endeavours to that effect shall fail of success, the British Government will be prepared, on the requisition of the Rajah, to detach a force of British troops into his territories for their protection. In which event the expenses of those troops during the period they may be so employed, calculating from the day of their entering the Rajah's dominions until that their quitting them on their return, shall be defrayed by the aforesaid Rajah. If the apprehended design of invading the Rajah's territories shall be referable to any disputed claim between the Rajah and the other power, the Rajah shall report all the circumstances of such disputed claim to the British Government, which will then interpose its mediation for the adjustment of the dispute, and the Rajah, relying in the justice and equity of the British Government, agrees implicitly to abide by its award. If, notwithstanding the Rajah's acquiescence in that award, the other power shall persist in its hostile designs, the British Government will be ready to afford its assistance in the manner above provided. If any of the Rajah's troops shall at any time be required to serve in the British territories, the Rajah engages to furnish the same; and in that event, the expense of them, calculated at the rate of 20 rupees per mensem for each horseman, and 6 rupees per mensem for each foot soldier actually furnished by the Rajah, shall be defrayed by the British Government from the date of their leaving the Rajah's territories until that of their return. Whenever the troops of the British Government and of the Rajah shall have occasion to act together, the Commander of the Rajah's troops shall conform to the advice and act under the instructions of the British Commanding Officers.

ARTICLE 3.

The Rajah of Rewah being the acknowledged sovereign of his own dominions, the British Government will not consider itself entitled to take cognizance of any complaint which may be preferred to it by any of the relations, subjects, or servants of the Rajah, who on his part shall not possess a claim to the aid of British troops for the support of his authority within the limits of his dominions.

ARTICLE 4.

If the Rajah of Rewah shall at any time have any claim or cause of complaint against any of the Rajahs or Chiefs allied to or dependant on the British Government, the Rajah engages to refer the case to the arbitration and decision of that Government, and to abide by its award, and on no account to commit aggression against the other party, or to employ his own force for the satisfaction of such claim, or for the redress of the grievance of which he may complain. On the other hand, the British Government, engages to withhold its allies or dependants from committing any aggression against the Rajah of Rewah or to punish the aggressor and to arbitrate any demand they may have upon the Rajah of Rewah, according to the strict principles of justice: the Rajah on his part agreeing implicitly to abide by its award.

ARTICLE 5.

The Rajah of Rewah engages never to grant an asylum within his dominions to any enemies of the British Government, or to rebels, but on the contrary to exert his utmost endeavours for the apprehension of such persons, and if apprehended to deliver them up to the Officers of the British Government. The Rajah further engages not to permit the families of persons of that description to reside within his territories. If any of the enemies of the Rajah or the rebels to his Government, shall take refuge within the British territories, the British Government, on receiving notice thereof from the Rajah of Rewah, will, after due investigation, pursue such measures with regard to the fugitives as equity and justice may appear to require, adopting at the same time every practicable means to prevent their committing any acts injurious to the territory and Government of the Rajah.

ARTICLE 6.

Whereas robbers issuing from the territories of the Rajah of Rewah frequently commit depredations in those of the Company, the Rajah engages, on receiving an application from the Officers of the British Government, to exert his authority for the purpose of arresting the persons accused of such crimes and when apprehended to cause them to be delivered over to the said Officers.

ARTICLE 7.

If any of the brothers or servants of the Rajah of Rewah shall calumniate, misrepresent, or accuse the Rajah before the British Government, that Government will not without enquiry and proof give credit to the statements of such persons.

ARTICLE 8.

The honor, rank, and dignity of the Rajah of Rewah shall be estimated by the British Government in the same degree as that in which they were estimated by the former Emperors of Hindoostan.

ARTICLE 9.

Whenever the British Government shall deem it expedient to send its troops into the dominions of the Rajah of Rewah or to station or canton a British force within the Rajah's territories for the purpose of guarding against the advance or intercepting the retreat of an enemy, or of Pindarrahs, or other predatory bodies, it shall be competent to the British Government so to detach its troops, and the Rajah of Rewah shall give his consent accordingly. The Rajah shall also on any such occasion station his troops according to the advice of the Officers of the British Government at the Ghaut of Chundeah, Kawreah, or such Ghauts or passes as the British Commanding Officer shall point out. The Commanding Officer of the British troops which may be thus employed in the Rajah's territories, shall not in any manner interfere in the internal concerns of the Rajah's Government. Whatever materials or supplies may be required for the British Cantonments, or for the use of the British troops during their continuance in the Rajah's territories, shall be readily furnished by the Rajah's Officers and subjects, and shall be paid for at the price current of the bazar. If any materials which are indispensibly necessary should happen not to be procurable by purchase, and it shall consequently become necessary to take such articles wherever found in the Rajah's dominions, the price of such articles shall be paid for by the British Government at the rate that may be settled by arbitrators appointed by the British Government and the Rajah respectively.

ARTICLE 10.

The Rajah of Rewah being admitted among the number of the allies of the British Government, engages at all times to comply with any just and reasonable requisition connected with the interests and prosperity of that Government, to conform to its advice, and to the utmost of his power to fulfil the obligations of friendship and attachment towards the British power.

ARTICLE 11.

This Treaty, consisting of eleven Articles, having this day been concluded between the British Government and Rajah Jey Sing Deo, Rajah of Rewah, through the agency of Mr. John Richardson, in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Right Honorable Lord Minto, Governor-General in Council, on the one part, and Bukshy Baugwan Dhut, the vakeel of the said Rajah on the other, Mr. Richardson has delivered to the said vakeel one copy of the Treaty in English, Persian and Hindee, signed and sealed by himself, and the said vakeel has delivered to Mr. Richardson another copy duly executed by the Rajah, and Mr. Richardson has engaged to procure and deliver to the said vakeel within the space of thirty days a copy ratified by the seal of the Company and the signature of the Governor-General in Council, on the delivery of which the copy executed by Mr. Richardson shall be returned, and the Treaty shall be considered from that time to have full force and effect.

Signed, sealed, and exchanged at Banda, on the Fifth of October A.D. 1812.

 No. II.

SECOND TREATY concluded between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and RAJAH JAY SING DEO,—1813.

Whereas on the 5th of October 1812, corresponding with 15th Kooar 1869 Sumbut, a Treaty of mutual friendship and defensive alliance was concluded between the British Government and the Rajah of Rewah; and whereas the Rajah of Rewah having failed to fulfil the engagements which the aforementioned Treaty imposed upon him, the British Government was compelled, in vindication of its honour and its rights, to detach its troops into Rewah to enforce the execution of those engagements, and to obtain security for their due fulfilment in future; and Whereas the Rajah, having now returned to a proper sense of his relations

ARTICLE 6.

Frequent instances of robberies and other crimes have occurred within the British territory, the perpetrators of which issue from and take refuge within the Rewah territory ; and thereby not only escape the punishment due to their crimes, but continue to infest the Hon'ble Company's adjacent territory with impunity, keeping the inhabitants in a constant state of alarm. With a view to suppress this evil, the Rajah hereby agrees to permit the troops or Police Officers of the British Government to pass into the Rewah territories for the pursuit and apprehension of all such offenders, and also to afford them, and to cause his officers and jaghiredars to afford them, every necessary assistance in discovering and apprehending the objects of their pursuit.

ARTICLE 7.

The Rajah of Rewah agrees to consider those jaghiredars and others, residents of his country, who have been well-disposed towards the British Government, on the present occasion, as his friends ; and will not molest or retaliate upon them for the favourable disposition they may have shown. The friends of the British Government shall be his friends, and its enemies his enemies.

ARTICLE 8.

On the 2nd of May 1813, corresponding with the 17th Bysakh 1870 Sumbut, an agreement for the mutual suspension of hostilities was concluded between Lalla Pertab Singh, on the part of the Rajah of Rewah, and Colonel Martindell, Commanding the British troops. A party of sepoy's escorting a cart of military stores appertaining to a detachment proceeding from the Singrownah Pass were on the 7th of May 1813, corresponding with the 22nd of Bysakh 1870 Sumbut, treacherously, and in direct violation of the above agreement, attacked by a large body of horse and foot near to the village of Suttencee, and several sepoy's were killed and wounded, and the property plundered. The Rajah of Rewah having solemnly disavowed all knowledge or participation in the above atrocious act, hereby acknowledges the right of the British Government to punish the perpetrators of it in whatever manner and at whatever time it may please ; and the Rajah further agrees to afford every assistance and co-operation in the accomplishment of the above object that the British Government may require of him.

ARTICLE 9.

It is both just and equitable that the Rajah of Rewah should indemnify the British Government for the expense of the armament which has been equipped and marched into Rewah in consequence of his failure to perform the conditions of his former engagements. At the lowest estimation the extra expense of that armament costs the British Government the sum of thirty-three thousand eight hundred and eight Rupees per mensem, and the preparations having commenced some days before the 1st of April 1813, corresponding with the 15th of Chyete 1870 Sumbut, it is agreed by the British Government that the expense shall be calculated from that date. The Rajah of Rewah accordingly hereby acknowledges himself justly responsible for the payment of the above expense monthly to the British Government, calculating from the 1st of April 1813, or the 15th of Chyte 1870 Sumbut, until such time as the objects of the present detachment shall have been entirely completed. In consideration, however, of the Rajah having obeyed the summons to repair in person to Colonel Martindell's camp on terms of unconditional submission, and in order to remove from the Rajah every excuse for the punctual liquidation of the amount, the British Government consents to limit the period of the charge to the 10th of May 1813, corresponding with the 25th Bysakh 1870 Sumbut, the day on which the Rajah came into camp. Upon this principle the sum to be paid by the Rajah is forty-five thousand one hundred and seventy-three Rupees. The Rajah hereby engages to pay the above sum by the following instalments, any deviation from which will subject him to the penalties of a breach of the Treaty :—

ARTICLE 10.

This Treaty consisting of ten Articles having this day been concluded between the British Government and Rajah Jey Sing Deo, Rajah of Rewah, through the agency of Mr. John Wauchope, in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Right Honorable Lord Minto, Governor-General in Council, on the one part, and the Rajah in person on the other, Mr. Wauchope has delivered to the Rajah one copy of the Treaty in English, Persian, and Hindee, signed and sealed by himself, and the said Rajah has delivered to Mr. Wauchope another copy duly executed by himself, and Mr. Wauchope has engaged to procure and deliver to the accredited vakeel of the Rajah within the space of thirty days a copy ratified by the seal and signature of the Governor-General in Council, on the delivery of which the copy executed by Mr. Wauchope shall be returned, and the Treaty shall be considered from that time to have full force and effect.

SUPPLEMENTAL ARTICLE to the TREATY concluded between the HON'BLE EAST INDIA COMPANY, and RAJAH JEY SING DEO, the RAJAH of REWAH, on the 2nd of June 1813, corresponding with 19th Jyte 1870 Sumbut.

Whereas by the 3rd Article of Treaty concluded between the Honorable Company and the Rajah of Rewah on the 2nd of June 1813, corresponding with 19th

Jyte 1870 Sumbut, the Rajah of Rewah has engaged to receive and permit to remain at his place of residence, a news-writer or any other Agent on the part of the British Government, or the Agent in Bundelcund ; and Whereas the Rajah has by the 4th Article of the aforesaid Treaty engaged to allow a dawk to be established through his territory, by the Officers of the British Government in any direction which may be deemed necessary : The Rajah, in the true spirit and intent of those stipulations, engages to treat the news-writer or Agent of the British Government or of the Agent in Bundelcund with every mark of attention and consideration due to their relative rank and character, and also to allow a free passage through his territories to all hurcarrabs, coscids, or other messengers, whom the officers of the British Government may, at any time, have occasion to employ, and to compel his feudatory Chiefs to do the same under the penalties and conditions prescribed with respect to the dawk. The Rajah further promises and engages to perform at all times those offices of friendship which are usual between allied States, and which may be necessary to accomplish the objects of the Treaty.

Whereas in consequence of the opposition made by me to the establishment of the Honorable Company's dawk in my jaghire, it became stipulated in the 5th Article of the second Treaty concluded between the British Government and the Government of Rewah, under date the 2nd June 1813, that the British Government should have the discretion of inflicting upon me an adequate punishment ; and Whereas in consequence of my having come into the British Camp on terms of unconditional obedience to the British Government and signed an engagement to the Superintendent of Political Affairs to surrender my lands and fort whenever required to the British Government, the British Government has been mercifully pleased to pardon my offences and to reinstate me in the enjoyment of my lands, on condition of my fulfilling all the objects of the alliance between the British and Rewah Governments as far as may lie in my power : I do therefore hereby engage to exert myself to the utmost of my power to obstruct the approach of Pindaries or other predatory troops who may attempt to pass through my jurisdiction, to obey without scruple all requisitions that may be made to me by Officers of the British Government connected with the obstruction of predatory troops, with collecting materials for constructing cantonments, furnishing supplies to British troops, assisting and facilitating the progress of dawk hurrearabs, cossids, and messengers of every other description, and with seizing and delivering up criminals, whether such requisitions shall be made to me directly by Officers of the British Government, or through the Government of Rewah.

THIRD TREATY concluded between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the GOVERNMENT of REWAH,—1814.

Whereas by the 5th and 8th Articles of the second Treaty concluded between the British Government and the Government of Rewah on the 2nd June 1813, corresponding with the 19th Jeyth 1870 Sumbut, the British Government acquired the right to punish Lal Zubburdust Sing jaghiredar of Chourhut, and certain landholders in the Singrownah district for certain offences committed by them against the British Government; and as a necessary consequence of that right, the British Government acquired also the right to expel those persons from their possessions and to dispose of their proprietary right to their lands (the rights of sovereignty over their lands remaining, as heretofore, inviolate with the Rewah Government): That is to say, the British Government has acquired the power to transfer all the rights formerly enjoyed by those persons who have forfeited their possessions under the provisions of the 5th and 8th Articles of the Treaty aforesaid, to such new proprietors as it may please to select, the new proprietors agreeing to fulfil those duties of allegiance to the Rewah Government, to which their predecessors, who have been expelled, were subject; and Whereas it being an object with the Rewah Government to obtain the proprietary right in the lands forfeited by the persons above alluded to, and it being also the disinterested wish of the British Government to promote the interests of those who have shown their attachment to its cause in the course of the operations of the British troops in Rewah: The following arrangement has accordingly been agreed to for the mutual accommodation of both States:—

ARTICLE I.

All the stipulations in the Treaties and Engagements heretofore concluded between the British Government and the Government of Rewah are hereby declared to be in full force and effect, in as far as they are not altered nor affected by the following conditions contained in this Treaty.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government hereby transfers to the Government of Rewah from this date all proprietary right in the lands in the Singrownah district which it has lately acquired by the operation of the 8th Article of the second Treaty, dated 2nd June 1813, corresponding with 19th Jeyth 1870 Sumbut, with this reservation, that the Rewah Government shall not reinstate Ruchpal Sing in the lands of Suttenee formerly held by him, and that the Rewah Government shall be responsible for the good conduct of the persons whom it may place in the possession of the forfeited lands.

ARTICLE 3.

The Rewah Government hereby disclaims all right to levy from Lal Jugmohun Sing, jaghiredar of Simereeah, any portion of the penalty imposed upon the Rewah Government by the 9th Article of the Treaty of the 2nd June 1813, corresponding with the 19th of Jeyth 1870 Sumbut.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government being desirous that Lal Jugmohun Sing of Simereeah be guaranteed in the possession of the lands now held by him in jaghire, the Rewah Government hereby engages that the said Lal Jugmohun Sing shall remain in unmolested possession of the lands which he now occupies ; but without any change in his relation to the Rewah State.

ARTICLE 5.

By Article 7th of the Second Treaty, the Rewah Government engages not to molest those jaghiredars and others, residents of Rewah, who have been well disposed towards the British Government. Certain persons, who humanely succoured the British sepoys that were wounded at Suttenee in Bysakh 1870, and others who have given information respecting those who were concerned in the above outrage, as well as in the murder of a sepoy employed to protect the town of Raepore on the following day, having thereby exposed themselves to the resentment of all who were in any way implicated in those outrages, the Rewah Government hereby solemnly pledges itself to protect all those persons from suffering any injury or molestation whatever in consequence of such assistance rendered by them to the British cause.

ARTICLE 6.

Lal Zubberdust Sing, Jaghiredar of Chourhut, having voluntarily surrendered himself to the British Government on terms of unconditional submission, the British Government has been pleased to pardon his offence, and to restore him to the enjoyment of his possessions which he had forfeited by his former misconduct, on his executing an engagement never again to offend against the British Government. An attested copy of this engagement is furnished to the Rewah Government, and as that instrument contains nothing inconsistent with the rights derived by the British Government from its engagements with Rewah, the Rewah Government declares itself responsible to the British Government for the due execution of the conditions of that engagement, in the same manner as it is of course responsible for the due execution of the terms of subsisting Treaties on the part of all its subjects and feudatories.

ARTICLE 7.

This Treaty, consisting of seven Articles, having this day been concluded between the British Government and the Rewah State, through the agency of Mr. John Wauchope, in virtue of powers delegated to him by the Right Honorable the Earl of Moira, Governor-General in Council, on the one part, and Rajah Jey Sing Deo, Rajah of Rewah and Mokundpore, and Baboo Bishonath Sing, the Rajah's eldest son, and associated with him in the administration of the Rewah Government, in person, on the other part, Mr. Wauchope has delivered to the said Rajah and Baboo one copy of the Treaty, in English and Persian and Hindooi, signed and sealed by himself, and the said Rajah and Baboo have delivered to Mr. Wauchope another copy duly executed by them, and Mr. Wauchope has engaged to procure and deliver to the accredited vakeel of the Rewah Government within the space of thirty days a copy ratified by the seal of the Company and the signature of the Governor-General in Council, on the delivery of which, the copy executed by Mr. Wauchope shall be returned, and the Treaty shall be considered from that time to have full force and effect.

His Highness the Maharajah of Rewah, accompanied by his Chief Minister, Lall Rundmon Sing, at an interview with the Governor-General's Agent and Political Agent at Rewah on 30th January 1875, made the following representation :—

The management of my State has long been a matter of difficulty to me. The Government of India in view to relief at my earnest instance appointed a Political Agent and granted a loan of ten lakhs. I thought that supported by the advice of the Political Agent, I should be able to introduce a fair system of administration and restore the revenue which has long been decreasing. The result has not been to my anticipations.

The revenue, though collected from the ryots, does not reach my Treasury, consequently there is no money wherewith to pay establishments or meet my engagements to Government respecting the payment of the ten lakhs' loan.

1.—I desire, therefore, with the sanction of His Excellency the Viceroy, to make over my State, until debts are liquidated and a system of administration established, to the care of the Political Agent.

2.—The Political Agent knows the character of my Chief Minister, Rundmon Sing, and is willing with his assistance to render me all help.

3.—From the time the Political Agent assumes charge of the administration I will abstain from interference of every sort.

4.—I will issue no orders on State matters.

5.—It will rest with the Political Agent to maintain or dismiss any State servant, and I will do my best to support his authority.

6.—A suitable allowance will be regularly paid me to enable me to live with comfort and dignity.

7.—I shall reside at Govindghur, Rewah, Sutna, as heretofore.

TRANSLATION of MEMORANDUM by the REWAH COUNCIL of SIRDARS respecting the UMARIA COAL and the proposed RAILWAY from KATNI to BILASPUR through UMARIA, etc.,—1883.

We, the Sirdars of the Council, came to Sutna this day, and the Superintendent of Rewah has informed us that the Government of India propose to open up the Umaria, Johilla and Sohagpur coal-fields, and to construct a railway from Katni to Bilaspur through the above-named places.

Having understood the intention of Government, we consider that the Rewah State should grant land for the construction of the line of railway, together with full jurisdiction thereon, according to the arrangements observed when the East Indian Railway line was constructed, that is to say, the land and jurisdiction should now be granted to Government by the State, and the State should arrange to compensate landholders.

As to the coal mines of Umaria, Johilla and Sohagpur, a contract is to be given to a company of capitalists for 99 years, and the agreement which may be entered into by Government on behalf of the Rewah State should be observed by this State.

The Superintendent of Rewah has explained to us that, without making a railway, the coal cannot be developed, and the greater the facility of means for conveying it, the greater will be the extent to which the coal mines will be worked, or impede their progress, but to depute an intelligent person to conduct them by the most convenient route, and to furnish them with the necessary supplies and provisions so long as they shall continue within or in the vicinity of my possessions.

ARTICLE 4.

If any of the subjects of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to deliver up such person to the officers of the British Government immediately on his being demanded; and if any of my ryots or zemindars abscond and take refuge in the British territories, I agree to submit to the principal officer in Bundelcund a statement of my complaint against such person, and to abide by whatever orders may be passed on the occasion agreeably to the Regulations of the Government, and to take no steps of my own accord to apprehend him.

ARTICLE 5.

I engage not to harbour thieves or robbers in any of my villages; and if property of merchants or travellers be stolen or robbed in any of the villages subject to my authority, I agree to render the zemindars of such village responsible for the restitution of the stolen property, or for the delivery of the thief or robber to the officers of the British Government; and if any felon or murderer or person or persons amenable to the British laws for crimes committed in the British possessions should take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to seize and deliver over such offenders to the British Government and not to permit their escape from my possessions.

ARTICLE 6.

Having presented a statement and list of the villages in my possession, and having obtained a Sunnud for the same, I therefore promise and engage that if, amongst the villages enumerated and stated by me, in any village the property of any other person shall be found and the right to the same proved, or it shall appear that during the government of the Nawab Ali Bahadur the said village or villages were not in my possession, I bind myself to abide by whatever the British Government shall be pleased to direct and obey the same implicitly.

ARTICLE 7.

Whereas Gopaul Sing of the Boondellah caste and Bahadoor Sing of the Purhar sect have rebelled against the British Government, and have plundered and carried their outrages into the villages granted by the British Government to the Rajahs Bukht Sing and Kishore Sing I therefore engage and promise not to give the above rebels shelter or protection in any part of my possessions, and not to suffer them to pass through my territories to those of either of the aforesaid Rajahs or of the British Government; and if the said men shall either openly or secretly come into my possessions I will by every means in my power attempt to seize or apprehend them; and if in the execution of this engagement I am negligent or step aside from its performance, I agree to any responsibility that the British Government may think proper.

ARTICLE 8.

As the villages inserted in the Sunnud now granted by the British Government are my hereditary property, descended to me through many generations, and as I am now in possession thereof, I hereby bind myself that, after having received my Sunnud from the British Government, I will not require or ask to be put in possession of one village amongst the before enumerated villages, nor require from the British Government any aid for their government.

ARTICLE 9.

I will appoint on my part a person from amongst those in whom I have confidence, who shall remain at all times as a Vakeel for the transaction of my business in the presence of the representative of the Governor-General in Bundelcund, and if the British representatives shall on any account or for any fault be displeased with the above person, I will recall him and send another.

This Engagement, containing nine Articles under my seal and signature, I have delivered to the British Government, and I promise to bind myself strictly to abide by the above stipulated Articles, and in no sort deviate therefrom.

Given this 11th March 1809, equal to 10th Cheyte 1216 F.S.

Be it known to all chowdries, kanoongoes, zemindars, and mokuddums of the tuppas of Nagode and Oucheerah, in the pergunnah of Rawee, in the province of Bundelcund; that Whereas Laul Shew Raje Sing, one of the hereditary Chieftains of the province of Bundelcund, having from the period of the annexation of the said province to the territories of the Honorable the East India Company invariably observed a friendly conduct and refrained from every outrage or any sort of improper conduct, and now manifests his wish to be admitted to obedience and submission to the British Government, and having lately presented an Ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance to the British Government by the hands of Dewan Derreau Sing, and requesting a Sunnud confirming him in the property and possession of the villages now occupied by him; He therefore enters into the present engagement consisting of nine Articles, expressive of his sincere attachment and fidelity to the Government: Therefore, and with view to the entire satisfaction of the British Government and to the support of his claims as a hereditary Chieftain of this province the villages contained in the subjoined schedule, which from ancient times have been and still are in his possession, are hereby granted to the said Laul Shew Raje Sing, and the said villages shall continue in the permanent possession of the said Laul Shew Raje Sing and his successors. ARTICLE 1.

I engage to maintain no intercourse with any marauders either in or out of the province of Bundelcund; to give no asylum to any of them in my jaghire; to prevent their families from residing in my jurisdiction; and to relinquish all correspondence with them. I also engage to commit no act of hostility against the adherents and servants of the British Government, and to neglect none of the duties of obedience and submission to the British Government.

If any persons on the part of the British Government come into my territory to seize them, I will not only not oppose such persons, but will co-operate with them in the apprehension of the fugitives.

ARTICLE 4.

I will not harbour thieves nor robbers in my country; and if any merchant or traveller belonging to the British Government be robbed or plundered in any of my villages, I agree to cause the zemindars of such village to restore the plundered property, or to apprehend and deliver up the thief or robber; and if any criminal who may have committed murder or any other offence within the British territory take refuge in my jurisdiction, I engage to seize and deliver him to the Officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 5.

I engage that a vakeel shall always attend the Agent of the Government for the purpose of carrying into effect his orders.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted by CAPTAIN BAILLIE, to THAKOOR DOORJUN SING, dated 18th November 1806.

To the mootsuddies for transacting public affairs both present and future be it known; that Whereas, by the Treaty of Bassein concluded between the British Government and His Highness the Peishwa, certain lands in the province of Bundelcund were ceded and permanently annexed to the British Government; and whereas British troops having been detached for the purpose of occupying those lands, and Thakoor Doorjun Sing, youngest son of Bence Sing Hoozooree, and the established ruler of the pergunnah of Mehur above the Ghats, having maintained a friendly correspondence with the Agent to the Governor-General, and professed his obedience and submission to the British Government, and having likewise on all occasions shewn every attention to the comfort and safety of English gentlemen and their attendants travelling through his jurisdiction to and from Nagpore; and Whereas I (Captain Baillie) having now been again deputed by the Honorable Sir George Hilario Barlow, Bart., Governor-General, for the settlement of the affairs of this province, and the said Thakoor having sent his accredited vakeels to solicit from the British Government a grant for his lands, and having delivered to me an engagement comprehending five Articles declaratory of his submission to the British Government: Therefore, and in consideration of the protection and support which the British Government is always ready to extend towards its adherents and dependants, the pergunnah of Mehur with the undermentioned villages, which from the first establishment of the British Government have been actually possessed by the Thakoor aforesaid, is hereby granted to the said Doorjun Sing. So long as the said Thakoor shall firmly and steadfastly follow the path of obedience and submission, the British Government will never offer any molestation whatever to him or to his heirs and successors in their possession of the pergunnah of Mehur.

No. XV.

TRANSLATION of the ENGAGEMENT taken from THAKOOR DOORJUN SING, dated 13th February 1814.

Whereas I, Thakoor Doorjun Sing, jaghiredar of the pergunnah of Mehur, in the province of Bundelcund, having heretofore professed my obedience and submission to the British Government, having on all occasions afforded every possible attention to the comfort and safety of English gentlemen and their attendants in passing through my jurisdiction on their route to and from Nagpore, and having undeviatingly served the British Government with zeal and fidelity from the time of its first occupying the province of Bundelcund ; and Whereas I formerly deputed my confidential vakeels to Captain John Baillie to solicit from the British Government a Sunnud for my lands, and having presented an obligation of allegiance comprising five Articles, I obtained a Sunnud under Captain Baillie's seal and signature ; and Whereas in consequence of the said Sunnud not having comprehended a detail of the names of the villages contained in my jaghire I have now solicited another Sunnud to contain a list of all the villages in my possession, and with a view to confirm my allegiance and fidelity to the British Government, I have also delivered this revised obligation of allegiance comprising nine Articles duly executed, to Mr. John Wauchope, Superintendent of Political Affairs in Bundelcund ; and I do hereby promise and engage to adhere firmly to the provisions of this engagement and never to infringe nor deviate from them in any respect.

ARTICLE 1.

I engage to maintain no intercourse with any marauders, whether in or out of the province of Bundelcund ; to give them and their families no asylum in my jaghire, and to abstain from all correspondence with them. I promise to engage in no dispute nor quarrel with the adherents and dependants of the British Government, and, in the event of any Chieftain or Rajah of this province, in alliance with Government, entering into any dispute with me respecting the boundaries of my mehals or villages or on any other subject, I engage to represent all the circumstances of the case to the British Government, to solicit its adjustment of the dispute, and to abide implicitly by its decision. I further engage to take no revenge with my own hands in return for an injury ; nor to take any steps towards obtaining redress without the authority of the British Government, to which I promise to conduct myself on all occasions in strict obedience and submission.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard all the passes in my jaghire in such manner as to obstruct the inroads of marauders, plunderers, and other malicious persons, and effectually to prevent them from obtaining a passage by those passes into the British territories. And if any Chiefs or commanders of troops belonging to neighbouring countries attempt to penetrate through my jurisdiction into the British territories, I engage to convey intelligence of their approach to the British Officers before they shall have arrived on the frontier of my jaghire, and to exert myself to the utmost of my power in opposing them.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to pass through my jaghire, whether for the purpose of ascending the Ghats or of proceeding in another direction, I promise not only not to oppose or obstruct their march, but on the contrary to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by any route they may please to follow. And so long as the British troops shall remain in the Sunnud, I will not apply to the British Government to be put in possession of any of my villages, nor will I ask assistance to control them.

ARTICLE 9.

I agree to appoint one of my confidential persons to attend the Officer of the British Government as vakeel, in order to execute such orders as he may receive. And if the British Officer shall be from any reason displeased with such vakeel, I agree immediately to recall him and to appoint another in his stead. I hereby declare that I will in no respect whatever omit to fulfil all the conditions of the nine Articles contained in this obligation.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to THAKOOR DOORJUN SING, ratified by the GOVERNOR-GENERAL in COUNCIL on the 18th March 1814.

Be it known to the chowdries, kanoongoes, zemindars, and mookuddums of the pergunnah of Mehur, dependent in Bundelcund; that Whereas Thakoor Doorjun Sing, the younger son of Benee Hoozooree, being the established proprietor of the pergunnah of Mehur, situated above the Ghats, having professed his obedience and submission to the British Government, and having conducted himself ever since the period of the accession of the province of Bundelcund to the British Government, with strict zeal and unshaken attachment to the British cause; and Whereas the said Doorjun Sing having, during the officiate of Captain John Baillie, Agent to the Governor-General, deputed his confidential vakeel to that officer, to solicit a grant of his jaghire from the British Government, and having accordingly, after presenting an obligation of allegiance comprising five Articles received a Sunnud under the seal and signature of the said Captain Baillie; and Whereas that Sunnud comprehending no separate list of villages, and the other jaghiredars of Bundelcund having received revised Sunnuds under the seal and signature of the Right Honorable the Governor-General, and Thakoor Doorjun Sing having now solicited a revised grant, comprising a list of the names of all the villages in his possession, and ratified by the Right Honorable the Governor-General, and having also, with a view to strengthen his allegiance to the British Government, presented a revised obligation of allegiance containing nine distinct Articles: This hereditary grant, ratified by the seal and signature of the Right Honorable the Governor-General, and confirming in perpetuity to Thakoor Doorjun Sing the villages detailed in the subjoined schedule, with all the rights, appurtenances, and revenues thereunto belonging, is hereby conferred upon the said Doorjun Sing; and so long as the said Thakoor Doorjun Sing and his heirs and successors shall firmly abide by the conditions contained in his obligation of allegiance, which he has delivered, the British Government will not interfere with nor resume these lands.

TRANSLATION of the ENGAGEMENT taken from THAKOOR BISHEN SING,—1826.

I, Thakoor Bishen Sing, son of the late Thakoor Doorjun, jaghiredar of Myhere, in the Nerbudda and Saugor territories; Whereas formerly when the authority of the British Government was first established in the territories dependent on Bundelcund, my late father Thakoor Doorjun Sing deceased, having professed his obedience to the said Government, obtained from the Agent for Political Affairs a Sunnud confirming to him his jaghire; afterwards, at the request of my aforesaid father, an engagement of allegiance and submission under his hand and seal, comprising nine articles, was delivered to the Agent for Political Affairs and a Sunnud was granted under the hand and seal of the Governor-General, comprehending a detail of the villages contained in the ilakah of Myhere; and Whereas my father departed this life on the 23rd day of Phagoon in the Sumbut year 1882, having repeatedly during his lifetime solicited the permission of the British Government to make over his jaghire jointly to his two sons, namely, myself and my brother, which proposal being at variance with the usage established amongst the Chieftains of these provinces, and tending to create disorder in the ilakah of Myhere, was not assented to; but after the death of my father and the occurrence of disputes between myself and my brother, when the death of Thakoor Doorjun Sing and the circumstances of us his two sons were reported to Government by Mr. T. H. Maddock, Acting Agent of the Governor-General in these territories, the Government adverting to the constant desire and intention of the late Thakoor, who from paternal affection wished that a perfect equality should exist between us two brothers in the inheritance of his territory and effects, was pleased to direct that the town and fort of Myhere should be made over to Thakoor Bishen Sing, and that the remainder of the lands and property should be divided equally into two parts, and one of them granted to me and the other to my brother; and Whereas in conformity to the above arrangement I have received through Mr. Maddock, acting Agent of the Governor-General aforesaid, possession of the town and fort of Myhere and of half the territory, and am to receive hereafter a Sunnud for the same from Government; with a view therefore to confirm my allegiance and fidelity to the British Government I have delivered to Mr. T. H. Maddock, acting Agent of the Governor-General, this obligation; and I do hereby promise and engage to adhere firmly to the provisions contained in the five following Articles, and never on any account to infringe or deviate from them.

ARTICLE 1.

I engage to maintain no intercourse with any marauders, whether in or out of the province of Bundelcund, and to give them or their families no asylum in my ilakah, and to abstain from all correspondence with them. I promise to engage in no dispute nor quarrel with the adherents or dependants of the British Government; and in the event of any Chieftain or Rajah of this territory in alliance with the Government, entering into a dispute with me respecting the boundaries of my mehals or villages or on any other subject whatever, I engage to represent all the circumstances of the case to the British Government, with a view to its adjustment of the dispute, and to abide implicitly by its decision, and to take no steps towards obtaining redress with my own hands without the authority of the British Government, to which I promise on all occasions to conduct myself with strict obedience and submission.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard all the passes in my jaghire in such manner as to obstruct the inroads of marauders, plunderers or other malicious persons, and effectually to prevent them from obtaining a passage into the British territories, and if any Chiefs or Commanders of troops, belonging to neighbouring countries, attempt to penetrate through my jurisdiction into the British territories, I engage to convey intelligence of their approach to the British Officers before they shall have arrived on the frontier of my jaghire, and to exert myself to the utmost of my power in opposing them. I will not harbour thieves nor robbers in my jaghire; and if any property be plundered or stolen from merchants or travellers in any of my villages, I engage to cause the zemindar of such village to restore the property stolen or robbed, or to deliver up the thief or robber to the British Government, and if any person charged with commission of murder or any other crime in the British territory take refuge in any of my villages, I agree to apprehend and give up all such offenders to the British Government, and to prevent their escaping into any other jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have to pass through my jaghire in progress to any place or in any direction, I promise not only not to oppose or obstruct their march but also to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by any route they may please to follow; and so long as the British troops shall remain in my jaghire or its vicinity, I promise to furnish them with supplies and all necessary articles.

ARTICLE 4.

As I have been put into possession of the villages enumerated in my Sunnud by the acting Agent of the Governor-General, I do not apply to the British Government to be put in possession by its assistance; but in the event of any of the above villages being claimed by any of the neighbouring Chieftains, and my right to them proving not to be valid according to ancient and established succession, it shall be optional with the Officers of the British Government to make over such disputed villages to whichever of the parties whose title may prove to be best founded.

ARTICLE 5.

I hereby engage always to adhere firmly to all the conditions of the above four Articles of this obligation and that I will not in any respect whatsoever act contrary thereto.

Dated 18th December 1826 A.D.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to THAKOOR BISHEN SING under the seal and signature of the Right Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT in COUNCIL, dated 2nd March 1827.

To the chowdries, kanoongoes, zemindars, and mokuddums of the tuppahs of Myhere Khas and others appertaining to Bundelcund, be it known ; Whereas formerly in the year 1814 A.D., at the request of the Thakoor Doorjun Sing deceased, who from the first establishment of the British authority in Bundelcund evinced his submission and obedience to the British Government, he received from the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General a Sunnud confirming to him in jaghire the villages of the ilakah of Myhere ; and since the death of the aforesaid Thakoor, adverting to the known intention of the said Thakoor who during his lifetime had given in a Wajib-ool-urz, requesting that the jaghire of Myhere might be confirmed to his two sons jointly, and on account of the occurrence of disputes and disagreement between the two sons after the death of their father, the following arrangement was directed by the British Government to be carried into effect.

After making over the town and fort of Myhere Khas to Thakoor Bishen Sing, the eldest son of the late Thakoor Doorjun Sing, the remainder of the villages of the above jaghire to be equally divided between the two sons, that is to say, Thakoor Bishen Sing, the eldest son, and Thakoor Praeg Das, the youngest son ; and Thakoor Bishen Sing, in order to strengthen his allegiance to the British Government, having presented a written engagement containing five distinct Articles : therefore this Sunnud has been granted to him conferring upon him and his descendants in perpetuity the following villages with all the rights, appurtenances, and revenues thereunto belonging ; and so long as the said Thakoor Bishen Sing and his heirs shall firmly abide by the conditions contained in his obligation of allegiance which he has delivered, the British Government will not interfere with nor resume these lands.

You will accordingly consider the said Thakoor proprietor and manager of these villages ; and it is the duty of the said Thakoor Bishen Sing, on his part, by the cultivation and improvement of his villages, to render the inhabitants contented and grateful, and to enjoy the produce of his jaghire in the exercise of obedience and attachment to the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

If any of the subjects of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to deliver up such person to the officers of the British Government immediately on his being demanded; and if any of my ryots or zemindars abscond and take refuge in the British territories, I agree to submit to the principal officers in Bundelcund a statement of my complaint against such person and to abide by whatever orders may be passed on the occasion agreeably to the Regulations of the Government, and to take no steps of my own accord to apprehend him.

ARTICLE 5.

I engage not to harbour thieves or robbers in any of my villages; and if the property of merchants or travellers be stolen or robbed in any of the villages subject to my authority, I agree to render the zemindars of such village responsible for the restitution of the stolen property, or for the delivery of the thief or robber to the officers of the British Government; and if any felon or murderer or person or persons amenable to the British laws for crimes committed in the British possessions should take refuge in any of my villages, I engage to seize and deliver over such offenders to the British Government, and not to permit their escape from my possessions.

ARTICLE 6.

Having presented a statement and list of the villages in my possession and having obtained a Sunnud for the same, I therefore promise and engage that if amongst the villages enumerated and stated by me, any village the property of any other person shall be found and the right to the same proved, or it shall appear that during the government of the Nawab Ally Bahadoor the said village or villages were not in my possession, I bind myself to abide by whatever the British Government shall be pleased to direct, and obey the same implicitly.

ARTICLE 7.

Whereas Gopaul Sing of the Boondellah caste and Bahadur Sing of the Purnat sect have rebelled against the British Government, and have plundered and carried their outtages into the villages granted by the British Government to the Rajahs Bukht Sing and Kishore Sing; I therefore engage and promise not to give the above rebels shelter or protection in any part of my possessions, and not to suffer them to pass through my territories to those of either of the aforesaid Rajahs or of the British Government; and if the said men shall either openly or secretly come into my possessions, I will by every means in my power attempt to seize on and apprehend them; and if in the execution of this engagement I am negligent

Ullee Bahadoor it was not in my possession, whatever decision the British Government may give I will obey and not offer any excuse.

ARTICLE 7.

As the villages mentioned in my Sunnud belonged to my ancestors, I therefore bind myself on receiving my Sunnud not to apply to the British Government to assist me in obtaining possession of any of them nor to aid me in the management of my possessions.

ARTICLE 8.

Of my confidential servants I will cause one to be always in attendance as a Vakeel on the officer of the British Government, and if the officer of the British Government should for any fault become offended with him, I will instantly recall him and send another person in his place.

This obligation of allegiance containing eight Articles I have forwarded under my own signature to the office of the British Government, and I bind myself not to depart from it in any way.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to LALL SHEO SING, RAIS of SOHAWUL in the year 1843.

Be it known to all chowdrees, canoongoes, zemindars, and mukuddums of the tuppas of Sohawal and Ryegaon in the talooks of Doorjunpoor and Birsingpoor in the provinces of Bundelcund and Baghelcund, that whereas Lall Aman Sing, who is one of the hereditary Chieftains of these provinces, has never rebelled against the British Government, but has invariably remained firm in his allegiance to it, and has obeyed the orders of its officers; and whereas he has applied for the grant of a Sunnud confirming him in possession of the Chieftainship, and has presented an ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance to the British Government consisting of nine Articles and dated the 16th July 1809, corresponding with the 19th Assat Sanie, Sun 1216 F. S.: upon this a Sunnud, dated 18th July 1809, corresponding with 21st Asar Sanie, Sumbut 1216 Fuslee, was granted to him confirming him in the permanent possession of $217\frac{1}{2}$ villages so long as he and his successors continue strictly to adhere to the conditions of the ikrarnamah and to be obedient and submissive to the British Government. Lall Aman Sing enjoyed those villages during his lifetime, and he died on Tuesday, the 8th March 1842, corresponding with Fagoon Buddee Ekadussee, Sun 1248 Fuslee. Lall Sheo Sing, the eldest son of Lall Aman Sing, presented to the Agent, Governor-General, a new ikrarnamah, consisting of eight Articles (omitting the 7th Article in the ikrarnamah of Lall Aman Sing as no longer necessary in the present circumstances), expressing his sincere attachment and fidelity to the Government, and requesting a new Sunnud confirming him in the property and possession of the villages now occupied by him. Government, therefore, acknowledging the right of Lall Sheo Sing, and with a view to the entire satisfaction of the British Government, and to the support of his claims as a hereditary Chieftain of those provinces, the villages contained in the subjoined schedule are hereby granted to the said Lall Sheo Sing, and the said villages shall continue in the permanent possession of the said Lall Sheo Sing and his successors. So long as he and they shall continue to adhere to the conditions of the Ikrarnamah these villages shall be confirmed and not resumed.

The chowdrees, canoongoes, zemindars, and mukuddums of the said villages will continue as heretofore to exercise their duties in their respective villages under the authority of the said Lall Sheo Sing, and it is the duty of the said Lall Sheo Sing to render his ryots and zeminders happy and grateful by the just administration of his Government, to devote his utmost attention to the prosperity and improvement of the country, and finally to remain firm in his obedience and submission to the British Government according to his several stipulated Articles of engagement.

TRANSLATION of an IKRAMAH or OBLIGATION of ALLEGIANCE presented by LAUL DHOONIAPUT.

Whereas I, Laul Dhooniaput, sincerely professing my submission and attachment to the British Government, have invariably manifested my obedience to the officer appointed to the superintendence of the province of Bundelcund from the period of its first annexation to the British territories ; and Whereas an Ikrarnamah or obligation of allegiance having lately been required of me : Therefore, and with a view to confirm my obedience and attachment to the British Government, I have prepared and hereby present this Ikrarnamah, containing nine distinct Articles, to Mr. John Richardson, from whom I have received a Sunnud confirming to me all my ancient possessions in this province ; and I hereby declare that I will scrupulously observe all the Articles contained in the Ikrarnamah, and never evade nor infringe any one of them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby engage never to connect myself with any marauders or plunderers either within or out of the province of Bundelcund, to afford them no asylum, or permit their families or children to reside in my possessions, and to abstain from all intercourse and correspondence with them. I further engage to avoid entering into quarrels or disputes with the dependants and servants of the British Government ; and if at any time a dispute should arise on account of mehals or villages, or from any other cause between me and any of the Rajahs and Chiefs of this province in dependence on the British Government, I agree to submit such dispute without delay to the officers of the British Government for their decision, and implicitly to observe and abide by whatever decision shall be passed upon it. I further engage to make no reprisal on any one for past injuries, nor to seek redress by force without the permission of the British Government, and always to be obedient and submissive to the Government.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard all the passes up the Ghâts which are situated in my possessions in such a manner as to prevent all marauders, plunderers and evil-disposed persons from ascending or descending the Ghâts by any of these passes, and from entering the British territories for the purpose of exciting disturbances ; and if any sirdars of troops should meditate an invasion of the British territories through my possessions, I engage to give timely notice thereof to the officers of the British Government, and to use every practicable exertion to obstruct their progress.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to ascend the Ghâts by any of the passes situated within my possessions, I agree not only not to obstruct or impede their progress, but to depute an intelligent person to conduct them by the most convenient route, and to furnish them with the necessary supplies

ARTICLE 8.

As the villages inserted in the Sunnud now granted by the British Government are my hereditary property, descended to me these many generations, and as I am now in possession thereof, I hereby bind myself, that after having received my Sunnud from the British Government I will not require or ask to be put in possession of any village amongst the before enumerated villages, nor require from the British Government any aid for their government.

ARTICLE 9.

I will appoint on my part a person from amongst those in whom I have confidence, who shall remain at all times as a stakeel for the transaction of my business in the presence of the representative of the Governor-General in Bundelcund; and if the British representative shall on any account or for any fault be displeased with the above person, I will recall him and send another.

TRANSLATION of an OBLIGATION presented by DEWAN MOORUT
SING,—1816.

Whereas the British Government having taken into its consideration the circumstances of my descent and former rights, and my zealous and submissive obedience, has liberally determined to admit me among the number of its immediate dependants, and to confirm me in the possession of the lands of Jessoo now actually occupied by me; and whereas Mr. Wauchope, the Superintendent of Political Affairs in Bundelcund, on the part of the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council, has required me to present an Ikramnamah or obligation of allegiance: Therefore, and in consideration of the ample provision which the British Government has been pleased to bestow upon me, I have prepared and do hereby present this Ikramnamah, comprising the following ten Articles, having my seal and signature duly attached to it, and I promise never to commit any act in violation of any of the subjoined Articles and never to depart from the conditions they contain:—

ARTICLE 1.

I engage to maintain no intercourse with any marauders, whether in or out of the province of Bundelcund, to give them and their families no asylum in my jaghire, and to abstain from all correspondence with them. I promise to engage in no dispute nor quarrel with the adherents or dependants of the British Government, and in the event of any Chieftain or Rajah of this province in alliance with the Government entering into a dispute with me respecting the boundaries of my mehals or villages, or on any other subjects whatever, I engage to represent all the circumstances of the case to the British Government with a view to its adjustment of the dispute, to abide implicitly by its decision, and to take no steps towards obtaining redress with my own hands without the authority of the British Government, to which I promise to conduct myself on all occasions with strict obedience and submission.

ARTICLE 2.

I engage to guard all the passes in my jaghire in such manner as to obstruct the intrads of marauders and plunderers as well as all enemies of the British Government, and effectually to prevent them from obtaining a passage through my Ilakah into the British territories; and if any Chiefs or Commanders of troops belonging to the neighbouring countries attempt to penetrate through my jurisdiction into the British territories, I engage to convey intelligence of their approach to the British Officers before they shall have arrived on the frontier of my jaghire, and to exert myself to the utmost of my power in opposing them.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to pass through my jaghire, whether for the purpose of ascending the Ghats or of proceeding in any other direction, I promise not only not to oppose or obstruct their march, but on the contrary to depute respectable and intelligent persons to conduct them by any route they may please to follow. I further engage to execute with zeal and alacrity all requisitions I may receive from the Commanding Officer of the British troops, whether in furnishing him with supplies and all necessary articles or in co-operating with my own troops and followers in accomplishing whatever object he may have in view.

ARTICLE 4.

If any of the inhabitants of the British territory abscond and take refuge in any of the villages of my jaghire, I engage to seize and deliver them up to the Officers of the British Government; and if a person on the part of the British Government be sent to apprehend such absconder, I agree not only not to oppose such person, but to co-operate with him effectually in apprehending the fugitive.

ARTICLE 5.

ARTICLE 6.

Should it at any time, hereafter, be clearly proved to the satisfaction of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, that any of the villages comprised in the Sunnud which I have now obtained from the British Government do not rightfully belong to me, I hereby engage to make no difficulty or hesitation in giving up those villages to the Officers of the British Government, and to advance no objections to the surrender of such villages on the plea of their being included in my Sunnud.

ARTICLE 7.

The fort of Jessoo having been formerly dismantled by order of Mr. Richardson, the former Agent to the Governor-General in the province, I hereby engage not to repair the said fort, but to place it and retain it in the state in which it was before the year 1813 A.D., corresponding with Sunbut.

ARTICLE 8.

As the lands and villages enumerated in my Sunnud are now in my actual possession, I hereby disclaim all right to the assistance of the British Government, whether in establishing my control over those lands and villages or in recovering possession of them in the event of my at any time being dispossessed of them.

ARTICLE 9.

I hereby declare that I will in no respect whatever omit to fulfil all the conditions of the foregoing ten Articles contained in this obligation.

Done at Banda, this fourteenth day of June 1816.

Article 5.

I request that no complaint which may be preferred against me by any of my brothers or nephews or by any member of the family, whether a servant or not, be listened to by your Government.

Article 6.

Whatever terms may be agreed on with me, I request that they be considered as permanently binding and fixed for ever; and for my satisfaction on this point, I request both your own assurances and a ratification of them by the Government in Calcutta.

So long as you continue firm and sincere in the duties of submission and allegiance to me British Government, no departure from the terms of your original agreement shall take place.

OBLIGATION of ALLEGIANCE on the part of CHOBEY DERIAO SING, KILLADAR of the FORTRESS of CALINGER,—1806.

Whereas I, Deriao Sing Chobey, freely and sincerely professing obedience and attachment to the Honorable the East India Company, have been admitted among the number of the servants and dependants of the British Government in Bundelcund; and Whereas I have lately presented to Captain John Baillie, Political Agent, on the part of the Honorable the Governor-General for conducting the affairs of Bundelcund, a Wajib-ul-Urz containing certain requests, all which requests have been answered or complied with to my entire satisfaction; and Whereas an Ikarnamah or obligation of allegiance and fidelity to the British Government has been required from me by the said Captain John Baillie:

Therefore I have prepared and transmitted this Ikramnāh, signed and sealed by myself, and containing seven distinct Articles, to all and each of which Articles I hereby bind myself most strictly to adhere, and never to depart in the smallest degree from any one of them.

ARTICLE 1.

I hereby promise never to aid nor abet the internal or external enemies of the Honorable Company in Bundelcund, nor to harbour or give refuge to any such persons in the fort of Calinger or its environs, nor in any of the villages subject to my authority; and I further engage not to permit the families or children of such persons to reside in any part of my possessions, and to abstain from all correspondence and intercourse with them. I bind myself never to enter into a dispute with any of the adherents or dependants of the British Government, nor in the smallest degree to violate any of the duties of obedience and of good faith.

ARTICLE 2.

I hereby engage to guard and defend all the passes through the Ghats, as far as my authority extends, and to prevent all marauders and plunderers from ascending and descending the Ghats through those passes; and I further engage to protect the Honorable Company's possessions from all predatory incursions through any of the passes in question.

ARTICLE 3.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to ascend the Ghats through any of the passes dependent upon Calinger, I hereby promise not to oppose any obstacle or impediment to their progress, but on the contrary send along with them respectable and intelligent people in order to conduct them by the most convenient route.

ARTICLE 4.

Some of the villages above the Ghats, which have been conferred as Nankar on me, containing diamond mines, I hereby promise and engage* not to work nor interfere with any of the mines in question, excepting those which have been granted to me; and if at any future period the officers of the British Government be deputed to work those mines, I engage to deliver them over to the said officers, and to afford them every assistance and support in my power in the exercise of their duty.

ARTICLE 5.

If any subject of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of the villages subject to my authority, I hereby promise and bind myself to seize and deliver over such person to the officers of the British Government; and if any person on the part of the British Government be sent to apprehend defaulters, I further engage not only not to oppose, but to assist him to the utmost of my power, in apprehending all such defaulters.

* This restriction was removed by order of Government.

Article 4.Answer.

If on account of former disputes any of the Chiefs of Bundelcund should complain to the British Government, let their complaints not be listened to.

On account of former plunder or other excess of this nature, no complaints shall be heard. With respect to other affairs of complaint after enquiry into circumstances, that which shall be proper shall be done.

Answer.Article 5.

The complaints of your relations, your brothers, or brothers' children whose names are not inserted in Sunnads granted by, or Ikrarnamahs entered into with, the British Government, shall not be heard; nor shall the claims of your servants or mahajuns be attended to by the British Government.

Article 6.Answer.

If I wish to serve any of the Rajahs or Chiefs in this or the adjacent countries, let me receive the sanction of the British Government to do so.

To serve the Chiefs dependant on, or in alliance with, the British Government, is not forbidden. But it is necessary that, previous to your entering into the service of any Chief, you first obtain the sanction of the British Government. If after entering into the service of any Chief and such Chief (your master) should rebel or bear arms against or act in opposition to the British Government, you shall immediately quit and give up such Chief's service, separate from him, and cease and discontinue all sort of intercourse or correspondence with him.

Article 7.Answer.

Whereas the lands which I have received are in lieu of my share of my former jaghire: This being the case, I

Whatever lands are now included in the limits of the villages now granted to you in jaghire shall be Article II.

Let my possessions for which I have received a Sannud from the British Government be exempted from the British Courts of Justice and from the influence of the British laws and regulations.

Article 12.

If any of the ryots or zemindars of my jaghire shall have claims existing against them for revenue or tucacvie and abscond to the British territories, let them be delivered up to me by the British Government.

Article 13.

Whenever the British troops shall have occasion to enter or march through my possessions, let not the military or their followers commit excesses or oppression.

Article 14.

In the villages of the former jaghire of Calinger, which have been transferred to the British Government on account of tucacvie and other claims, debts are due to me by the ryots, zemindars, and inhabitants. I am in hopes that whatever from an inspection of accounts may appear justly due, I shall receive in cash from the British Government,

Answer.

In your possessions, in like manner as is the case with respect to the possessions of the other Rajahs and Chiefs of Bundelcund, the influence of the British Courts of Justice shall not have place, nor shall the British laws and regulations be extended thereto.

Answer.

From such ryots or zemindars as shall abscond from your possessions into the British territories, you shall receive such redress as may be awarded by the British Courts of Justice. With respect to the absconders who may take refuge in the British territories on account of other causes or crimes, whatever may be proper on the investigation of the case shall have place.

Answer.

It is not the practice of the British troops to commit acts of oppression. Your possession shall be protected from oppression on such occasions in the same manner as the Company's internal dominions are protected.

Answer.

Whatever debts may be due to you from the ryots, zemindars, and inhabitants of that part of your former jaghire which has been transferred to the British Government and shall be proved due in a British Court of Justice, you shall receive in the manner and by the process of the British Courts of Justice may direct

Article 15.

If you do not in an amicable manner come to an adjustment amongst yourselves, make your representation of the case to the British Government, that whatever measures may be proper and just may be adopted. But do not dispute or quarrel amongst yourselves.

Answer.

There is one entire diamond weighing 64 rutties or carots, which is the joint property of the eight brothers, etc., who shared in the former jaghire of Calinger, now in the possession of Chuttersaul as a deposit. The said Chobey, from principles of headstrong waywardness and injustice, will not divide this property amongst the rightful sharers, I am therefore hopeful that you will cause their shares to be received by all the sharers.

Article 16.

The share of the mother of Chobey Chuttersaul is included in the Sunnud granted to the said Chobey, and the share of the relict of Bhurt Jue deceased is included in the Sunnud granted to Newul Kishore. Whereas, after the death of the mother of Chuttersaul and the relict of Bhurt Jue, all the brothers, etc., sharers, are heirs; I am therefore hopeful that after the demise of the above women each and all the sharers shall receive their share of their jaghire, jewels, and other property of the aforesaid women.

Article 17.

As in the 10th Article of my Ikarnamah I have written that if there should be any balance due on account of revenue or tucacvie in the villages which I have received from the British Government, I would collect and pay the same to that Government; wherefore my representation is this, that I shall pay to the British Government whatever sums I may recover from the zemindars or from the sale of property only; no more shall be claimable from me by the British Government.

As the balances in such cases will be due by the ryots, zemindars, etc., individually; this being the case, the property and person of those persons are responsible. There is no responsibility in respect to person or property attached to you in such cases. But in cases where you have not taken proper precautions to secure the property of such defaulters, the responsibility will be yours.

Answer.

amongst the brethren. I am therefore in hopes that at the time of my making my representation on the subject of the aforesaid caskets of jewels, according to the account that shall be presented by me, may be brought forth from the possession of the brother sharers, and that I may receive my equal share, according to a fair and proper account.

Article 18.

I request that whenever I present a claim for debts due me on account of my brethren, I may receive whatever may be justly due me.

Article 19.

The villages in the pergunnah of Jeypore are the joint property of all the brother sharers in the former jaghire of Calinger. The Chobey Deriao Sing has given the aforesaid pergunnah to the Rajah Krishore Sing, I am therefore in hopes that on presenting my claim I may receive from the above mentioned Chobey my share of the above pergunnah.

Answer.

Whereas the Sunnud for the villages included in the former jaghire of Calinger was granted to Deriao Sing Chobey, and as the British Government had then no knowledge of there being any other person or persons besides the aforesaid Chobey, who had any right in the said jaghire, and as the villages included in the pergunnah of Jeypore and Birho, which were included in his (Chobey Deriao Sing's) Sunnud, but were in the possession of Luchmun Dewah, on the expulsion of that Chief were, by the Chobey Deriao Sing, given to the Rajah Krishore Sing, who was the original and rightful proprietor thereof under the sanction of the British Government and as you have received an exchange of equal value in lands to the full amount of your share of the lands included in the former jaghire of Calinger, which have been transferred to the British Government, according to the terms by the surrender of the fortress of Calinger, information I may possess regarding their haunts to the officers of the British Government; and, if possible, I promise to seize and deliver them up to the British Government. I promise to discontinue all intercourse and correspondence with the above persons, and to avoid entering into disputes with any of the servants or adherents of the British Government. If eventually a dispute should arise between any of the adherents of the British Government, I further engage to afford no assistance to either party without the orders of the British Government, but to remain quietly within my own territory in complete obedience to the British Government.

ARTICLE 7.

If any subject of the British Government abscond and take refuge in any of the villages of my jaghire, I engage to seize and deliver up such absconder to the officers of the British Government; and should any person be sent on the part of the British Government to apprehend the fugitive, I engage not only to obstruct not impede such person, but to co-operate with him in the apprehension of the fugitive. I further engage to obey the orders of the Civil and Criminal Courts in all transactions which shall occur after the date of this obligation and shall be issued by the Agent to the Governor-General, and never to excite commotions or disturbances in any manner whatever.

ARTICLE 8.

I engage never to harbour thieves or robbers in any of the villages subject to my authority, and if the property of any of the inhabitants or of travellers be stolen or robbed in any of my villages, I promise to render the zemindars of such villages responsible for the restitution of the stolen property, or for the seizure and delivery of the thief or robber to the British Government; and if any person charged with murder, or amenable to the British laws for any other crimes committed in the British territory, take refuge in any of my villages, I further engage to seize and deliver over such offenders to the British Government, or make the zemindar appear before the officers of the British Government.

ARTICLE 9.

Whereas the villages of Paldeo, etc., which I have now obtained in jaghire have been heretofore subject to the jurisdiction of the British Laws and Regulations; if any decree or any suit shall have passed against any of the ryots or zemindars of the villages aforesaid, and the process to fulfil the execution of any such decree shall be issued through the Agent to the Governor-General for the time being, I hereby engage to obey and fulfil that officer's orders, and not to plead my exemption from the jurisdiction of the British Courts of Justice in such case. I also engage to keep an authorised Agent with the Agent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 10.

If in the villages of Paldeo, etc., which I have received in jaghire, any arrears of revenue or tucavie shall remain due to the British Government by the zemindars, I engage to collect the same, and to pay the amount to the British Government without any pretence or excuse whatever.

SUNNUD to CHOBEY NEWUL KISHORE, dated the 11th January 1817.

Be it known to the chowdries, kanooongoes, and zemindars of the pergunnah of Bhetree and Koonhuss, in the zillah of Bundeelcund; that Whereas on the occasion of the surrender of the fortress of Calinger to the officers of the British Government, an engagement was entered into, in which it was stipulated that Chobey Newul Kishore and the widow of Bhurt Jee Chobey, proprietors of two shares out of eight shares of the former jaghire of Calinger, for which a Sunnud was granted in the name of Chobey Deriao Sing, the late killadar of Calinger, should receive from the British Government an equivalent for whatever portion of their shares of the said lands and villages should be transferred to the British Government; and the said Newul Kishore and the widow of Bhurt Jee Chobey having selected the villages of Bhyson and six other villages situated in the pergunnah of Bhetree and Koonhuss, in this district, in lieu of such of their original lands as were transferred to the British Government, and they having further agreed to hold their shares under one and a joint Sunnud, a joint Sunnud was accordingly granted to them, under date the 4th of July 1812, assigning to them and their heirs and successors in perpetuity, the following villages, namely, Bhyson, Buggunpore, Burwarr, Bernher, Muckree, Barach, and Thuree, seven villages in the pergunnah of Bhetree and Koonhuss, and Koharee, Ghazeeepore with its diamond mines, Roypane with its diamond mines, and one-fourth share of Seho with its diamond mines—four villages belonging to their original jaghire were retained by them; and Whereas differences have arisen between the said Chobey Newul Kishore and widow of Bhurt Jee Chobey, in consequence of which the said widow has solicited to be put in possession of her own share to be held separately from Chobey Newul Kishore; and Whereas the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to comply with the request of the said widow and has directed that the villages specified underneath shall hence forth form the separate share of Chobey Newul Kishore, that division being founded the 30th September 1785 (No. III) for the regulation of trade and the duties to be levied at Broach.

By the Treaty of Salbai the independent power of Madhujī Scindia in his relations with the British Government was first recognised; but in all other respects he continued ostensibly to profess subjection to the Peshwa. The system of neutrality which the British Government then pursued left Scindia at liberty; and he availed himself of the opportunity to establish his power over Northern India, and to obtain control over the person of the Emperor of Delhi. In 1790 Scindia made overtures to share in the alliance against Tipu, but the conditions he proposed, that the British Government should defend his possessions in Northern India and aid him in his wars with the Rajput States, were inadmissible. After the peace with Tipu in 1792 (see Vol. IX, Mysore No. VIII) the feelings of Scindia, who was probably jealous of the increasing ascendancy of the British Government, were rather hostile than friendly. It was partly through his influence that the proposals made by Lord Cornwallis in 1793 to the Nizam and the Peshwa for a definite treaty of guarantee against Tipu were defeated.

Madhujī Scindia died in 1794 and was succeeded by his grand-nephew Daulat Rao Scindia, who was too young to carry out any dangerous designs which Madhujī Scindia might have entertained. During the distractions which followed the death of Madhavarao Narayan Peshwa in 1795, Scindia gained an ascendancy which enabled him to place Bajirao in power; to usurp most of the possessions of Holkar; and to secure to himself the fortress of Ahmadnagar, which gave him the key to the entrance into the territories of the Peshwa and the Nizam. The power of Scindia, whose army was commanded by French officers, was at this time most dangerous to the British Government. When by the Treaty of Bassein in 1802* the British Government had recovered its influence at Poona and established a subsidiary force there, Daulat Rao Scindia entered into a league with the Raja of Berar to defeat the objects of the treaty. The deceit and evasion with which Scindia met the overtures of General Wellesley for an amicable adjustment of their differences rendered war inevitable. In the campaign which followed the power of Scindia was completely broken both in Upper and Central India. He was compelled to sue for peace, and to sign the Treaty of Sarjī Anjan-gaon in 1803 (No. IV). By this he ceded his territories in Northern India and south of the Ajanta hills, with the exception of some hereditary villages, and resigned his claims on subordinate Chiefs with whom the British Government had made treaties.

Article 15 of the Treaty of Sarjī Anjan-gaon left Scindia the option of becoming a party to the defensive alliance concluded by the British Government with the Peshwa and the Nizam, and bound the British Government, in the event of his so doing, to maintain a subsidiary force of six battalions to be paid for out of the territories ceded by that Treaty. Scindia agreed to the alliance; and by a separate Treaty (No. V) concluded on the 27th February 1804, arrangements were made for the subsidiary force to be stationed near Scindia's boundary, but within British territory.

When the schedule of places to be surrendered was presented four months after the signing of the Treaty of Sarji Anjangaon, Daulat Rao Scindia was incensed to find the fortress of Gwalior and the pargana of Gohad included in it. He at once represented the matter, and his representation was supported by General Wellesley and Colonel Malcolm, then acting Resident at Scindia's Court. General Wellesley declared that Scindia had signed the Treaty on the distinct understanding that article 9 did not apply to the fortress of Gwalior and the pargana of Gohad; but the British Government disagreed.

The discontent which Scindia felt at the determination to deprive him of Gohad and Gwalior, induced him to enter into a correspondence with Holkar which nearly led to an open rupture. Among other acts of hostility he attacked and plundered the Resident's camp and detained the Resident a prisoner. As Scindia refused to release the Resident, he was informed that his conduct had annulled the treaties with him; that Government were at liberty to deal with him as they might think fit; and that the surrender of the Resident must precede any friendly intercourse. The change, however, in the policy of Government on the arrival of Lord Cornwallis who, independently of any reference to the settlement of differences with Scindia, deemed it expedient to retain possession of Gohad and Gwalior, led to the renewal of negotiations on the basis of restoring these territories.

A Treaty (No. VI) was accordingly concluded on the 22nd November 1805, which confirmed the Treaty of Sarji Anjangaon except in so far as it might be altered by the new Treaty; ceded Gwalior and Gohad to Scindia; abolished the pensions of fifteen lakhs a year paid by Government to Scindia's officers; constituted the Chambal the northern boundary of Scindia's territory; deprived Scindia of all claim to tribute from Bundi or any State north of the Chambal and east of Kotah; bound the British Government not to make treaties with Udaipur, Jodhpur, Kotah, or other Chiefs tributary to Scindia in Malwa, Mewar, or Marwar, or to interfere with the arrangements which Scindia might make in regard to them; and granted an assignment of four lakhs a year to Scindia, and jagirs of two lakhs to his wife Baiza Bai, and of one lakh to his daughter Chinna Bai.

In the Pindari war the plundering Chiefs looked for support to Daulat Rao Scindia as the most powerful of the Mahratta Princes, and one whose husband's intention that she should hold the government during her life. She even pressed on the British Government the conclusion of a new treaty, in order that she might obtain the formal recognition of her right to exercise the powers of regent during her life. Although Government declined to conclude a new treaty, and although in 1830 they insisted on Baiza Bai using the young Maharaja's seal in all official communications, she still clung to the hope of keeping the government in her own hands, and took no steps to train the young Chief for the future exercise of power. The restraints under which the youth was held by the Regent became at last intolerable to him, and he fled from the palace and took refuge with the Resident. A reconciliation was with difficulty effected; and, as Government gave no definite decision on the rights of the parties, the seeds of dissension remained and the quarrel came to a crisis in 1833.

Baiza Bai's rule had then become most unpopular, and the cause of the young Maharaja was espoused by a large portion of the army; she was compelled to retire from Gwalior territory and the Maharaja was acknowledged by the British Government. To such a length was the principle of absolute neutrality carried at this time that Government declared it was a matter of indifference to them whether the Maharaja or Baiza Bai was at the head of the Gwalior State, and that the only object of Government was to preserve the general tranquillity and their own reputation, recognising such ruler as might be placed by the popular voice at the head of the administration. Baiza Bai was prohibited from using her asylum in British territory or any dependent State for the purpose of organizing an invasion of Gwalior, but she was left at liberty to return to Gwalior and rely on the support of her own subjects. The Resident was even censured for having called in the contingent in support of the Maharaja's authority: and it was ruled that the legitimate purpose for which the contingent was formed was the suppression of plunderers and the repulse of external enemies.

(By the Treaty of 1817 Daulat Rao Scindia had engaged to furnish a contingent* of 5,000 horse and had assigned for its support the annual payments made to him by the British Government and the tribute from the States of Jodhpur, Bundi and Kotah.) After the close of the war the contingent was reduced to 2,000 horse at a monthly cost of Rs. 1,20,000, but this amount was in excess of the funds allotted to meet it. It was therefore agreed (No. IX) in February 1820 that the force should be reduced so as to bring its cost within the sum originally assigned, and that, for the debt due from Scindia on account of it, certain districts should be temporarily transferred to the British Government. (On the death of Daulat Rao his annual grant of four lakhs, which he had assigned in part payment for the contingent, ceased: and some other arrangement became necessary. A loan of eighty lakhs of rupees at 5 per cent. was taken from Baiza Bai; but, as this arrangement proved inconvenient, the loan was paid off, and in 1830 the funds allotted for the payment of the contingent stood as follows:—

* This account of the early history of the contingent up to the year 1833 is taken from Sutherland's Sketches, pages 152, 153 and 160.

Rs.
Allowance of Baiza Bai from the British Government .	2,00,000
Kotah tribute	1,06,118
Kotris tribute	10,998
Jodhpur tribute	1,04,004
Rattam and Sallana tribute	1,21,380
Revenues of Garhakota	35,000
Revenues of Malthou in Saugor	20,000
Revenues of Yawal, Chopra, etc., in Khandesh	90,000
Total	6,87,500

The total was still less than the cost of the contingent, which was Rs. 7,09,224.

When Baiza Bai fled from Gwalior, the revenues of her jagir were no longer available for the payment of the contingent, and a corresponding reduction of the force became necessary. But this was no sooner resolved on than the Darbar demanded that the revenues of the Khandesh and Saugor districts, which had formed part of the territories restored to Scindia under the 6th article of the Treaty of Sarji Anjangaon, should be given back; that only the tributes from the Rajput States, amounting to Rs. 3,42,500, should be retained; and that the contingent should be still further reduced to correspond with this diminution of the funds. By the Treaty of 1820 it was optional with the British Government, on the extinction of the debt, either to restore these districts, to pay rent for them, or to give other lands in exchange.

It was finally arranged that, besides receiving the Rajput tributes, the British Government should retain the management of the districts of Garhakota and Malthou in Saugor; that the Khandesh districts should be restored to Scindia; and that in lieu of them Scindia should pay a sum of Rs. 66,926-8 a year, which was equivalent to their net revenues. No written engagement was concluded, but the contingent was reorganised in accordance with this arrangement: and Scindia promised to take measures for the proper management of the country and to respect the settlements which the British Government had made with the Bhils.

The Court of Directors, however, were of opinion that the restoration of the districts was not required by the terms of the engagement of 1820: that Scindia was not likely to respect the Bhil settlements; and that there was danger of the country relapsing into anarchy by its transfer to Scindia's government. They therefore desired that measures should be taken for obtaining the retrocession of the districts to the British Government; but the Darbar were unwilling to part with them, and Government at last resolved not to press the matter. The Darbar, however, were emphatically told that Government would not permit these districts to become centres of oppression and disorder dangerous to neighbouring territories and that, if mismanagement should occur of a nature to endanger the security of the surrounding districts, the parganas would at once be taken possession of by the British Government and not again restored.

In 1823 the districts of Kandwai, Barwai, Punasa, Sailani and the village of Jhangraon, and in the following year the districts of Asir (with the exception of three towns), Bhimgarh, Mundi, Bilora, Atud, Deori and Piplod, were made over (No. X) by Scindia to the management of the British Government.

In 1831 the exchange of the pargana of eastern Shujawalpur for Scindia's districts of Deori, Gaujhamar, Chanwarpatha, Tendukhera and Naharmar was negotiated. The revenues of Shujawalpur were about Rs. 90,939, and those of Scindia's districts Rs. 87,305. A money payment of Rs. 3,634 remained therefore to be made to the British Government by the Gwalior Darbar. The Court of Directors disapproved of this exchange of territory; but, as the arrangement was convenient for both parties and its cancellation would have been very unpalatable to the Gwalior Darbar, Government finally resolved not to disturb it. The Resident, however, was required, without inviting complaints, to use his influence to prevent injury to the inhabitants. Guarantees were given for life to four persons who had received jagirs in Shujawalpur from the British Government. Rajan Khan, a Pindari leader, brother of the notorious Chitu, had also received a life grant* of lands in Shujawalpur.

* Translation of the Sunnad granted to Rajan Khan, dated 5th March 1826.

Be it known to the Chaudhris and Kanungos of pargana Shujawalpur that, in accordance with the orders of Government, three villages in the pargana have been granted in jagir and two villages on an istimrar lease to Rajan Khan during the period of his own life. He will accordingly possess the undermentioned villages without molestation. He will conciliate the inhabitants of the above five villages and maintain their prosperity, evince his attachment and obedience to the government, and pay the established rent into the Government Treasury.

He died during the negotiations for the exchange: and the lands, the value of which had been excluded from the estimated value of Shujawalpur, were continued to his family, and Scindia was required to abstain from any arbitrary measure of resumption. Questions of succession to this jagir are usually decided by the British Government and the decision communicated to Scindia.

The Agreement of 1823 was in a manner forced on the Darbar, who long continued to urge their right to the restoration of the districts (other than Deori) placed by them under British management. In 1837 it was decided that the arrangement was not revocable at the will of the Gwalior Darbar, and that the districts could not be relinquished without disappoining the expectations of their people and causing danger to the general tranquillity and to the freedom of commercial intercourse with Bombay. The districts were eventually ceded in full sovereignty to the British Government under the Treaty of 1860 (No. XII).

The rule of Jankuji Scindia was very weak. Although Baiza Bai* had no strong party within Gwalior territories, she did not cease to intrigue and to use for this purpose a sum of Rs. 37,00,000, deposited in the Benares treasury, which, by the arbitration of the British Government, acquiesced in by Scindia, had been declared to be her private property. The Mamma Sahib, the Maharaja's maternal uncle, occupied the post of minister during the greater part of his rule; but the court was a constant scene of feuds and struggles for power among the nobles, while the army was in a chronic state of mutiny. The weakness of the internal government prepared the way for the hostilities with the British Government which broke out shortly after the Maharaja's death, and resulted in an entire change of British policy towards the Gwalior State.

Jankuji Scindia died in 1843. He had no children, and had expressed no wish regarding the succession, although repeatedly and earnestly urged by the Resident to do so. Tara Rani, the Maharaja's widow, a girl twelve years of age, adopted, with the concurrence of the Chiefs of the State and the army, Bhagirat Rao, a boy of about eight years, son of Hanwant Rao, usually called Babaji Scindia. He was the nearest relative, though a very distant one, of the late Maharaja, and the adoption was recognised by the British Government. On his accession he assumed the title of Ali Jah Jayaji Rao Scindia: and the Mamma Sahib, who appeared to possess the greatest influence and was attached to British interests, was chosen by the Chiefs of Gwalior as Regent. His selection was reported to give universal satisfaction to the troops and people; and he was accordingly recognized by the British Government as the responsible head of the State during the minority, and was assured of support. For three months affairs went on smoothly; but palace intrigues were carried on against the Alama Sahib by a party headed by Dada Khasgiwala, who gained over a portion of the army to his cause. The commencement of the intrigue is attributed to apprehensions instilled into the mind of the young Alaharani that the Alama Sahib, whose daughter was married to the Maharaja, would supersede her authority: and it ended in the expulsion of the Alama Sahib from Gwalior and the establishment of the influence of Dada Khasgiwala, notwithstanding the remonstrances of the Resident and the British Government.

Dada Khasgiwala showed himself hostile to the interests of the British Government. Offices were taken from those who were supposed to be favourable to the maintenance of friendly relations, and persons, who at the request of the Resident had been expelled from Gwalior by the late Maharaja, were recalled and restored to office. These proceedings were accompanied by the assemblage of large bodies of mutinous troops at Gwalior, by a threatened attack on Sirony in the territories of the Nawab of Tonk, where the Alama Sahib had taken refuge, and by disorders on the frontier at a time when war on the Sutlej was impending, and it was necessary to secure the communications of the British army by the re-establishment of a friendly government in its rear at Gwalior.

Accordingly, the British representative was withdrawn from Gwalior until either a settled government should be established there, or his intervention should be solicited by the Alaharani and the Chiefs for the restoration of order. Before final measures were taken, the Resident wrote to the Alaharani, in reply to a letter in which she had invited his return, stating the conditions under which alone friendly relations could be re-established and requiring the banishment of Dada Khasgiwala, whose presence was the only obstacle to the restoration of friendship. This letter was intercepted by Dada Khasgiwala, whose right to interfere in the affairs of the State had never been admitted by the British Government, and its contents concealed from the Alaharani. This act was considered as a virtual assumption of the powers of government by Dada Khasgiwala and a supersession of the authority of the Alaharani and the young Chief, whose position and supremacy the British Government were bound by treaty to maintain. A demand was therefore made for Dada Khasgiwala's surrender, as the preliminary condition of further friendly intercourse. Dada Khasgiwala was seized by the Chiefs who were favourable to the restoration of peace, but was released by the portion of the army whose support he had bought; and it was only on the advance of a British force towards Gwalior that he was surrendered.

It remained now to negotiate measures for the formation of an efficient government and the reduction of the mutinous army, which possessed the real power in Gwalior and overawed the government of the State. For this purpose an interview was agreed upon between the Governor-General and the Maharaja, to take place at Hingona on the 26th December 1843.

The day passed without the appearance of the Maharani and her son, who were held in restraint by the mutinous troops. On the 29th December, when the British force was taking up its advanced ground, it was fired on by the Gwalior troops. The battles of Maharajpur and Panwar were fought on the same day and ended in the total defeat of the Gwalior army, and the conclusion on the 13th January 1844 of a Treaty (No. XI) by which it was agreed that territory yielding eighteen lakhs a year should be ceded to the British Government for the maintenance of a contingent force, and other lands for the payment of the expenses of the war and the debts of the State to the British Government; that the army should be reduced to 6,000 cavalry, 3,000 infantry, and 200 gunners with 32 guns; that the government, during the minority, should be conducted according to the advice of the British Resident; and that the just territorial rights of the Gwalior State should be maintained by the British Government.

From this time till the mutiny of 1857 there was little change in the relations of the British Government with the Gwalior State. The mutiny of the contingent in June 1857 forced the Political Agent to quit Gwalior. The counsels, however, of the Maharaja's able Minister Dinkar Rao who, during the four preceding years of his tenure of office, had reformed the internal administration, were strongly in favour of British interests. In June 1858 the Maharaja was deserted by his troops on the approach of the rebels under Tantia Topi, and compelled with his Minister to seek refuge at Agra. On the 19th June Gwalior was retaken by Sir Hugh Rose's force and the Maharaja was re-established in his palace. From that date the confidence of the Maharaja was withdrawn from his Minister, for whom he conceived an intense dislike. Dinkar Rao vacated office in November 1860, and Balaji Chimnaji was appointed in his stead, with the concurrence of the British Government. In 1868, Balaji Chimnaji having become incapacitated by old age for the performance of his duties, Gaupat Rao Khadke was appointed Diwan. After Dinkar Rao's removal the Maharaja himself superintended the whole of his affairs until his death in 1886.

For his services during the mutiny Scindia was informed that lands yielding three lakhs of rupees a year would be added to his territories; that permission would be given to him to raise his infantry from 3,000 to 5,000 men, and his artillery from 32 to 36 guns; that the arrears due to the British Government, on account of the deficiency in the revenues of the districts assigned under the Treaty of 1844, would be remitted, and no payments would in future be claimed should these revenues fall short of eighteen lakhs; and that the annual payment of Rs. 10,000 out of the revenues of Barwa Sagur in the Jhansi district would be hereditary. These modifications of the Treaty of 1844 were embodied in a new Treaty (No. XII) concluded on the 12th December 1860, based upon certain proposals which had been made in 1854, but had in the interval remained in abeyance, for an exchange of territory with Scindia. The new Treaty provided for the restoration to Scindia of lands from the assigned districts yielding three lakhs of rupees a year; for the cession of the town of Burhanpur and the district of Zainabad in exchange for the town and part of the district of Jhansi; for the exchange of Scindia's five districts in Gujarat, the pargana of Kanjia, the annual payment from Barwa Sagar, and all his territories south of the Narbada with the exception of seven hereditary villages, in return for lands of equal value on the Sind and Betwa rivers; for the cession to the British Government in full sovereignty of all the districts, etc., assigned in 1844 which might remain after the above exchanges should be effected; and for the substitution of a subsidiary force costing not less than sixteen lakhs a year in the place of the extinct contingent.

All pensionary and charitable allowances and religious endowments assigned on the lands transferred to Scindia under the Treaty of 1860 in exchange, whether originally ceded districts or British territory, are paid by the British Government; because, though the Treaty of 1860 provided for the calculation of the value of the lands to be mutually exchanged on the gross revenues, all cash assignments of the nature in question, which were very common with the Maharattas, were deducted in the valuation statement of the Gwalior Darbar. In the case of the pargana of Neemuch, which was given as a reward to Scindia for services during the mutiny, the Maharaja was informed that the continuance of pensions and allowances was discretionary. The aggregate annual charge on both the lands exchanged and those given in reward was Rs. 7,462-11-5; deducting from this Rs. 5,189-13-9, chargeable to the revenues of Neemuch, an annual payment of Rs. 2,272-13-8 is made on this account.

Subsequently to the conclusion of the Treaty of 1860 it was ascertained that the Char Thana estate, which formed one of the items of the assignments under the Treaty of 1844, had never been taken over by the British Government and had been allowed virtually to cease to form one of the ceded items, as its revenues never appeared in the annual accounts, which were made up without reference to them. A note to this effect was entered opposite this item in schedule A appended to article 7 of the Treaty, and the necessary corrections were made in the number of villages, and in the amount of their gross value in schedule C. Char Thana was subsequently included in the exchanges with the Gwalior State, the Darbar receiving credit in the account for its gross value, Rs. 1,197-6-8. The Raja of Amjhera,* tributary to Scindia, formerly paid to the Gwalior State a yearly tribute of Hali Rupees 35,000, under an engagement mediated by the British Government. This tribute was part of the sums assigned in 1844 for the payment of the contingent, and is now payable by Scindia to the British Government under the Treaty of 1860. Besides this the Maharaja had to contribute Rs. 20,000 on account of Amjhara towards the maintenance of the Malwa Bhil Corps. Scindia had formerly contributed only Rs. 8,000 for this corps, and the Raja of Amjhara Rs. 4,000; but the claim of Government for the contribution of Rs. 8,000 from Gwalior was found to be contrary to the provisions of the Treaty of 1844, and the Darbar were, on representation, exempted from this levy. When, in consequence of the rebellion of the Raja in 1857, Amjhara was confiscated and made over to Scindia, the arrangement was made subject to a payment of Rs. 20,000 on account of the Malwa Bhil Corps. This contribution was remitted in 1925.

In 1860 Scindia consented to the construction of a bridge over the Chambal river. It was decided that Scindia should share with Dholpur in the net profits of the bridge and ferry at Rajghat, and that Dholpur should receive a moiety of the profits accruing from Scindia's ferry at Khaintri (see Dholpur, Vol. III).

In 1861 the Maharaja gave up the hereditary villages in the Deccan reserved to him under the 4th article of the Treaty of 1860 for an equivalent on the Pahnj river.

In 1862 the Ruler of Gwalior was granted a Sanad of Adoption (No. XIII).

After the capture of Gwalior by the force under Sir Hugh Rose in 1858, British troops continued to occupy the fort of Gwalior. During the negotiations which ended in the Treaty of 1860, Lord Canning promised that the fort should be restored to Scindia when this could be done with safety: and this promise was repeated by Lord Elgin. Its fulfilment depended on the withdrawal of the British force from Morar to some more eligible station, which was at that time contemplated. It was, however, decided in 1864 that the cantonment of Morar should be maintained: and this necessitated the continued tenure of the Gwalior fort by British troops. On the 29th March 1864 Scindia agreed to give up his right to the restoration of the fort on receiving an increase of twelve guns to his artillery, and on condition that his flag should fly on the ramparts of the fort; that he should be saluted from its guns; and that, if at any time the British Government should withdraw from its occupation, he should be allowed to occupy it with his own troops. The documents (No. XIV) recording these arrangements, are held to constitute supplementary articles of the Treaty of 1860. The twelve guns referred to were supplied in the shape of two complete batteries of 9-pounder guns. In 1865 Scindia received two 18-pounder guns in place of two of smaller calibre which were given up.

In 1859 Scindia had agreed to give all land which might be required for railway purposes in Nimar, and to compensate the proprietors; except in cases where the property was of special value. Jurisdiction over all persons residing within railway limits was to rest with the railway authorities; but disputes between railway servants and Gwalior subjects were to be referred to the Agent to the Governor-General. On the transfer of Nimar to the British Government in 1861, compensation to the amount of Rs. 5,098 was paid by Government on account of land taken up by the railway. In 1864 the Maharaja agreed (No. XV) to cede to the British Government, in full sovereignty, such land as might be required for either of the then proposed lines of railway from Indore to the valley of the Narbada and Baroda, and also to exempt from transit duties all through traffic by the lines in question. He subsequently preferred a request that all the concessions, regarding the treatment of offences and offenders within railway limits, which had been accorded to Holkar (see Vol. IV, Indore No. VI) in the case of a similar grant of lands for railway purposes, might also be extended to him: and this was agreed to.

In 1856 the Maharaja, being anxious to have his army under his immediate control, had withdrawn his troops on provincial service, amounting to 4,000 cavalry, 1,500 infantry and 12 guns, and proposed to entertain in their place a body of 3,000 Najibs who should be formed into three police corps: one to be stationed in Malwa, another in the Chhambal district, and the third in Isagarh and the Bundelkhand frontier. This proposal had been sanctioned by Government on the understanding that the Najibs were to constitute a police and not a military force. In process of time they came to be regularly drilled soldiers: and in 1866 the Maharaja urged that the Najib battalions should be organised on the same quasi-military footing as were British police battalions at the time of the enlistment of these men. He also asked that article 9 of the Treaty of 1860 might be modified, so as to admit of their being added to the regular strength of his army. The request was negatived as being contrary to treaty and opposed to the conditions on which the Maharaja had been allowed to raise the Najib battalions. The Maharaja accordingly re-organised them on the footing of police.

In 1866 Scindia preferred a claim that the titles of holders of rent-free estates, in those portions of the assigned district of Bhandar which became British territory under the operation of article 7 of the Treaty of 1860, should be confirmed in perpetuity by the issue of Sanads from the British Government under the terms of article 3. The Maharaja was informed that the terms of clause 4 of article 3 were not intended to apply to any portion of the assigned districts restored to him under the territorial exchanges provided for therein, and that he was free to deal with them as he pleased; but that he must faithfully carry out the terms of that clause in respect of the landowners enjoying special rights in the British lands transferred to him, as would be done in respect of the same class of persons in the Gwalior lands transferred in exchange to the British Government; also that the conditions in question were not applicable to the portions of the assigned districts transferred to the British Government in full sovereignty under article 7, as the transfer had not been subject to any such conditions.

In 1866 certain rules were sanctioned by the Government of India for enforcing the responsibility of Indian States for mail robberies committed within their territories. Scindia asked for special exemption from the operation of these rules, on the ground of the comparative excellence of his police arrangements; but the request was disallowed, and he was informed that it rested with him, by still further improving his police, to avoid the chance of being affected by the penalties laid down in the rules.

In 1867 the Ruler of Gwalior was granted a permanent salute of 19 guns, and a permanent local salute of 21 guns within his own territories.

After the exchanges effected by the Treaty of 1860 had been finally adjusted, there still remained a balance of Rs. 4,994-0-10 in Scindia's favour: and, as there was no land then available, this balance was paid to him annually in cash. Scindia objected to this arrangement, and it was eventually decided to give him an equivalent in land out of the pargana of Bhandar, in the Jalau district, which had been ceded to the British Government under the Treaty of 1860. It was also decided to cede to the Maharaja territory of the annual value of Rs. 10,000 as an equivalent for lands taken up for the extension of the Morar cantonment, the Maharaja being left to settle the details of compensation with the proprietors and others interested in the alienation of the land.

In the meantime the British Government had undertaken negotiations for the transfer to the Nizam of ten ancestral villages possessed by Scindia within the Hyderabad territories. These villages had enjoyed an exemption from the jurisdiction of the Nizam's Government which, in the interests of the general peace of the country, could not be allowed to continue. Scindia consented to cede these villages to the British Government on condition of receiving from them an equivalent in lands bordering on his territory north of the Narbada; while the British Government were to transfer the ten villages by a separate exchange to the Nizam, receiving in lieu of them an equivalent in Hyderabad villages on the Bombay frontier (see Vol. IX, Hyderabad). The villages were valued by a British officer, by whose decision Scindia and the Nizam agreed beforehand to be bound, at Rs. 15,000 a year. It was settled that all these exchanges should form one transaction and be included in a supplementary treaty. An annual payment to Scindia of Rs. 452-9-4, representing village-rights and holdings in the Poonja Colliery, was afterwards included in the list of claims. From this must be deducted an annual payment by Scindia of Rs. 325-13-9 on account of other holdings in the Deccan, and the equivalent of the revenue of the jagir of Anai in the Poona Collectorate, viz., Rs. 2,602-13-0 per annum, which at Scindia's request was conferred by the British Government on his Minister, Dada Gupat Rao Khadke. The result of the settlement showed that territory to the annual value of about Rs. 27,500 had to be made over to Scindia and his heirs in perpetuity; and a Treaty (No. XVI) embodying these arrangements was concluded on the 2nd December 1871. The account was finally closed by a cash payment of Rs. 29,658-1-9, representing one year's payments on account of the balance due under the Treaty of 1860 for the land ceded for the Morar cantonment and for Scindia's Hyderabad villages, up to the date of the actual transfer of the villages ceded in exchange to him.

In November 1872 and January 1873 the Government of India accepted offers from Scindia of two loans, each of 75 lakhs, for the construction of lines of railway between Gwalior and Agra, and between Neemuch and Indore. The arrangements made, which included the cession by Scindia of all lands required for the railways and of pleenary civil and criminal jurisdiction on the lines, as well as an undertaking that he would levy no transit duties on through traffic, were embodied in an Engagement (No. XVII) and formally accepted in a Kharita from the Viceroy.

In 1875 Jayaji Rao Scindia sat as a member of the mixed commission by which Malhar Rao, Gaekwar of Baroda, was tried for an attempt to poison the British Resident at Baroda. In 1877, on the occasion of the Delhi Assemblage, the title of Hisam-us-Saltanat was conferred upon him.

In August 1877, owing to the unusually small rainfall and the consequent distress in Scindia's northern districts, which entailed heavy expenditure in relief operations, the Maharaja obtained from the British Government a loan of fifty lakhs. It was arranged (No. XVIII) that the amount should be repaid in eleven years, from the interest annually payable to Scindia on his railway loan. The balance, Rs. 13,77,847-15-9, was paid off in 1887.

In 1879 the Government of India concluded an Agreement (No. XIX) with Scindia under which he made certain concessions regarding the production, export and import of salt in Gwalior State. The Agreement also included an article prohibiting the export from the State of any intoxicating preparations, such as bhang, ganja, opium, etc. In consideration of these concessions, the Government of India, while reserving their right to revise the Agreement if necessary, agreed to pay to Scindia Rs. 3,12,500 annually, in half-yearly instalments.

In 1879 Scindia accepted liability for the cost of the maintenance of prisoners convicted of offences committed in Gwalior territory and confined in British jails in India. There is no special extradition treaty with Gwalior. The extradition arrangements with the Darbar are on a basis of reciprocity in all ordinary cases, and surrenders are effected in accordance with the procedure for the time being in force in British India.

In 1855 the Gwalior Darbar had agreed to spend four lakhs of rupees on the construction of the portion of the Agra-Bombay road running through their territory. Up to the time of the mutiny Scindia had paid three lakhs of rupees; and between 1858 (when the construction of the road was resumed) and 1860, from two to three lakhs more. In 1860 a fresh arrangement was made, by which the Maharaja agreed to contribute Rs. 50,000 a year for six years towards the completion of the road, and thereafter an annual sum of Rs. 12,000 towards its repairs. In 1867 Scindia agreed to allot, in lieu of the annual payment of Rs. 50,000 for the Agra-Bombay road, Rs. 63,000 annually for such portions of six roads named by him as lay in Gwalior territory; this sum was to be apportioned by the British Government in any way it pleased, until four-fifths of the entire cost of the roads had been made up. In 1883 it was found necessary to reconsider these arrangements: and it was then agreed that, after the payment by Scindia of the arrears that had accumulated under the former condition, he should, in April of each year, contribute Rs. 50,000 towards the repair of roads in his territory, in lieu of all his existing payments under that head.

In 1885 a Postal Convention (No. XX) was concluded by the British Government with the Gwalior State to facilitate the exchange of postal matter between the Imperial post office of British India and the post offices in the territories of the Maharaja.

In 1885 the question of the surrender of the Gwalior fort, which had been occupied by the British since 1858, was again brought under discussion. It was eventually decided to make over the fort to the Maharaja, together with the cantonment of Morar. In return for this concession, Scindia agreed to pay to the British Government a sum of fifteen lakhs of rupees on account of expenditure incurred upon the fort, and to transfer to the British Government the town and fort of Jhansi. At the same time Scindia was allowed to increase his infantry by 3,000 men, but it was stipulated that he should not bring his regular cavalry beyond the actual strength at which it stood in November 1885. The decision of the Government to effect this transfer was announced by the Viceroy at a Darbar held at Gwalior on the 2nd December 1885, and was confirmed by a Khavata (No. XXI), dated the 24th February 1886. The actual evacuation of Gwalior and Morar by British troops took place on the 10th March 1886, and on the same date the town and fort of Jhansi were made over by the Gwalior authorities.

Jayaji Rao Scindia died in 1886. In 1865, after the death of the last survivor of three infant sons, he had obtained the sanction of Government to the adoption of Ranaoji Scindia as his heir; but in 1870, in consequence of Ranaoji Scindia's admitted complicity in a plot against the Maharaja's life, the Maharaja had requested, and Government had sanctioned, the cancellation of the adoption. Jayaji Rao's son Madho Rao, who succeeded him, was born in 1876.

In accordance with the wishes of the late Chief, and with the concurrence of the Government of India, the administration of the Gwalior State during the minority was entrusted to a Council of Regency, appointed in September 1886. Rao Raja Gaupat Rao Khadke, who had been for more than 20 years Diwan and Karbhar to Maharaja Jayaji Rao, was appointed President of the Council, and seven members were selected from the principal Sardars and officials of the State. This administrative body was empowered to carry on the government of the Gwalior State in consultation with the Resident, who was instructed to supervise their proceedings and to suggest measures for the improvement of the administration. Reforms were initiated in almost every branch of the government; and special efforts, which met with a considerable measure of success, were made to suppress crime, and more particularly organised daktari, throughout the State.

The accession of Maharaja Madho Rao Scindia was signalized by the abolition of all transit duties throughout Gwalior State. This important measure was announced by a notification dated the 25th September 1886. In 1887 the Council of Regency offered the Government of India a loan of three and a half crores of rupees at 4 per cent. interest. This investment of a portion of the accumulated State treasure, which amounted to upwards of six crores, was approved, the terms were embodied in an Agreement (No. XXII), and it was arranged that the repayment of the loan should be made by annual instalments of 12 lakhs, commencing one year after the Maharaja should come of age. The loan was finally repaid in full in 1924.

Rao Raja Gaupat Rao died in 1888; and, with the concurrence of the Government of India, the junior Maharani was nominated to act as Regent, though without administrative powers or right of interference with the conduct of public affairs. Bapu Sahib Jadan, a member of the Council of Regency and the Maharaja's maternal grandfather, was installed as President of the Council.

In 1888 detailed arrangements were made for the transfer of the territory in the neighbourhood of Jhansi, ceded by Jayaji Rao Scindia in 1826. The conditions relating thereto were set forth in a Khairia (No. XXIII), dated the 15th June from the Viceroy to Madho Rao Scindia, and accepted by him in a Khairia (No. XXIV), dated the 7th September.

In December 1888 an Agreement (No. XXV) was concluded with the Council of Regency, whereby the Dabbar ceded full civil and criminal jurisdiction over the lands in Gwalior territory occupied by the extension of the Indian Midland Railway from Gwalior to Jhansi and from Jhansi in the direction of Bhopal. These lands had been given, free of charge, by Jayaji Rao Scindia in 1882. In the same month the Postal Convention of 1885 was modified by the conclusion of an additional Convention (No. XXVI).

In 1887 the Council of Regency made a formal request that all the roads in Gwalior territory, then under the charge of the Public Works Department of the Central India Agency, should be made over to the administration of the Gwalior State. The transfer was agreed to, on condition that those roads which were important from an Imperial point of view should be kept in a state satisfactory to the Government of India, who would make arrangements for examining them from time to time; and that, if at any time the State should fail to keep the roads up to the required standard, Government would resume charge, the whole cost of such resumption and of future maintenance being chargeable to the Gwalior State. The transfer was accordingly carried out with effect from the 1st June 1888, and the yearly contribution of Rs. 50,000 formerly paid by Gwalior ceased from that date.

In 1890 an Agreement (No. XXVII) was made by the British Government between the Gwalior and Ratlam States, for the construction by the former of a metalled road a portion of which runs through the Ratlam State.

In 1890 the Council of Regency placed at the disposal of the Government of India, for the purposes of Imperial defence, a force of two regiments of cavalry and a transport train of 500 ponies. This offer, which was made in the name of the Maharaja, was accepted by the Government of India.

In December 1894 Maharaja Madho Rao Scindia was invested with ruling powers, and the Council of Regency was dissolved. In 1895 the Gwalior Transport Corps took part in the Chital expedition.

In the same year the following districts of the Isagarh Prant were transferred to the political charge of the Resident at Gwalior:—the Gwalior districts of Bhilsa and Mongaoli, and the Estate of Agra-Barkhera, from the Bhopal Agency; and the Ranod Pargana, from the Guna Agency.

In 1890 the Gwalior Dabbar had agreed to the construction of two lines of railway, one from Bina on the Indian Midland Railway to Guna, and the other from Ujjain to Bhopal by way of Sehore. These lines were opened for public traffic in 1895 and 1897. The working of both was made over to the Indian Midland Railway Company by Agreements (Nos. XXVIII and XXIX) concluded in 1896. Full civil and criminal jurisdiction over these lines was ceded by the Darbar, but no formal agreement on this point was drawn up.

In 1894 the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company contemplated the construction of the Ujjain-Ratlam Railway and its extension to Delhi; and the Gwalior Darbar applied for permission to construct the line from Ujjain to Nagda. The Government of India had decided that the line should be constructed as an imperial railway, but, in deference to the wishes of the Maharaja, they acceded to the Darbar's request to own and pay for the railway, on the understanding that it should be constructed and worked by the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company. The Darbar ceded land for, and full civil and criminal jurisdiction* over, the line between Ujjain, Nagda and Ratlam; but no formal agreement was executed. The working of the Ujjain-Nagda section of the Ujjain-Ratlam Railway was handed over by the Gwalior Darbar to the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company under an Agreement (No. XXX) concluded in 1896. The Schedules to this Agreement were revised in 1903; and additions and alterations to the Agreement were made in 1915, 1919 and 1921.

In 1896 the cantonment of Sipri, with all its buildings, was made over to the Gwalior Darbar at a valuation of Rs. 50,000. In November of the same year the Estates of Raghunagar, Paton, Garha (Janner), Umri, Bhadaura, Dharnaoda, Sirsi, and the Chhabra pargana of the Tonk State, and the Bajranggarh district of the Gwalior State, formerly under the political control of the Officer Commanding the Central India Horse at Guna, were transferred to the charge of the Resident at Gwalior.

In the same year Maharaja Madho Rao Scindia placed his Transport Corps at the disposal of the Government of India for service on the North-West Frontier.

In 1898 British Currency was introduced in the Gwalior and Isagarh Prants. Imperial rupees are now current throughout the State; but the State still maintains a mint, and retains the right of coinage.

In the same year a fresh Postal Convention (No. XXXI) was concluded.

The extension of the Bina-Guna Railway to Baran had been sanctioned by the Government of India in 1896, the line running through the territories of the Gwalior and Tonk States. The Gwalior portion of the line was constructed at the cost of the Gwalior Darbar, while the Ghahbra section, which lies in Tonk territory, was constructed from funds advanced by the Maharaja of Gwalior to the Nawab of Tonk. The line was opened for public traffic in 1899, in which year full and exclusive power and jurisdiction of every kind were ceded by the Gwalior Darbar over the lands in that State which were, or might thereafter be, occupied by the line (No. XXXII). The line was worked by the Indian Midland Railway with whom Agreements were concluded by the Darbars of Gwalior (No. XXXIII) and Tonk (see Vol. III).

In 1900 the Maharaja placed at the disposal of the British Government 300 trained artillery horses for service in South Africa. In the same year an Agreement (No. XXXIV) was concluded, providing for the effective control and discipline of the Imperial Service Troops, maintained by the State, when serving beyond its frontier.

In September 1900 the Maharaja proceeded on field service to China. He subsequently placed at the disposal of the British Government a fully equipped Hospital Ship for the use of the sick and wounded of the China expeditionary forces, at an initial cost of 20 lakhs of rupees.

In 1897 the construction within the Gwalior State of two sections of the Gwalior Light Railway on the 2-foot gauge, one from Gwalior to Sipri and the other from Gwalior to Bhind, was sanctioned by the Government of India at the cost of the Gwalior Darbar. The question of jurisdiction over these lines is left in the hands of the Darbar so long as the lines remain isolated, but the Darbar have agreed to its cession in the event of its assumption by the British Government becoming necessary. The lines were worked by the Indian Midland Railway under an Agreement (No. XXXV) concluded in October 1900.

In 1901 sanction was accorded by the Government of India to the extension of the Gwalior Light Railway from Gwalior to Sabalgarh, on the same condition as that which applied to the line already opened; namely, that jurisdiction over the line should be retained by the Darbar so long as the line remained isolated, but that the Darbar should cede the jurisdiction, etc., whenever its assumption by the Government of India might become necessary. In 1904 an Agreement (No. XXXVI) was concluded with the Great Indian Peninsula Railway (with which the Indian Midland Railway had been amalgamated) for the working of the Gwalior Light Railway, including the Sabalgarh extension. In the same year the Darbar obtained sanction to the further extension of the line from Sabalgarh to Sheopur. In 1913 the Darbar took over the working of the whole of the Gwalior Light Railway.

In 1904 the Government of India accepted an offer by the Maharaja to increase his Imperial Service Troops by the addition of a regiment of cavalry, two battalions of infantry and a transport corps.

In 1905 the Tonk Darbar, finding themselves unable to refund the money advanced by Scindia in 1896 for the construction of the Chhabra section of the Guna-Baran Railway, concluded an Agreement (No. XXXVII) for its sale to the Gwalior Darbar. In the same year the Government of India decided to accept a contribution from the Gwalior Darbar towards the cost of constructing that portion of the Nagda-Muttar Railway which lies within Gwalior territory: and in February 1906 the Darbar ceded (No. XXXVIII) full and exclusive power and jurisdiction of every kind over the lands in the Gwalior State which were, or might thereafter be, occupied by the Nagda-Muttar Railway. In 1911 Supplementary Agreements (No. XXXIX) were concluded between the Gwalior Darbar and the Secretary of State, consequent on the dissolution of the Indian Midland Railway Company, for the working of the Bina-Guna, Guna-Baran (the portion in Tonk as well as that in Gwalior territory) and Ujjain-Bhopal Railways, through the agency of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway.

In 1910 the headquarters of the Bhopawar Agency were transferred from Sardarpur to Mampur, and that of the Malwa Bhil Corps to Indore. As a result of this arrangement Sardarpur was vacated and handed over to the Gwalior Darbar on the 29th November 1911. For the civil and military buildings the Darbar paid a sum of Rs. 1,26,597. In 1911 the Imperial Post Offices within the State, except those at the Gwalior Residency and Agar, were closed. The one at Agar was subsequently closed in October 1922.

In 1912 a Convention (No. XL) was concluded regarding the free exchange of postal service telegrams and telegraph service correspondence.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Maharaja placed his personal services and all the resources of the State at the disposal of the King Emperor. The whole of the Imperial Service Troops as well as a number of men from the Irregular Forces of the State served the Empire in different theatres of war.

The Maharaja Scindia offered and, with the help of a number of Indian Princes, organised the Hospital Ship "Loyalty". He also established and maintained, at the cost of his own State, a Convalescent Home at Nairobi.

The Darbar, besides arranging the postponement of payments due to them on account of State loans and other Treaty payments, advanced a fresh interest-free loan of 50 lakhs, and purchased 85 lakhs worth of War Bonds. Their total financial assistance is said to have amounted to nearly 234 lakhs.

In October 1914 an Agreement (No. XLI) between the Gwalior Darbar and the Great Indian Peninsula Railway was concluded for the joint use of the Gwalior Station. This Agreement was revised in 1923. In 1918 the permanent salute of the Ruler of Gwalior was raised to 21 guns.

In March 1921 the Government of India restored to the Gwalior Darbar suzerain rights over certain feudatories to whom the British Government, in the earlier part of the nineteenth Century, had guaranteed in perpetuity certain Estates and allowances. This restoration, which affected 43 Estates, was announced (No. XLII) by the Viceroy at a Darbar held at Delhi on the 14th March 1921. As a result of this settlement the Gwalior Darbar granted new perpetual Sanads to the 43 holders.

In October 1922 the Cantonments of Agar and Guna were vacated by the Central India Horse, and the area occupied by them was restored to the Darbar. At the same time an assurance was given that their transfer should not prejudice the existing treaty obligations of the British Government to assist the Maharaja, should occasion arise.

In 1924 certain extensions and realignments of the Gwalior Light Railway round Lashkar, Gwalior and Morar were carried out by the Darbar with the consent of the Government of India.

A revised Postal Convention (No. XLIII) was concluded in February 1925.

Maharaja Madho Rao Scindia died (in Paris, on his way to England) on the 5th June 1925. He was succeeded by his son the present Maharaja George Jivaji Rao Scindia, born in June 1916 and named, with His Majesty's consent, after King George V. During his minority the State is administered, in accordance with the wishes of the late Maharaja, by a Council of Administration with the Senior Maharani as President.

Opium cultivation in Malwa had received a severe blow from the extinction of the opium trade with China in 1913. In 1916 the Government of India had undertaken to purchase a part of the opium required for the Ghazipur factory from the Malwa States, and had agreed to take over at a fixed price, for a period of six years, the produce of specified areas to be cultivated under State control. In 1922 the terms were further extended for a period of six years, under a supplementary agreement terminable in 1927-28; but, owing to large over-deliveries, increasing accumulations and a shrinking demand, it became necessary to reduce production; and in 1924 the Government of India terminated the agreement, and in 1926 entered into a fresh Agreement (No. XLIV) for five years, reducing the Gwalior quota by fifty per cent.

II.—MEDIATISED ESTATES.1. AGRA BARKHERA.

The Thakur receives, under a Settlement (No. XLIX) made with Thakur Nirbhai Singh in 1818, a tanka of Rs. 300 from Kurwai through the Political Agent in Bhopal. He holds a grant of twelve villages in Scindia's territory and pays annually Rs. 1,001 as quit-rent direct to Scindia (No. I). The family also held the grant of twenty-eight villages in the Sirony district under British recognition; but these, as well as the grant from Scindia, were confiscated for the rebellion of Thakur Chhatar Sal in 1857. The sanads were lost during the rebellion; but copies of them were subsequently discovered, and these have been verified and acknowledged by the Gwalior Darbar (Nos. LI to LIV).

By Sanad No. LI the Thakur received three villages in jagir to defray his palaki expenses; by Sanad No. LII he received an annuity of Rs. 75 from three villages in the Shamsabad pargana; by Sanad No. LIII he received a tanka of Rs. 222 a year. Sanad No. LIV is a confirmation by Jankuji Rao Scindia of the grants made to the Thakur in the foregoing sanads by Daulat Rao Scindia.

The villages included in Scindia's territory were restored and re-granted by Government in July 1859 to Balwant Singh.

The Thakur pays the Gwalior Darbar a tanka of Rs. 2,502 for the guaranteed portion of the Estate.

The quit-rent for these villages is paid by the Thakur direct to the Gwalior Darbar.

Thakur Subhag Singh died in 1866, having adopted Raghunath Singh, a distant relative descended from a common ancestor. Doubts were expressed by Scindia as to the validity of the adoption; but enquiry showed that it was perfectly genuine. Raghunath Singh was therefore formally recognised as Thakur of Bagli by the British Government, on his paying to Scindia nazarana amounting to one-fourth of the net revenue of the fourteen guaranteed villages.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," Nos. 9 to 12 of Schedule No. III.

Raghunath Singh died in 1896, and was succeeded by his son Ranjit Singh. He died in 1923, leaving no son, and was succeeded by his step-brother the present Thakur Sajjan Singh.

The area of Bagli is 13,440 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 14,449; and the revenue Rs. 20,621.

Dhabla-Dhir and Kanakar-Kheri.

The Thakur holds (see second note to No. LXXVIII) a village in Shujawapur on a quit-rent of Rs. 1,050. Gopal Singh, who succeeded Gobardhan Singh in 1834, died in 1900, and was succeeded by his son Chand Singh. On his succession the quit-rent payable to the Gwalior Darbar was raised to Rs. 1,250; but in 1921 it was fixed at Rs. 1,097.

In 1902 the Gwalior Darbar objected to the establishment by the Thakur of a new hat in his Estate, and to his levying dues on goods brought to it; but, the Estate being guaranteed, the Government of India declined to interfere with the action of the Thakur.

The area of Dhabla-Ghosi is 3,950 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 556; and the revenue Rs. 3,625.

13. DHABLA-DHIR AND KANKAR-KHERI.*

The Thakur receives the following tankas: those from Gwalior he receives direct:—

From Scindia (No. LXXIII)	Rs. 2,500 (2,000 Ujjain Itai and 800 Bundi).
From Dewas (No. LXXIV)	100 (Ujjain and Indore Itai).
From Scindia (No. LXXV)	150 (Ujjain Itai).
From Bhopal (No. LXXVII)	600 (Bhopal).
From Holkar (No. LXXVIII)	600 (Indore Itai).
Total Rs.	4,250

In addition to these tankas the Thakur holds the Grant (No. LXXII), given in 1818, of three villages in Shujawapur (Gwalior) under the guarantee of the British Government, and paid a quit-rent of Rs. 1,401 up to 1921, when it was fixed at Rs. 1,428.

In 1818 Dhabla-Dhir and Kanakar-Kheri, which some years before had been jointly held by Gudar Singh, had become separated under his sons Subhag Singh and Lal Singh, the former being the founder of the Dhabla-Dhir branch. Subhag Singh, with whom the settlement was made in 1818, died in 1855, and was succeeded by his nephew and adopted son Raghunath Singh, whose brother Chand Singh succeeded to Kanakar-Kheri.

In 1871 Raghunath Singh was convicted of a criminal offence and sentenced to transportation for life. By his transportation the family of Subhag Singh became extinct, as sanction to adopt an heir was refused to his wives in consequence of their guilty cognizance of his crime. Government, however, did not treat the Estate as an escheat, but allowed it to descend in the same way as it would have done had Gudar Singh been alive. By this decision both branches of the family were united in the person of Chand Singh of Kanakar-Kheri.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 12 of Schedule No. II, and No. 29 of Schedule No. III.

The title of Chand Singh to the tanka of Rs. 600 a year, received by his predecessor Raghunath Singh, was questioned by Holkar on the ground that the tanka was a stipendiary service allowance; but Government decided that there was nothing in the said to Subhag Singh to justify that view and that, in pursuance of its general policy in respect to all guaranteed holdings, Government must be the judge whether the circumstances of any case allowed of forfeiture.

Chand Singh also held under an agreement (see third note to No. LXVIII), mediated in 1881 and guaranteed by the British Government, the village of Sadan-Kheri in Shujawalpur (Gwalior), on a quit-rent of Rs. 175, subject to a deduction of 2 per cent., or Rs. 3-8-0, on the transfer of the pargana to Scindia. Since 1898, however, Sadan-Kheri has been treated as a separate Jagir and is no longer held by the Thakur of Dhabla-Dhir.

A tanka of Rs. 800 (No. LXXVI) was formerly paid to the family of Subhag Singh. This agreement, which is signed by the British authorities, also recognises the grant of Kankar-Kheri to the family of Lal Singh.

Chand Singh died in 1907 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Ishwari Singh, who received the personal title of Rao Bahadur in 1913.

The area of Dhabla-Dhir and Kankar-Kheri is 7,937 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,481; and the revenue Rs. 4,438.

THE PINDARA JAGIRS.

On the settlement of Malwa, Rajan Khan, foster brother of Chitu the notorious Pindari, was allowed to settle at Gorakhpur on an annual pension of Sonat Rs. 3,600. A few years afterwards he was allowed to return to Malwa: and in 1826 his pension was commuted to an assignment (No. LXXIX) of land in Shujawalpur (Gwalior) for his life. The grant consisted of a jagir of three villages, Piplianagar, Khajuri and Jabria-Bhil, and an istimari farm of Dugri and Jabri at a rent for the two villages of Rs. 500. He was afterwards assured that, in consideration of his past good conduct and if he should continue by similar behaviour to merit the indulgence, the circumstances of his family would receive favourable consideration after his death.

In 1831 the pargana of eastern Shujawalpur, in which the villages granted to Rajan Khan are situated, was transferred by the Government of India to Scindia in exchange for other lands (see account of Gwalior State).

Rajan Khan died during the negotiations for the exchange; but the villages were continued in jagir to his family, and the Gwalior Dabdar was required to respect the grant. The villages were divided among Rajan Khan's five sons, the group of Estates being distinguished as the Pindara Jagirs.

(ii) KHERI-RAJPUTRA.

In 1839 Thakur Zalim Singh and Chhatar Singh, his brother, obtained from Seindia, as blood money, the village of Kheri-Rajputra (No. LXXXVII). This village was for some time held conjointly by Chain Singh, grandson of Zalim Singh, and Khuman Singh, son of Chhatar Singh; but disputes arose between them and the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India ordered that Khuman Singh should undertake the entire management of the village during his lifetime, on condition of paying to Chain Singh his share, namely Rs. 350 annually, free of all charges. Khuman Singh was held responsible for the payment of all dues, etc., in connection with the village; and it was determined that, on the death of either Khuman Singh or Chain Singh, fresh arrangements for the disposal of the property should be made. Chain Singh died in 1896, but the arrangement regarding the village was not disturbed. Khuman Singh died in 1905, and was succeeded by his grandson Ram Singh, who was permitted to retain the management of the village. He died in 1918 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Balbhadra Singh. As regards the management of the village, * Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 19 of Schedule No. II.

The conditions are the same as in the Jawasia sanads (see Vol. IV, Malwa.)

Besides the above tankas the Thakur holds in quit-rent tenure (No. XCII) the villages of Narwar, Machakhari and Gumri under Scindia, for which he pays Rs. 7,000 a year.

Achal Singh was the Thakur with whom the settlement was made. He was succeeded by Hamir Singh, and he by his son Raghunath Singh, in 1882. He died in 1899, and was succeeded by his brother, Man Singh, who died in 1919 and was succeeded by his son the present Rao Madho Singh.

At the time of Man Singh's succession the Gwalior Darbar raised the question of the Thakur's right to the villages of Narwar, Gumri and Machakhari, on the ground that the parwana, with which Captain Borthwick, Political Agent in Mehidpur, forwarded in 1830, to Thakur Tachman Singh and his son Hamir Singh, the patta granted for these villages, did not amount to a guarantee; and that the patta itself was merely a lease for the lives for the grantees. The Government of India decided that the villages should be considered as guaranteed.

The area of Narwar is 10,240 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 2,065; and the revenue about Rs. 17,500.

29. NANGAON.†

The Thakur receives (see note to No. LXI) a tanka of Rs. 114 from Scindia.

Bharat Singh was Thakur when the settlement was mediated. He was succeeded by his son Zalim Singh, who died in 1901, and was succeeded by his son Onkar Singh, who died in 1920 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Bapu Singh.

30. NAULANA.*

The Thakur of Naulana receives the following tankas:—

Rs.
1,570 (Hall).	From Scindia (see note to No. LXI).
1,650 (Hall).	From Holkar† (No. XCIV)
Total Rs. 3,220

Hate Singh, the Thakur with whom the settlement was mediated, was succeeded by his brother Padam Singh, and he by his son Raj Singh, who died in 1873 and was succeeded by his son Bhagoti Singh. He died in 1884 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Prithi Singh.

31. PARON.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century Raja Madho Singh of Narwar, whose ancestors were established at Narwar before the Marhatta invasion of Central India, was driven out and deprived of his hereditary possessions by Daulat Rao Scindia: and, in retaliation, made frequent raids into Scindia's territories. With the object of putting a stop to these, a grant (No. XCV) of the pargana of Paron and six villages was made to Raja Madho Singh in 1818, through the mediation of Major J. Stewart, acting Resident at Gwalior, under the guarantee of the British Government.

Man Singh, nephew and successor of Madho Singh, joined the rebels during the mutiny, but surrendered in 1859 on condition of a free pardon and a suitable maintenance being granted to him. His former possessions were consequently restored to him under the same conditions as before his rebellion, i.e., under British guarantee. For his subsequent services in connection with the capture of Tautia Topi, a jagir in perpetuity, of the value of Rs. 1,000 a year, was sanctioned for Man Singh; but, as no land was available in the United Provinces, where he wished to obtain the grant of a village, he received a cash allowance of Rs. 1,000 a year instead.

Man Singh died in 1882 and was succeeded by his son Gajendra Singh.

The Gwalior Darbar claimed the right of being consulted in regard to the succession, on the ground that the British guarantee had lapsed in consequence of Man Singh's rebellion and the confiscation of his estate, and also on the grounds of custom and precedent. The Government of India, however, held that the arrangements made with Man Singh in 1859 had the effect of preserving the British guarantee; and accordingly determined that, in the particular case, as the succession was one of direct descent and the legitimacy of Gajendra Singh was not in dispute, the Maharaja was not entitled, as of right, to be consulted. It was at the same time intimated that, with this understanding, the Government of India would not object to the attendance of a Darbar official at the ceremony of installation.

Gajendra Singh died in 1898 and was succeeded by his elder son Mahindra Singh. He died in 1927, and was succeeded by his infant son, the present Raja Ganga Singh. The Estate is managed by the Gwalior State Court of Wards.

The area of Paron is 72,320 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 7,088; and the revenue Rs. 21,200.

32. PATHARIA.

In 1839 Bhim Singh, brother of Zalim Singh of Karaudia, obtained the village of Patharia in the pargana of Uchaud from Sambhaji Rao Angria on a quit-rent of Rs. 701 (No. XCVII). The Thakur is bound to render service and to pay the quit-rent in two instalments. Raghunath Singh, who succeeded his father Onkar Singh in 1884, died in 1900 and was succeeded by his adopted son the present Thakur Rai Singh.

This Thakur also receives a tankha (No. XCVI) of Rs. 66-8 from Holkar.

The area of Patharia is 22,297 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 465; and the revenue Rs. 1,734.

33. PIPLIA.

The Piplia Thakur receives direct from the Darbars concerned, the following tankas :—

Partab Singh was the Thakur with whom the original settlement was mediated. He was succeeded by Hate Singh, and he by Onkar Singh, who died in 1879 and was succeeded by his son Achal Singh. He died in 1906 and was succeeded by his son, Pratap Singh, who died in 1920 and was succeeded by his brother, the present Thakur Madan Singh.

34. PIPLANAGAR.

(See under 18. Jabria-Bhil.)

35. RAGHUNAGAR.

The Chauhan Rajputs of Raghunagar are known by the name of Khichi, and are one of the oldest families in Malwa. In 1780 Madhaji Scindia stripped the family of their possessions and imprisoned the Raja, Balwant Singh, and his son Jai Singh. From that time there was perpetual feud between Scindia and the Khichi clan, till Jai Singh died in 1818, leaving his title to be disputed by two claimants, Dhaukal Singh and Ajit Singh. With these claimants a Settlement (No. CI) was made in 1819, through the mediation and under the guarantee of the British Government, by which Scindia gave them the fort and town of Raghunagar and lands in their vicinity, supposed to yield an annual revenue of Rs. 1,42,848-8, with a provision that any revenue derived from these lands which exceeded Rs. 55,000 should be paid to the Gwalior Darbar who, on their part, were to make good any deficiency. The Jagir never yielded so much as Rs. 55,000, and the result was that an annual balance was shown against Scindia, which was advanced to the Khichis from the British treasury. Up to 1828 the Darbar paid these balances; but thereafter they demurred, on the grounds that, if the Jagir were properly managed, it would yield more than Rs. 55,000, and that the Khichis realised more revenue than was credited in the accounts.

The matter was complicated by disputes in the family: and at last, in 1843, with the consent and by the mediation of the British Government, it was arranged that the original agreement should be replaced by separate engagements with the three principal members of the family—Bijai Singh, Thakur Chhatarsal and Ajit Singh. The Darbar, on granting these fresh sanads, stipulated for the payment of a nazarana of Rs. 30,000, to which Bijai Singh and Chhatarsal consented.

(2) GARHA.

A Sanad (see Note to No. CIT) was accordingly granted to Bijai Singh, by which he received 52 villages yielding Rs. 15,000 selected from the Khichiwara lands and the right to certain collections specified in the sanad. The Jagir is known as the Garha Estate.

Bijai Singh died in 1880 and was succeeded by his son, Balbhadar Singh, who died in 1900 and was succeeded by his son Dhirat Singh. He died in 1920 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Gaj Singh, during whose minority the Estate is managed by the Gwalior State Court of Wards.

Raghugarh.

The area of Garha is 82,560 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 10,008; and the revenue Rs. 33,130.

(ii) DHARNAODA.

Chhatarsal also received a Sanad (No. CII), to which the one granted to the Garha Chief was similar, by which he was given 32 villages yielding Rs. 9,000 and the right to certain collections specified in the Sanad. Chhatarsal was succeeded by Mangal Singh, and he by Bharat Singh, who died in 1877 and was succeeded by his son, Bhim Singh. In 1896 the Thakur ceded land for the Guna-Baran Railway free of compensation.

Bhim Singh died in 1925 and was succeeded by his grandson, the present Thakur Bhupendra Singh, during whose minority the Estate is managed by a Superintendent under the Gwalior State Court of Wards. The area of Dharnaoda is 35,200 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 4,950; and the revenue about Rs. 12,000.

(iii) RAGHUGARH.

A sanad similar to the two last mentioned (No. CII) was offered to Ajit Singh on condition that he abstained from plundering, and paid up the arrears of debt which he owed to the Gwalior Darbar; but he showed himself so faithless, and advanced claims so impracticable that negotiations with him were suspended, and it was contemplated at one time to employ the Gwalior Contingent to reduce him to submission. The villages comprising the Estate are not held under any sanad but merely on the strength of the original Agreement (No. CI). In 1857 Ajit Singh was succeeded by Jaimandal Singh. In 1896 the Raja of Raghugarh ceded, free of cost, land for the Guna-Bina Railway.

Jaimandal Singh died in 1900, leaving a son, Bikramajit Singh who, as he was considered unfit to rule the Estate, was set aside. He was, however, allowed to adopt Madrup Singh, a near relative, as his son to succeed Jaimandal Singh. Bikramajit Singh died in 1905. Madrup Singh, who assumed the name of Bahadur Singh after his adoption, was installed in 1904. He became insane and was removed from his holding in 1918. During the minority of his son the present Raja Balbhadra Singh, the Estate has been placed under the Gwalior State Court of Wards.

The area of Raghugarh is 151,680 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 18,276; and the revenue Rs. 60,400.

36. RAMGARH.*

Under a settlement made in 1819 the Thakur of Ramgarh receives the following tankas:—

Rs.		Total Rs.
From Holkar (No. CIII)	1,000 (Indore Hall).	.	8,615
Scindia (No. CVI)	5,000 (Ujjain Hall and Bundi).	.
"	(No. CVII)	.
"	(See Note to No. LXIX)	.
Dewas (No. CV)	100 (Ujjain and Indore Hall).	.
" Bhopal (No. CIV)	700 (Bhopal).	.

The Dewas State deducts one rupee from its tanka. The original tankadar was Khushal Singh. His son Isri Singh was succeeded by an adopted son, Kumer Singh, who was convicted of murder and forfeited his tanka. It was continued, however, to his adoptive mother Thakurain Solanki, till her death in 1863, when Man Singh, son of Kumer Singh, was recognised as her successor.

Man Singh died in 1915 and was succeeded by his nephew and adopted son, the present Thakur Tej Singh.

37. SADAN-KHERI.

Thakur Tal Singh, who held the village of Sadan-Kheri for life, in addition to Kanakar-Kheri (see Dhabla-Dhir and Kanakar-Kheri), from Scindia under an Agreement (see note to No. LXVIII) mediated and guaranteed by the British Government, died in 1865. The Gwalior Dabbar resumed the village; but in 1879, owing to the intervention of the Agent to the Governor-General, granted it by a sanad to Tal Singh's son Mahab Singh for life, on a quit-rent of Rs. 1,000. On the death of Mahab Singh in 1898, the question of the status of the Thakur was referred to the Government of India; who ruled that, although the istamari sanad granted to Mahab Singh in 1879 was for life only, and the rent was liable to enhancement by the Dabbar at each succession, yet the right of inheritance and protection was covered by British guarantee, and the Dabbar could neither resume nor assess at full rates. In accordance with this ruling Mahab Singh was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Jaswant Singh; and in 1905, with the consent of the Government of India, the quit-rent was increased to Rs. 1,050, in 1921 it was paid at Rs. 1,141.

The area of Sadan-Kheri is 1,280 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 215 and the revenue about Rs. 2,000.

Sheogarah.

38. SARWAN.

Gopal Singh,* Thakur of Sarwan, originally held of Lachman Singh, Jagirdar of Sonkhera, 455 bighas of land in inam for service, and another village (Baraila) for which was paid a tanka of Rs. 500. Lachman Singh wished to resume the village and the bighas of land, as there was no service required to be performed; it was accordingly settled in 1820 (No. CVIII) that Gopal Singh should pay Rs. 500 for the village and Rs. 200 for the land, also a batta of 12½ per cent on the above amount.

Gopal Singh† also held in perpetual jagir Sakatkeri‡ (No. CIX) from the Jagirdar of Mandawar, for services rendered, paying an annual tribute of Rs. 500. The arrangement was that Gopal Singh should render military service, when required, for this jagir. Eventually it was agreed that, in lieu of this service, he should pay the Jagirdar an additional annual tribute of Rs. 300, or Rs. 800 in all.

Man Singh, son of Gopal Singh, died in 1887, and was succeeded by his son Amar Singh, who died in 1902 and was succeeded by Raghunath Singh. He died in 1921 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Mahinder Singh.

Mutation of Thakur Mahinder Singh's name in respect of village Baraila and 455 bighas of land in Manza Ranigaon was sanctioned by the Gwalior Darbar in 1925, subject to the condition that the tanka of Rs. 300 per annum paid by the Thakur to the Jagirdar of Sonkhera would be paid to the Gwalior Darbar in future. The Darbar undertook to grant a cash muafi of Rs. 300 per annum to the Jagirdar of Sonkhera.

In 1909 the claims of Ratlam, Jaora and Piproda to the Gwalior Darbar were rejected by the Agent to the Governor-General. It was held that the lands belonged to Sarwan under the Sarwan Ratanam.

The area of Sarwan is 71 square miles; the population in the Census of 1921, 5,545; and the revenue Rs. 11,125.

39. SHEOGARH.

The Sheogarah Thakur receives, direct from the following tankas:—

Sahib Singh, the Thakur with whom the settlement was mediated, died in 1866, and was succeeded by his son Moti Singh, who in 1919 was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Ranjit Singh.

40. TAPPA.

This Estate, which consists of twelve villages in the Gwalior pargana of Sonkach, was granted (No. CXI) by Daulat Rao Scindia in 1822 to Thakur Rup Singh, Girasia of Tappa, under a mediation effected by Major Henley, the Political Agent in Bhopal, through the offices of Major Close, the Resident at Gwalior.

The Estate continued in the possession of the family of the original grantee till the death in 1865, without issue, of his last surviving descendant, Kishor Singh. The mother and widow of Kishor Singh then proposed the adoption of his distant relative Takht Singh as heir to the Jagir. The Gwalior Darbar concurred, on condition that the adopted heir should pay to the Darbar the prescribed nazrana of one-fourth of the net revenue of the Estate. The succession of Takht Singh was thereupon recognised by Government, and the Estate was made over to him in 1877. Takht Singh died in 1900 and was succeeded by his son the present Thakur Bhim Singh.

The area of Tappa is 9,515 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,127; and the revenue about Rs. 7,000.

41. TONK.

(For account see Vol. IV, Malwa.)

42. THALERIA.*

The Thakur of Thaleria receives from Scindia a tanka (see note to No. XC) of Tali Rs. 1,200, which was originally granted to Patch Singh, and a moiety of Rs. 225 a year granted by the Chief of Dewas, Senior Branch, under Sanad (No. LXXXIX) to the Thakur of Kharsia (q. v.). In all the conditions of his tanka he holds the same position as his kinsman of Kharsia. Fate Singh, who succeeded in 1884, died in 1895 and was succeeded by his son, Bhawan Singh, who died in 1918 leaving no son, real or adopted. In 1920 the Gwalior Darbar, with the sanction of the Government of India, recognised the succession of his cousin, the present Thakur Nathu Singh.

43. SIRSI.

Daulat Rao Scindia at first granted three-fourths of the revenue of the taluka of Sirsi to Bharat Shah in 1820, on condition that he would pay into the Gwalior treasury the remaining one-fourth, and honestly discharge the duties entrusted to him by reducing the Girsās and others to obedience. In 1838 a fresh Sanād (No. CXII) was granted to Dewan Hindū Singh of Sirsī by Rānkujī Rāo Scindia, by which the payment of one-fourth of the revenue of the district to the Dabār was remitted with certain conditions, and the Dewan agreed to provide thirty sowars and seventy footmen, when required, without pay for the first three months; but the Dabār afterwards dispensed with the fulfilment of this condition. In 1910, however, the Dabār revived the question of the supply of sowars and footmen on their requisition; but the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India advised them to leave matters as they were, unless and until the contingency contemplated arose—the need for aid in suppressing local disturbances. At the same time the Dabār claimed one-fourth of the revenue of the Estate; and in this respect he held that the claim was justified by the Sanād of 1837, and decided that, with effect from 1910-11, the Dabār should receive a fourth share of the revenue of the Estate when it exceeds Rs. 4,000 a year.

Hindū Singh was succeeded by Bīkrāmājī, who died in 1872, when the succession of his son Bijai Bahadur was recognised. He died in 1891, leaving no sons.

The succession of his younger brother Mīrthān Singh was sanctioned by the Government of India. He was also direct heir of the late Chief, being a lineal descendant of the original grantee. No nazārana was taken on this occasion, either by the Government of India or by the Gwalior Dabār.

Mīrthān Singh died in 1901, when his son Jiwān Singh (formerly known as Jughmohan Singh) was acknowledged as his successor by the Government of India. (On this occasion also no nazārana was levied.

Jiwān Singh died in 1918; and, his widow having failed to exercise her right of adoption, the claims to succession of the present Dewan Rāncham Singh, the legal heir, were recognised. During his minority the Estate is managed by the Gwalior State Court of Wards.

The area of Sirsī is 72,960 acres; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 3,019; and the revenue about Rs. 12,000.

This is to certify, that as the Governor-General and Council have of their own free will and accord, and on behalf of the Company, conferred upon me their entire right to the two shares of the fort, city, and pergunnah of Baroach, I have therefore accepted of the same, and will retain them always in my own possession. And

I hereby agree that the English shall carry on trade as usual in the said city and pergunnah and no improper molestation shall be offered to them; and also, I will not permit any other European nation excepting the English to trade in any shape in the said city and pergunnah.

No. III.

Treaty with MAHARAJAH MADHO RAO SINDIA, relative to the HONOURABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY'S TRADE at BAROACH, dated the 30th September 1785.

Whereas a Sannud, bearing date the seventeenth day of Rubeec-oos-sance of the year one thousand one hundred and ninety-seven of the Hegira, corresponding with the twenty-first day of March, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three of the Christian era, was granted by Maharajah Soubadar Aladho Rao Sindhia, declaring that the English should carry on trade as usual in the city and pergunnah of Baroach, and that no improper molestation should be offered to them, the said Sannud specifying also that no European nation excepting the English should be permitted to trade in any shape in the said city and pergunnah; and whereas, in the said Sannud, the particulars of the duties, etc., to be taken and the settlement of concerns of trade were omitted, and doubts have arisen on these subjects, which Maharajah Soubadar Aladho Rao Sindhia is willing to remove: For this purpose, and to support the English trade in the city and pergunnah of Baroach, We, the Governor-General and Council of Fort William in Bengal, appointed by the King and Parliament of Great Britain to direct and control all political affairs of the Honourable English East India Company in India, on the one part, and Maharajah Aladho Rao Sindhia Bahadoor on the other part, agree to the following Treaty containing seven Articles, and bind ourselves and successors to the full and inviolable observance of them.

ARTICLE I.

Maharajah Soubadar Rao Sindia Bahadoor agrees that in every year in which the English Company carry on trade in the district of Baroach, the value thereof shall be taken according to the Treaty with the Nizam of Hyderabad in the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty-four: that is to say, in the cotton which is purchased from Baroach, on every hundred bales, one and a half Rupees and four felloos shall be paid, and the balance of the which are imported or exported by the Company shall be paid, and the balance of the for every hundred Rupees; and besides these articles, whatever other articles come from Baroach to the English Company in trade, whatever other articles come from Baroach to the English Company in trade, a duty of six Rupees in every hundred bales shall be paid.

existed when the Company had possession of Baroach. The Governor-General and Council agree that the English shall not unite any Hindostanee in their trade, and that in case of such partnership, such duties shall be paid thereon as are paid upon the commerce of the merchants wearing turbans. The Governor-General and Council consent that the duties stipulated to be paid upon the Company's trade shall be paid by the Company's Resident at Baroach to the Amil of that district.

ARTICLE 2.

It has been the old established custom, on the wreck of any ship, vessel or boats within any of the ports in the neighbourhood of Baroach, that the owner of the port should take possession of the goods; but as at this time a firm friendship exists between the government of the English Company and Maharajah Soubadar Rao Sindia Bahadoor, the Governor-General and Council have requested that the goods of the ships, vessels, and boats of the English that may be wrecked in the river of Baroach, may be released and Maharajah Soubadar Rao Sindia Bahadoor agrees, for the sake of friendship, that when any ship, vessel, or boat belonging to the English shall be wrecked in the river Nerbudda which belongs to the district of Baroach, and the Amil of Baroach may save any goods which bear the mark of the English, the Amil shall deliver all such goods to the Company's Resident at Baroach, who shall reimburse the amount expended in saving and keeping them.

ARTICLE 3.

Some disputes having arisen between the English and subjects of the Maharajah belonging to the fort of Baroach, in respect to the time of passing into the fort and out of it, it is now agreed, and the Maharajah has directed, that at the times when it is customary that the gate should remain open, the people belonging to the Amil of Baroach shall not prevent the going and coming of the English or their dependants, but that the gate shall be shut at the appointed hour, and none of the English or their dependants shall have any right to enter the fort, or go out of it, after that time. The English are not then to desire that the gate may be opened for them, not even to give intelligence of the arrival of any ship that may come into the port at night.

ARTICLE 4.

Maharajah Soubadar Rao Sindia Bahadoor engages that the servants of the English factory, and their household attendants, and the tradesmen such as carpenters or smiths, or porters who work in the Company's factory, and do not work anywhere but in the factory, shall be under the protection of the Resident at Baroach, and the Amil of Baroach shall in no manner molest them for duties or customs, etc. And when any crime committed or supposed to have been committed, by any such persons, shall be discovered, the Amil of Baroach shall send notice to the Company's Resident that he may examine and pass judgment upon such persons, or the Company's Resident shall send back such persons to the Amil, that whatever is proper in the case may be done by him; and the Governor-General and Council agree that when any tradesmen, etc., working in the Company's factory, shall go into the town of Baroach, and work also with other merchants and townsmen, the Amil of Baroach shall take the duties for such tradesmen, etc., according to the practice now in use with respect to the persons not working for the English only. For the sake of obviating any disputes that might occur on this point, the Company's Resident at Baroach shall prepare a list of the servants of the factory, with their descriptions and stations, and deliver it to the Amil.

ARTICLE 5.

The Governor-General and Council agree that the Company's Resident at Baroach shall not afford protection to any person of the town who may fly from the Amil and resort to the Resident for it, but shall, conformably to friendship, deliver up such person to the Amil.

ARTICLE 6.

It is agreed that the Resident at Baroach shall not entertain more sepoyes than the number necessary for the protection of the English property in the factory, which number has been fixed at fifty men. It is also agreed that the English in future shall not beat the drum in the factory, as is the custom in the Company's districts. Such persons as may be in the train or sowaree of the Resident may have distinguishing badges, but are not to carry muskets.

ARTICLE 7.

Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor engages in respect to the debts recently incurred by the inhabitants of Baroach to the Company's subjects, or such as may be incurred in future and not duly paid, that the Amil of Baroach shall examine the claim in the kuteheree of his own Adawlut, and enforce the payment of whatever may be proved to be just; and in respect to the debts which were owing from the inhabitants of Baroach to the Company's subjects at the time when Baroach was given to Madhaje Sindia, the Amil shall ascertain whatever may be due, and if the debtor be in good circumstances, he shall force him to pay immediately; if not in good circumstances, he shall fix on proper periods of payment by instalment, and oblige the observance of them.

The parties mutually swear, according to their respective faiths, to abide by this agreement.

Dated the twenty-fifth day of Zilkad, one thousand one hundred and ninety-nine of the Hegira, corresponding with the thirtieth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-five.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE to the foregoing TREATY, dated the 9th January 1786.

Whereas in the first Article of the Treaty concluded between the Honourable Company and Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, relative to the trade and other matters of the town and pergunnah of Baroach, it is specified that in every year in which the English Company carry on trade in the district of Baroach, the duties thereon shall be taken according to the treaty with the Nawab of Baroach, in one thousand seven hundred and sixty four, that is to say, on the cotton which is purchased from Baroach, on every candy of Surat weight, one and a half Rupee and four felloos shall be paid and the duty on other articles, which are imported or exported by the Company, shall be one Rupee eight annas for every hundred Rupees. And whereas the extent of the Company's trade at Baroach, in respect to the weight of cotton and the amount of piece goods was not exactly known to either of the parties, and the specification of the same was required by Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, the Governor-General and Council of Bengal, in compliance with the wishes of Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, having written to the Governor and Council of Bombay on this subject, and ascertained the annual trade of the Honourable Company at Baroach to consist of eight hundred candies of cotton of Surat weight, and piece goods to the amount of one lakh and fifty thousand Rupees, prime cost; it is therefore mutually agreed to, that for every candy of cotton to the amount of eight hundred candies the Honourable Company shall pay a duty of one and a half Rupee and four felloos; and for piece goods to the amount of one lakh and fifty thousand Rupees, prime cost, a duty shall be taken of one Rupee eight annas for every hundred Rupees; and that if ever a greater quantity of cotton or piece goods than what is here specified shall be purchased on account of the Honourable Company, they shall pay the same duty for such excess as has been settled with regard to English individuals.

Signed by Maharajah Sindia, at Bursana on the 7th of Rubee-ool-Awal, in the year 1200 of the Hegira, corresponding with the 9th of January 1786.

TREATY OF ALLIANCE with DOWLAT RAO SINDIA,—1804.

Treaty of Alliance and Mutual Defence between the Honourable the English East India Company and the Maharajah Ali Jan Dowut Rao Sindia Bahadoor, and his children, heirs and successors, settled by Major John Alacorn, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Bapoo Beroo Dowut and Moonshee Kavel Nyn, on the part of the Maharajah Dowut Rao Sindia, after having communicated to each other their full powers, the said John Alacorn being deputed to the Court of Dowut Rao Sindia by Major General the Honourable Arthur Wellesley; the Honourable Major-General aforesaid being invested with full powers and authority from His Excellency the Most Noble Richard, Marquis Wellesley, Knight of the Most Illustrious Order of Saint Patrick, one of His Britannic Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, appointed by the Honourable Court of Directors of the said Company to direct and control all their affairs in the East Indies.

Whereas, by the blessing of God, the relations of friendship and union have been happily established between the Government of the Honourable Company and that of the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia Bahadur by a recent Treaty of Peace, the two Governments aforesaid, adverting to the complexion of the times have now determined, with a view to the preservation of peace and tranquillity to enter into this Treaty of general defensive alliance, for the reciprocal protection of their respective territories, together with those of their several allies and dependants, against unprovoked aggression and encroachments of all or any enemies whatever.

ARTICLE 1.

The friendship and union established by the former Treaty between the two states shall be promoted and increased by this Treaty, and shall be perpetual :

the friends and enemies of either State shall be the friends and enemies of both, and their mutual interests shall henceforward be inseparable.

ARTICLE 2.

If any person or State whatever shall commit any act of unprovoked hostility or aggression against either of the contracting parties, and, after due representation, shall refuse to enter into amicable explanation, or shall deny the just satisfaction or indemnity which the contracting parties shall have required, then the contracting parties will proceed to concert and prosecute such further measures as the case shall appear to demand. For the more distinct explanation of the true intent and effect of this Article, the Governor-General in Council, in behalf of the Honourable Company, hereby declares that the British Government will never permit any power or State whatever to commit with impunity any act of unprovoked hostility or aggression against the rights and territories of the Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia, but will, at all times, in compliance with the requisition of the Maharajah, maintain and defend the same, when such requisition is made, in the like manner as the rights and territories of the Honourable Company are now maintained and defended.

ARTICLE 3.

With a view to fulfil this Treaty of mutual defence, the Maharajah agrees to receive, and the Honourable East India Company to furnish, a subsidiary force of not less than six thousand regular infantry, with the usual proportion of artillery, and with the proper equipment of warlike stores and ammunition. This force is to be stationed at such place near the frontier of Dowlat Rao Sindia as may hereafter be deemed most eligible by the British Government, and it will be held in readiness at such station to proceed as soon as possible for the execution of any service on which it is liable to be employed by the condition of this Treaty.

ARTICLE 4.

And it is further agreed that in conformity to the stipulations of the fifteenth Article of the Treaty of Peace, concluded by Major-General Wellesley, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Bapoo Ketul, Moonshee Kavel Nyn, &c., on the part of Maharajah All Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia, that all charges and expenses of the six battalions above-mentioned and of their ordnance, artillery, military stores, and equipment shall be defrayed by the Honourable Company out of the produce of the revenues of the territories ceded by the Maharajah All Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia to the said Company, by the second, third, and fourth Articles of the aforementioned Treaty of Peace, which territories are specified in a statement annexed to that Treaty.

ARTICLE 5.

Grain and all other articles of consumption, and provisions, and all sorts of materials for wearing apparel, together with the necessary number of cattle, horses, and camels, required for the use of the subsidiary force, shall, whenever the aforethey will, on no occasion, ever afford encouragement, support, or protection, to any of the Maharajah's relations, dependants, chiefs, or servants, who may eventually act in opposition to the Maharajah's authority, but, on the contrary, at the requisition of the Maharajah, they will aid and assist to punish and reduce all such offenders to obedience : and it is further agreed that no officer of the Honourable Company shall ever interfere in the internal affairs of the Maharajah's government.

ARTICLE 9.

As the chief object and design of the present defensive alliance is the security and protection of the dominions of the contracting parties, and their allies and dependants, from all attack whatsoever, the Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia engages never to commit any act of hostility or aggression against any State or Chief in alliance with the Honourable Company, or against any other principal State or power ; and in the event of differences arising, whatever adjustment the Company's Government, weighing matters in the scale of truth and justice, may determine, shall meet his full approbation and acquiescence.

ARTICLE 10.

The contracting parties will employ all practicable means of conciliation to prevent the calamity of war, and for that purpose will, at all times, be ready to enter into amicable explanations, with other principal States or powers, and to cultivate and improve the general relations of peace and amity with all the principal powers of India, according to the true spirit and tenor of this Treaty ; but if a war should unfortunately break out between the contracting parties and any other State or power whatever, then the Maharajah Ali Jahn Dowlat Rao Sindia Bahadur engages that the English force, consisting of six battalions, with their guns, etc., joined by a detachment of his army, consisting of six thousand of the Maharajah's infantry, and ten thousand of his Paghah and Sillahdar cavalry, which force the Maharajah engages always to keep ready, shall be immediately put in motion for the purpose of opposing the enemy : and the Maharajah also engages to employ every further effort for the purpose of bringing into the field the whole force which he may be able to supply from his dominions, with a view to the effectual prosecution and speedy termination of the said war. The Honourable Company, in the same manner, engage on their part (on such event occurring) to employ in active operations against the enemy as large a force as the services may require, over and above the said subsidiary force.

ARTICLE 11.

Whenever war shall appear probable the Maharajah Ali Jahn Dowlat Rao Sindia engages to collect as many Binjaries as possible, and to store as much grain as may be practicable in the frontier garrisons. The Company's Government also, with a view to the effectual prosecution of the war, engages to supply, either measures in their frontier garrisons.

ARTICLE 12.

The contracting parties entertain no views or conquests of extension of their respective dominions, nor any intention of proceeding to hostilities against any State or principal power, unless in the case of unjust and unprovoked aggression, and after the failure of their joint endeavours to obtain reasonable satisfaction, through the channel of pacific negotiation, according to the tenor of the preceding Treaty. If, contrary to the spirit and object of this defensive Treaty, war with any State should hereafter appear unavoidable (which God avert), the contracting parties will proceed to adjust the rule of partition of all such advantages and acquisitions as may eventually result from the success of their united arms. It is declared that in the event of war and of a consequent partition of conquests between the contracting parties, the shares of each Government shall be equal, in the division of any territory which may be acquired by the successful exertions of their united arms, provided that each of the contracting parties shall have faithfully fulfilled all the stipulations of this Treaty.

ARTICLE 13.

The interests of the contracting parties being identified by this defensive alliance, it is agreed that the Honourable Company's Government shall be at liberty to employ the whole or any part of the subsidiary force established by the Treaty in the quelling of any disturbances which may arise within their territories, or in the performance of any other service which may be required by the said Honourable Company's Government, provided such service shall not interfere with any other duties on which the said subsidiary force is liable to be employed under the conditions of this Treaty. And if disturbances shall at any time break out in any part of the Maharajah's dominions which lays contiguous to the frontier of the Honourable Company, and to which it might be inconvenient to detach any portion of the subsidiary force, the British Government, in like manner, if required by Dowlut Rao Sindia, shall direct such of the Company's troops as may be most conveniently stationed for the purpose, to assist in quelling the said disturbances within the Maharajah's dominions; and if disturbances shall at any time break out in any part of the dominions of the British Government which lays contiguous to the frontier of the Maharajah, the Maharajah, if required by the British Government, shall direct such of his troops as may be most conveniently stationed for the purpose, to assist in quelling the said disturbances within the dominions of the British Government.

ARTICLE 14.

In order to strengthen and confirm the friendship established between the two States; it is agreed that neither of the two contracting parties shall enter into any alliance, or have any concern with the tributaries or chiefs of the other; and, in order to support the independent authority of both Governments, it is agreed and declared, that hereafter neither of the contracting parties will give protection or countenance to the rebellious tributaries and subjects of the other,

No. VI.

Treaty with DOWLAT RAO SINDIA, with the Declaratory Article annexed,—1805.
 DEFINITIVE TREATY OF AMITY and ALLIANCE between the HONOURABLE ENGLISH
 EAST INDIA COMPANY and the MAHARAJAH ALI JAN DOWLAT RAO SINDIA
 BAHADOOR, and his children, heirs and successors.

Whereas various doubts and misunderstandings have arisen respecting the clear meaning and interpretation of parts of the Treaty of Peace concluded between the British Government and DOWLAT RAO SINDIA, at SURJEE ANJENGAM, on the 30th December 1803, with a view of doing away all such doubts, and of preventing the recurrence in future of any misunderstanding, this definitive Treaty of amity and alliance is concluded between the two States by Lieutenant-Colonel JOHN MALCOLM, acting under the immediate direction and superintendence of the Right Honourable General Gerard Lake, Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's and the Honourable Company's Forces, &c., &c., and vested with full powers and authority from the Honourable Sir George Hillaro Barlow, Baronet, appointed by the Honourable Court of Directors of the said Company to control and direct all their affairs in the East Indies, and Moonshie Kavel Nyn, vested with full powers and authority, on the part of the said Maharajah DOWLAT RAO SINDIA.

ARTICLE 1.

Every part of the Treaty of Peace concluded by General Sir Arthur Wellesley, K.B., at SURJEE ANJENGAM, except what may be altered by this engagement, is to remain binding upon the two States.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honourable Company can never acknowledge that DOWLAT RAO SINDIA has any claim or right, grounded on the Treaty of SURJEE ANJENGAM, to possess the fort of Gwalior or the territories of Gohud; but, from considerations of friendship, it agrees to cede to the Maharajah that fortress, and such parts of the territory of Gohud as are described in the accompanying Schedule.

ARTICLE 3.

As a compensation for this cession, and to remunerate the English Government for the annual expense incurred in supporting the Rana of Gohud, DOWLAT RAO SINDIA agrees, on his own part and that of his Sirdars, to relinquish, after the 1st of January 1806, all right and claim whatever to the pensions of fifteen lakhs of Rupees granted to several of the chief officers of his State, by the seventh Article of the aforesaid Treaty of SURJEE ANJENGAM.

ARTICLE 4.

The Honourable Company agree to pay to DOWLAT RAO SINDIA the arrears due upon the pensions granted by the seventh Article of the Treaty of Peace, as above mentioned, up to the 31st of December 1805, and also the balance due upon the revenues of Dholepore, Rajah-Kerrah, and Baree up to the same date, making deductions on the following heads:—

1st.—Pensions forfeited by Bappoo Sindia and Sudashco Rao, by acts of hostility towards the British Government, to be stopped from the date of their hostility.

2nd.—Plunder of the British Residency.

3rd.—Cash advanced by Mr. Jenkins to parties of the Maharajah's troops. 4th.—Charges of collection, etc., for the provinces of Dholepore, Baree, and Rajah-Kerrah.

ARTICLE 5.

With a view of preventing any misunderstanding relating to their respective possessions on the quarter of Hindustan, it is agreed that the river Chumbul shall form the boundary between the two States, from the city of Kotah to the west to the limits of the territories of Gohud to the east, and within that extent of the course of the Chumbul, Dowlat Rao Sindia shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenue, or possessions on its north bank; and the Honourable Company shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenues or possessions on the south bank of that river. The talooks of Bhadek and Sooseperarah, which are on the banks of the Junna, will, however, remain in possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 6.

By the fifth Article of this Treaty, which makes the river Chumbul the boundary of the two States, from the city of Kotah to the west to the limits of the territories of Gohud to the east, the Maharajah resigns all pretensions and claims to any tribute from the Rajah of Boondee, or any other, on the north bank of the Chumbul, within the aforementioned limits: also to the countries of Tank Rampoah, Bahramngum, Zemichah, etc., and to the districts of Dholepore, Rajah-Kerrah, and Baree, all which remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 7.

The Honourable Company, on consideration of the benefits derived from the Article which makes the Chumbul the boundary between the two States, and from friendship to the Maharajah, agree to grant him, personally and exclusively, the annual sum of four lakhs of rupees, to be paid by quarterly instalments, through the Resident at the Durbur; and the Honourable Company also agree to assign, within their territories in Hindustan, a jaghire (to be holden on the same footing as that enjoyed by Balla Bai) amounting to a revenue of two lakhs of rupees per annum, to Baiza Bai, the wife of Dowlat Rao Sindia, and a jaghire, amounting to the sum of one lakh of rupees per annum, to Chhuma Bai, the daughter of that Chief.

ARTICLE 8.

The Honourable Company engage to enter into no Treaty with the Rajahs of Oodeypore and Jodhpore, and Kotah or other Chiefs, tributaries of Dowut Rao Sindia, situated in Malwa, Aleywar, or Marwar, and in no shape whatever to interfere with the settlement which Sindia make with those Chiefs.

ARTICLE 9.

The Honourable Company are now engaged in a war with Jeswant Rao Holkar, and using every exertion for his reduction; but should they hereafter make a peace, or enter into any agreement with that Chief they engage not to restore to him, or desire to be restored to him, any of the possessions of the family of Holkar in the province of Malwa, lying between the river Tapti and Chumbul, which may have been taken by Dowut Rao Sindia, nor will the Honourable Company interfere in any manner whatever in the disposal of those provinces; and they will consider Dowut Rao Sindia at full liberty to make such arrangement as he chooses with Jeswant Rao Holkar, or with any other branch of the Holkar family, respecting the claims of that family to tribute from the Rajahs, or others, or to any possessions situated to the north of the river Tapti and to the south of the river Chumbul: but it is clearly to be understood, that as the Company's Government agrees not to concern itself with the arrangements which Sindia may make with the family of Holkar, respecting their claims or hereditary possessions, situated between the Tapti and the Chumbul, that Government will not take part in any dispute or war which may be the result or consequence of such arrangements or settlement.

ARTICLE 10.

As Serjee Rao Ghautika has acted in a manner calculated to disturb the friendship between the two States, the Maharajah agrees never to admit that Chief to share in his councils, or to hold any public employment under his Government.

ARTICLE 11.

This Treaty, consisting of eleven Articles, has been this day settled by Lieutenant-Colonel Malcolm, acting under directions of the Right Honourable Lord Lake, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Moonshie Kavel Nyn, on the part of Dowut Rao Sindia. Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm has delivered one copy thereof, in Persian and English, signed and sealed by himself, to the said Moonshie Kavel Nyn, to be forwarded to the Maharajah Dowut Rao Sindia, and has received from the said Moonshie Kavel Nyn a counterpart of the said Treaty signed and sealed by the said Moonshie. Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm engages that a copy of the said Treaty, ratified by the Honourable the Governor-General in every respect a counterpart of the Treaty now executed by himself, shall be delivered to Moonshie Kavel Nyn, to be forwarded to the Maharajah, within the period of one month from this date, and on the delivery of such copy to the Maharajah, the Treaty executed by Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, under the immediate direction of the Right Honourable Lord Lake, shall be returned; and Moonshée Kavel Nyn, in like manner, engages, that another copy of the said Treaty, ratified by the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia, in every respect a counterpart of the Treaty now executed by himself, shall be delivered to Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, to be forwarded to the Honourable the Governor-General, within the period of one month from this date; and on the delivery of such copy to the Honourable the Governor-General, the Treaty executed by Moonshée Kavel Nyn, by virtue of the full powers and authority vested in him, as above-mentioned, shall also be returned.

Done at Mustafapoor, this 22nd day of November, Anno Domini 1805, or 29th of Shubani, in the year of the Hegira 1220.

JOHN MALCOLM.
KAVEL NYN.

DECLARATORY ARTICLES annexed to the Treaty concluded between the Right Honourable Lord Lake, on the part of the Honourable Company, and MAHARAJAH DOWLAT RAO SINDIA on the 22nd November 1805.

Whereas objections have arisen to the terms of the fifth, sixth, and seventh Articles of the aforesaid Treaty, it is hereby agreed and declared that in lieu of those three Articles, the two following shall be substituted:—

ARTICLE I.

With a view to prevent any misunderstanding relating to the respective possessions of the Honourable Company and Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia in the quarter of Hindostan, the Maharajah hereby agrees to cede to the Honourable Company all the territory north of the river Chumbul which was ceded to the Maharajah by the seventh Article of the Treaty of Surjee Anjengaum, that is to say, the whole of the districts of Dholepore, Baree and Rajah-Kerrah, and the Honourable Company shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenues or possessions, on the south bank of that river. The talooks of Bhadek and Sooseperah, which are on the banks of the Jumna, will, however, remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honourable Company, from friendship to the Maharajah, agrees to grant to him, personally and exclusively, the annual sum of four lakhs of Rupees, to be paid by quarterly instalments, through the Resident at the Durbar. And the Honourable Company also agree to assign, within their territories in Hindostan, a jaghire (to be holden on the same footing as that enjoyed by Balla Bai), amounting to a revenue of two lakhs of Rupees per annum, to Baiza Bai, the wife of Dowlat Rao Sindia, and a jaghire, amounting to one lakh of Rupees per annum, to Chumna Bai, the daughter of that Chief.

Treaty of Concert and Alliance with Dowlat Rao Sindia, dated the 6th November 1817.

Treaty of Concert and Alliance between the Honorable the English East India Company and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia, Bahadur, and his children, heirs and successors, settled on the part of the Honorable Company by Captain Robert Close, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in him by His Excellency the Most Noble Francis, Marquis of Hastings, Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, one of His Britannic Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council, Governor-General, appointed by the Honorable Company to direct and control all their affairs in the East Indies, Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Forces, &c., &c., and on the part of His Highness Dowlat Rao Sindia by Ram Chundru Bhaskur, duly empowered by His Highness to that effect.

Whereas the British Government and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia Bahadur are mutually actuated by a desire to suppress the predatory power of the Pindarees, and to destroy and prevent the revival of the predatory system in every part of India; the following Articles have been agreed on for the purpose of giving effect to the mutual wishes of the two States.

The contracting parties engage to employ the forces of their respective governments and of their allies and dependants in prosecuting operations against the Pindarees and any other bodies of associated freebooters ; to expel them from their haunts, and to adopt the most effectual measures to disperse and prevent them from re-assembling. With this view the forces of the two Governments and their respective allies will immediately attack the Pindarees and their associates, according to a concerted plan of operations, and will not desist until the objects of this engagement are entirely accomplished. The Maharajah further agrees to employ his utmost efforts to seize the persons of the Pindaree leaders and their families, and deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

The Pindaree hordes having established themselves in the territories of the Maharajah and other neighbouring States, it is hereby agreed that, on their expulsion, such of the lands occupied by them as heretofore belonged to the Maharajah, shall be immediately resumed by His Highness, who engages never to re-admit them to possession. Such of the lands now occupied by the Pindarees as belong to other States shall be restored to their rightful proprietors, provided they shall have exerted themselves to the extent required in expelling the Pindarees, and shall engage never to re-admit them, or in any way to connect themselves with those freebooters. Those lands shall otherwise be delivered over to Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia, and be held by him on the same conditions.

ARTICLE 3.

Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia hereby engages never to re-admit the Pindarees or any other predatory bodies into his territories, or in any manner to give them the smallest countenance or support, or to permit his officers to do so ; on the contrary, His Highness promises to issue the most positive orders to all his officers, civil and military, and to enforce them, by the severest penalties, to employ their utmost efforts to expel or destroy any bodies of plunderers who may attempt to take refuge in His Highness' territories. All officers disregarding His Highness' orders are to be considered and dealt with as rebels to the Maharajah and enemies of the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia is the undisputed master of his own troops and resources. With a view, however, to the more effectual accomplishment of the objects of this Treaty, His Highness agrees that the divisions of his troops (which taken together shall amount to 5,000 horse) employed in active operations against the Pindarees or other freebooters, shall act in concert with the British troops, and in conformity to the plan that may be counselled by the officer commanding the British divisions, with which His Highness' troops may be appointed to act in concert. With the same view it is agreed that a British officer shall be stationed with each division of the Maharajah's troops, to be the channel of communication

(The main object of the contracting parties being to prevent for ever the revival of the predatory system in any form, and both Governments being satisfied that to accomplish this wise and just end it may be necessary for the British Government to form engagements of friendship and alliance with the several States of Hindostan, the 8th Article of the Treaty of the 22nd November 1805, by which the British Government is restrained from entering into Treaties with certain Chiefs therein specified, is hereby abrogated and annulled; and it is declared that the British

ARTICLE 9.

With a view to the more effectual prosecution of the joint operations of the two Governments, and to the facility and security of the communication of the British troops with their supplies, the Maharajah, reposing entire confidence in the friendship and good faith of the British Government, agrees that British garrisons shall be admitted into the forts of Hindia and Asseerghur, and shall be charged with the care and defence of those forts during the war, and shall have the liberty of establishing depots within them. The flag of Dowlat Rao Sindia shall, however, continue to fly in the fort of Asseerghur, and His Highness shall be at liberty to station a killadar, with a personal guard of fifty men, in the said fort; but it is clearly understood that the actual command of that place as well as of Hindia, and the disposal of the warlike stores that may be found in those forts, shall be vested exclusively in the British Commanding Officers. Any part of those stores that may be damaged or expended, while the forts in question are occupied by the British troops, shall be accounted for, and the value made good to His Highness. For the more effectual performance of this stipulation, inventories shall be taken by officers, on the part of both Governments, at the time of the occupation of the forts by the British Government. The present garrisons (with the exception above stated in regard to Asseerghur) shall move out of the forts. The Maharajah will then forward have no further concern with the Sebundeas of the garrisons, but His Highness' other troops, including the Paigah, etc., shall encamp at such places as may be prescribed by the British officers, in conformity to the provisions of the 6th Article. The territories depending on the forts above-mentioned will continue to be managed by the officers of the Maharajah, who will receive every support from the British Government and its officers. The whole or such portion of the revenues as may be necessary, shall be appropriated to the payment of the Maharajah's troops acting in concert with the British divisions, as stipulated in the 5th Article; and a faithful account of the whole shall be rendered to His Highness after the conclusion of the war. The two forts above-mentioned, and the territories dependent on them, will be restored to the Maharajah as soon as the operations against the Pindarees or their confederates shall be brought to a termination, in the same condition in which they may be delivered up to the British Government. All private property will be respected; and the inhabitants of the towns or villages depending on the forts will enjoy the protection of the British Government, or be permitted to depart with their property, if they think proper.

ARTICLE 8.

Government shall be at full liberty to form engagements with the States of Oudeypore, Jodhpore, and Kotah, and with the State of Boondee, and other substantive States on the left bank of the Chumbul.) Nothing in this Article shall, however, be construed to give the British Government a right to interfere with States or Chiefs in Malwa or Guzerat, clearly and indisputably dependent on, or tributary to, the Maharajah: and it is agreed that His Highness' authority over those States or Chiefs shall continue on the same footing as it has been heretofore. (The British Government further agrees and promises, in the event of its forming any engagements with the above-mentioned States of Oudeypore, Jodhpore, Kotah, and Boondee, or with any others on the left bank of the Chumbul, to secure to Dowlat Rao Sindia his ascertained tribute and to guarantee the same in perpetuity to be paid through the British Government; and Dowlat Rao Sindia engages, on his part, on no account or pretence whatever, to interfere in any shape in the affairs of those States without the concurrence of the British Government.

ARTICLE 10.

If (which God forbid) the British Government and the Maharajah shall be compelled to wage war with any other State, on account of such State attacking either of the contracting parties, or aiding or protecting the Pindarees or other freebooters, the British Government, having at heart the welfare of Dowlat Rao Sindia, will, in the event of success, and of His Highness' zealous performance of his engagements, make the most liberal arrangements for the consolidation and increase of his territories.

ARTICLE 11.

Such parts of the Treaty of Surjee Anjengann, and of the Treaty concluded on the 22nd of November 1805, as are not affected by the provisions of the present engagement, remain in full force, and are mutually binding on the contracting parties.

ARTICLE 12.

This Treaty, consisting of twelve Articles, having this day been concluded, subject to the ratification of the Governor-General and Maharajah Ali Jab Dowlat Rao Sindia, Captain Close engages to procure the ratification of the Governor-General in five days from this date, or sooner if possible; and Ram Chandru Bhaskur engages to obtain His Highness' ratification before sunset this evening.

NO. VIII.

ENGAGEMENT between the HONOURABLE the ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and MARAJAH ALI JAH DOWLAT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR, dated the 25th June 1818.

Whereas by the 14th Article of the Treaty of Poona, concluded on the 13th of June 1817, all the rights and territories of His Highness Rao Pundit Prudhan in Malwa were ceded to the Honourable East India Company; and whereas some of those territories are contiguous to, and intermixed with, those of Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia; it has therefore been agreed, for the mutual convenience of both States, that certain exchanges of territory should take place; and the British Government hereby transfers to Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia, his heirs and successors, all its rights and claims to the districts and territories mentioned in the annexed Schedule, No. 1; and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia, for himself, his heirs and successors, hereby transfers to the British Government all his rights and claims of every description to the places mentioned in the accompanying Schedule, No. 2.

Moreover the British Government having resolved to restore to Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao the fort and territory of Jawud, etc., the Maharajah on his part engages, on his recovering that district, to establish such an administration there as shall afford security for the peace of the country, and the prevention of the revival of the predatory system. The Maharajah further engages to recall Jeswant Rao Bhao, for whose future conduct the Maharajah will be responsible, and will require him to reside at a distance from Jawud, on a provision to be assigned him by the Maharajah either in jaghire or in any other manner His Highness may prefer.

It is further stipulated, that in the event of Hindia and Asseerghur being restored by the British Government to the Maharajah, previous to the entire cessation of operations against the Pindarees, etc., the Maharajah engages that in lieu of the revenues of those districts, which by Treaty have been set aside for the payment of the contingent to be employed against the Pindarees, a third year's tribute on the States of Kotah and Jodhpore shall, in the event of its being required, be assigned for that purpose.

In witness whereof Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlat Rao Sindia has hereunto affixed his seal, and Captain Josiah Stewart engages to obtain and deliver to Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia, without delay, a counterpart of this engagement, with the ratification of the Most Noble the Governor-General.

Done at Gwalior, this twenty-fifth day of June in the year of our Lord 1818, corresponding with the twentieth day of Shaban, 1233 of the Hegwa, and with the 7th of Jesht Vud, in the year 1219 of the Arabic era.

Engagement between the British Government and the Maharajah Dowry
Rao Sindia, dated the 6th February 1820.

Rao SINDIA, dated the 6th February 1820.

Whereas the Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia agrees to give up for three years the annual payments made by the British Government to himself and certain other persons of his Court, and also the tribute to which he was entitled from the Rajpoot States (for three years), for the purpose of maintaining a body of Auxiliary Horse; and whereas the whole of that amount has already been paid by the British Government to the Maharajah's troops and a considerable balance remains due to the British Government; it has now been agreed between the Maharajah and the British Government that the body of Auxiliary Horse to be maintained by His Highness shall be reduced, so that the abovementioned funds, namely, the annual payments formerly made to the Maharajah and his family, and ministers, together with the tribute due from the Rajpoot States, may be fully adequate to the payment of the force.

It is further agreed that, for the liquidation of the debt incurred by the Maharajah to the British Government for the payments already made to the Auxiliary

Iforse, as well as for the expenses of those Iforse until the funds appropriated for their maintenance become available, the following districts shall be made over, from the commencement of the year 1877 Sunbuit, to the British Government,

viz. :—

IN KANDESH.

1. The Pergunnah of Xawul.
2. Ditto Chopra.
3. Ditto Pachora.
4. Ditto Loharn, 12 villages.
5. Possessions in Gurra Kota and Maloun, intermixed with those of the British Government, together with the fort of Gurra Kota.

And whereas all the abovementioned districts are intermixed with the possessions of the British Government, it is further agreed that, after the liquidation of the debt due by the Maharajah, the British Government shall either restore those districts to His Highness, or continue to hold them, paying a fair rent for them, or grant to His Highness other lands of equal value, in lieu of them, which may be more conveniently situated, whichever mode may appear best to the British Government.

TRANSLATION of an AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the MAHARAJAH DOWLT RAO SINDIA, regarding the NIMAR DISTRICTS,—1823.

Whereas by an arrangement formerly effected by Major-General Sir John Malcolm, it was agreed that the Maharajah Dowlt Rao Sindia should pay annually the sum of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight towards the support of certain Girsasia Chiefs in Nimar, which contribution not having been paid for upwards of four years, a debt has consequently accumulated to near Rupees twenty thousand; and whereas the pergunnahs of Dhurgaon, Burwee, Sylanee, Poonassa and Kandwa, which adjoin certain provinces belonging to the British Government in Nimar, are now so desolate that the Maharajah does not receive the proper revenue of them, and in consequence of the disorder which prevails in them, great inconvenience is occasioned to the adjacent districts of the British Government in that quarter: Therefore, in order to remove those inconveniences and to provide for the payment of the debt before-mentioned, as well as to secure the punctual discharge for the future of the annual contribution above noticed of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight, it is hereby agreed by the Maharajah that the aforesaid pergunahs including their dependencies shall (with the exception of certain long established rights or charitable grants as Nankar Pudarick and Dhermdow) remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

The British Government consents that, after deducting the amount of the debt mentioned in the preceding Article, and after deducting the annual contribution of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight, together with the expenses of management, the whole remaining revenue to be collected from the districts above-mentioned shall be paid annually to the Maharajah for ever; and as the expenses of management cannot now be correctly ascertained, it is likewise agreed that whatever sum those expenses may amount to during the first year that the Maharajahs aforesaid remain in the possession of the British Government, the same amount shall be considered for ever afterwards the fixed and permanent annual charge on that account.

And whereas certain Girassia Chiefs in Malwa are by former agreement entitled to receive from the Maharajah's Government certain Tankha dues in the payment of which difficulties have been sometimes made by the Maharajah's officers, it is hereby agreed by both Governments that as long as those payments shall be faithfully and regularly discharged, the Girassia Chiefs shall continue to receive them from the Maharajah's kamavisdars, but if at any time the Maharajah's officers hesitate to make the payments in question, it is understood that the British Government shall be at liberty to discharge them and to add the amount of those payments to the deductions already agreed to be made from the revenue of the districts above-mentioned.

Done at Gwalior, this 10th day of November 1823 corresponding with the 6th of Rubee-al-awal, in the year 1239 of the Hegyra, and with the 8th of Kartick (Shoodh), in the year 1880 Sumbut, or 1224 of the Arabic era.

In the year Soor (Shuru) Sun, Araba Asseerun (Ashrin), in the month of Mohurrum and on the 25th day, corresponding with A.D. 1824, I request that in the district of Nimar, the undermentioned nahals may be received from the charge of kamavisdars and transferred in kamavish (khalasa) to the charge of the English:—

1. Kundwae pergunnah.	4. Sylaneo pergunnah.
2. Burwae.	5. Dhungoon Mosa.
3. Poonassa.

Those five mihalas are transferred from the aforesaid years in kamavish in order that they may be restored to prosperity and re-peopled. Whatever may be collected shall be paid into the Sircar's treasury year by year; this is exclusive of the Domalgagon, the Padaruk Zameen, which must be continued according to custom. When the mihalas are restored to prosperity, and shall have reached their Kunal Juma, they must be shown (in Alahatee "Anoon dakwae").

In the year Kums (Kham) Asareen, Mocateen-wo-Aluf, and the 22nd of the month of Suifer, A.D. 1825, the Government of the Company having stated that certain mihalas are not prosperous, but on the contrary very much depopulated and requested that they might be transferred to its management to be restored to prosperity; for this reason the following mihalas are transferred:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Asore (Asir), excepting Hussainpore,
 2. Bangach pergunnah,
 3. Moode pergunnah,
 4. Belora talooka. | 5. Attode (Altod) talooka.
 6. Deore pergunnah, including the talookas of Tendoketra, Narmon, the pergunnahs of Gower, Jakur and Sowlate.
 7. Pemplode (Piplod) pergunnah. |
|--|---|

The above seven mihalas are from the above-mentioned year transferred to the Company according to its request for the purpose of being restored to prosperity. When they shall have reached their Kunal Juma they shall be shown (in Alahatee "Anoon dakwae"). After the Malumskoor (this includes Sebunde, Nemoon, Durtukar, &c.) shall have been settled, the remainder of the collections, as in other mihalas, according to the kistbunde, shall be paid into the Sircar's treasury always excluding Duornade, Wurchasun, Padaruk Zameen, and Gaon Domale, Nat-khasge, Aineene, &c., which must be continued according to custom.

NO. XI.

Treaty between the British Government and the Maharajah Jyaje Rao Sindia, dated the 13th January 1844.

Treaty between the Honorable English East India Company and Maharajah Alit Jan Jyaje Rao Sindia, Bahadoor, and his children, heirs and successors, settled on the part of the Honorable Company by Frederick Currie, Esquire, and Lieutenant-Colonel William Henry Sturman, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in them by the Right Honorable Edward, Lord Ellenborough, one of Her Britannic Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council, Governor-General, appointed by the Honorable Company to direct and control all their affairs in the East Indies; and on the part of His Highness Jyaje Rao Sindia by Rao Ram Rao Phaktia Bahadoor Shumsheer Jung, Deo Rao Jadhaw Mama Sahib, Dubeer-ood-Dowlah Moonshee Rajah Bulwunt Rao Bahadoor, Oodaje Rao Guatga, Moolla Jee, and Narayun Rao Bhao Yumaje, Potnavees, the Sirdars nominated to conduct the affairs of the Government during His Highness' minority.

ARTICLE I.

Every part of the Treaty of Peace concluded by General Sir Arthur Wellesley, K.B., at Surjee Anjengam, on the 30th December 1803, and of the Treaty of thereof shall be conducted by the British Government, in the same manner in which the civil administration of the other districts belonging to the Maharajah, of which the revenues are similarly assigned, is conducted by the British Government for His Highness.

ARTICLE 5.

And whereas there is now due to the British Government the sum of ten lakhs of Rupees, more or less, as may hereafter appear on examination of the accounts, on the score of charges of the contingent force, and a further sum of one lakh, on account of advances made to Her Highness Baiza Bai, and on other accounts, and the charges of the present armament, of the British Government may be estimated at ten lakhs (after deducting therefrom the expense of furnishing to His Highness six thousand men, with artillery and stores, free of cost to His Highness, under the provisions of the Treaty of Boorhanpoor), and a further expenditure of five lakhs will be incurred by the British Government in affording compensation for losses sustained during, and in consequence of, the late hostilities, and in other charges connected therewith; it is further agreed that His Highness shall pay to the British Government the sum of twenty-six lakhs of Rupees within fourteen days from the date of this Treaty, and in default thereof that the revenues of the several districts enumerated in Schedule B, attached to this Treaty, shall, together with the civil administration of such districts, be made over to the British Government until such time as the said sum of twenty-six lakhs of Company's Rupees shall have been paid, together with interest, at the rate of five per cent. per annum upon the same.

ARTICLE 6.

And whereas the British Government is bound by Treaty to protect the person of His Highness the Maharajah, his heirs and successors, and to protect his dominions from foreign invasion, and to quell serious disturbances therein, and the army now maintained by His Highness is of unnecessary amount, embarrassing to His Highness' government and the cause of disquietude to neighbouring States, it is therefore further agreed that the military force of all arms hereafter to be maintained by His Highness, exclusive of the contingent above provided for, shall at no time exceed nine thousand men, of whom not more than three thousand shall be infantry, with twelve field guns and two hundred gunners, with twenty other guns; and His Highness the Maharajah engages to take immediate measures for the reduction of his army within the number above specified, and the British Government engages on its part to assist His Highness therein, should such aid appear to be required.

ARTICLE 7.

It is further agreed that His Highness will discharge all pay due to the troops disbanded, and also give a gratuity of three months' pay to such of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the corps disbanded, as may not be re-enlisted in the contingent or in any new corps formed by His Highness.

ARTICLE 8.

And inasmuch as it is expedient to provide for the due administration of the government during the minority of His Highness the Maharajah, which minority shall be considered to terminate when His Highness shall have attained the full age of 18 years, and not sooner, that is, on the 5th Magh Vud Sumbut 1909, or 19th day of January A.D. 1853, it is further agreed that during such minority the persons entrusted with the administration of the government shall act upon the advice of the British Resident in all matters whereon such advice shall be offered, and no change shall be made in the persons entrusted with the administration without the consent of the British Resident acting under the express authority of the Governor-General.

ARTICLE 9.

And it is agreed that the following persons shall, in the first instance, constitute the Council of Regency, and that the first-named person shall be President of the same. Rao Ram Rao Phalkia Bahadoor, Shumsher Jung; Deo Rao Jadhoo Mamma Sahab; Dubeer-ood-dowlah Moonshah Raja Bulwunt Rao Bahadoor; Oodajee Rao Ghatgia; Moolia Jee; and Narayun Rao Bhaoo Yumajee Potnuvees.

ARTICLE 10.

And inasmuch as it is fitting that Her Highness Tara Bai should have a suitable provision now made for the maintenance of her court, it is further agreed that the sum of Rupees three lakhs shall be annually set apart for that purpose, and be at Her Highness' sole disposal.

ARTICLE 11.

And it is further agreed that the British Government shall, as heretofore, exert its influence and good offices for maintaining the just territorial rights of the Maharajah and the subjects of the State of Sindia at present existing in the neighbouring and other Native States.

ARTICLE 12.

This Treaty, consisting of twelve Articles, has been this day settled by Frederick Currie, Esquire, and Lieutenant-Colonel William Henry Sleeman, acting under the directions of the Right Honourable Edward, Lord Ellenborough, Governor-General, on the part of the British Government, and by Rao Ram Rao Phalkia Bahadoor, Shumsher Jung; Deo Rao Jadhoo Mamma Sahab; Dubeer-ood-dowlah Moonshah Raja Bulwunt Rao Bahadoor; Oodajee Rao Ghatgia; Moolia Jee; and Narayun Rao Bhaoo Yumajee Potnuvees, on the part of the Maharajah Jyaje Rao Sindia; and the said Treaty has been this day ratified by the seal of the

NO. XII.

Treaty between the British Government on the one part, and Maharajah Ali Rajah Rao Sindia Bahadoor, and his children, heirs and successors on the other part; settled on the part of the British Government by Colonel Sir Richmond Campbell Shakespear, Kt. and C.B., Agent to the Governor-General in Central India, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in him by His Excellency the Right Honourable Charles John, Earl of Carnarvon, G. C. B., Viceroy and Governor-General of India and one of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and on the part of His Highness Rajah Rao Sindia by Juggdeo Rao Monurkar, Commander-in-Chief, and Bajarajee Chinnajee, Durbar Dewan, nominated by His Highness to conduct this negotiation,—1860.

Whereas a Treaty was concluded on the 13th day of January, A.D. 1844, corresponding with 22nd Zilhedge 1259 Hegira, between the Honourable East India Company and Maharajah Ali Rajah Rao Sindia; and

Whereas, in execution of the declared intention of the British Government to give to the Maharajah, in acknowledgment of services rendered by His Highness in 1857 and 1858, territory yielding a gross yearly revenue of three lakhs of Company's Rupees, it has become expedient to restore a portion of the districts assigned to the British Government by the above mentioned Treaty; and

Whereas it will be to the advantage of both contracting parties that other portions of the said Assigned Districts be restored to the Maharajah in exchange for the possessions of His Highness, situated in the Bombay Presidency, and to the south of the river Nerbudda, and elsewhere; and

Whereas it has been found inconvenient that the sovereignty of the Assigned Districts should remain with the Maharajah, while their civil administration and management remain with the British Government; and

Whereas it has been declared on the part of the British Government that if the revenue and receipts of the Assigned Districts should fall short of 18 lakhs of Company's Rupees per annum, the deficiency shall not be claimed from the Maharajah, and by the above declaration the provisions of Article 3 have been abrogated; and

Whereas, with reference to the sixth Article, it has been declared that the military force in the Maharajah's service may, with certain limits, be increased; and

Whereas the fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth Articles of the above-mentioned Treaty relate to matters of a temporary nature, and have been fulfilled, or are no longer applicable to the existing relations between the two Governments;

Therefore it is agreed by the contracting parties that the Treaty of the 13th January 1844 shall be abrogated, and that in its place the following Articles shall be substituted:—

ARTICLE 1.

All Treaties and engagements, between the two Governments, previous to that of the 13th of January 1844, shall, except in so far as they may be altered by this present engagement, remain binding upon the two Governments.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government restores to the Maharajah from the Assigned Districts now in its possession territory yielding a gross revenue of three lakhs of Company's Rupees per annum, as a free gift and willing acknowledgment of His Highness' services during the years A.D. 1857 and 1858.

ARTICLE 3.

The Maharajah transfers to the British Government in full sovereignty the whole of His Highness' possessions in the Punj Mahals and to the south of the river Nerbudda, also pergunnah Kunjea on the Betwa river, on the following conditions:—

1st.—That, for the lands transferred by His Highness, the British Government shall give in exchange lands of equal value, calculated, on both sides, on the present gross revenue.

2nd.—That, in lieu of all tributes and perquisites now derived by the Maharajah from the lands to be transferred by His Highness, the British Government shall for the future pay to the Maharajah from the British Treasury at Gwalior an equivalent in Company's Rupees, calculated at the average rate of batta which has prevailed during the last six months.

3rd.—That each government shall respect the conditions of existing leases until their expiry, and that, in order that this may be made clear to all concerned, each government shall give to its new subjects leases for the same terms of years, and on the same conditions as those which they at present enjoy.

4th.—That each government shall give to its new subjects "Sununds" in perpetuity, for the rent-free lands, the jaghires, the perquisites, and the hereditary claims (i.e., "Huks" and "Wuttuns") which they enjoy at present under the other government.

ARTICLE 4.

On the same terms and conditions as those specified in the foregoing Article, the Maharajah Sindia transfers to the British Government the whole of His Highness' present rights and interests in both lands and perquisites in the districts of—1st.—Ahmednuggur.

2nd.—Kandesh.
3rd.—Poonah.
4th.—Sattara.

5th.—Sholapoor.
6th.—Pergunnah Beri in zillabs Agra and Muttra.
7th.—His jaghire in zillab Ajmere.

The heretofore Kunda and Bhakula villages named below are especially excluded from the above transfer, and will remain, as hitherto, in the possession of the Maharajah, in conformity with His Highness on the same terms as heretofore—

MORAR,
The 12th January 1873.

KHARITA from His EXCELLENCY the VICE-ROJ and GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA, to His HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA SCINDIA of GWALIOR,—1873.

I have already through my Agent in Central India expressed my sense of Your Highness's liberal and enlightened offer to place at the disposal of the Government of India a sum, payable in five years, aggregating 150 lakhs of Rupees, for the construction of two lines of railway, one from Gwalior to Agra and the other from Indore to Neemuch.

I have now the pleasure to communicate formally to Your Highness the acceptance by the British Government of the loan on the conditions stated in the agreements made with General Daly on 19th November 1872 and 11th January 1873.

I understand also from General Daly that Your Highness will provide, free of charge, all the land required for the railways, the stations, buildings, &c., and that no transit duties will be levied on through-traffic; also that no royalty or dues of any kind will be charged by Your Highness on materials required for the railways either procured from or in transit through Your Highness's territories; that the whole of the arrangements as to construction, equipment and maintenance of the lines, and the management of the lines after they are open, as well as plenary civil and criminal jurisdiction within the lands occupied for Railway purposes from the date of the land being made over, are to rest exclusively with the British Government; and that the British Government alone has interest in and the receipt and control of the receipts of the lines.

The proofs which Your Highness has given of an earnest desire to extend the advantages of railway communication to your country have afforded me much gratification. The expressions of your heartfelt attachment to the British Government which General Daly has reported to me are fully reciprocated.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for Your Highness, and to subscribe myself Your Highness's sincere friend.

AGREEMENT for the security of the salt revenue of British India, in the event of the ABOLITION of the INLAND CUSTOMS LINE, and for the ABOLITION of SALT DUTIES within the Gwalior State, between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA JYAJEE RAO SINDIA, G.C.B., G.C.S.I., of GWALIOR, his heirs and successors, executed on the one part by LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR HENRY DALY, K.C.B., AGENT to the GOVERNOR-GENERAL for the STATES of CENTRAL INDIA, in virtue of the full powers vested in him by the GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA in COUNCIL, and on the other part by the RAO RATA SHUMSHERE JUNG SIR GUNPUT RAO KHURKEY, K.C.S.I., DEWAN of GWALIOR, in virtue of full powers conferred upon him by HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA,—1879.

ARTICLE I.

HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA of GWALIOR agrees that no new salt-works shall be opened within his State; that no works, except those enumerated in Schedule A attached to this Agreement, shall be permitted to be worked, or to continue in existence, in the said State; and that at no work so enumerated shall a greater quantity of salt be manufactured within any year than double the quantity entered in the said Schedule furnished by His Highness the MAHARAJA, which Schedule shall be accepted as a register. The aggregate quantity manufactured in any year shall not exceed 54,000 mounds.

ARTICLE 2.

Nothing in the foregoing Article shall be held to prohibit the bond fide manufacture, by His Highness the MAHARAJA, of saltpetre, rasai saji, or other saline products other than edible salt, at any of his works now in use for such manufacture and entered in Schedule B attached to this Agreement; but His Highness the Maharaja agrees that no new works of this description shall henceforth be opened, that no edible salt shall be manufactured at any of those now existing, and that no edible salt shall be permitted to pass out of the refineries.

ARTICLE 3.

His Highness the Maharaja agrees to prevent—

1st, the export from the State of Gwalior of any salt therein manufactured; and the import into, and passage through, the said State of any salt other than salt upon which duty has been levied by the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

Further, His Highness the Maharaja agrees that no tax, toll, or duty of any kind shall be levied within the State of Gwalior on salt upon which duty has been levied by the British Government.

ARTICLE 5.

If any stocks of salt, other than salt manufactured in the State of Gwalior, be found to exist within the territories of such State on the date on which this Agreement comes into force, His Highness the Maharaja agrees, if so requested by the British Government, to take possession of such stocks, and to give the owners thereof the option of either transferring the salt to the British Government at such equitable valuation as may be fixed by His Highness the Maharaja, in concurrence with the Political Agent, or of paying to the British Government such duty, not exceeding two rupees eight annas per maund, on such salt as the Governor-General in Council may fix. In the event of the owners accepting the latter alternative, they shall be allowed to retain the salt on which the said duty may have been paid, but not otherwise.

ARTICLE 6.

His Highness the Maharaja agrees to prohibit the export from the State of bhajang, ganja, spirits, opium, or other intoxicating drug or preparation, by all routes and in all directions heretofore barred by the Inland Customs Line.

ARTICLE 7.

In consideration of the due observance of this Agreement by His Highness the Maharaja, and of his proclaiming throughout his State, free trade and transit for all salt manufactured and excised at British salt-works, the British Government agree to pay to His Highness annually in half-yearly instalments the sum of Rupees three lakhs twelve thousand and five hundred (Rupees 3,12,500). This payment to be made at the Gwalior Treasury.

The mode and date of first payment will be arranged hereafter.

ARTICLE 8.

Returns of the salt-works within the Gwalior State, as enumerated in Schedule A, and their approximate output, and of the saltpetre and other works enumerated in Schedule B, shall be furnished annually by His Highness the Maharaja to the Political Agent on dates to be hereafter fixed.

ARTICLE 9.

The British Government reserve to themselves the right of revising the above Articles of Agreement should experience prove that they are insufficient for the protection of the British salt revenue.

ARTICLE 10.

This Agreement is to come into force from a date to be fixed by the British Government.
Signed at Gwalior on the fifteenth day of March, A.D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

ARTICLE 1.

There shall be a mutual exchange of correspondence, parcels, money-orders, and India postal notes, between the Imperial Post Office of British India, hereinafter termed the "Imperial Post," and the post offices in the territories of His Highness the Maharaja of Gwalior, hereinafter termed the "Gwalior State Post." This exchange, which shall also include registered, insured and value-payable articles, shall be governed by the rules given in the Indian Postal Guide for the time being. The term "correspondence" shall include letters, post-cards, newspapers, and book and pattern packets.

ARTICLE 2.

Certain selected post offices in British India and in the Gwalior State shall be placed in postal communication with one another, that is, they shall be authorised to exchange mail-bags containing registered and unregistered correspondence and ordinary parcels, but not insured or value-payable articles or money-orders. Some of these offices shall be constituted offices of exchange on the side of British India and on the side of Gwalior State, and these offices shall be the sole medium of exchange for insured and value-payable articles and money-orders, and shall alone be entrusted with the duty of preparing the accounts resulting from the exchange of money-orders and India postal notes.

ARTICLE 3.

Indian postage stamps over-printed with the words "Gwalior State", and embossed envelopes and inland post-cards over-printed with the words "Gwalior State" and also with the Gwalior arms, shall be supplied on indent by the Government of India to the Gwalior State at cost price. They shall be sold by the Gwalior State to the public at the value marked on each postage stamp, post-card, or embossed envelope.

ARTICLE 4.

These over-printed postage stamps, post-cards, and embossed envelopes shall alone be used in the Gwalior State for the prepayment of inland correspondence, and they shall be recognised by the Imperial Post only for inland correspondence, posted in any post office or letter-box (whether belonging to the Imperial Post or the Gwalior State Post) within the limits of the State of Gwalior.

"The rates of postage, fees, or commission charged by the Gwalior State Post on all classes of correspondence, paid and unpaid, registered and unregistered, insured and value-payable, on all parcels, and on all money-orders and on all India postal notes, shall not be in excess of the rates charged by the Imperial Post, calculated at the rate of exchange fixed by the Gwalior Durbar under Article 31.

ARTICLE 6.

Responsibility for articles insured and for payment of compensation under the rules given in the Indian Postal Guide for the time being shall rest with the Imperial Post Office while the articles concerned are in its custody, and with the Gwalior State while the articles concerned are in its custody.

ARTICLE 7.

Neither the Imperial Post Office nor the Gwalior State shall be liable to make good the loss of or damage to any uninsured article while in its custody, but it shall be incumbent on the Imperial Post Office or the Gwalior State to investigate every case of such loss or damage occurring within its jurisdiction. But nothing in this article shall be held to supersede the orders passed by the Supreme Government in Resolution No. 1095, dated 18th July 1866, relating to losses occasioned by highway robbery of Imperial mails within the limits of the Gwalior State, or any future orders of a similar nature which may hereafter be issued by the Government of India.

ARTICLE 8.

ARTICLE 11.

Inland correspondence, received from the Gwalior State Post, addressed to any place in British India, or in any Native State which has entered into a postal convention with the Imperial Post but not fully prepaid with the over-printed postage stamps described in Article 3, shall be treated by the Imperial Post as though originally posted in British India, and taxed by the Imperial Post with the usual rates for inland unpaid postage, which shall be retained by the Imperial Post or the Native State, as the case may be, by which delivery of such unpaid correspondence is effected.

ARTICLE 12.

Fully prepaid inland correspondence, registered and unregistered (including correspondence, prepaid by service stamps), transferred by the Imperial Post, shall be delivered by the Gwalior State Post free of all charge on account of postage.

ARTICLE 13.

ARTICLE 22.

The Imperial inland money-order rules, as given in the Indian Postal Guide for the time being, shall be adopted by the Gwalior State Post, and the Imperial inland form of money-order application shall be used.

ARTICLE 23.

The full value of every India postal note sold by the Gwalior State Post shall be payable in British India at any Imperial Post Office named, and also in any post office or in any Native State which has entered into a convention for the exchange of postal notes with the Imperial Post, no charge being levied for payment.

KHARITA from His EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA to HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA SINDIA, dated Rangoon, the 24th February 1886.

When I had the pleasure of visiting your capital in December last, I informed your Highness in public Durbar that Her Majesty's Government had determined to restore to you the fortress of Gwalior and the cantonment of Morar.

The arrangements for the evacuation of the fortress are now complete, and it will shortly be handed over to Your Highness's troops. I therefore take the opportunity of addressing to Your Highness this friendly letter, which will be as a lasting record of the arrangement lately concluded between Your Highness and the British Government.

Your Highness has agreed that the following conditions shall be attached to the transfer of the fortress and cantonment:—

(1) That Your Highness shall in exchange for the cantonment of Morar make over in full sovereignty to the British Government the town and fort of Jhansi

(2) That Your Highness shall pay to the British Government 15 lakhs of rupees on account of the cost incurred on the fortifications and buildings in Fortress Gwalior.

(3) That the British garrison at present stationed in the fortress and at Morar shall be withdrawn and maintained at such stations as may appear to the Government of India to be convenient, the obligation to assist Your Highness contained in Article 6 of the Treaty of the 13th of January 1844 remaining in force.

On the other hand I have agreed that Your Highness shall be at liberty to raise, in addition to the infantry force which may be entertained by you under existing treaties and engagements, 3,000 drilled infantry soldiers, on the understanding that the regular cavalry in your service is not increased beyond its present strength of 2,000 men. These conditions are in all respects satisfactory; and it is a source of deep gratification to me that a measure to which Your Highness attached so much importance should have been carried out during my tenure of the office of Viceroy. I trust that Your Highness will not fail to recognise in the restoration of the fortress and cantonment a signal proof of the good-will of the British Government and of their confidence in Your Highness's loyalty to the Crown.

NO. XXII.

AGREEMENT relating to the SPECIAL LOAN of three and a half CRORES of RUPEES by the GWALIOR STATE to the BRITISH GOVERNMENT,—1887.

1. Chandori rupees and Gwalior rupees to be received at actual value as determined by the usual process of assay at the mints.

The remittances when received at the mint will be melted at the rate of from two lakhs to three lakhs a day, and credit will be given for each day's melting according to its assay value (i.e., one rupee for each 165 grains of pure silver), interest to run from the day of melting.

2. The remittances to be made in Chandori rupees and Gwalior rupees in the proportions determined with reference to facility of coinage, that is, Chandori rupees being inferior and the Gwalior rupees being superior to the standard of Government rupees, so many Gwalior rupees should be sent with each lakh of Chandori rupees that, on the two sets taken together, the standard may be, as nearly as convenient, that of the Government rupee.

3. The remittances to be made from the Gwalior station at the cost of the Government of India, but the silver to remain in the custody of a guard, or other official of the Durbār, until arrival at the Mint, when the number of rupees will be counted as speedily as possible, and receipt given for so many Chandori or Gwalior rupees. Hereafter the Mint officials will pre-melt, assay, and value the silver according to the usual method, and credit be given to the Durbār according to Article I.

4. The remittances to be made at such times, and in such quantities, as may be determined by the Government of India with reference to the speed at which the Mint operations can be proceeded with. But the Government of India to be bound to receive at the minimum rate of two lakhs a day.

5. Government (Keldar) rupees to be received at full value, subject to the limitation of British Indian law that no rupee shall have lost more than two per cent. of weight. Below two per cent. to be taken (according to the system current in India) at bullion value. Such rupees to be paid into the Agra Treasury, and credit to be given from the date on which they are there received.

6. Interest to be paid to the Durbar at the Agra Treasury in Government rupees half-yearly. The date to be determined by the Government of India.

7. The loan to be repayable in yearly instalments of twelve lakhs of Government rupees, the first such instalment to be due as may be hereafter determined.

8. The whole amount of the loan to be three and a half crores of rupees of the Government of India, and the rate of interest to be four per cent. per annum.

The 20th December 1888.

KHARIVA from HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA, to HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA SINDHIA of GWALIOR,—1888.

In December 1886 the Commissioner of Jhansi and Sardar Santaji Rao Temak on behalf of the British Government and the Gwalior Durbar, respectively, met to arrange for the late exchanges of territory in the neighbourhood of Jhansi. The following terms were agreed to by both these trusted officers:—

- (1) The villages to be exchanged are those scheduled in the Commissioner of Jhansi's letter No. 1398, dated 27th February 1886.
- (2) The estimate of the annual value of the villages in list B made by the Commissioner, viz., Rs. 23,648, falling at 6 annas 4 pies the acre, is accepted.

- (4) The annual value of the Tori-ki-Sarai land, west of the Pahuj, shall be completed and added to the annual value of the villages in list A.
- (5) Whatever difference between the annual values of the two tracts shall then remain will be made good by a cash payment of twenty years' purchase.

- (6) The British Government will retain the zemindary rights it has acquired in certain patches of land in villages in list A, and its lien upon lands hypothecated for loans under Act XVI of 1882: provided that the revenue demand on those lands shall be a first charge on them. Should the Gwalior Government desire to acquire the lands or redeem the lien upon them, the British Government will raise no objection.
- (7) Public buildings shall be transferred by either party, as on former occasions, without payment.

- (8) The Bhandar ferry shall be managed by the Gwalior State.

- (9) The Paran Kothi will remain the property of the British Government but be reserved for the use of the Durbar officials.

I desire now to receive Your Highness's formal acceptance of these conditions and of the subsequent arrangements which gave effect to them.

Further, Your Highness is aware that in the territory recently transferred to the Gwalior Government, proprietary and other rights of landholders and tenants are involved; and I, therefore, trust that Your Highness will give an assurance that the Gwalior Durbar will adhere to the terms of the land settlement effected by the British Government in the ceded villages, and recognise the rights recorded thereat; and that the Durbar will respect all sanads for jaghirs or rent-free grants within the said villages which had been given or admitted to be valid by English authorities; and further that Your Highness will preserve intact all rights recorded as being in existence at the time of transfer in the revenue records prepared under the orders of the British Government.

I desire to express the high consideration which I entertain for Your Highness and to subscribe myself,

Your Highness's sincere Friend,

DURFERIN,
Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

[illegible]

It must be within the knowledge of most of you how your ancestors came to have direct access to the Political Officers and thus to enjoy the protection of the British Government.

2. In the beginning of the 19th Century the peace of Hindustan was very much disturbed by the prevalence of the predatory system. The British Government desired to restore order and succeeded in doing so by 1818 A.D. To this result the co-operation of their Ally, Maharaja Daulat Rao Scindia, greatly contributed. 3. The overthrow of those who were given to marauding and levying black-mail, left the chieftains and nobility of Malwa without means of subsistence and in consequence extremely sore and disaffected. The British Government, therefore, addressed themselves to the task of pacifying the country and appointed Sir John Malcolm to effect this end. Sir John accomplished his mission with the help of certain assistants and the ready co-operation of the Darbars of Central India.

4. Settlements were thus effected which, by the fact of the mediation of Sir John Malcolm and his assistants, involved the guarantee on the part of the British Government that whatever was settled would be scrupulously observed. These settlements assured to the Thakurs the continuance, in perpetuity or for life-time, according as the terms of the grants provided, of their holdings and tankas subject to good conduct and in many cases the duties of watch and ward in respect of portions of the Darbar territory in proximity to their grants. But the British Government did not intend that the mediation of Sir John Malcolm should form the basis for encroachment upon, or interference with, the suzerain rights of the Darbars. In the course of time, however, owing to the conditions prevailing in most States, the settlements effected created a privileged position for those to whom certain emoluments had been secured and British officers were led to interfere in matters with which Sir John Malcolm's mediation had no concern. 5. The conditions referred to have ceased to exist, and in Gwaltor the Darbar's administration is characterised by fairness and justice, and Lieutenant-General His Highness the Maharaja Scindia takes an active personal interest in all branches of administration. And indeed for safeguarding the interests of this large body of his Jagirdars he created, many years ago, a separate Department and framed a Manual which is complete in all respects. 6. But quite apart from that, the need for a revision of the practice which has subsequently grown up has been apparent for a considerable time. The Government of India have given their best consideration to the problem and have arrived at the following conclusions:—

- (1) That, while the pledges originally given by the British Government must remain inviolable, the specially privileged position which the guarantee-holders have acquired, and which was not contemplated at the time of the original settlement, should not continue; and therefore,
- (2) That the Gwaltior Dabbar should no longer be prevented from exercising the rights which belong to it as Suzerain.

7. Consequently it has been arranged, in consultation with the Maharaja Scindia, that—

- (1) the Gwaltior Dabbar will issue to you fresh Sanads in perpetuity in a form approved by the Government of India;
- (2) these Sanads will in all cases confirm the specific rights secured to you by the existing title deeds and the specific obligations laid on you by your existing title deeds will be enforced by His Highness to a very limited extent;
- (3) under His Highness's Nazarana Rules, as recently modified, the succession dues, which were formerly levied on adoption at the rate of a whole year's revenue, are now to be levied at the reduced rate of 3 months' revenue only.

8. In view of this settlement, Political Officers will no longer concern themselves with your affairs, and you will in future look to your Suzerain, His Highness the Maharaja Scindia for the time being, and his Dabbar in all matters connected with your estates and tankas. You will, therefore, henceforth be entitled to the rights and subject to the obligations contained in the Mannal of Jagirdars of the Gwaltior State, Samvat 1970, as in force for the time being.

Jagirdars and Tankadars.

Such are in brief the terms of the settlement which has been arrived at between my Government and the Gwaltior Dabbar on your behalf. These terms have been fully explained to you by my Agent, Colonel Beville, and I am glad to hear that you have accepted them as a fair and just settlement of your claims under the agreements guaranteed by the officers of the British Government a century ago. I feel that you have every reason to congratulate yourselves on this settlement, which is the result of the negotiations of my officers with His Highness the Maharaja Scindia. His Highness has met their suggestions in a most generous spirit, and will, I am confident, always be ready to treat you as his loyal feudatories, and extend to you a friendly hand in all your difficulties. I look to you on your part to bear true allegiance towards your Suzerain, and to perform faithfully the duties which you owe to him. By so doing you will ensure your own happiness and contentment, and add to the strength and prosperity of the British Empire, of which the Gwaltior Dabbar and yourselves are a part.

No. XLIV.

MEMORANDUM OF TERMS between the GOVERNMENT OF INDIA and the GWALIOR DARBAR for the PRODUCTION and PURCHASE of OPIUM,—1926.

The Darbar will arrange to place under poppy cultivation an area sufficient to produce yearly as nearly as possible 2,500 Government Maunds of crude opium of consistency 70° (or an equivalent amount of crude opium of higher or lower consistency) and to deliver to Government the produce of the same.

NOTE.—(1) Government will not take exception to the failure of the Darbar to produce the quantity specified above owing to causes beyond their control.
(2) In the event of an appreciable diminution occurring in the demand for opium from the Ghazipur Factory the quantity of opium specified above may be reduced, by mutual agreement between Government and the Darbar, without prejudice to the remaining clauses of this Memorandum; which shall then remain in force as if no such reduction had occurred. It is understood however that there shall be no reduction in the quantity specified in this paragraph for any reason except a diminution in the demand upon Government for Excise or provision opium.

2. The Darbar will use their best efforts to produce opium of such quality as is best suited to the requirements of the Ghazipur Factory and to prevent the production of opium that is not suited to the Factory requirements. With this object in view the cultivation will be confined entirely to and even within these limits the Darbar will eliminate such villages as produce opium unsuited for use by Government.

NOTE.—Opium ranging in colour from fawn to dark chestnut is best suited to Government requirements and that of a very dark colour, inclining to black, is unsuitable. Government reserve the right to reject or to accept at a lower rate any opium found so unsuitable.

The cultivators by whom the cultivation will be undertaken and the area within which it will be undertaken by each cultivator will, before sowings commence, be determined by the Dabbar either by means of licenses, or otherwise and the cultivators will be required to deliver the whole of the produce to the Dabbar as soon as it is collected.

3. As early as possible in each year, and in any case not later than the 31st October, the Dabbar will intimate to the Agent to the Governor-General the area that they have arranged to place under poppy cultivation. By the 31st of December in each year they will inform him of the area actually cultivated and of its anticipated output. Thereafter they will keep the Agent to the Governor-General promptly informed of serious damage to the crop from hail, frost, blight or other causes.

4. The Dabbar will take delivery of the opium from the cultivators, and will despatch it as early as possible and not later than the end of May in each year to the Gwalior Factory by such routes as may from time to time be arranged with the Factory Superintendent, to whom at least a month's notice of the probable date of despatch of the first consignment for each season will be given. The opium will be placed in cloth bags, each of which will contain one maund of opium of, as far as possible, uniform consistency, and will be packed in an outer bag of gunny. A tin ticket bearing the name of the State and a serial number will be attached to each inner bag, and a wood label bearing a paper ticket giving details of the contents of the bag and the tare will be attached to each outer bag. Each bag will be sealed before despatch. The opium will be despatched in wagon loads comprising such quantities as may be arranged with the Factory Superintendent, each wagon being locked and run through to destination, and being accompanied by a peon or other person, who will be in possession of the keys of the wagon, so as to be able to open it should any accident necessitate it being opened in transit. On arrival at the factory the bags and jars will be examined and if found intact, with seals in order, a receipt will be granted him by the Import officer in the same manner as is done for Government chahans. As each consignment of opium is despatched, invoices or chahans, showing the number and weight of each bag and the estimated consistency of its contents, will be despatched to the Factory Superintendent, Gwalior. The forms will be provided by Government. These invoices will be in duplicate, and one copy will be returned by the Factory Superintendent to the Dabbar for record. The entries in the invoices will be made in maunds, seers and chitaks, Government standard weights being used.

5. The Dabbar will cause all reasonable, and in particular, the following further precautions to be taken in connection with the despatch of opium:—

(a) Every wagon that is tendered by the Railway authorities for the carriage of opium will be examined before any opium is placed in it, and if it is of wood, or if it contains or has contained kerosene or other oils, molasses, coal-tar, assafoetida, or any other substance likely to damage the opium or to impair its flavour or aroma, the Railway authorities will be required to replace it.

(b) No opium will be placed in any bag that is not perfectly dry or that has in any way become contaminated with any substance likely to affect the quality, flavour or aroma of opium packed in it.

(c) In order to prevent leakage from the bags, all opium delivered by cultivators at consistency lower than 67° will, before being despatched, be exposed to the atmosphere until its consistency is not lower than 67°. With the same object bags will not be piled more than 2 deep in a wagon.

6. Doubtful opium should not be sent to the Ghazipur Factory.

Inferior opium, i.e., opium containing an excess of water or passewa in admixture should be separately packed and despatched, on separate invoices and chalan registers, and marked "Inferior, "water mixed", "passewa mixed", as the case may be.

NOTE.—Passewa is a hygroscopic liquid that forms in opium when there is an excess of humidity in the atmosphere but can be easily separated by draining.

7. The Opium will be assayed as soon as possible after its arrival at the factory, and the weight, consistency and quality of the contents of each bag reported to the Darbar. For Opium classed as "pure" payment will be made to the Darbar (at the Bombay or Indore Treasury as may be preferred by the Darbar) at the rate of Rs. 13 per seer of consistency 70°, the price of opium of higher or lower consistency being proportionately increased or reduced (i.e., the price paid for each seer will depend on the amount of pure dry opium contained in it, the weight of moisture or oil being neglected). Should the price paid to cultivators in the United Provinces at any time be increased or reduced, the price paid to the Darbar will be correspondingly increased or reduced with effect from the season in which the increase or reduction takes effect in the United Provinces, but such reduction in price will not be made otherwise than after previous notice given to the Darbar not later than August in the calendar year preceding that in which the reduction is to have effect. In addition a premium of Re. 1 per seer at consistency 70° will be paid by Government for all opium that is delivered absolutely free of oil.

8. This agreement is for the delivery of pure opium only. Accordingly all opium that contains adulterants may be returned to the Darbar, and all opium that is so adulterated as to be entirely useless for factory purposes will be so returned. Subject, however, to its quantity not being in excess of that which can conveniently be utilised by Government, opium which, although slightly adulterated, is capable of being used in the manufacture of excise opium or of "lewa", will be paid for at a reduced price proportional to the amount of pure opium contained in it. Opium that is too impure for excise opium or "lewa" but that is capable of being utilized for the extraction of alkaloids will, at the option of the Darbar, either be returned to the Darbar or (provided it does not cause the stock of opium fit only for the extraction of alkaloids to exceed requirements) paid for at a reduced price to be determined by the Factory Superintendent.

dent, whose decision on all questions regarding the quality, consistency or value of opium shall be final.

NOTE.—The stocks at the Factory of opium suitable only for alkaloïds are at present largely in excess of requirements, and it is unlikely that the Factory will, for some time to come, be in a position to purchase opium of this class. Opium that is returned by the Factory as unfit for use will be returned at the Darbar's expense and risk.

9. (a) Similarly this agreement is for the supply of oilless opium only. Accordingly the Darbar will use their best endeavours to secure the delivery of * In addition to deducting the weight of the oil in order to ascertain the amount of pure dry opium, provided by condition 7. all opium containing an appreciable proportion of oil. (b) No opium containing oil shall in any case be packed in the same-bag as oilless opium, and bags of opium containing oil shall be kept apart from bags of oilless opium or of opium containing a smaller proportion of oil.

NOTE.—Opium should be classed as—

- | | |
|-------|---|
| (i) | opium that is absolutely free from oil. |
| (ii) | opium containing such percentages of oil as may from year to year be specified by the Excise Commissioner for Central India (in consultation with the Factory Superintendent) in respect of each class. |
| (iii) | etc. |
| (iv) | etc. |

Opium of each of the foregoing classes will be packed in separate bags, and a different distinguishing mark will be placed on the bags containing each class. Opium containing oil in such percentages as may from time to time be specified in each behalf by the Excise Commissioner for Central India will be packed in two cloth bags and one gunny bag.

10. All bags and tickets required for use in the despatch of opium will be provided by Government, who will also pay the freight from the despatching station to Ghazipur on all opium purchased by them, and the fares to and from Ghazipur of peons accompanying consignments.

11. Subject to the foregoing conditions Government undertake to purchase the whole produce of the area mentioned in paragraph 3, provided that it is not in excess of the quantity mentioned in paragraph 1. Except with the special previous sanction of Government, it will not be permissible, either in the event of a shortage or otherwise for the Darbar to purchase or acquire, for delivery to Government, opium produced otherwise than in accordance with condition 2 of this agreement.

12. In the event of the Darbar desiring to make advances to cultivators Government will be prepared, if so desired, to pay to the Darbar, on their request between the months of July and October in each year, a sum not exceeding $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of the price of the opium that they undertake to supply to Government and also not exceeding the amount which the Darbar intend to advance to their cultivators. Similarly Government will be prepared, if so desired, to pay to the Darbar by the 31st March in each year, a sum not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ of the price of the opium that they undertake to supply to Government, less any sum already paid to the Darbar for the purpose of making advances to cultivators. Such payments will subsequently be deducted from the sum payable to the Darbar on account of the price of opium.

13. This agreement will have effect for five years from the season 1925-26 to the season 1929-30 inclusive. It may be previously determined either by the Darbar or by Government by notice given not later than the 1st of March in any year, such notice having the effect of determining the agreement as soon as the produce of the crop then in the ground has been delivered and paid for.

14. The examination and assay of each consignment of opium will ordinarily commence within about three days of its arrival at the factory and will ordinarily take between 5 and 10 days, but these periods may be exceeded when numerous consignments are being simultaneously received from different places. An official deputed by Darbar will, if the Darbar so desire, be permitted to be present at the examination of the opium supplied by the Darbar. He will also be instructed in the process of assay, and will be permitted to visit the laboratory from time to time in the company of the Factory Superintendent, while the produce of the State is under assay. (The conditions under which laboratory work is necessarily conducted preclude his being given unrestricted access to the laboratory.)

The Darbar official, if any, deputed for this purpose, should arrange to reach the factory at the same time as the first consignment, and to remain until the examination of the last consignment is complete. In no case can the examination of opium be postponed owing to his absence.

Thakur Chhatrasal reported to the Huzur that Agra Barkhera, etc., thirteen villages in all were held by him since the time of the elder *Maharaja on Istimari paying a rent of rupees one thousand and one yearly and he had been remitting this sum into the Sarkar

Besides these the villages of Chhapra Bhivra and Pachnod in the pargana referred to above were held under a Sanad as subsistence (Nankar) which were also attached : that he had enjoyed a right to cesses in the pargana and that he received from the kateheri of Basoda rupees four hundred and forty-four under a Sanad granted by the Sarkar. TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MAIHAR RAO HOLKAR to ABATI BATWANT, KAMAVISDAR of PERGUNNAH MEHIDPUR,—1824.

Suma Khamas Asrin Mayaten wa Alf. (1225 A.A.).

Girwar Singh and Nawal Singh of Bichrod waited upon the Huzur and each of them claimed the Tanka from the villages of the aforesaid Pargana; Nawal Singh claimed ownership over it while Girwar Singh alleged that it was his own; thus the dispute lasted for four years. Now when the question was taken into consideration, Girwar Singh agreed that he would satisfy Nawal Singh and there would be no complaint from him to the Sirkar on this account and that he would take from the Mahal Kacheri any sum which might be fixed for him by the Sirkar. He would not take any Bhet or cesses directly from the villages. If he takes any, then he should not be given the Tanka. He would serve the Mahal whenever called upon by the Kamavisdar to do so. He has executed an agreement to this effect. Accordingly an annual sum of Rs. 100 has been fixed from the current year Sumbut 1881 to be paid to him from the Pargana Kacheri and this letter is written to you and you are hereby directed to pay to Girwar Singh annually from the Mahal Kacheri the sum of Rs. 100 from the current year and obtain his receipt for the same, and to see that he abides by the terms as written above.

Be it known to you. Ch. 22, Sawal. (20th June 1824).

Dated Suma Asharin Mayaten wa Alaf (1220 A.A.).

Rattan Singh, son of Himat Singh Girassia of Matje Kalukhera, Pergana Panbihar, used to exact excessive sums as Tanka from the aforesaid Pergana and thereby oppressed the villagers. Now that it has been settled by the Sarkar that the Girassia should not trouble the villages directly but that he should come to the Mahal Kacheri and receive payment from the Mamledars and render service in the Pergana. In lieu of this the Sarkar has ordered that the Girassia will in accordance with this memo. be given Rs. 260 annually from the year 1228.

In all Rs. 260 have been fixed and therefore this letter is written to you. So you should pay annually to the aforesaid Girassia the sum of two hundred and sixty rupees from this pergana on account of Tanka in the local Mahal currency from the Mahal Kacheri and obtain his receipt for the same.

TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MALHAR RAO HOLKAR to GOVIND RAO CHIMNAJI, KAMAVISDAR of PERGUNNAH MEHIDPUR,—1220 A.A.—1820.

Dated Suma Assarin Mayhten wa Alaf (1220 A.A.).

Rattan Singh, son of Himmat Singh of Kalukhera, waited upon the Sarkar at Indore and represented that in Samat year 1874 when Vithal Mahadeo and Low (or *Kaye) Sahab camped with troops at Indukh in the said pargana and established Thanas at Narelia and other †places after causing them to be evacuated, he, through fear when visiting the two Sardars (i.e., Low and Vithal Mahadeo), agreed to take only the sum of Rs. 2 as bhet from each village of the pargana and not to levy a single pice over and above this and gave an agreement in writing to Lakshman Sadashiv Kamavisdar of the Mahal to that effect. He now requests that the Sarkar, after inquiry and taking into consideration the amount of his tanka (formerly) levied in the villages of the said pargana from time immemorial and prior to the period of the disturbances, would arrange for payment of his tanka to him.

Taking the above request into consideration it has been found from inquiries made regarding the Tanka of Kalukhera in the pargana from the Zamindars of the Mahal that he was allowed formerly to take Rs. 2 as bhet. He is therefore to receive that amount from the Mahal Kacheri from the current year. Nothing more than this is to be taken nor are the people of the villages to be oppressed : such being the arrangement of which his acceptance has been received, sanction is given to pay him from the Mahal Kacheri a sum of Rs. 225 in the local currency. So this letter is written to you directing you to pay the said sum of two hundred and twenty-five rupees. Therefore from the current year you are to pay (to Ratan Singh of Kalukhera) from the Kacheri of the said pargana a sum of rupees two hundred and twenty-five and obtain his receipt for the same. Besides this he is not to levy a pice from the villages of the Mahal nor take grass, gram or any food-stuff from the ryots. If complaint is made of such exactions, deductions will be made from the Tanka. He may be warned of this and service taken from him according to this arrangement.

*Kaye or Low. Aitchison has Low, which is perhaps correct as writer may have known.

May it be known to you. Ch. 5 Rajjab (19th April 1820).

Dated Suma Asarin Mayaten wa Alaf. (1220 A.A.).

Recently, during the time of trouble, Achal Singh, Girassia of Mowja Narwar, Pargana Ujjain, together with his relatives, used to recover annually the sum of Rs. 431 as Gras Tanka direct from the villages in the said Pargana. Now it has been settled through the mediation of Bhotal Sahab (Borthwick) that the Girassia should not recover a pice from villages of the Pargana and in lieu thereof sanction is given for the payment from the Kacheri annually of a sum of Rs. 250 from last year, Tisa Asharin (1219 A. A.). This letter is therefore written to you. So, according to the terms of the settlement, you should not allow the said Girassia to levy a pice from villages of the Pargana, but pay him from the last year, annually, the aforesaid sum of Rs. 250 in the local currency of the Mahal from the Pargana Kacheri and obtain his receipt for the same.

May this be known to you. Ch. 6, Zilhij (27th September 1819).

TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MULHAR RAO HOLKAR to GOPAL RAO KRISHNA, KAMAVISDAR of PERGUNNAH KAYATHE,—1823.

Dated Suma Arbe Asharin Mayaten wa Alaf (1224 A.A.).

Lakshman Singh, son of Achal Singh, Girassia, of Narwar, came to see the Sarkar and represented that he used to receive Tanka from the village Bhatwani in the aforesaid Pargana from time immemorial which he does not receive now-a-days and requested that arrangement might be made for its payment. On inquiry into the Girassia Tanka, it has been found that formerly, when the Tanka of Karan Singh, Girassia, was settled by the Sarkar the Tanka of the said Girassia (Lakshman Singh) was included in that of Karan Singh. In accordance with that Karan Singh was to pay Lakshman Singh the amount yearly, but this was not done, and Karan Singh having told Lakshman Singh that his claim was not included in his, the said Girassia went to Captain Henley and explained his Tanka case to him. Whereupon Captain Henley wrote a letter (to the Sarkar). It has, therefore, been settled that the Girassia should not trouble the villages by recovering Tanka direct but should receive it from the Mahal Kacheri and should prevent theft in the Mahal. This he should be informed of, and it has been settled that he will be given Rs. 60 yearly as Tanka from the Samvat year 1879.

In all sixty rupees having been settled this letter is written to you. You should therefore pay the above-mentioned sixty rupees to the said Girassia every year by instalment in lieu of his Tanka from the Mahal Kacheri and take his receipt for the same. The Girassia should act up to your orders.

May this be known to you. Ch. 12, Zilhij (19th August 1823).

TRANSLATION of a SANAD from HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA JANKOJI RAO SINDE ALIJAH to DEWAN HINDU SINGH DHANDHERA of SIRSI,—1837.

Be it known to you that your petition was received by the Sarkar. You write that you hold Taluka Sirsi from the Sarkar and also a Sanad for it. It is written in that Sanad that you should maintain yourself (“make arrangements for your house”) and serve the Sarkar : One Taluka has been granted in lieu of service ; the annual revenue of it should be roughly accounted for to the Sarkar three quarters of it are in lieu of service and one quarter to be credited to the Sarkar. You should make proper arrangements (for the control) of the Girassias, etc. Failing this the estate will be forfeited. You now represent that the revenue of Sirsi Taluka is four thousand and not more and ask the Sarkar as by way of favour it did not demand that one-fourth up to this time, to show the same favour now. The estate has been granted in lieu of services independently of that one-fourth. You should render services to the Sarkar and you should pay that one-fourth to the Sarkar without fail when the income exceeds four thousand. Whenever the Sarkar orders you should supply thirty Sowars and seventy footmen for service anywhere without asking for their feeding charges for three months. You will not misbehave in any way : neither shelter thieves, freebooters, murderers and dacoits whether living in your estate or coming to your estate from the Sarkar's territory or from other territories nor should you associate with them. You will also co-operate with the Sarkar troops in putting down thieves etc. You will also give compensation for the thefts proved to have occurred within your Estate. Enquiry will be made by the Sarkar into the income of the villages of Taluka Sirsi. Up to four thousand the one-fourth share will not be levied : in the case of it exceeding this amount the one-fourth share will be taken on the whole amount including excess. You must come and render service when called upon to do so. You will keep down thieves, disturbers of the peace and murderers as written. Be loyal to the Sarkar and act up to your other obligations as above stated, if you fail to do this the estate will not be allowed to remain with you. Raise no objection to the Sayar Chouki stationed from of old within your estate.

Whereas Nahar Sing Girassia has hitherto exacted an enormous amount of money from the aforesaid pergunnah on account of his tankha, and thereby greatly oppressed the people of the villages ; and whereas it has been settled that he shall not oppress the people of the villages, and collect anything therefrom, but shall receive a cash allowance from the mehal cutcherry ; and that he shall serve the Circar in the pergunnah and keep peace there ; and whereas an annual sum of Rupees 146 of the local currency has, through the mediation of General Malcolm, been settled on him from Sun 1228 in lieu of the above tankha : therefore you are hereby directed to pay to the said Girassia the above sum of Rupees 146 every year from the cutcherry of the pergunnah, and to take receipts from him for the same.

THE AGREEMENT of ROWJEE SAE AJEET SING JEE, RAJA of AMJHERRA, mediated by MAJOR-GENERAL SIR JOHN MALCOLM BAHADUR,—1820.

I allow on the part of myself, my descendants, and the servants of the State that the long established tribute of the district when it was formerly flourishing was Halee Sicca Rupees 35,000, and that sum used to be paid to His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia's Government. But latterly anarchy and confusion have almost ruined my district, and the Circar having benevolently considered its consequent decrease of revenue has settled that tribute, agreeably to the following detail, shall be paid to the jaghirdar of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia, Jye Sing Rao Ghatkee Sirjee Rao, or to whomever His Highness may order, being at a rate corresponding with the expected improvement of my district, viz.—

	Halee Rs.
For the year of the Sumbut 1877	22,000
" " 1878	24,000
" " 1879	26,000
" " 1880	28,000
" " 1881	30,000
" " 1882	32,000
" " 1883	34,000
" " 1884	35,000

The country improving, the above sums will be yearly given. The Rupees are Halee Siccas, the accustomed percentage shall be allowed between the currency and the Salim Sahi Rupees. For and after the year 1885 Sumbut the full tribute of Rupees 35,000 to be given regularly. The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, half in Maugh Sood Poonum, half in Jeyt Sood Poonum, being old established usage, and likewise each year's tribute detailed above to be paid in two kists and in the same proportions. If the whole or any part of a kist is not paid when due, one and a half month law to be given, and at the expiration of that time I agree to the Circar's appropriating to itself lands or villages whose revenues are equal to the deficient sums, the revenue of such seized lands or villages to be afterwards credited to the tribute and to that kist for whose deficiency they have been taken; such lands or villages shall never be claimed by me or my descendants. It would be wrong to do so. But no persons, horsemen or karkoons, belonging to the Government of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia to be jaghirdar or any kamaisdar shall be allowed to remain in my district.

25th October 1820.

On the part of MAHARAJA DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR on the subject of tribute of the AMJHERRA DISTRICT, JEY SING RAO GHATKEE SIRJEE RAO being Jaghirdar.

Through the medium of Major-General Sir John Malcolm, Jey Sing has written on behalf of himself and his descendants that I and my servants, whoever they may be, shall in no way interfere with the family concerns of the Rajah, the conduct of his Government, or in the affairs of his district : we shall dispute on no such points.

The Circar in its goodness, considering the deteriorated state of the district, has settled the tribute as follows in details :—

								Halee Rs.
For the year	1877	Sumbut	22,000
"	1878	"	24,000
"	1879	"	26,000
"	1880	"	28,000
"	1881	"	30,000
"	1882	"	32,000
"	1883	"	34,000
"	1884	"	35,000

This is the tribute to be paid annually as detailed for these eight years in Halee Siccas, and for 1885 of the Sumbut, and ever afterwards, the full established tribute of Rupees 35,000 shall be paid.

The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, as has obtained from time immemorial, one in Maugh Sood Poonum, the other in Jeyt Sood Poonum ; besides this we shall demand no other money, whether for military or any other expenses. If I do so I shall act incorrectly, and moreover none of my troops or horse or kar-koons shall remain in the district of Amjhera.

SANAD granted by RAJSHRI SUBADAR SHRI DAULAT RAO SINDE ALIJAH BAHADUR to RAJMAN SINGH of BHADORA,—1822.

In Taluka Myana.
Dhamnar.
Sagariya.

In Taluka Tarata.

You were already in possession of these seven villages when the (Gwalior) Sarkar established its overlordship. At this time the two villages of Shamra and Balapur were left with you ; the others, viz., the five villages of Dhamnar, Dagasra, Mahu, Tinsai and Sagariya were assigned to you by a Sanad by the Sarkar in San Ihide Ashrin (1221), Samat 1877. In return half the revenue (of them) was to go to you and half to the Sarkar—such was the arrangement, but these villages never actually passed into your possession : it is (therefore) proposed that the Sarkar should (formally) resume them, viz. :—

1	Moje Dhamnar.

The other villages lately assigned to you by the Sarkar (were) too so held by you from early days, in the Tarawat Taluka, viz. :—

	1 „ Balapur.

The five new villages were granted to you in the year San Ihide Ashrin (1221) or Samvat 1879*. In return for these the Sarkar resumed three villages, leaving the rest in your possession, viz. :—

accordance with custom the Vakil of Nana Sahib was directed to make enquiries into the matter and send a report with the file. Nana Sahib was addressed by the Vakil who after making necessary enquiries returned the file of the case with his letter and a Kayasnama (opinion). A perusal of the Kayasnama showed that the complaint of the defendant Gehana Bai was not correct and that your statement proved to be just and proper. It is, therefore, with reference to the Kayasnama decided that you shall receive every year the sum of Rs. 470 (four hundred and seventy) on account of Tanka which was enjoyed by the deceased Pirthaji. Gehana Bai has since died and her claim to the tanka, to which she had appointed her nephew as successor, was not proved, but as she adopted Samtaji you should make such a provision for his maintenance and clothing as you may deem necessary.

TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT by THAKOOR LACHMUN SING of SONEKHEIRA,—1820.

Whereas mouzah Baraila and a portion of mouzah Rancee Gaon, the latter consisting of 200 beegahs of mal lands and of 5 beegahs of aran lands, were granted by me 45 years ago for service to Thakoor Nahur Sing, the grandfather of Gopal Sing, Thakoor of Surwun; and

Whereas another portion of the said mouzah Rancee Gaon, consisting of 250 beegahs of mal lands, was given by me in time of Thakoor Khooman Sing, the father of the said Thakoor Gopal Sing; and

Whereon I received Rupees 500 of the Hakee currency as a tankha for the said mourah; and Whereon a quarrel having taken place in these days with regard to the said portions of mourah Rance Gaon, I applied to Captain W. Borthwick on the subject, and he was pleased to settle that the said portions of the village should continue to remain in the possession of the said Thakoor Gopal Sing and that I was to receive an additional tankha of Rupees 200 for the said portions of Rance Gaon, making up a total tankha of Hakee Rupees 700, or, at the premium rate of Rupees 12½ per cent., of a total sum of the Sahau Shikar currency of Rupees seven hundred and eighty-seven, amounting to Rs. S. R. 787-81.

I do hereby declare that I will receive annually the said tankha as per instalments payable, and after deduction to the said Thakoor Gopal Sing, and his heirs (or his legal heirs, etc.) in perpetuity, enjoying the said mourah and parts of the mourah above detailed. I have this day engaged for record for future reference. Dated 12th Ahsat 1230, corresponding with 1st Zilkad 1235 Hijree.

Contracted by me this 21st day of Ahsat A. D. 1820.

TRANSLATION of a SANAD from HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA JANKOJI RAO SINDE ALIJAH to DEWAN HINDU SINGH DHANDHERA of SIRSI,—1837.

Be it known to you that your petition was received by the Sarkar. You write that you hold Taluka Sirsi from the Sarkar and also a Sanad for it. It is written in that Sanad that you should maintain yourself (“make arrangements for your house”) and serve the Sarkar : One Taluka has been granted in lieu of service ; the annual revenue of it should be roughly accounted for to the Sarkar three quarters of it are in lieu of service and one quarter to be credited to the Sarkar. You should make proper arrangements (for the control) of the Girassias, etc. Failing this the estate will be forfeited. You now represent that the revenue of Sirsi Taluka is four thousand and not more and ask the Sarkar as by way of favour it did not demand that one-fourth up to this time, to show the same favour now. The estate has been granted in lieu of services independently of that one-fourth. You should render services to the Sarkar and you should pay that one-fourth to the Sarkar without fail when the income exceeds four thousand. Whenever the Sarkar orders you should supply thirty Sowars and seventy footmen for service anywhere without asking for their feeding charges for three months. You will not misbehave in any way : neither shelter thieves, freebooters, murderers and dacoits whether living in your estate or coming to your estate from the Sarkar's territory or from other territories nor should you associate with them. You will also co-operate with the Sarkar troops in putting down thieves etc. You will also give compensation for the thefts proved to have occurred within your Estate. Enquiry will be made by the Sarkar into the income of the villages of Taluka Sirsi. Up to four thousand the one-fourth share will not be levied : in the case of it exceeding this amount the one-fourth share will be taken on the whole amount including excess. You must come and render service when called upon to do so. You will keep down thieves, disturbers of the peace and murderers as written. Be loyal to the Sarkar and act up to your other obligations as above stated, if you fail to do this the estate will not be allowed to remain with you. Raise no objection to the Sayar Chouki stationed from of old within your estate.

TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MULHAR RAO HOLKAR to KRISHNAJEE BITTUL, KAMAISDAR of PERGUNNAH DEPALPORE,—1819.

Whereas Nahar Sing Girassia has hitherto exacted an enormous amount of money from the aforesaid pergunnah on account of his tankha, and thereby greatly oppressed the people of the villages ; and whereas it has been settled that he shall not oppress the people of the villages, and collect anything therefrom, but shall receive a cash allowance from the mehal cutcherry ; and that he shall serve the Circar in the pergunnah and keep peace there ; and whereas an annual sum of Rupees 146 of the local currency has, through the mediation of General Malcolm, been settled on him from Sun 1228 in lieu of the above tankha : therefore you are hereby directed to pay to the said Girassia the above sum of Rupees 146 every year from the cutcherry of the pergunnah, and to take receipts from him for the same.

Dated 15th Romzan 1220 A.A.

THE AGREEMENT of ROWJEE SAE AJEET SING JEE, RAJA of AMJHERRA, mediated by MAJOR-GENERAL SIR JOHN MALCOLM BAHADUR,—1820.

I allow on the part of myself, my descendants, and the servants of the State that the long established tribute of the district when it was formerly flourishing was Halee Sicca Rupees 35,000, and that sum used to be paid to His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia's Government. But latterly anarchy and confusion have almost ruined my district, and the Circar having benevolently considered its consequent decrease of revenue has settled that tribute, agreeably to the following detail, shall be paid to the jaghirdar of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia, Jye Sing Rao Ghatkee Sirjee Rao, or to whomever His Highness may order, being at a rate corresponding with the expected improvement of my district, viz.—

	Halee Rs.
For the year of the Sumbut 1877	22,000
" " 1878	24,000
" " 1879	26,000
" " 1880	28,000
" " 1881	30,000
" " 1882	32,000
" " 1883	34,000
" " 1884	35,000

The country improving, the above sums will be yearly given. The Rupees are Halee Siccas, the accustomed percentage shall be allowed between the currency and the Salim Sahi Rupees. For and after the year 1885 Sumbut the full tribute of Rupees 35,000 to be given regularly. The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, half in Maugh Sood Poonum, half in Jeyt Sood Poonum, being old established usage, and likewise each year's tribute detailed above to be paid in two kists and in the same proportions. If the whole or any part of a kist is not paid when due, one and a half month law to be given, and at the expiration of that time I agree to the Circar's appropriating to itself lands or villages whose revenues are equal to the deficient sums, the revenue of such seized lands or villages to be afterwards credited to the tribute and to that kist for whose deficiency they have been taken; such lands or villages shall never be claimed by me or my descendants. It would be wrong to do so. But no persons, horsemen or karkoons, belonging to the Government of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia to be jaghirdar or any kamaisdar shall be allowed to remain in my district.

25th October 1820.

On the part of MAHARAJA DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR on the subject of tribute of the AMJHERRA DISTRICT, JEY SING RAO GHATKEE SIRJEE RAO being Jaghirdar.

Through the medium of Major-General Sir John Malcolm, Jey Sing has written on behalf of himself and his descendants that I and my servants, whoever they may be, shall in no way interfere with the family concerns of the Rajah, the conduct of his Government, or in the affairs of his district : we shall dispute on no such points.

The Circar in its goodness, considering the deteriorated state of the district, has settled the tribute as follows in details :—

								Halee Rs.
For the year	1877	Sumbut	22,000
"	1878	"	24,000
"	1879	"	26,000
"	1880	"	28,000
"	1881	"	30,000
"	1882	"	32,000
"	1883	"	34,000
"	1884	"	35,000

This is the tribute to be paid annually as detailed for these eight years in Halee Siccas, and for 1885 of the Sumbut, and ever afterwards, the full established tribute of Rupees 35,000 shall be paid.

The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, as has obtained from time immemorial, one in Maugh Sood Poonum, the other in Jeyt Sood Poonum ; besides this we shall demand no other money, whether for military or any other expenses. If I do so I shall act incorrectly, and moreover none of my troops or horse or kar-koons shall remain in the district of Amjhera.

25th October 1820.

No. CXV.

TRANSLATION of a Mahrattée SUNNUD granted by MAHARAJAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA to RAJAH MAUN SINGH of BHADOWRA,—1821.

You represented at Gwalior that you would exert and put a stop to the depredations made by Sohun Sing Girassia, and that you would further prevent theft, and as a reward for your services you solicited villages in the pergunnah of Meeanab, viz., Doongah Surrah (Doongusra), Mahoo, Tinsae, Sakoarba (Sagoreca) and Dhunarah, five in all, yielding Rupees 2,300, on an istumrar tenure. For such services the villages have been granted to you ; take possession of them and submit regularly every year correct accounts of the revenue collections, half of which keep for yourself, and the other half pay into the treasury of the Circar; diligently and honestly discharge the duty entrusted to you: on failure they will be resumed.

Dated 1st Jate Soodee Chhuth Sambat 1877.

No. CXVI.

SANAD granted by RAJSHRI SUBADAR SHRI DAULAT RAO SINDE ALIJAH BAHADUR to RAJMAN SINGH of BHADORA,—1822.

You and your family have long possessed these villages:—

In Taluka Myana.
Dhamnar.
Sagariya.
Tinsai.
Dagasra.

In Taluka Tarata.
Mahu.
Balapur.
Semra.

You were already in possession of these seven villages when the (Gwalior) Sarkar established its overlordship. At this time the two villages of Shamra and Balapur were left with you; the others, viz., the five villages of Dhamnar, Dagasra, Mahu, Tinsai and Sagariya were assigned to you by a Sanad by the Sarkar in San Ihide Ashrin (1221), Samat 1877. In return half the revenue (of them) was to go to you and half to the Sarkar—such was the arrangement, but these villages never actually passed into your possession: it is (therefore) proposed that the Sarkar should (formally) resume them, viz.:—

1	Moje Dhamnar.
1	„ Sagariya.
1	„ Tinsai.
3

The other villages lately assigned to you by the Sarkar (were) too so held by you from early days, in the Tarawat Taluka, viz.:—

2	1 Moje Shamra.
	1 „ Balapur.
2

The five new villages were granted to you in the year San Ihide Ashrin (1221) or Samvat 1879*. In return for these the Sarkar resumed three villages, leaving the rest in your possession, viz.:—

	1 Moje Dagasra with hamlets, in Taluka Mayana.
2	1 „ Mahu in Taluka Tarata.

* Should be 1877 and refers to No. CXV.

accordance with custom the Vakil of Nana Sahib was directed to make enquiries into the matter and send a report with the file. Nana Sahib was addressed by the Vakil who after making necessary enquiries returned the file of the case with his letter and a Kayasnama (opinion). A perusal of the Kayasnama showed that the complaint of the defendant Gehana Bai was not correct and that your statement proved to be just and proper. It is, therefore, with reference to the Kayasnama decided that you shall receive every year the sum of Rs. 470 (four hundred and seventy) on account of Tanka which was enjoyed by the deceased Pirthaji. Gehana Bai has since died and her claim to the tanka, to which she had appointed her nephew as successor, was not proved, but as she adopted Samtaji you should make such a provision for his maintenance and clothing as you may deem necessary.
